COMMENT AND CRITICISM

but we believed that this right was so valuable to the vast population, that we added our gentle protest. During the recent disturbances in Europe, the administrator of the Gen. Johnson, in a speech, should be thanked for demanding Fred Marvin or phone No. 7, Clarks freedom of speech and press. Only ton, for games.
by freedom of speech and press can The local boys would like to have we have a free country.

This week, we feel the urge to go worldly, again. As a law-abiding cit-izen, we hope, we feel a somewhat sickly pain under our belt-buckle. which might be called a nausea, over the respect paid by our citizens to that arch criminal John Dillinger. If all we hear or read, or even a good share can be believed, idol worshipers blame near destroyed the hearse that called for his body. Even before his body was taken to the morgue inhabitants of Chicago were dipping their handkerchiefs in the pools of blood that flowed from his body when felled by Federal officers. Any thing that might serve as a memento was saved. However, we have not heard even the faintest whisper for the sur-P. Jones, cf vivors of the men killed by this menace to society. We know of no place where policemen can secure insurance for death while on duty, so the survivors, most of them policemen's families, can get on as best they can. But you can say what you want, we sure did give that bandit a royal funeral-and if you can imagine this—the average inhabitant is as proud of the large crowd at his funeral as bootleggers used to be at the funerals of their kind. There is a similarity in this case to the bootleggers of the prohibition period. Bandits would not be so daring, and bootleggers could not sell their stock, if

The PUBLIC did not praise the bandit and buy from the bootlegger. If you died tomorrow, how many would save mementos outside of your family? And perhaps the crowning, most disgusting, perhaps childish statements came from the royal gov ernor of Indiana, in which he tried to ease John's guilt by letting the State of Indiana take part of the blame. Such a statement from the head of a commonwealth, sworn to defend that section of the government, is in our position, such a breach of office that impeachment should follow. If the population of the U.S. is going to spoil its prohibition law by buying from bootleggers, if the U.S. is going to promote Criminals to glory and fame, then let's not knock our homeland for not being law abiding and comparing ourselves, in a bad way, to other more law abiding countries where the laws mean something. In most of those countries, the court cases are ried in Courts, not yellow newspapers. And the fear of criminals is so strong that one even draws away from the criminal in the court room. Compare that to your courtrooms crowded with curiosity seekers.

NOW PAYING OUT OLD AGE PENSIONS

Bureau Head Visits Holly in Connection With Plan

W. T. Miller, Supervisor of the Old Age Pension Bureau for this part of Michigan, was in town Tuesday afternoon making some arrangements This congress of dare-devils under connection with the delivery of Old Age Pensoin checks in the county. He stated that 28 checks had been received in Oakland County on Monday and that more would follow as fast as they could be mailed out of the Lansing headquarters of the Bureau.

"Oakland County has co-operated so well," Mr. Miller further stated in the payment of the old age assistance tax that it is now being considered among the leading counties of the state in the delivery of Old Age Pension checks. The continued delivery and further payment of these checks, however, will depend upon the continued payment of the old age assistance tax by the people of this county."

COUNTY FAIR TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Opening Date Is Wednesday, to Continue 4 Days

Closely following the advent of August comes the county fair, held annually at Milford. The management promises to have ready worth-while program of exhibits and entertainment when August 8, the opening day, arrives.

In the matter of exhibits the challenge is out to the farm folks, especially to the 4-H clubs, farmers' clubs and granges, which will have charge of the features in that line.

The harness racing will feature the afternoon programs Thursday and Friday. Thursday will see the threeyear-old and under trot and the three-year-old and under pace with 2:28 horses eligible in both events.

Friday's races are the 2:18 pace, the 2:19 trot and the 2:14 trot or The purse for each race is $200. S. L. McCall is superintendent of speed and W. W. Cushing will be starting judge.

The United Artists under direction of Henry Leuders furnish a great variety of stage entertainment Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings, with several complete changes

The big event Thursday, following the races, will be the giving away, of the Ford V-8 sedan. This is listed for 5:00 p. m., and you would feel bad if your name was called out and you were not present.

The horse vs. mule pulling contest will take place Friday afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon there will be pulled off the greatest collection of stunts ever seen at a county fair. the direction of J. Ward Beam includes a collision between two cars going 40 miles an hour, motorcycle races, auto polo, Camille Renaud jumping over an auto with a motorcycle, the Ash Can Derby, Somersaulting car, Funny Ford and a rollover car. In all there are 14 events Saturday afternoon only.

The show concludes with the drum and bugle corps contest on Saturday evening.

Waterford School Reunion Saturday

Expect First Reunion to Be Well Attended

Great plans are being made for the first school reunion to be held at Waterford School. This takes place at the school building on Saturday, August 4. This will be a great occasion when old friends and former teachers will meet for the first time

The committees in charge have the arrangements well under way. Mrs. Percy King is chairman of the menu committee. She has asked several young ladies to help her.

in many years.

The program has been arranged by Mrs. H. B. Mehlberg, Mrs. A. Mc-

Caffrey and Mrs. Bessie Owen. Miss Anita Harris was the chair. man of the invitation committee. This year it is hoped that some one attending will be able to supply the necded address of some teacher or former pupil so that next year the list may be more complete. A book for registering will be on hand. The table arrangements are in charge of Claude Chapman. Games are being arranged by Russell Galbraith, teacher of the seventh and eighth grades.

The program which has been pre pared for this occasion is comprised of music, short talks, readings. Chairman-H. B. Mehlberg.

Invocation-Mrs. Mamie Baker. Community Singing. Orchestra—Group of numbers, led by Supt. Howard F. Burt.

Readings-Mrs. Chas. Chamber Vocal Solos-Kemp Brown.

Short talks by Miss Alice Shattuck of Pontiac, Miss Lizzie Mitchell of Holly, C. Buzzell of Holly, who were former teachers in the school. The basement of the school has been so constructed that it is easily converted into a dining room and a large kitchen which affords plenty of room to accommodate a large crowd. The luncheon will be served as near to one o'clock as possible and will be served in the dining room of the school. Each person attending is asked to bring their own dishes, silver, sandwiches and one other article of food. The P. T. A. will furnish the lemonade. Officers will be elected to have charge of it for the coming year.

Electric Hot Water

★ To the modern home conveniences now operated by electricity—the electric washer, refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, radio, toaster. percolator, range, iron, fan, and electric lights there has been added Electric HOT WATER at a low flat rate. Under the terms of this new service offered by The Detroit Edison Company to its customers, 10c a day provides 60 gallons of hot water, and 12c a day 80 gallons. This low rate is made possible by heating the water electrically during the night, at a time when the demand for electricity for other uses is lowest. The water thus heated is stored in a wellinsulated tank, where it is available for use during the next. twenty-four hours.

Should more hot water be wanted than the tankful heated each night, a separate electric element is located in the top of the tank, which automatically turns on to heat additional water. The electricity used to heat this additional water is registered by the electric meter and charged for at the usual rate. An electric water lieater may be either bought or rented. Rental rates for heaters are low, and if you prefer to buy the heater, convenient monthly terms may be arranged. Customers who wish electric hot water in the summer months only, when the furnace is off, may get this service at a slightly higher rate—about 13c, a day for 60 gallons, and 16c a day for

A supply of hot water is indispensable for countless daily household uses. In summer especially, it is in demand for cooling and refreshing baths and for invigorating showers. Let us install an electric hot water heater in your home today. Telephone or bring your order to any Detroit Edison office.

At the door of the church, however, she paused slightly the other door and hail a taxi. Turning, she met Robert-Hamilton, hat in hand, coming quickly toward her. "I was afraid you were going to get away. My car is at the other door."

"Knights of old were always at hand when ladies were in distress,' was Eleanor's rejoinder, "but I did not know that any of them were still in existence. But I do appreciate it as this is my very best suit." And they both laughed as they fell in step on the way to the other entrance.

"I have no intention of getting lost this morning, but wonder if I dare to suggest lunch somewhere as both alone today."

course; that is-well, I guess if I remember, it would be a real nice dress and a coat to slip off at the table, and I'm sure you will look quite right."

She showed him to Jack's room while she went to make a change and freshen up her hair and wished that Marian were there to tell her what to wear. Perhaps that black satin that fit so lovely, and the coat lined in white, and the little hat to match. And Robert had sat in the big chair and wondered at this woman, who was so free from affectation and served a dinner fit for a king, with the finest of silver and china, yet had never had a gift of a flower, a ring, or been out to a dinner. Well, he would take her to some nice, quiet place. And then she came smiling and asking: "Will I do?"

"Well, rather! as he glanced in ad-there. I'm so glad I put it ou."

The rain had left the city all washed and clean and as they left the city behind the country air was fresh and sweet. The traffic grew lighter and they finally turned up a side road, following signs, and came abruptly to the "Hanging Gardens."

Chapter XXIII.

Some one with a vision had towed the hull of a condemned boat into a cove, guyed it safely, cut windows and hung balconies with flowering plants and swaying vines and gay awnings, tier on tier, giving it a decidedly bizarre effect. Afterwards they ascended the ship stairs to the upper deck and selected a seat where they could look out on the water. The harvest moon had just appeared and cast a path of dancing silver on the now darkening water. People moved about them and the music sounded faintly and far away, and they sat silently, drinking in the quiet beauty of it all.

More couples now, and younger and gayer dresses and snappier music, and they crossed the gang plank hack to their car. A short distance, and Mr. Hamilton parked the car and told her to look back. A thousand lights had appeared on the balconies and roof garden, the great dark hull seemed poised like a huge bird against the moonlight.

"I'll have to confess," said Eleanor, "I had planned to come out here this week, but in the daytime. You see I have much to learn about city

Chevrolet Popular STATE FAIR TO OPEN AUGUST 31

Hog Calling, Fireworks and Baby Contest Among

Detroit-The 1934 Michigan State Fair at Detroit, Aug. 31 to Sept. 9, will be a salute to the New Deal and Elegancia, a fashion show and exa triumphant pageant of the state's progress in agriculture and industry. James B. Jones, President of the Fair, declared foday, following a meeting of the Fair officials.

"The industrial agricultural and educational exhibits will be instruc; tive and of interest to every man, woman and child in the state," President Jones-said.

Features

That the Fair will be operated nonpolitically and the premiums for live stock, farm, products and other exhibits will be given to Michigan exhibitors exclusively were two salient points stressed by Mr. Jones.

Specifically, the New Deal Fair beckons to the farmer by confining the cash prizes to Michigan residents only. The 1934 premium list will surpass-last year's, figure, by about $40,000...

At the same time Educational and Automotive exhibits will be on display for those who are not interested in agriculture and livestock.

Art, needlework, homes economics, canning and similar subjects are a part of the educational program which will prove instructive to girls and women. The automobile industry, the pride of Michigan, will be glorified with exhibits of the latest models in cars and new and interesting automotive devices.

A score of state and county institutions have accepted invitations to display exhibits at the State Fair. President Jones announces. The exhibits will be shown in the coliseum every day of the Fair.

The institutional exhibits will be Located at 391 E. Wilson, this popt the job assuring a quick and reliable highly educational and instructive as ular baking company is an Oakland service, to their many independent in other years, President Jones said. only through invitation.
