COMMENT AND ORITICISM

Now the annual township election s over we can rest until the Primary n August. Nevertheless we had quite a time the night of "Townmeeting." Personally I never saw such a "rain" of cigars and candy. Oh yes, since the ladies vote, candy as much a part of the celebration cigars.

The recent snow and the more recent rains have well nigh wrecked some of the country roads. One would do well to use caution if you travel at night. The wind that accompanied the electric storm on Tuesday played havoc with many of the trees along the highways, buildings were blown down and in some sections of the county, the populace thought they were struck by a "baby' cyclone.

The good times that have been hiding around the corner must be coming into view as is evidenced by the raise in the price of G. M. cars.

Winchell's Flash Column

Howdy, Mr. and Mrs. Clarkston and surrounding snow covered environs, let's go to press. Flash-

Signs of spring prevalent around Clarkston: people digging out their cars stalled in two foot snowdrifts; H. S. students wearing galoshes and hi-topboots.

And to think some young boys were playing the old traditional game on the H. S. diamond with gloves, balls and bats.

What no chatter about May, P. W., M. S. and M. B. It seems quite a relief to them though.

Those who attended the Easter Tea given by the Ladies' Aid on Wednesday afternoon enjoyed a good program, a good visit with others in the community and delightful refreshments.

At two o'clock a business meeting, at which Mrs. Fiske presided, was held. This meeting was brief and at this time the ladies decided to have the Mother and Daughter banquet in June instead of in May as is customary on account of catering to the Federation of Women's Clubs next month.,

After the business session the program and social committees took charge. Everyone enjoyed a piano solo played by Miss Mildred Butters and a cornet solo played by Miss Marguerite Andrews with Miss Mary Kathryn Hammond at the piano. There was not a straight face in the crowd while Mrs. Edward Fuller gave two readings. These were humorous readings and were exceptionally well given. Harold Konzen played two pleasing numbers on the violin. Mrs. Winifred

Perrin played his accompaniment. A trio composed of Mrs. Louis

Walter, Mrs. Zoea Grant and Miss S. D. Woodward sang two very pretty selections.

A sketch, "In Broad Daylight", was presented by a number of girls under the direction of Mrs. Howard Huttenlocher. This was very well received and gave everyone a good hearty laugh. Those taking part were Misses Frances Marshall, Alma Beardslee, Loleta Mann, Elaine Marshall, Betty Walter and Mrs. Clark Miller.

After the program refreshments were served from a long table which looked pretty with a beautiful cloth, lighted tapers and centered with spring flowers. Mrs. Walter Barrows and Mrs. Fred Stewart poured tea.

Carlos G. Richardson (D) was reelected in Waterford township.

Sara W. Carran ran perhaps the best on her ticket in her race for re-election as treasurer. Robert J. Kerr was also re-elected in Waterford township. The final returns are as follows:

"Spreading over a chestnut tree, The city drunkard is lying, Trying as hard and losing no time To swipe the bottle from a Coca Cola sign."

-From a Senior's Manuscript. The song, "Where's Elmer", is out of style now. Elmer was discovered to be the mascot of the Junior history class. He happens to be a turtle. If you don't believe it ask Miss Le Forge.

I noticed a Freshman the other day in a telephone booth, who was talking into the mouthpiece with the receiver on the hook. "What's the idea?", I asked him, and here is his reply, "I was just calling myself up to tell me I wouldn't be home by 4 o'clock, so in case I got there before 4 I wouldn't be disappointed in finding I wasn't at home." Sounds like Gracie Allen's missing brother or her nephoo.

A certain Junior seems to like the saying, "It's as easy as falling a log". In fact he likes it so well he put it into action. The results were plenty of scratches and mercurochrome on his face.

WAX string beans, for example, are cooked on your electric range with only 1/2 cup of water. Simmering over gentle electric heat, the beans are steamcooked-not boiled!-conserving all their nourishing food values, and steaming to melting tenderness. This is the result of using a minimum of water. An excess of water, afterwards poured into the sink. (the cooking method, ordinarily used) wastes the very things you pay for and deprives you of important minerals and Latural elements.

★ We want you to try this waterless electric cooking in your own kitchen-without making any investment or being under any obligation. So we have arranged a special trial offer. We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense.

Since this trial plan was begun a short time ago, over 1500 of our customers have taken advantage of the offer. Send in your application for a trial range today!

Liberty Theatre HOLLY

"We want Gable-but we want him ough!

That's the tenor of literally thousnds of fan letters received by the he-man star of the screen,

Clark made his reputation when he started the vogue of sock-'em-in-thejaw, treat 'em rough stars. As the hard-boiled gambler in "A Free Soul," and in his earlier pictures, he was cast as a really rough sort of citizen. Then the producers started making a nice boy out of him-and at once the fan letters started to come in, all demanding their Gable without dress suits and suavity. The fans will get their wish in Clark's current picture, the Columbia production, "It Happened One Night," showing at the Liberty Theatre Sunday and Monday, in which he is costarred with Claudette Colbert. Gable's role is that of a hard-boiled. tewspaper man who stumbles across a runaway heiress trying to get back to her lover in New York. She is helpless in the face of difficulties along the road, and Clark places her under his rough, but protecting wing. He doesn't like her and tells her so. He calls her "Brat" and makes her like it.

Paul Muni, veteran of innumerable stage and screen successes, comes d the Liberty Theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in his latest Warner Bros. picture, "Hi, Nellie!" The story by Roy Chanslor, a newspaper man, deals entirely with newspaper work and newspaper characters in their contact with the outside world in the gathering of the sensational stories of the day. Muni has the role of a managing editor who is sentenced to write the Heart Throbs column because he has displeased the publisher. The manner in which he accepts his bitter pill, after writhing under the gibes of his fellow workers, and works back into a stronger position than ever, is one of the most hilarious, as well as thrilling, dramas ever to be screened. Glenda Farrell plays opposite Mundi in the role of a woman reporter and the sweetheart of the managing

The story for a large part takes place in the city room of a great metropolitan paper which is said to be an exact replica of the local room of one of the New York dailies.

For Homemakers

Spring sunshine brings the desire brighten the portions of the house that have become dull and drab, and many women place their kitchen at the top of the list for such improvements. Color is the cheapest way to add beauty to the home, according to home economics specialists of Michigan State Gollege, and kitchens can be pretty as well as useful. Starting with the floor, which should be the darkest, the side walls should be much lighter, and the ceil-ing the lightest. Chevrolet's "fully enclosed" Knee-Action is, in reality, a gigantic shock absorber, built solidly on to Chevrolet's big, heavy frame, with the front wheel solidly anchored to the "shock absorber" arm. The result: When the front wheel comes in contact with a bump or hole, it rises or falls to absorb the shock.

A smooth, restful, gliding ride . . . a bounceless back seat ... a new feeling of safety and relaxation in highspeed or rough-road travel. All these pleasures are yours with Knee-Action wheels. And if your car has enclosed Knce-Action, like Chevrolet's, you not only get this gliding ride at its best, you also get two other extra advantages. One of these is shock-proof steering. And the other is dependable operation. The patent rights on this special kind of Knee-Action are held exclusively by General Motors. That's why no other low-priced car has it. STATE MATTERS OF INTEREST TO ALL

Digest Prepared in Office of the Secretary of State

Official certification of the special election to be held April 30 on the question of authorizing the expenditure of $37,874,458 for state unemployment relief, was made last week by the Department of State. Election instructions sent to couny clerks did not mention the controversial subject of qualification of voters. New state laws permit only taxpayers to cast ballots on elections involving issuance of bonds, and the, attorney general has given an opinion that only real and personal property taxpayers will be qualified to vote on April 30. The method of deciding which voters are taxpayers, is to be left to local election officials. The question to be placed before the voters is whether the state shall issue bonds and use the money for unemployment relief through construction of hospitals and other public works.

or four per cent of normal, Mr.

Smith has never been able to read

That blindness does not deprive its victims of happiness, nor of a useful place in the workaday world, many splendid individual examples attest. Remarkable skill and dexteriy in manual occupations is often de veloped by those who work in perpetual darkness.

Devise Special P.B.X. So that the members of a training school and employment project for the blind, in Pittsburgh, might communicate readily with the world outside, a special private branch exchange switchboard was recently devised by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and is now being operated by blind attendants. Trains 75 Blind People

. The Pennsylvania Association for the Blind trains and employs some 75 men and women in useful occupâtions. Here, for a number of years, a small cordless private branch exchange switchboard, handled by blind attendants, was in use. As the Association's telephone use increased, this small switchboard became inadequate, and it was found that a switchboard having 10 central office trunks and 30 extension telephones was required. A cordless switchboard of this size would prove impracticable, and telephone engineers undertook to develop a cord type switchboard for operation by blind attendants.

Door to All the World A standard switchboard was modified by extending panels on either side, and all line signals and assogiated jacks were placed in a single row across the face of the board. Signals discernible to the operator's fingers replace the usual switch-

The state makes money by spending money. This statement is substantiated by records of the gasoline tax division of the Department of State. In 1931, a total of $23,830,271 was collected at a cost of 22-100 per cent while $2,333,187 was paid out in refunds.

In 1932, $119,000 was spent in pressing the state's suit to collect $1,600,000 from the Standard Oil Company. $21,757,834 was collected in taxes but due to a more rigid system of investigating refund applications, refunds were reduced to $1, 359,385. Because of the cost of the law suit and the additional cost of investigating refunds, the cost of collection amounted to 51-100 per cent.

Last year $20,460,256 was collected at a cost of 4-10 per cent while refunds were reduced to $1,001,798. These records show that by the additional expenditure of about $55,000 a year, the state's net revenue has been increased by more than $1,000,-000 a year.
