

COMMENT AND CRITICISM

Having somewhat settled ideas as to starting business on a Friday, what a bird wants to tell you when he tries to fly in your window; black cats crossing your pathway; walking under ladders; we await the tidings the ground hog will bring today.

We often hear the remark "He is dead and does not know it" and can think of cases the saying fits but why not look on the bright side of life and say "He is alive and he seems to love it". So thinking of the last remark, why not consider conditions in the same manner. The time to cry about the depression is past. The thing to do now is to look toward the future without fear. If the task is not easy, hit it a little harder. And if your small advertisement does not bring the results you wish, increase the size. Hit the line a little heavier. The difference between success and failure is about 1 per cent. Go a little farther. Do not let that 1 per cent keep you down.

The Clarkston News, this issue, will reach around two thousand new readers. We invite you to look us over. We will not "hore" you with heavy editorials about conditions that true today change tomorrow. We like to think of our future as something worth living for and we refuse to let anyone else make us downhearted and we do not attempt to make you sing the "blues". If you want a little better introduction, try us for three months (a coupon on page two) or if you like a lot for your money read our adv (yet we believe in advertising) on page 4.

RECOVERY

With the advent of 1934 another significant change made itself felt—a distinctly better feeling in the business and financial worlds as to the future. Reviews in practically all leading periodicals were decidedly optimistic, and this not on optimistic grounds, but, and evidently, on the grounds of fact, based as all good facts should be, by the evidence. The Washington Post, in illustration, presented "The Map of the Nation's Business," marking the respective states in white (good), gray (fair) and black (quiet), and without intent to do so it conveyed, almost irresistibly (in contrast to a map of the same character published a year ago, and also reproduced), the thought that the sun of prosperity was rising and illuminating with its life-giving rays, vast areas of the United States that languished a year ago in somber colors of gray and black. This illuminating exhibit of progress and recovery was reinforced by the publication of the viewpoint of men high in the Nation's business, financial and political affairs, who, by the very nature of the case, cannot afford to give voice to views instigated by optimism alone. Such men, for instance, as Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, who gave the cheering assurance that:

"Everything in the banking situation is in fine shape."

A contrast assuredly to conditions that ruled less than a year ago. Secretary of Commerce Roper, reviewing that background hails the ending of 1933 as witnessing "The most remarkable period of business recovery ever experienced by any country." A conclusion with which Ralph West Robey, writing in the Washington Post (a periodical inclined to criticism of the Democratic Party) agrees, stating: "In many respects this statement unquestionably is true. The increase of business activity from the lows of March to the highs of July is, at least in so far as I know, without parallel in the economic annals of either this or any other country. Since July, of course, much of the gain has been lost, but the volume of business activity is still considerably above the level of last March."

When administration and opposition concur the resultant is apt to be pretty well right.

On the whole the situation reminds one of the end of a storm. The wind still roars in heavy gusts, and the horizon looks wild, nevertheless, eye and brain of the experienced mariner registers one significant and summarizing word which he duly enters in his sea-log, and that word is "Clearing."

Northern Friends Remembered by Folks in California and Florida

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wompole and daughter Mazy are spending a few months in Oakland, Calif. The town folk will be interested in hearing from them. A letter from A. B. follows:

January 23, 1934. Tuesday Night.

Dear George and all: We arrived in Hollywood about 3 p. m. today, 10 days from starting time. Sure was a fine trip, the weather was ideal all the way.

We drove about 300 miles a day, average, and every new sight, we would say, "I wish Uncle George and Aunt Mazy were along to see that." We had a little trouble at El Blaza, Texas, a burned out generator and a "blow-out", however everything was fixed up fine and it took but little time.

We enjoyed everything you so thoughtfully packed for us, and with the other things our friends gave us to take along the trip was made just one enjoyable ride, and with all you folks right along with us! By the way, I just figured up the mileage, 2930 miles, quite a few steps than the old grey mare. George you just have to make the trip. With your new car you would not have a bit of trouble, and making lots of side trips and stops you'd not spend over 30 days away from home, if time were short.

I have not figured up how much gas I used. The tire and generator cost about $11.00 and with that included we spent about $65.00. We still have about 450 miles to go to get up to Oakland and the other folks. The folks here were glad to see us and are already arranging lots of entertainment.

Will write more later. Your letter and paper were here for us when we arrived. Kind regards and, best wishes.

The Wompoles and "Brownie". P. S. We had a drink of crazy water from the original well, and sure was interesting. Will have a lot to tell you.

Noted Film Play Coming to Liberty for Four Nights

Described as the greatest piece of motion-picture entertainment of all times, "Dinner at Eight", Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's filmization of the Broadway play hit, will be shown at the Liberty Theatre Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for the first time at popular prices.

It is almost unbelievable that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer was able to gather together for this one picture such outstanding film names as Marie Dressler, John Barrymore, Wallace Beery, Jean Harlow, Lionel Barrymore, Lee Tracy, Edmund Lowe, Billie Burke, Madge Evans, Jean Hersholt, Karen Morley, Louise Closser Hale, Phillips Holmes and May Robson, together with a supporting cast of eleven players.

The remarkable part of the picture is that its episodic narrative offers each of the celebrities in the cast a meaty role.

One phase of the picture deals with Lionel Barrymore, who is worried over the collapse of his shipbuilding concern the while his wife, Billie Burke, blithely arranges a dinner for a pair of visiting British aristocrats. It is into this aspect of the story that Marie Dressler is introduced as a retired trouper of the "gay nineties" and an old flame of Lionel.

Then is presented the domestic picture of Wallace Beery, the hard-boiled business racketeer who is responsible for the upheaval in Lionel Barrymore's shipbuilding interests. Beery is married to the flashy Jean Harlow, who carries on an affair with Edmund Lowe behind her husband's back and whose social ambitions bring her into contact with the other principals at this all star dinner.

Myrna Loy, Max Baer, Primo Carnera, Jack Dempsey, Walter Huston and Otto Kruger comprise the distinguished group of actors and sporting personalities gathered together by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for "The Prizefighter and the Lady", a gripping story of the prize ring which will be shown at the Liberty Theatre Friday and Saturday.

The plot of the new film depicts the career of a hard-boiled youngster who rises from the position of "bouncer" in a speakeasy to that of a fighter of championship calibre. Walter Huston plays the role of the booze-ridden, down-at-the-heel fight manager who recognizes in Baer championship material and trains him for his fights.

HONEY-BEE HAS NO NRA REGULATIONS

His Only Object Is to Fill the Hive When Filling Is Good

The State Department of Agricul- ture calls attention to the following interesting and curious facts in re- gard to that remarkable insect, the honey-bee.

A drone, or male bee, has no father, but has a grandfather on his mother's side. Although there are from 30,000 to 50,000 bees in the average colony, as a rule there is but one queen bee, who lays as many as 1 1/2 times her own weight of eggs per day.

A worker-bee may live six or eight months during the less active season of the year—fall, winter and early spring. A worker-bee hatched just at the honey-gathering season is less fortunate, however, and often wears out its wings and life in a few weeks, due to the intensive work required to fill the hive with honey, not infre- quently falling exhausted outside of the hive and there expiring.

To bring in a single pound of nec- tar 20,000 trips to the fields are re- quired. The average flying distance for a bee-load is sometimes a mile and a half. If one bee had sufficient strength and lived long enough to gather the four pounds of nectar re- quired to make one pound of honey, it would involve 30,000 trips of one mile each, or a total distance equal to more than three times the circum- ference of the globe.

The honey-bee is usually thought of by the layman in terms of honey. As a matter of fact, the honey-bee is the best friend the orchardist has, it being not unusual for one colony of bees per acre of fruit, working in the orchard during the blossoming sea- son, to treble or quadruple the yield.

ENJOY THE CLEANLINESS OF ELECTRIC COOKING

—IN YOUR OWN KITCHEN WITH A—

IF YOU have heard people talk about the electric range, if you have read about the advantages of the "glowing wire" method of cooking, you must have wondered why it is so clean. The facts are these: Electric heat has no smoke or soot. It is actually as clean as sunlight. There are no products of combustion as in cook- ing with fuel, no dirt to soil kitchen walls and curtains, and to darken woodwork. There is no soot to blacken utensils. Pots and pans remain bright and shiny after long use—as spick and span as the day you bought them. This is electric "glow- ing wire" cooking.

We do not ask you to take our word for it. We want you to discover these things for yourself. And to make it easy for you to do so, we are offering a special trial plan that enables you to try electric cook- ing in your own home without making any investment. The plan is this: We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly pay- ments will be applied toward the pur- chase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense.

Send in your application for a trial range today!

 season's ticket which is 16 entertainments. Cards and dancing follow the program mentioned. The building has the finest dance floor in the city. Last Tuesday evening there were 79 couples who participated in the grand march. This to me is a very pretty, also interesting sight because of so many couples with snow white hair taking part whose movements are graceful.

New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Michigan each have a state tourist club with a full set of officers, meeting Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, with an All States club for Saturday evening. New York as usual leads in numbers with Michigan third. With the many other entertainments in the city there is plenty of diversion for everyone. January 15th there were 2600 more tourists registered in the city than February 1st of last year. Orlando spent $7,500 last summer advertising in northern papers. The results answer the question, "Does it pay to advertise?"

Recently it was my privilege to motor to Orange City to call on the Smith Bartletts, whose loyalty and sociability are known to every old time Granger in Oakland County. Your townsman, Mrs. John Mann, is their daughter. This drive took us through the heart of the celery country where we saw many hundred acres in all stages of growth. There were thousands more back from the highway and when one knows of 200 carloads of tomatoes going north Monday, whole train loads of cabbages, car after car of snap beans and peppers, 20 car loads of strawberries went north Monday, 6 more Tuesday, 1000 acres of water melons just planted, you realize Florida is not just citrus groves and play grounds.

Of course these vegetable shipments are not all velvet. While the raising them is 3 times more intensive than north, planting the ground 3 times per year, the overhead is high. Labor and commercial fertilizer, freight, express and on many shipments refrigeration cut deep into expense accounts.

The weather has been nearly perfect ever since we came Nov. 15. Bright sunshine nearly every day. The Holiday weather was wonderful. What a happy Christmas morning I did have sitting in my open porch watching the little mothers and fathers of the future in parade. Shiny red bicycles, tricycles, scooters, big mama dolls, doll baby carriages and what not, such a bevy of happy faces. It takes so little to make a child happy and so much we grown-ups.

Not long since I called on your townspeople, the Myers. Recently met Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Linabury. Mr. Linabury's sister, Helen, and husband of Detroit had been spending a month with them. The last news I had of the Springfield Willocks they were driving to Miami or vice-versa (?)

Friday evening my family and I patronized a church supper. It was good to attend one where the price of a ticket was not all put back into the stomach, there was a lot left over to carry on the Lord's work.

Milford Takes Three From Clarkston
 Milford's powerful basketball team remains undefeated in the S. O. C. L. by winning 40 to 12, from Clarkston High School Friday night, the same score by which Milford had previously defeated Keego Harbor. Howes, rangy Milford center, was high point man with 13 points, closely followed by Brophy, Milford forward, who scored 12 points.

The girls lost a hard fought game to the Milford girls. The score was 22 to 10. The Milford girls also unbeaten were outfought, but reserve material and experience enabled them to gain a larger lead in the second half.

The reserve game was won by Milford 15 to 8. This week the teams play Keego Harbor here. The three teams have defeated Keego on their own floor and hope to win again here Friday night. Comparative scores show the teams to be of equal strength, both Keego and Clarkston losing to Walled Lake and Milford by practically the same score in each case.

Frank Yeager, who is now wintering in Hommeasse, Fla., is well aware of the old saying about the postman taking a walk on his day off, and for the editor's enjoyment in his spare time he forwarded a copy of a Florida newspaper. We were interested especially in the fact that the 19th was Arbor Day and much tree planting was undertaken, and in the number of parties in celebration of the birthday anniversary of the hero of the Southland, Robert E. Lee.

Let the car speak for itself

HUNDREDS of thousands of people now own and drive Ford V-8 cars. Some neighbor or friend of yours has one. If we told you what we think of the car, you might say we are prejudiced, so we let the car and its owner tell you.

Economy of operation is one of the first points they will emphasize—the owner will boast of it and the car will prove it.

The 1934 car is even better than the 1933—and that was our best car up to its time. The new car is more beautiful—faster—more powerful—gives more miles to the gallon—better oil economy—is easier riding—cheaper to own and operate than any car we ever built.

You owe it to yourself and your pocketbook to ask our Ford Dealer to let you see this car, and let you drive it for yourself. At the wheel of the car you will be sure to reach a right decision. The Ford V-8 will tell you its own story.
