Comment and Criticism

WE DO OUR PART

The King is dead. Long live the King.
The past is dead. Long live the future.
For four years the Clarkston News has been a visitor in your home—we hope. With this issue the fifth year is started. It has recorded news found nowhere else. Personal news that was of interest to the community. You know, when radio was new, it was said that the radio would supplant the country paper. It did not work that way. . . . and the wise country publisher, with both feet on the ground knew it would not. There never has been. . . . there never will be a substitute. Where else can you learn of the little items that mean so much but so little outside of your community?

Leonard Anderson Wins Tournament

38 Clarkston Merchants and Their Friends Entered

In what proved to be very good golf playing, Leonard Anderson turned in low score. His gross was 78 with a five handicap resulting in a net 73. David Newlands won second with a net score of 77 while Clark Miller turned in a net 80 to win third place. These scores certainly show that the players were in top form.

In the interesting "kicker" department George Smith won the first prize.

We are informed that there were no "holes in one", altho the scores would show that everyone really tried.

These tournaments have proven very successful this season and as the number of players has increased each time it is to be hoped that they will have at least one more.

This meeting has been called by Postmaster Andrews on the suggestion of the Board of Commerce of Pontiac. A speaker will be on hand to explain the workings of the act and how it will apply to the merchants of this community and a good attendance should be present. It is urgently requested that all N. R. A. signers be at this meeting.

N. R. A. is an appeal to the American people to turn their eyes to the new dawn and not to be terrorized any longer by darkness behind.

"This is a war—a war on poverty—a war without precedent in history—a civil war, it might be called, to save ourselves from destructive forces within our own Nation. But it is not a war of man against man. It is rather a war of ideas—the cooperative idea against the idea of unrestrained competition—the idea of national welfare against the idea of unrestrained self-seeking—the New Testament against the Old Testament—the Sermon on the Mount against the Mosaic Law—a war to write into political economic law of the Nation the new commandment: Help your neighbor and you help yourself."

Oak Hill News

Miss Dorothy Buzzard, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Buzzard, the past week, has returned to her work at Bay City.

Liberty Theatre

Double leaps in single parachutes, barrel spins, tailspins, intentional nose-dives, inside loops, inverted flying, mid-air crashes and other stunting tricks of barnstorming aviators who strike state fair crowds with amazement are dramatized in an exciting picture, "Flying Devils", at the Liberty Theatre, appearing Sunday and Monday.

Without the conventional pointless zooming of planes, machine gun spit-fire and the inevitable raging gales, "Flying Devils" is a saga of hazards encountered by a group of intrepid air stunters in their everyday activity.

A romance is at the bottom of the plot. When Bud Murray and Ann Hardy drop from a high plane to the ground in one parachute, they are thrown into each other's arms in love as well as in work. The romance has an obstacle in Ann's husband, Speed, a brutal, thrill crazed maniac who owns the carnival.

Discovering the pair accidentally together in a deserted mountain cabin after a forced landing, Speed plots a sly revenge through a stunt calculated to put Bud out of the way. Speed and Bud are to manoeuvre two planes into a head-on crash. A moment before the collision, they are to leap to safety in their parachutes. Before the actual crash, Ace Bud's brother, learns that Speed had cut the youngster's chute. He soars aloft into the clouds to warn Bud and then comes a startling climax.

Ralph Bellamy plays Speed, Eric Linden and Arline Judge are the young lovers, and Cliff "Ukelele Ike" Edwards is featured in the comedy part.

If you still have a laugh gland left, don't miss "When Ladies Meet" showing at the Liberty Theatre, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

This sparkling new film contains roars of laughter from start to finish and with Ann Harding and Robert Montgomery co-starring in one of the most unusual stories seen on the screen in many months.

Adapted from the Rachel Crothers play that hit Broadway with a smash this season, this picture is crammed full of sure-fire situations and dialogue that affords the important personages in the cast to make the most of it. Miss Harding is superb as the wife of a philandering husband and Montgomery scores anew as the newspaper reporter who finds his girl having a dangerous interest in the married man.

Myrna Loy is magnificent as the girl in the case and Alice Brady returns to films to win new triumphs in the comedy role of the merry widow hostess of a week-end party that winds up in fireworks. Frank Morgan is the husband.

For Homemakers

With September comes the question of what to pack in the school lunch and how to vary the contents to tempt the children's appetites and to include the proper nutritive values.

Eight combinations have been planned by the nutrition extension specialists, Michigan State College, which will help to solve the problem. If hot dishes cannot be obtained at the school, the lunch box should be equipped with a thermos bottle so that the home may supply this lack. The articles in parentheses designate the hot dishes to be supplied at school or carried in the thermos bottle.

One—minced ham and hard cooked egg sandwich, date-nut sandwich of whole wheat bread, canned or fresh peaches, sponge cake, (cream of celery soup);

Two—cream cheese, olive sandwich, sliced tomato and lettuce sandwich of rye bread, oatmeal cookies, apple sauce or baked apple, (cocoa, made with 1/2 teaspoon cocoa per cup of milk);

Three—cottage cheese and jam sandwich, shredded cabbage and chopped carrot sandwich, celery stuffed with peanut butter, fig cookies, ripe banana, (cream of tomato soup);

Four—sardine and egg yolks put through sieve moistened with lemon juice on whole wheat bread, sandwich filled with maple syrup or honey mixed with peanut butter, cup custard, orange, (vegetable soup);

Five—bacon, lettuce, salad dressing sandwich, prune-nut sandwich of whole wheat bread, beet pickle, cup cake, plum sauce (escaloped corn and green pepper);

Six—salmon and celery sandwiches, apricot pulp and nuts in sandwich, coconut cookies, apple, (cream of pea soup);

Seven—corned beef sandwich, marmalade and coconut sandwich, green tomato pickle, fruit, chocolate cream pudding, (creamed carrots and peas);

Eight—Boston brown bread and butter, pineapple and salad dressing sandwich, milk to drink, raisins wrapped in colored paper, molasses cookie, (rice hash with meat and tomato).

honest error although a large number of "refund racketeering" cases have come to light in recent weeks.

The law provides that the state tax shall be refunded where the purchaser uses the gasoline for purposes other than propelling vehicles on public highways. This includes motor boats, farm tractors, and stationary engines. For the first seven months of this year $417,957 was refunded against $746,340 for the same period in 1932.

Vacation time has greatly increased the number of applications to the Department of State for duplicate motor vehicle operators' licenses. In July 1,404 applications for duplicates were received and the first 25 days of August brought in 1,136. The increase is due to the fact that many motorists did not discover their licenses had been lost until they started upon vacation trips.

The first move toward nation-wide uniformity of traffic and automobile operator laws will be made in Chicago in October during the 22nd annual National Safety Congress. At that time, a national conference of motor vehicle administrators is to be formed. The Department of State participates in this work by direction of the legislature.

A complete survey of weight taxes paid by trucks, buses, trailers and taxicabs in Michigan is being made by the Federal Department of Public Roads. In requesting permission to use Department of State records, the federal government did not disclose to what use the statistics are to be put.

A new system of checking applications for gasoline tax refunds has reduced the refunds for the first seven months of 1933 44 per cent below the refunds for the same period in 1932. ## We Extend Our Greetings

It's going to be more difficult to get back to school this year, but what do you care. Lincoln had things tough but he made good headway in this world. Perhaps the best things in life are free, but a little bird once told us that things that cost nothing are generally worth just that.

Anyway you are going to stick to school for another year—and that is a good thing for you—you'll find all the education you can get handy in later years. It is also a good thing for the other people. You may leave a good job for someone else who may support a family upon what you are now getting.

We appreciate your desire to get ahead in the world. Good publicity is a great help. We just know you will make good. Therefore we are willing to extend all the good publicity you need, within our power. And you would be surprised what good publicity will do. Ask any merchant if good advertising (or publicity) pays.

You also have a burden to carry. Carry it well. Show the taxpayers that a school is a good thing for the community. Prove to them that the dollars they spend on your education is going to be a good investment.

But education is not the only reason for schools. They should build morals, stamina and the ability to get the most out of this life. This is the reason for sports. Football, basketball and finally baseball will teach you to play the game. Parties, dances and school plays will polish you for that necessary part of life—getting along with the other fellow.

Send us your school news. We want it and will print it. And our readers want to know what is happening.

Study, play—AND TEEL THE WORLD.

HOG PRICES TO BE PEGGED BY GOVT

Michigan farmers who have increased the number of hogs in this State 42 per cent while prices were dropping 57 per cent in the period from 1931 to 1933 can get some relief from this trouble by accepting the fixed prices of the government for light pigs and sows due to farrow soon.

The natural inclination of the farmer to increase his production when prices are dropping in order to obtain the amount of money needed to pay taxes, interest, and other expenses finally results in such oversupplies that the market is driven to ruinous levels.

Hogs for which the fixed prices will be paid can be sold just the same as any other animals going to terminal markets. They can be sold to buyers, shipped through cooperative marketing associations, or consigned to commission firms.

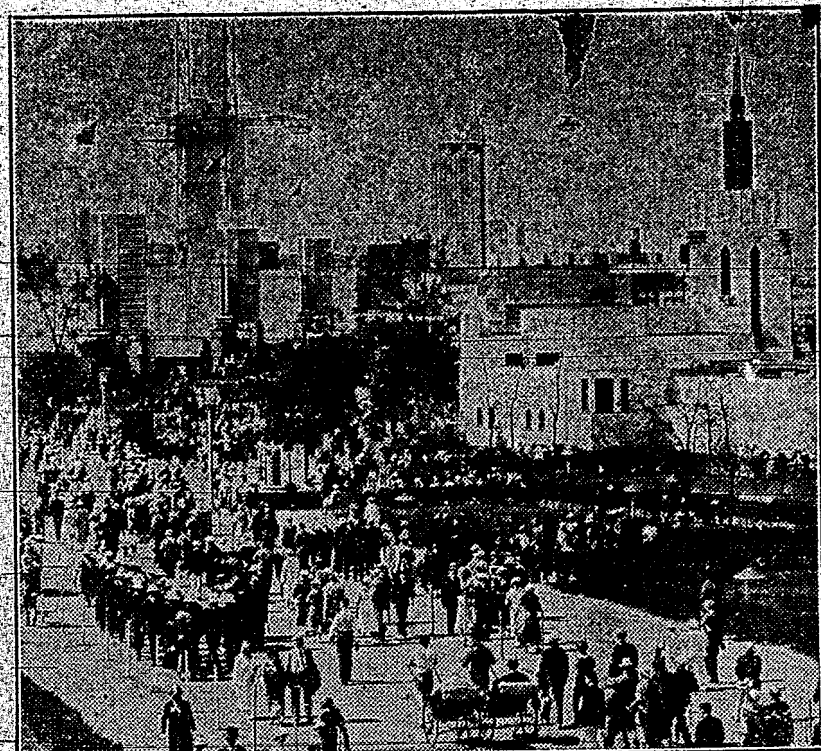

Fixed prices on these types of swine will continue until one million sows and four million pigs have been bought or until Oct. 1. Shippers should query their usual market to find if there is a glut of this type of stock which would make it impossible to handle any more for a short time.

Purposes of NRA

"There is no thought of boycott," Administrator Hugh S. Johnson said at a hearing on the retail merchants' code. "We have provided machinery here in Washington," he continued, "to take care of people who find the grade too steep for them."

General Johnson stressed "the duty of us here to protect those who cooperate and make sacrifices by investing in reemployment to lift buying power." The lesson learned during the war was that of whole-hearted cooperation toward great national ends.

RELIEF AFFORDED IN LATE RULING

Farmers Now Have Better Chance to Save Their Places

Many farmers who otherwise have been excluded from the benefits of the new law permitting the Agent of the Land Bank Commissioner to make loans for the redemption of farms lost through foreclosure sale, have been saved and made eligible for loans through a ruling of the Farm Credit Administration in Washington.

This is one of the special purposes for which this type of loan was authorized by the special session of Congress, and $200,000,000 was appropriated for Agent's loans, which are also made for refinancing of farm debts and provision of funds for operating farms.

Mr. Riordan is considering also the applications of farmers who did not go through foreclosure sale, but who gave quit-claim deeds to their farms to save the expense of foreclosure.
