COMMENT AND CRITICISM

W. H. Stamp.

Friday night picture shows are well attended. Last Friday night's crowd set a record for the season. e pictures have been very good and Miller carried pink roses. sound equipment easily under-The Mill-Marsh park serves open air theatre very adequately.

Most everyone in the community was aroused about 3 o'clock Thurs ful teacher at the Seymour Lake day morning by the violent wind that blew from the northwest. About the school for the past two years. only damage done around town was an accumulation of dust on the furniture and floors in the homes. Out in the state, however, trees, poles and wires were blown down.

Business must be getting better in Clarkston. The H. & H. restaurant has purchased new table covers and chairs, which add greatly to its appearance.

Someone has said, "Watch the Fords go by." One you cannot miss town, and is at Beattie Bros. It is an advertising car equipped with a radio and is the same as those that formed that long procession and con-veyed all the Ford dealers to Chicago last week.

Greeted warmly, they were soon isiting gaily as in the old days. "You must try on my new coat," said Aunt Ellen. "You are just about my size and I have been anxious to see it on some one else." As Nelly feasted her eyes on the velvety_cloth and rich fur trimming, her heart sickened and seemed like lead. She had not had a new coat in so long that this was hard to bear. But she smiled and slipped her arms into the satiny lining with a feeling of genuine pleasure and dis-played it to perfection. "How lovely!" said Aunt Ellen. "It looks as if it was just made for you! Doesn't Nelly look lovely? Just see, John and Henry!"

"You must try on my new coat," said Aunt Ellen. "You are just about my size and I have been anxious to Uncle Henry gave John a sly wink and said: "Don't let them rope you in, John; first it was the coat, then gloves and a hat and next a dress. Fact was, I'm thankful I didn't have to remodel the house to match that coat."

All laughed at his pretense of injustice while Aunt Ellen and Nelly still disucssed the merits of the new coat and hat.

"Where did you get it, Ellen?" asked John. "Nelly must have one just like it."

"Why, father," began Nelly, when shaking of Uncle Henry's head stopped her.

"So easy to get," Aunt Ellen was saying. "I'll take her measure and give you the catalogue. Nice firm to deal with, too. I'm always pleased with what they send."

As they went to inspect the new dress, Aunt Ellen warned her: "Now, Nelly, don't you say one word. Anything to get your father interested in something and you know he can afford it better than Henry. Let him have his way. It will make him happier."

The day was a pleasant homey one, with no sad moments, and John their regular monthly meeting in the and Henry laughed so heartily over Myron's sorrowful letters and tales of hardship that Nelly was a bit dren, Helen and Billy and Curtis and ashamed when she found herselfjoining in. Next day she began to think of Christmas and the children were coming home, and as she tried to think out matters, idly leafing a catalogue, her father seemed to read her thoughts. "Thinking of Christmas, Nelly girl? Let's make it a real jolly one at în for the youngsters-tree and lots of gifts. Come over here with that catalogue and we'll select some things -just lots of things." "Why, father, you reckless old spendthrift! Don't you know that you wrote a very extravagant check for me already this morning?" Then remembering Aunt Ellen's advice. she added: "You are always so generous and I do love anything you do for me, for I know you like to do it," And seating herself beside him, she said merrily: "Now, where do we start?" You do the checking and I'll

Several days were taken up before they had decided on Uncle Henry, Aunt Ellen, Dr. Marston, Miss Dawson and a few other friends. The check was larger than Nelly had dreamed of, but her father had seemed so happy that it was well spent.

Even with all the Christmas planning and extras, the days seemed endless and she often felt that she had made a mistake in letting Myron go away. She felt so helpless and alone with her father growing white and weaker every day. He spent hours at Clarissa's grave and came back chilled, and coughed incessantly despite all the warnings of his old friend, Dr. Marston; to take better care of himself. He counted the days and hours till Jack and Marian would be there, and that was his only interest aside from inspecting the gifts as they came. Nelly worried much about Myron and there was nothing she could do but, write him a long (Continued on page three)

THERE ARE PLENTY OF "BIG ONES" IN MICHIGAN WATERS

But fishing is only one of the varied attractions Michigan offers vacationists. The Great Lakes themselves, and 5000 inland lakes and streams, present opportunity for almost every known water sport. And for those whose chief interest is golf, tennis, riding or other land sports, Michigan is an unexcelled playground.

Michigan's tourist and resort business brings large sums of money to the state each year. It provides employment for thousands, and greater prosperity for all of us. We can increase that business further by telling out-of-state friends about Michigan's vacation advantages and by spending our own vacations here.

And, no matter, which part of Michigan you visit this summer, banish worry by telephoning home and office frequently. Call ahead for reservations, or to tell friends you are coming. Long Distance calls will add but little to the cost and much to the enjoyment of your vacation.

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE

INCREASED TO $5,000.00 Effective July 1, 1934

The President, on Saturday, June 16, 1934, signed Senate Bill No. 3025 amending certain sections of the Banking Act of 1933.

According to this new law, on and after July 1, 1934, each depositor in an insured bank will have the additional protection of Federal Deposit Insurance up to the amount of $5,000.00.

This is an increase of $2,500.00 over the limit originally insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation according to the provisions of the Banking Act of 1933.

Local Ford Dealer Explains the V-8

Reasons for placing the two cylin der banks in the Ford V-8 motor at an angle of 90 degrees were described today by Beattie Bros. Motor Sales, local Ford dealer, who termed it the most efficient method of doing away excess vibration "because" the unbalanced forces in this type of engine cancel out."

When the angle between the cylinder banks is 90 degrees, the interval or period between the explosion of each cylinder is exactly the same, it was pointed out. When in addition, the angle between the crankthrows also is 90 degrees, a condition which engineers describe as "perfect inherent balance" is obtained, it was stated

"Unbalance in any engine results primarily from the fact that each piston travels faster when approaching and leaving the top of its stroke than when near the bottom of the stroke. In the 90 degree V-8 the moving parts are so placed that, when all eight pistons are considered, this kind of unbalance is completely elim-Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langmaid inated, or cancelled. With full sized counterbalances, the crank pins and M. Hot Water for Health and Comfort with an CUMMER weather brings a demand 💛 for cooling and refreshing baths, for invigorating showers, for countless uses throughout the day. Have you ever known the unequalled comfort of an abundant supply of hot water, definite in quantity, day and night, ready when you wanted it?

Here is something new: Decide-how many gallons of hot water you want available for your family every 24 hours. With this new service you buy a measured quantity of hot water each day, available day and night, and you need only pay for that amount. The low rate for this service is possible through the use of a specially designed heater which stores the hot water during the night hours.

The new low rate now offered for electric water heating is a flat annual rate for year round service, which permits you to enjoy electric hot water for as little as 8c a day (40 gallons). Sixty gallons of hot water cost 10c a day, and eighty gallons 12c a day. Under this new arrangement, you may also obtain a seasonal rate for electric hot water, should you desire to use the heater only during the summer months. This rate is slightly higher-about 11e a day for 40 gallons, 13c. a day for 60 gallons, and. 16c a day for 80 gallons. You may buy or rent an electric water heater, whichever you choose. Rental rates for heaters -are low, and if you prefer to buy the heater. convenient monthly terms may be arranged.
