DAIRY SURPLUS IS VEXING PROBLEM

Nation-Wide Move to Solve It is Now Being Undertaken

A new venture in practical farm relief is about to be attempted in Michigan. A state-wide organization now being perfected and made a part of a national organization in which are now organized the allied dairy interests of more than 30 states of the union. The objective of this organization is to increase the use of butter and other dairy products and thus reduce the tremendous surplus of butter now on the market and aid in increasing milk and dairy prices all along the line.

In this nation-wide organization are found representatives of every business engaged in the production, distribution, and sale of fluid milk and every business engaged in the manufacture, distribution and sale of dairy products, including butter, cheese, ice cream, infant foods and condensed, powdered and evaporated milks. All along the line in this formidable array of dairy soldiery, the battle cry is "eat up the surplus".

According to government authorities at Washington the surplus of butter in the United States now stands at approximately 100,000,000 pounds. This is quite a sizable churning but unless something is done quickly to reduce the growing surplus, the total will continue to increase.

Dairy Production Increased

"What is the matter with the dairy market?" farmers are inquiring. What is written here is not the product of some brain trust but the result of inquiries among those who are in a position to know. During recent years, dairying has been promoted throughout the United States. Boarder cows have gone to the butcher shop and those left behind for the milking line, by selective breeding and more intelligent feeding, have greatly increased production per animal. Then along came the slump in beef and other meats together with even a greater slump in the price of grains and feeds. The result is that a great deal of farm feed, heretofore marketed at the elevator or turned into beef, pork and mutton, has been turned into the dairy herd as the best available means of marketing. As if to add to the plight of the dairyman, the consumption of the town dweller has fallen off materially for the very good reason there was no pay check in the family from which to buy milk, butter, cheese and ice cream.

The National Dairy council already formed proposes to do something about the emergency. Voluntarily its members have imposed a processing tax upon their own businesses. From the funds thus obtained they have gone out into the several milk producing states and formed organizations of distributors and producers as well as manufacturers. Their sole objective is to enlist the interest of the farmers themselves and the residents of the dairy states in a movement to increase the daily per capita consumption of milk and milk products. For the purpose of visualizing the movement they have chosen to speak in terms of pounds of butter-fat.

Committee Organized

In Michigan the organization is known as the Michigan Butter committee. The state organization is made up of affiliated groups representing all phases of the dairy industry—producers, distributors, creamery operators, condensaries, cheese factories, farm organizations of all kinds including the extension service of Michigan State college.

According to reliable figures there are 170,000 farm families in Michigan. If one-half this number can be induced to increase their consumption of milk and butter, cheese and kindred products to an equivalent of one pound per family per week that increase alone will reduce Michigan's share of the 100,000,000-pound nation surplus to the tune of 340,000 pounds each month.

What is happening all over America is indicated in the recent action of authorities in the territory supplying New York and Brooklyn. There an embargo has been placed upon milk from other states and there a similar embargo is said to be under consideration against the importation of dairy cattle. This merely backs up the flow of milk and floods the mid-west field, throwing just that much more milk into butter and cheese production thus again piling up more surplus.

Seek Consumption Increase

The Michigan organization is just getting under way. One of its first efforts will be directed to securing pledges from Michigan families to use dairy products, especially butter.

COMMENT AND CRITICISM

From time to time different little things come to light to prove that most of the public offices and public services seem to be turning to the southern part of Oakland County or allowed to pass into thin air. One thing that vitally affects Clarkston and surrounding vicinity is the fact that after 14 years of capable service by Ed Seesterlin as deputy sheriff, we are now deprived of his services. We fail to understand what the present incumbent of the Sheriff's chair is thinking of unless he feels that we do not deserve protection. Perhaps he does not consider how people who have been used to local service are going to feel when they have to use gasoline to go to Pontiac for the same service. This is one of those years that public office holders should think of everyone and everything.

It is about time that the Legislature consider cutting the price of automobile license plates. What is the profit in begging from Peter to pay Paul? An instance of this came to light this week. A small (we mean land not the man) farmer had a few chickens and was trying to eke out an existence from them. But even chickens have the well known habit of eating and it was necessary to come to town for feed and although he had had a few weeks C. W. A. work, he had not caught up with the parade sufficiently to buy his license. So he drove to town without the license, and darned if I don't hope he got home without being caught. Perhaps if the government did not have to charge so much for the license they would not have to have so much for the C. W. A. I understand that different branches of the government are concerned but anything is possible and seems as tho this could be adjusted.

Whether N. R. A. can be blamed or whether the large paper companies are making up for the lean years, the fact remains that paper costs are constantly forcing printing prices upward. If your stationary supply is low, better call the News now—and save.

COMMUNITY HOUSE AT ORTONVILLE STATE PARK

Plans are completed for the construction of a community house at the Ortonville State Park as a OWA project. The building will be of wood, 40 by 80 feet, and will include two kitchens at either end of the 24 by 40 dining room. Portable partitions will allow the interior to be used for small or large gatherings. The foundation will be of cement, and the structure will be used the entire year. On the hill where the flag pole now stands will be erected an observation tower, and at the entrance to the park new quarters will be erected for the caretaker. Local people will be interested in this announcement as many of our residents visit the Ortonville park for picnics and other events in the summer.

Clarkston P. T. A. Plans Interesting Program

The First Meeting to Be Held Wednesday Evening, Jan. 17

1934 will start out with a bang as far as the P. T. A. is concerned if the new president, Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk, and her wide-awake committee get the support of all the parents and teachers in town.

Have you ever attended the meetings held in the High School auditorium? You have no idea the benefit you derive and the good feeling you obtain by mingling with parents, teachers and students.

The program for the New Year is being carefully planned and the committee has something of value to submit to the whole community. They are arranging to have worth while speakers at each meeting, speakers who will have a special message for everyone and something of interest. The musical program will be a real treat because the numbers will be by our own students. At the close of the program a social hour is being planned for those who care to remain. Just a real get-together where you can enjoy a chat, dance if you wish, music will be provided and then have a real home-like tea party because refreshments will be served.

Next Wednesday evening the first meeting will be held and you do not want to miss out on anything. The special speaker will be on hand to deliver a fine address. Someone worth going miles to hear will be brought to you, right here in your High School auditorium. The High School Orchestra will pep the program in their usual manner. There will be piano solos, harmonica duets, and all in all a musical treat. Some of the grades will do their part, perhaps enact a short sketch. Then the dancing and chatting and a bite to eat with a cup of tea will add zest to the program and then a big surprise—a christening. You'll be sorry if you miss it.

Blue and White Flash Clarkston School News

The Blue and White first team started with a scoring spree running up 8 points before Log Cabin could score. The Clawson boys then started working and kept Clarkston on its toes all the time, especially George Miller.

Miller usually has an easy time of it on the floor, but Ming, Log Cabin forward, made it pretty hot for George; in fact they were trying to get away with scoring honors to see who could outdo the other. Clarkston had a tough time in the second and third quarters but made 7 points in the last quarter to give them a comfortable lead until the end of the game.

Clawson Is Third Victim of Clarkston "5"

A small crowd saw Clarkston take both measures of the game from Log Cabin of Clawson. Both games were slow starting but provided a thrilling finish.

The second team barely edged out the reserves from Log Cabin by a score of 15-14. Clarkston took the lead and held it several minutes before the Cabinettes could connect with a goal. The boys played a good brand of ball and the game saw the appearance of Myron Cole, who made good in his first start. The final score was as follows:

Obituary

Jack Jones

Jack Jones, who made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beattie, passed away at a Lapeer Hospital. Mr. Jones was well known in Waterford where Mr. and Mrs. Beattie resided before moving to Columbiaville. The funeral was on Wednesday with a goodly number of friends from Waterford in attendance.

The origin of the salute is very interesting and is not known to many. It dates back to the times when all men went about armed for sudden attack. When two such men happened to meet in a friendly manner, each signified his peaceful intentions by raising his right hand and arm on sighting the other. This custom continued and finally developed into the modern military salute. It is an exchange of courtesy and manifestation of mutual respect between individuals in a military organization and is in no sense the admission on the part of the one saluting that he is inferior to the one being saluted.

VARIED PROGRAM AT EAST LANSING

For Farmers' Week to Be Held at M. S. C. Jan. 29-Feb. 2

Plenty of entertainment features have been arranged for the annual Farmers' Week to be held at Michigan State College, Jan. 29 to Feb. 2. The crack College R. O. T. C. band, Women's Glee Club and Men's Glee Club will appear at the general meetings.

A parade of prize-winning College livestock, a 4-H club sheep shearing contest in which 20 county champions will participate, and pulling contest for horses, mules and oxen will feature the Wednesday evening meeting in Demonstration Hall.

Thursday afternoon, the annual Little International Livestock Show will be held in the large riding hall. Students will fit and show College owned stock, and ribbons will be awarded on the basis of fitting and showing, with the conformation of the animals not to be considered by the judges.

A heavyweight horse pulling contest, with annually record-breaking crowds, will be held at the Thursday evening meeting.

In addition, there will be educational exhibits arranged by all departments of the agricultural division, and other College departments will again give popular scientific demonstrations. The Chemistry and Engineering shows will be staged again this year for the rural visitors.

A new feature of the entertainment program will be a Round-Up Ball to be held in the College gymnasium Tuesday evening. This dance will follow the three banquets to be held Tuesday evening.

EXHIBITS ARE TO FEATURE PROGRAM

Also Demonstration and Lecture for Women at E. Lansing

Mrs. B. D. Niles, of Lansing, Michigan, will be the speaker at the home economics extension banquet to be held on Tuesday evening, January 30, in connection with annual Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, according to Miss Edna V. Smith, state leader of home demonstration agents. Miss Smith is assisting Dr. Marie Dye, dean of home economics, in arrangements for the women's meetings.

Exhibits will be among the interesting home economics features, with demonstrations by students in the department. The demonstrations, all of which will provide practical and useful hints for the homemaker, have been arranged and will be repeated over the four day period so that the visitors will be able to attend all of them.

Music, drama, lectures, and entertainment features are included in the women's program, but it will also provide enough free hours so that the visiting homemakers can enjoy any of the general programs in the afternoon or inspect the exhibits at the shows.

STATE MATTERS OF INTEREST TO ALL

Digest Prepared in Office of the Secretary of State

More than 1,500 Michigan corporations whose charters have been lost in recent years through inability to pay the state corporation franchise fees will again be given the opportunity to engage in business because of legislation enacted at the last special session of the legislature.

The law was sponsored by the Department of State. It provides that any corporation whose charter became void through non-payment of corporation fees, may, by payment of not less than one-quarter of the total delinquent fees prior to August 31, 1934, become reinstated and its corporate powers restored.

The measure, which became effective Dec. 26, 1933, is in line with measures adopted earlier in the year in providing for the installment payment of delinquent property taxes. Notices to more than 1,500 companies affected have been sent out by the Department of State.

Every automobile factory in Michigan is favorably affected by the recent ruling of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles of Ohio.

Several months ago, Ohio ruled that starting in 1934 it would not permit driveaways to pass through the state unless each vehicle bore plates issued to a bona fide Ohio dealer. This would have prevented Michigan's principal product to have been transported through that state.

But as a result of a reciprocity agreement worked out between the two states, Michigan will recognize Ohio driveaways and that state will allow Michigan cars to be driven through Ohio when equipped with two plates. In the past it has been the usage to use but one plate on a car being driven from factory to dealer, but Ohio now announces that each vehicle must be equipped with two plates.

EXPLAINS SALES TAX

"January 30, 1934, is the dead line for filing annual sales tax returns, for taxpayers whose fiscal year ended December 31, 1933," states James E. Mogan, managing director of the State Board of Tax Administration. "It is important that taxpayers file both monthly returns and annual returns if their fiscal year ended on December 31, 1933. The annual sales tax returns should show the total gross business from July 1, 1933, to December 31, 1933; not from January 1, 1933. Annual returns should bal-

SOVIET GOVERNMENT TO EXHIBIT AT CHICAGO

One of the most interesting of the new foreign government exhibits for the Century of Progress Exposition of 1934 will be that of Russia, for which arrangements are now nearing completion.

The Soviet government proposes to make an unusual showing of what Russia has to offer, and especially of what it has to offer American tourists, and the arrangements for the exhibit have been negotiated by W. A. Kurtz, of Moscow, the head of Intourist Inc., the Soviet tourist agency.

The Russian exhibit is made possible because of the recognition extended that government by the government of the United States. It is not generally known that the Russians wished to place a government exhibit at Chicago in 1933, but the Exposition authorities would not, at that time, permit any display of Soviet flags or insignia of any kind as this nation had not then recognized Russia.

There can be no doubt of the interest this Russian exhibit will create on the part of every visitor to the Fair. It will portray the advances that nation has made since the revolution, and will do much to unveil the mystery that has surrounded Russia and the Russian people.

ONLY SLIGHT INCREASE IN CHEVROLET PRICES

Prices on the new 1934 "knee-action" Chevrolets were announced this week by William E. Holler, general sales manager of the company, upon his arrival from Detroit for the New York Automobile show.

Prices on the new line of cars are: Five-window coupe, $565; sport coupe with rumble seat, $605; coach, $585; sedan, $645; town-sedan with built-in trunk, $615; sport roadster with rumble seat, $545, and cabriolet with rumble seat, $665.

This slight increase is directly in line with the recent prediction of Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, that automobile prices for 1934 would advance approximately 15 per cent; however, due to cooperation between Chevrolet and its 10,000 dealers, the actual increase in the cost to the purchaser is only 8 per cent.

"It is particularly fitting at this time," said Mr. Holler, "when the buying public is constantly being reminded to carefully weigh values before making any purchase to emphasize delivered rather than list prices. Naturally, delivered prices will vary in various parts of the country, due to the difference in freight charges alone, but the average delivered price will show an increase of approximately 8 per cent."

England now claims the world's fastest mail plane. It does 200 miles an hour with a load of 40,000 letters.

more liberally on the family table. The goal is to increase the consumption of butter by one pound per family per week or by using more milk equal to a pound of butter. This means that each family will consume an added pound of butter each week or will consume from 10 to 12 quarts of fluid milk either in cooking or on the table as a drink.

County farm agents of all counties where farm extension work is being carried on will head up the Michigan campaign. In other counties prominent dairymen will assume sponsorship.

Within the next few months the people of Michigan are going to hear considerable of this militant dairy organization. Newspapers, the radio, the lecture platform, farmers' clubs and organizations, parent-teachers associations, health groups, women's clubs and every other available means of securing publicity will be employed in teaching the lesson of self-help to cure the dairy distress—self-help because when the householders help themselves to an extra piece of butter or use an extra amount of cream or butter they also help the farmer to a better price for his best product.

To Feature Quality

Better butter and better cheese will also be featured in the campaign. Good quality dairy products are spread thick. Unsavory butter is spread thin and unpalatable cheese is eaten gingerly. The gospel of good products of the dairy and their proper use will be dinned into the ears of the consumers of Michigan along with dependable information on the economy of health-giving milk products as against substitutes lacking their nutritive qualities.

It is significant that notwithstanding the fact that all dairymen supplying fluid milk to the Detroit market actually contribute from each milk check to boost the sale of their products to city dwellers it is now found necessary for another organization to spend money and effort to come back and teach the farmer to use his own. But this campaign goes farther than just that. It is aimed not only toward inducing the farmer to eat his own product, it is aimed also at inducing the people of the smaller cities to help their neighbor farmers by eating healthful, home-produced dairy products of the farm in preference to substitutes of foreign manufacture.

WHY WAIT FOR GEORGE TO SPEND IT

Legend tells us of a Chinese ruler who decreed that at a given moment each and every one of his subjects should yell at his loudest so that the man in the moon might hear.

The great day came—and silence. Not a sound was heard in all the land except the feeble cry of one old deaf man. Everyone else kept quiet so that he himself could hear the others.

Thus we see that one more ancient discovery may be credited to the resourceful Chinese—that of "letting George do it"—the most widely used of all their gifts to civilization.

Today too many of us are waiting for George to spend it. I am no prophet. I have no standing as an economist. And I am not a magician despite my claim that a thing can be made larger by taking away a part of it.

What do I mean?

The best way to insure capital is to spend a part of it when prices are low.

The man who spends one dollar out of ten in making business better will find the nine worth more than the ten as values rise.

Mass achievement is ever a matter of individual and co-operative action. Napoleon got his army over the Alps a man at a time. We must rescale the peaks of prosperity the same way. The Now Is The Time To Buy Trail is our easiest path.

Each one who can must spend—and millions can spend if they but will.

While we are waiting for the release of frozen funds to start a buying wave, nineteen out of every twenty dollars in 16,655 banks are free to spend as we will. $33,695,974,000 are on deposit. This is 25 per cent more money than we had in all of our banks when we went into the World War to help save those across the sea.

Now we refuse to save ourselves.

Depression will linger if we wait to spend out of income instead of out of capital—and our capital may shrink while we wait.

Industry has signed with N. R. A. Some have signed until it hurts. The public should now sign with industry and spend some of its capital. The cow without pasture can give no milk. An industry without sales can pay no wages. Feed industry. Buy something. Build something. Let us not forget this—better an hour of work than a dollar for dole.

Capital is going to take care of the unemployed—either by buying what labor produces or by dole taxation. The choice is obvious. And when we spend, personal selfishness should take a holiday. The chisel should not replace the golden rule as a business tool. Those who use it will help prolong depression and in the end murder quality. Let's take a look at the Blue Eagle.

We see in its grasp the symbols of industry and action. The chisel is conspicuous by its absence. Let's remember this whenever we do business with our fellow men.

And further, neither capital nor labor should attempt in times like these to intrench itself at the expense of the common good. And no chisel should lurk in any political coat-tail. Let us have public, as well as private, unselfishness.

Ours is the richest country in all the world. It is rich in money. It is rich in market. It is rich in a necessity of replacement and repair built up by the highest standards of living the world has ever known. Let's inflate our confidence before we inflate our currency. Let's remember that God helps those who help themselves and that Mr. Roosevelt is not likely to do more. He can't throw the forward passes and catch them too. He expects each and every one of us to play ball with him.

Let's stop nursing depression. Let's begin to count our blessings. Business is better. It is like a man with a trunk half way up stairs. It is but taking a rest before starting for the top. Let's give it a boost. Buy Something! Build Something!

This message is not addressed to those who cannot spend or to those who now are spending. It is addressed to the man who is jingling the slacker dollar in his pocket, little aware that it is growing less in purchasing power as prices rise.

MINISTER WEDS COUPLE 3,000 MILES DISTANT

Bride's Father, in California, Speaks Words-Uniting Pair in New Hampshire

When Miss Verah Meary and James M. Leonard were married in Woodville, N. H., a short time ago, the minister who performed the ceremony stood in a room about 3,000 miles away and spoke over a special long distance telephone connection the words which made the young people man and wife.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. Charles L. Meary, pastor of the Union-Congregational Church at La Jolla, Cal. She was the last of his children to be married, and as he was unable to come East and the couple could not go West, arrangements were made whereby he was able to officiate at the ceremony, in spite of his residence on the other side of the continent.

The Rev. Mr. Meary not only performed the ceremony but also gave the bride away, asking all the questions and making the proper responses himself. He was assisted in New Hampshire by the Rev. Grant M. Selch, minister of the Wells River, Vt., Congregational Church, who gave the final benediction and clasped the hands of the newlyweds together. All of the witnesses to the marriage wore telephone headsets, in order to listen to the entire ceremony.

Early Spanish explorers designated the shores of Venezuela and nearby islands as Pearl Coast.

Liberty Theatre HOLLY

H. G. Wells' imagination, James Whale's direction and expert acting on the part of a large cast make "The Invisible Man" which will be at the Liberty Theatre Sunday and Monday, a most striking picture.

It's all about a super scientist who manages to make himself invisible by means of an obscure drug and then, half crazed by its effect, sets about to make the world realize his unlimited power. He does so in a graphic, startling manner, and strangely enough, there isn't a moment when the audience is not aware of the unseen man's presence on the screen, when he is meant to be there. Of course, being invisible, he is not actually seen, but how he is felt!

His wild course is so cleverly shown on the screen that it would be downright treason to describe it. And his fate is worked out in such a spectacular manner that memories of "The Invisible Man" are bound to linger long with those so fortunate to see it. Somehow the treatment given this weird tale by R. C. Sheriff, who is credited with the screen play, makes the picture entirely reasonable and not fantastic in the least, and the expert characterization lent by Claude Rains in his picture debut, William Harrigan, Gloria Stuart, Dudley Digges and Henry Travers, enhances this effect of entirely logical occurrences, although the menace of the unseen is always present.

The old time sailor wore gold anchors in his ears to ward off evil spirits. He also wore long hair and slicked it back with tar.

DOG'S BARKS IN TELEPHONE BRING HELP FOR MISTRESS

Evidently cats and dogs are learning what to do in times of emergency.

The other day the police were sent to an apartment on Northwestern Avenue, Chicago, by a telephone operator who reported that a dog was barking into the telephone at that address. Entrance to the apartment was forced, and a woman was found unconscious on the floor. A collie dog named Kayo was standing over a telephone, barking and whining. His mistress had fainted, and Kayo, finding her unconscious, knocked over the telephone in his excitement, thus putting in a timely call for help.

Only a day or two previous to that occurrence a cat in an insurance office at Alturas used the telephone to save its own life. The cat had been locked in the office for two weeks while the proprietor was out of town. Finally it knocked over the telephone, and an alert operator sent someone to find out what was wrong.

LONG CALL TO HIS MOTHER MARKS MAN'S ANNIVERSARY

When John F. Horton was honored at a testimonial banquet at the Ft. Shelby Hotel, Detroit, recently, by 150 business associates, on the occasion of his thirtieth anniversary in the service of the Aetna Life Insurance Company and its affiliate, the Aetna Casualty & Surety Company, a special telephone connection was made with Hartford, Conn., so that his mother, Mrs. L. M. Horton of that city, might have a part in the celebration and might also express her congratulations to her son in person. The home office of the Aetna Life group arranged for the telephone connection and Clifford B. Morcom, Vice President, took advantage of the opportunity to convey the good wishes of the home-office executives.

- WATERLESS COOKING. With your electric range you use no water for roasts and only half-a-cup for vegetables.
- MODERN. In attractive and striking designs, these electric ranges do much to brighten and add a feeling of newness to your entire kitchen.
- FULL FLAVORED. Electric cooking has a deliciously different flavor—a natural flavor in foods. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices.
- INEXPENSIVE. Electric cooking costs less than a cent a meal per person.
- SAFE. An electric range supplies only pure heat from a glowing wire—there is no flame, no matches, no fumes.

Electric cooking is as inevitable as electric lighting. We know it—we want you to see from your electric bills that electric cooking is not expensive. Just tell us to put an electric range in your kitchen—we do the rest.

Applications for ranges on trial installations will be taken care of in the order they are received. Call any Detroit Edison office.

Remember Your Home Newspaper

All matters handled thru the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.

Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.

We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper week by week.
