Fire Causes Small Damage

Prompt Action Prevented Much Larger Loss Monday Night

Monday night, our efficient police officer noticed a fire burning in the rear of Waterbury's Market and immediately called Mrs. Hursfall who stepped on the fire siren, assembling almost the entire citizenry of Clarkston. As it turned out the fire was of short duration with damage around $25.00. A small shed of very dry lumber, which was a total loss. However, prompt action averted a much larger loss. As it was the stairway leading up to the second floor, which was charred as were the branches of a tree standing on the lot belonging to Frank Yeager. Such is human nature that it is easy to minimize danger after it is passed but take our word for it, from our house it looked as if half the block was burning and the fire reflected in the sky as if it were out of control.

Golf Tournament To Be Held Aug. 27

To whom it may concern, and to all others who have nothing else to read and nothing to do, please take notice that the golf committee has announced that Sunday, August 27, is the date. Bald Mountain Course is the place; 7:00 o'clock a. m. is the time of the next golf tournament. You know these activities should keep going the year around. The crowd gets larger each time and thus more people enjoy this exercise.

ADJUSTMENT PLAN AGAIN OUTLINED

County Agent Explains Features of Wheat Reduction

The meeting of wheat growers was held Wednesday. A small but enthusiastic group assembled in the town hall to hear K. D. Bailey, county agent, explain the government's plan to save the wheat farmer. Sufficient interest was manifested to hold another meeting in the near future at which time it is hoped more will be present. The News will try to give the exact date next week. The domestic allotment plan for bringing the price of wheat grown by Oakland County farmers to a point where 10 bushels of wheat will buy as many goods as 10 bushels did in 1914 was selected from among all the ideas advocated to help wheat growers and this plan is indorsed by all leading agricultural organizations, says K. D. Bailey, of Holly, Oakland County Agricultural Agent. The plan obtained its name from the fact that adjustment payments are made only on that portion of a farmer's crop which is used for human food in this country. Portions of the crop used for seed, livestock feed, or for export receive no adjustment payments.

"The farmer who participates in the government's plan to raise wheat prices really grows wheat for two different markets," continued Mr. Bailey. "He gets the world wheat price plus nearly 30 cents per bushel for 54 per cent of his crop and the world price only for 46 per cent of the crop." "Selling wheat on two different markets does not mean any added trouble to the grower, however, because the producer turns the whole crop over to the elevator, feeds it, or exchanges part of it for his own flour. He is not limited in any way in the disposal of the crop. He takes his price in the open market and also receives a check from the United States for nearly 30 cents a bushel on 54 bushels out of every 100. "The Oakland County wheat allotment control board believes that this extra money will aid materially in settling the farmers' tax bills this fall. This is one instance where the farmer has a chance to pass his taxes along to some one else. The adjustment payments are made possible by a tax paid by wheat processors on all wheat going through the mills."

Comment and Criticism

Ever since I came to this community I have noticed the name of K. D. Bailey on the mailing list. Not being acquainted and the list bearing no explanation, his name was removed. Then The Clarkston News picked me out to cover the wheat meeting in the town hall (alho I wanted to join my brothers in the installation ceremonies at the Legion Hall). And was my face red—the principal speaker was County Agent K. D. Bailey. K. D. is a good scout and knows his business and the audience warmed up to his talk sufficiently to ask questions. . . . always a good sign that a talk has gone home. I believe this wheat allotment plan is a good one. My uncle worked with his grange to get such a thing in motion when I was a kid and did I enjoy the meeting. After the meeting I was lucky enough to kidnap K. D. and take him down with the buddies at the Legion Hall. There was method in my madness. . . . I could offer him as evidence that I had been busy and hence late. Oh how that excuse worked. Upon entering the hall he stopped the show and whoever introduced him did a good job. . . . and because reflected glory is better than none. . . . yours truly was introduced as the Clarkston News. . . . most of them knew me. . . . but as I have remarked it pays to advertise. . . . no matter how well you are known. All of which reminds me did you ever see Percy Craven eat cheese and crackers and try to look his usual dignified look. . . . or Ray Ainsley serving the lunch counter with that same smile he has serving out money. . . . then home and so to bed.

Freeman Reunion Held Saturday

50 Guests Assemble for 11th Annual Meeting

Saturday 50 guests, including members from Mt. Pleasant, Farwell, Detroit, Ferndale, Flint, Pontiac, Oxford, Goodrich and Clarkston, assembled for the 11th Annual Freeman reunion. SCHOOL PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

At All-Day Meeting to Be Held in Pontiac Saturday

A special appeal to all Parent-Teachers organizations and to all persons interested in public schools to attend a meeting of unusual significance to be held in the auditorium of the Pontiac High School Saturday, August 19, is being made throughout the county.

This will be an all day meeting. The speakers of the morning will be E. J. Lederle, Oakland County Commissioner of Schools, Paul Thompson, Assistant State Superintendent of Public Schools, and Dr. Paul Volker, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. In the afternoon it is planned to have addresses by Senator A. L. Moore, Representatives Fred Watkins and Melvin H. Lee. There is to be a question period presided over by Mr. Thompson, followed by an address by Dr. M. S. Rice, of Detroit.

"It has been apparent for some time," says George B. Hartrick, of Royal Oak, who is in charge of publicity, "that the schools of the county and the state will need state aid in order to carry on through the coming school year. Some time ago the school boards of the state organized and appointed a committee to study the school situation. I was appointed a member of that committee as representative of the 17th Congressional District. This meeting has accordingly been arranged for the purpose of studying all school problems. I am sure this meeting will be an intellectual and educational treat. It should be of benefit toward assisting to work out a solution of the school problem."

"Those interested in schools must take it upon themselves to join in a cooperative effort to keep the public schools of the county and the state open. I urge that all parents, members of Parent-Teachers organizations, and all others interested in schools who can possibly attend be present on this occasion. I assure you it will be worth while."

American Legion Installs Officers

Wednesday evening the local post of the American Legion installed the officers for the ensuing term:

Commander—Percy Craven.
Adjutant—Herbert Baynes.
Finance Officer—R. C. Ainsley.
1st Vice Commander—H. Buck.
2nd Vice Commander—E. Collins.
Chaplain—James Saylor.
Sergeant at Arms—John Terry.
Historian—Frank Molter.

After the ceremony, refreshments were served. As time goes on the legion posts are going to mean more and more to the members and to the boys who served. The sooner they affiliate that much quicker they will enjoy the comradeship that prevails at these meetings.

HERE'S HOW

TO SPEND LESS ON MOTORING!

CHEVROLET Do as over two out of every five buyers of low-priced cars are doing: SAVE WITH A NEW CHEVROLET! You'll spend less to begin with—because the Chevrolet base price of $445 is so much lower than the price of any other Fisher Body car! You'll make fewer stops for gas and oil, because the Chevrolet six-cylinder engine can go well over two hundred miles on a tankful! You won't have to be worrying about seeing the service man all the time, or paying a lot of repair bills because—well, Chevrolet just isn't that kind of car. It's built right and stays that way. Finally—you can look forward to getting a good price when you trade your Chevrolet in—its resale value is notably high.

Can you say all these same things about any other low-priced car? Evidently America thinks not—from the way that America prefers to SAVE with a Chevrolet.

150 Attend Waterford Center Homecoming

Floyd Coffey Elected President For Coming Year

About 150 persons attended the fifth annual homecoming at the Waterford Center School on Saturday. After dinner a short business meeting was held with Miss Pearl Hollister, vice-president, presiding. Floyd Coffey was elected president for the coming year. Other officers were re-elected.

A short program was enjoyed. Hiram Bacon and Miss Alice Shattuck, former teachers, talked of olden days. Mrs. Hester sang two beautiful songs, accompanied by her daughter at the piano. Mrs. Hiram Bacon responded with several pleasing readings. Walter Perry presented two cornet solos, and songs by Delta Trueblood were greatly appreciated. Mrs. Helen Spooner Mehlerberg gave a very interesting paper on "School Reminiscences". Mrs. Ellsworth Spooner, J. W. Hess and George Maxwell made interesting remarks. Guests were present from Mt. Pleasant, Goodrich, Utica, Inlay City, Pontiac, Clarkston, Waterford and Keego Harbor.

STATE MATTERS OF INTEREST TO ALL

Digest Prepared in the Office of Secretary of State

An intensive study of the entire subject of highway finance is to be made by the legislative council before the next session of the legislature. This was decided upon by the council sub-committee on finance which met in Lansing, August 17.

This study will include the weight and gasoline taxes, the township and county highway laws and the various laws which divert highway funds to local governmental units.

One of the recommendations to be considered by the council and which may be submitted to the special session of the legislature early next year is the proposal of Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald that license plate costs be reduced to three, six and nine dollars depending upon the weight of the automobile. This recommendation has met with popular approval in all parts of the state.

Taxation upon motor vehicles, Mr. Fitzgerald pointed out, has now reached the point where it is more nearly confiscation. In buying an automobile, the purchaser pays a federal excise tax in addition to a proportionate share of the federal income tax; and then pays the three per cent state sales tax. The weight tax, which was originally intended to furnish funds for state highway construction, must be paid yearly by the motorist. Federal and state gasoline taxes, in addition to the state sales tax, bring the total levy upon each gallon of gasoline to four and three-quarters cents.

The Michigan old age pension law is not "workable" in its present form, according to Welfare Director Wm. S. Carpenter, and he intends to study old age pension laws in other states before the next session of the legislature.

Because of conflicting provisions of the law, old age pensions will not start on Oct. 16, the date upon which the law becomes effective. The law makes no provision for collection of funds through the imposition of a head tax of $2 per person until next March.

SMALL RETAILERS TO BE PROTECTED
Are to Be Fairly Dealt with in the "New Deal"

WASHINGTON. — Reports that many small employers, particularly owners of shops, are being subjected to pressure because they have not found it possible to comply overnight with the provisions of the blanket code, despite their desire to do so, have reached the National Recovery Administration. As a result, the administration has requested newspapers to aid in obtaining fair play for this class of employers.

Explanation was made that readjustment of working conditions so as to comply with the reemployment program is very difficult, in many cases, particularly for the employer of only two or three persons. Employers have signed the agreement and complied, as far as possible, with its provisions, but they have not been able to adjust their machinery to all of its provisions immediately. Pending complete compliance with the terms of the reemployment plan, of course, these employers do not have the Blue Eagle. Hence, pressure has been brought against them.

The hope of the administration is that consumers will deal fairly with the employer who is willing to adopt the reemployment plan but who requires time to make adjustments. The fact that an employer has signed the agreement and does not have the Blue Eagle through no fault of his own, should entitle him, it is felt, to the same consideration as those who have obtained the insignia.

Liberty Theatre

"Cavalcade", shown at the Liberty Theatre Sunday and Monday, is absolutely unique as screen entertainment, so much that it almost defies description.

The author, Noel Coward, has woven the story of the Marryot family, father, mother and two sons, their servants, a butler and a maid and their daughter, with a masterful hand against a background which encompasses historical events between 1900 and the present time.

He presents a terrific indictment against those responsible for the present muddled state of world affairs, but ends on a high note of gallant optimism that all will go well if we carry on with courage and faith.

Diana Wynyard, in the role of Jang Marryot, gives a magnificent performance which marks her as Hollywood's greatest discovery in several years. Clive Brook far excels the best work he has ever done before in a picture. Ursula Jeans and Frank Lawton, who carry the young love interest, are very capable performers, Miss Jeans being especially effective in her singing of "The Twentieth Century Blues".

"Cavalcade" is a beautiful adventure that everyone should experience.

Despite the fact that "The Little Giant", which will be at the Liberty Theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, is a chronicle of gangsters and racketeers, beer barons and bootleggers, not a single shot is fired at anyone from the first scene of the picture to the last, no one is "taken for a ride", no one turns up dead or missing.

This is the more remarkable because, at more than one vital point in the drama, the entire paraphernalia of a gangster's arsenal figures prominently in the action. Every conceivable kind of an underworld weapon is on hand and ready for use, from sub-machine guns—famously known as "typewriters" among their owners—to automatics, blackjacks, brass knuckles and stiletos.

However the occasion never arises that calls for their use. The paradoxically peaceful character of the "Little Giant" is explained by the fact that Edward G. Robinson, as "Bugs" Ahearn, Chicago beer baron and underworld ruler, abdicates from his "throne" at the opening of the story following the legalizing of beer, to retire, turn gentleman, and live the life of a "society guy".

What happens to him when he tries to "muscle in" to the exclusive society that has its playground on the shores of the Pacific, at Santa Barbara, proves that racketeering and hijacking are not the exclusive property of the nation's criminal characters. Robinson awakens to the fact that he has been taken for a ride by a blonde society girl.

In the supporting cast of "The Little Giant" are Mary Astor, Russel Hopton and Helen Vinson.

National Grange Head Speaks at County Picnic

Five Oakland County Granges and eleven from Genesee County were represented at the joint picnic held at the Davisburg Park last Thursday. The large attendance was assured by good weather and a program of unusual interest which included an address by Louis J. Taber, head of the National Grange. C. H. Bramble, master of the State Grange, also spoke. Mr. Taber's address dealt with the present economic situation and was a clear exposition of the "new deal". Referring to the circumstance that on his way to Michigan from Ithaca, N. Y., where he had spoken at Cornell University, he had passed through the milk strike area, he said: "I saw where 20,000 gallons of milk had been dumped during the night and where machine gun bullets had punctured tanks which could not be dumped. I am convinced this situation and similar situations in Wisconsin and Iowa will adjust themselves. "I cannot find it in my heart to criticize men who do these things in the desperation of their present condition. But I absolutely do not believe in the use of violence in the settlement of agriculture or economic problems. There is a better way and that way is to provide a reservoir of credit which will enable the farmer to settle his problems. These men are desperate, but they must use the better way, the way of education and co-operation.

"In this new day of agriculture we must turn our backs on the very thing that has made America great—individualism. Get this, brothers, we are not turning our backs on America. This is a great day to be an American, but rather are turning our backs on the thing that has made us what we are. I don't like this but I am for it because I know of no other way.

"America and the world does not know how to distribute its products or how to live in plenty. This is going to be the hardest thing we have ever done.

"Don't listen to these people who shout about changing the Constitution. Our Constitution is the most perfect instrument for the governing of a people that has ever been written. We have under it both political and religious liberty and both are secure. But we do not have economic liberty.

"Get this, I am not making a red noise. But the conditions of the past few years prove that we must have economic liberty preserved by a system of checks and balances. The tests in this great movement comes in the next two years. America is at another crossroad.

"It's a challenge. Individual action is through. We are turning our backs on the old ways and group action is going to control the destiny of America for the next five or eight years.

"It is group action that has plowed under 10,500,000 acres of magnificent cotton in the South. It is group action that has reduced the interest rate on federal farm loans.

"And don't forget that with all this the moral and spiritual progress must keep pace. Make your grange a social and a fraternal power."

FAIR GROUNDS AT DETROIT LEASED

Rental Will Add Big Sum to the State Treasury

Wednesday, August 9, 1933, will ever be a memorable day in the annals of State and county fairs, as on the afternoon of that day, the Hon. Samuel T. Metzger, Commissioner of Agriculture, and His Excellency, the Governor, signed in behalf of the state a lease to the Detroit Racing Association, Inc., covering the Michigan State Fair Grounds at Detroit, for a daily rental of $6,000, less the daily license tax paid under the Jarvis-Root Act, any amendment thereto or any act that may supersede it for a minimum of 25 days in 1933, and a minimum of 80 days in each of the calendar years 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937 and 1938. This means that, in 1933, the state will receive a minimum revenue of $150,000 from this source, and in 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937 and 1938, a minimum revenue of $480,000 per year. In addition to this, the state will be entitled to 25c on each admission to the fair grounds while racing is in progress, an additional daily income of $2,000 from this source being anticipated. Under the provisions of the Jarvis-Root Act, legalizing wagering on horse racing in Michigan, all of this revenue with the exception of that representing the actual renting of the Michigan State Fair grounds, will go into a special fund to be known as the "State Fair, County Fair, 4-H Clubs and Agricultural Fund", after the payment of the expenses of the Racing Commissioner's office, the first $20,000 each year to be used to "enhance the interests of agriculture at the Upper Peninsula State Fair". What this will mean to the state fairs, the county fairs, the 4-H clubs and agriculture in general can readily be imagined. As to the actual rental of the Michigan State Fair grounds, that will be used to reduce the present floating indebtedness on the property, amounting to approximately $315,000, and to meet the installments on a bonded indebtedness of $1,000,000 there that was placed on it in 1923.

According to the report of a special committee appointed by the House on May 21, 1931, in 1932 the state paid to the various county fair associations the sum of $72,859.17, to the State Fair at Detroit, $54,400, and to the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba, $27,200, in addition to which it paid $60,000 and interest on the bonds of the Michigan State Fair at Detroit, and placed $29,000 in the sinking fund to retire the bonds thereon. Adding to these amounts a loss of $3,431.81 sustained by the Michigan State Fair at Detroit over and above the appropriation of $54,400 and a loss of $3,781.04 on the Upper Peninsula State Fair over and above the appropriation of $27,200, produces a total of $250,672.62 that the state and county fairs cost the taxpayers of Michigan in 1932. It is evident from the foregoing that the taxpayers are definitely rid of this burden on the one hand while the fairs are assured of adequate support on the other.

PARTRIDGES ARE PLACED IN COVER

Hungarian Birds Released at Many Places in State Two more releases of hungarian partridges in southern Michigan in an attempt to increase the progress of Michigan's newest game bird, have been made by the Game Division of the Department of Conservation. Seventy six hand reared "hunkies" raised at the state game farm at Mason have been placed in suitable cover; 19 pairs about five miles south of Ionia and 19 pairs in Allegan County a short distance west of Allegan. The birds were placed in an area in Ionia County known for its cattle raising and abundance of corn, similar to the areas in Lenawee County where hungarian partridges first appeared in Michigan. The 19 pairs planted in Allegan County are in a low muck area where it is hoped that they will thrive in the heavy vegetation. With the recent release hungarian partridges have been planted in five southern Michigan areas so far this year. Last spring some birds were released near Carsonville on the east side of the state. A second release was made near the junction of Eaton, Calhoun and Jackson Counties. Twenty two birds, the return of a loan made to Wisconsin three years ago, were planted in the Schoolcraft-Vicksburg-Mendon-Prairie section near the St. Joseph-Kalamazoo County line. Last year plantings were made near Williamston in Ingham County and near the Kellogg-Bird Sanctuary near Gull Lake. While it is quite definitely established, according to the Game Division that most of the hungarian partridges in Michigan will be limited to the better soils and farm areas of the lower part of the state, releases will continue in an attempt to distribute the birds over as wide an area as possible. All of the releases are under frequent observation that the Division might have some check as to the success of the birds.

HELP BIRD STUDY BY BANDING THEM

But Bands Must Contain Names and Addresses

Bird bands other than the official tags used by the state and the United States Bureau of the Biological Survey are frequently sent to the Department of Conservation for identification according to Harry D. Ruhl, in charge of the Game Division. If individuals who mark birds with private bands wish to obtain help in getting additional information about their migrations, they should put their name and address plainly on the band, he suggested. Recently Conservation Officer Clarence Wheeler of St. Johns sent to the Lansing office a leg band containing the number "99" and which had been taken from a hawk near Elsie. The Department was unable to furnish any other information about the bird because there was no clue as to who might have attached the band. Many bird lovers, commercial pheasant and game breeders, place private bands on the birds, Ruhl said, and often when the birds are captured identification is almost impossible. Had the individual who placed the red band on the hawk sent a note to the Department, some interesting information as to the migratory habits of hawks might have been obtained.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO. SIX PEOPLE EXPRESS THEIR OPINIONS ON THE VALUE OF TELEPHONE SERVICE Each day, a metropolitan newspaper asks several persons a question and publishes their answers. Recently, six were asked, "Do you consider a telephone in your home a luxury or a necessity?" Each answered, "It's a necessity!" A MERCHANT said: "The other day our youngster had an accident, and my wife immediately called a doctor and me. That one call was worth the cost of the service for a year." A MUSICIAN said: "I get many contracts over my telephone that I would not get otherwise." A SALESMAN said that he could economize on many things, but not on his telephone, as in emergencies it might be worth its cost for years. ANOTHER SALESMAN replied that he and his wife cancelled their telephone service to save money, but after a month of inconvenience decided a telephone was an absolute necessity. A MANUFACTURER referred to the value of a telephone in emergencies. A MANAGER regarded the telephone as worth more to his wife than its cost, by saving her time and trouble.
