COMMENT ORITIOIS M

VOLUME FIVE

Next Monday night is "School meeting-night" in many school districts: . . You should be there; . So many praise our present school 水 then again. many (the minority, we believe) do everything but praise the same school board. . . speaking locally, we have got a presty good board. . . .

lowever. . if you like the men who are nominated and elected to conduct this, the largest enterprise controlled by the public and at public the one "factory" that is turning out finished products, in the way of future citizens of this grand and glorious country. .

and you believe that they are best qualified to attend to the problems that stand in the path ahead. . . stand up on your hind feet and say so. . . 1 course. . . . if you do not like the candidate. . . say so, . . . before he is elected. . . suggest whom you think is a better man. . after the election is for goodness sake.

get behind your board and help them. . we waited till And now. . after the 4th to write this. . . . the birthday of this great republic has and was it been celebrated. and was it sane. . . about the only difference we noted was that Clarkston streets looked like a busy Satuday night . . streets lined with cars of holiday shoppers . in the early morning. . then everyone went to sleep. . as nearly as we can find out.

heard one firecracker. . . . probably about the smallest one every fired . : but by this time had forgotten it was the Fourth and blamed near jumped out of the car. . now if we can live thru the next two months and come out of the political campaign, safely, we should be safe ill the next 4th.

Boat Ordinance Comes Up Again

Council Asked to Reconsider a Recent Enactment

Monday evening's meeting of the Common Council was the scene of much excitement, as that body was petitioned to reconsider the recently passed ordinance pertaining to motor boats on bodies of water within the Village of Clarkston; As the matter now stands, the ordinance became effective on the Fourth of July.

Mr. Rateau, owner of a boat affected by the ordinance, presented, through his attorney, Clarence Patterson, of Pontiac, a petition signed by a number of citizens asking that the ordinance passed at last month's meeting of the council be repealed and stating that the signers did not find that boats heretofore operating on Parke Lake made such a disturb ance as to cause a nuisance.

On the other hand, the council was praised for their action of last month and asked to disregard the petition and let the ordinance stand.

Many arguments were presented on both sides as to whether the operation of the boat was a nuisance or not. Of course, these arguments led to a few personalities, all of which made the council chamber, already wärm, a few degrees warmer.

One-speaker, in pleading for the operation of the boat, made a plea for the youth of Clarkston that was considered an insult by the young people present, inasmuch as they claimed the remark was based on falsehood and imputed a violation of the laws of the state.

It may be that before the question is fully settled to the satisfaction of everyone that it will be necessary to hold a special election and decide the question once and for all time.

In the meantime, as the discussions did not seem to be leading to any place, the motion was made and supported to adjourn, and this motion was carried.

BIG TIME ASSURED ON FARMERS' DAY

When Orchestra Presents Aged Vocalists of Pioneer Days

Robust echoes from the heyday of Michigan's first great industry will greet Farmers Day visitors at Michigan State College, Friday, July 27, when the Gratiot County Lumberjack Orchestra repeats the entertainment which won them first place in a recent national contest in folksongs at St. Louis, Missouri.

This orchestra, managed by H. S. Babcock, weekly newspaper publisher, is made up of men who sang these songs in Michigan camps and of sons of these lumbermen. Nine of the group are past 60 years old, two are over 70, and the leading clog dancer boasts of 75 seasons since the winter of the blue snow.

Song selections include "Little Brown Bulls", a tuneful recital of a log skidding contest between owners if two ox-teams which rivaled Paul Clarkston, Waterford and Dray Bunyan's in prowess. Another number, "Never Take the Horseshoe from the Door", brings back the atmosphere of the deep pine woods. These and other songs are the ones that cheered the bunk houses in Michigan woods when the cry, "Timber", was ringing from Saginaw to the Straits.

Violins, guitars, banjos, a dulcimer and a set of bones are the instruments of the Jacks and anyone who ceeps his feet still when the orchestra. swings into "Irish Washer-woman" should be examined for incipient paralysis.

The first event on the program is the meeting of the Republican State Central Committee. It will be called to order Friday afternoon at the Hayes Hotel at 3:00 o'clock. It will be followed by an informal dinner for the Committee at which former Governor Fred W. Green will preside, In the evening there will be an old fashioned torch light parade, followed by an address at the fairground by the Hon. Hanford Mac-Nider of Iowa. Mr. MacNider is past National Commander of the American Legion. He is also former Minister to Canada and was at one time Assistant Secretary of War.

On Saturday morning, July 7, the festivities at the fairgrounds will begin at 11:00 o'clock with a band concert. The headliners on the afternoon's program will be the new Chairman of the National Committee, Henry P. Fletcher, and United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. The four former Republican Governors and the two aspirants for the Republican nomination for Governor, Frank D. Fitzgerald and Clarence McLeod,

Democratic Principles

Governor Addresses Michigan Democrats

Declaring that "The Record of Democratic Administration in Michigan speaks for itself and needs no defense in the coming state election campaign", Governor William A. Comstock laid down the principles that in his opinion should guide the coming primary and election campaign at a meeting of the Michigan Democratic Club last week.

"The Battle Creek pre-primary convention cleared the atmosphere the Democratic Party is ready to go its members are good natured and are satisfied with the administration set for July has been set forward to and what has been done. We are willing to go out and fight hard and there is only one answer-a return of the Democrats in 1934", the Gover-

"So far as I am concerned, it isn't up to us to defend the things done, for the record is there to read, subject to criticism. continued. Then the Governor outlined his part in the campaign. "My part in the campaign will be to go and talk to the people of the state on those things planned we have not finished and things of the future we are going to put into effect if in office another two years. BUYING POWER OF FARMERS GREATER

Increase In Prices of Produce and Commodities Works In Their Favor

Farm purchasing power on the average throughout the United States has been 25 percent higher during the first nine months in which benefit payments have been distributed through the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act than in he corresponding period of the previous year. This is the conclusion reached by L. H. Bean, economic adviser to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, following a study of the prices farmers receive for the products. npared with the cost of commodities farmers buy. Cash income including benefit payments during this nine month period increased 38 perent but this increase was partially offset by an increase in the cost of commodities farmers buy. Benefit payments on production adjustment contracts contributed nearly one-fifth of the net increase of 25 percent in purchasing power. For the first four months of 1934, the net increase in farm purchasing power was 28 percent over the fist four months of 1933. Mr. Bean's study also shows that the purchasing power of the farmer increased somewhat more than the purchasing power of the country as whole during the first four months of 1934. During this period, the total national money income, including the distribution of emergency funds, was about 20 percent higher than in the corresponding period of 1933, but the cost of living for the country as a whole increased eight percent, leaving a net increase of 12 percene in the national purchasing power. The net increase in farm purchasing power was 28 percent for the same period.

COMMERCE MAN IS OUT FOR OFFICE

Supervisor J. A. Long Candidate For State Representative

Joseph A. Long, supervisor of Commerce township for the past seven years, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Representative in the State Legislature for the Second Legislative District of Oakland county. Mr. Long is 49 years old, was born and has always lived in Oakland county. His popularity in his own locality is evidenced by that fact that he has held every office in his township except justice of the peace and is now a member of the Commerce school board. He is also a member of the Commerce M. E. church board, and of the Commerce Masonic Lodge, and Milford chapter, R. A. M. For the past two years he has been chairman of the important ways and means committee of the board of supervis-ors. Mr Long is married and is the father of three children. -

TRALECTRIC PANCES

Any fuel burning stove-no matter how much it looks like an electric range is really employing the same cooking method used 50 years ago. A certain amount of smoke and soot due to the combustion of fuel is unavoidable. This soot must go somewhere, and some of it deposits in your kitchenon kitchen walls and curtains and on your pots and pans.

An electric range is totally different. There is nothing but a glowing wire to furnish heat. Because there is no flame, there can be no smoke or soot or fumes. An electric range supplies heat in PURE, CONCENTRATED form—heat that is as clean as sunlight. That is why your cooking utensils remain bright and shiny after constant use on an electric range, and why your kitchen walls and curtains stay clean so much longer. any investment or being under any obligation. So we have arranged a special trial offer. We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let . you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During this trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Since this trial plan was begun a short time ago, over 2500 of our customers have taken advantage of the offer. Send in your application for a trial range today!

AND UP, F. O. B. FLINT, MICH.

When Chevrolet announced price reductions several weeks ago, something important happened . . . something of vital concern to every buyer of a low-priced car: Chevrolet stepped into the most favorable price position it has enjoyed in a long time!

Reductions amounting to as much as $50—the most substantial price cuts announced in the low-price field this year—dropped Chevrolet's base price to a new low figure of $465. Just compare this price—compare any Cherrolet price—with those of other cars. Then compare what you get for what you pay! There'll be no question in your mind which car to buy, once you do.

Chevrolet offers patented Knee-Action—and others do not! Chevrolet alone has a Fisher body! And the same thing applies to cable-controlled brakes, Y-K frame, shock-proof steering, and 80-horsepower, valve-in-head, six-cylinder engine. Chevrolet gives you far more feetures-far finer quality-a far better name for dependability. Yet the price of the Chevrolet Standard is lower than that of any other six or, of course, any eight in the world.

One day, as she passed through one of the large department stores, she stopped at a sign, "Lady wanted at once; call at the office," and asked directions to the office

"It is a rather hard position," the executive behind the desk informed her. "An extra has to help at any counter and the salespeople always resent anyone making a sale that takes a commission from them."

"I do not care to take any com mission," replied Eleanor, to the surprise of the executive, who took a second "once over" of this very fine looking woman, dressed in something very coel looking, yet attractive and trim and modish. Why did she want a job, he wondered, but said: "Well, you may try it," deciding in his own mind that she would make an addition to any department, and it was not the policy of the store to ask too many questions. Jack and Marian understood and told their mother to do just as she pleased, but between themselves they decided she would not like it or stay very long as it would not fiell the place in her life left vacant, To Uncle Henry and Aunt Ellen Field back home in Clarfield she wrote a lengthy but somehow not a very concity nearly three months and scarce ly knew anyone yet, even in church. As an extra, her hours were short and only five days a week, so she would still have plenty of time at

She began her work one morning in July when the mercury was climbing and tired salesfolks were all on edge and customers exacting. She did not know what to do about lunch but quickly made up her mind after the first day's experience at the basement counter where the help was supposed to eat. Some rushed out to a nearby place, ate a cream puff or an ice and rushed back, more tired and unnerved than before. The salesladies were very cool and after a short "Good morning," as Manager Myres introduced her as "Mrs. Bates," the new extra, adding, "Mrs. Bates does not work on commission, and this last remark made them take a second look and feel a bit more

The others were in varied walks of life, the forelady struggling to keep up appearances and keep up a small family; another alone in the city and each one an individual outside of working hours, but all lacking in the things of life to which Eleanor had been accustomed. But she was gaining a poise and a manner of greeting that, coupled with a pleasing personality, made her very popular and it was an open secret that she was slated for a promotion in the fall. She knew she would like the new department, in charge of fine laces, but why should she stay? Uncle Henry was scandalized and Aunt Ellen suggested that she spend more time on her much neglected music and take some lessons at the Conservatory. FIND HEALTH AND PLEASURE MICHIGAN VACATION

The sunshine of Michigan's sandy beaches, and the warm waters of its thousands of lakes, spell health for young and old. And there is no better tonic than the invigorating, pine-scented air of this unexcelled Michigan's tourist and resort business brings large sums of money to the state each year. It provides employment for thousands, and greater prosperity for all of us. We can increase that business further by telling out of state friends about Michigan's vacation advantages and by spending our own vacations here.

And, no matter which part of Michigan you visit this summer, banish worry by telephoning home and office frequently. Call ahead for reservations, or to tell friends you are coming. Long Distance calls will add but little to the cost and much to the enjoyment of your vacation.
