COMMENT AND CRITICISM

While the boys are resting from the primaries, planning their future campaigns, perhaps getting a better picture taken, now that there is a better chance of winning, the spot light dims and in the shadows we find that there is an amendment or two for consideration. One of them is rather interesting; perhaps more interesting in how it will work out than may appear on the surface. But let's go back a way and get the lay of the ground. Down in Detroit there is a large (they say the largest) motor club, in which all the officers work for your good—at ten dollars per year per member. They have done a lot of good in the past. Only yesterday, they towed my car out of the garage—and this is all in the ten a year—no extra cost. Now it seems that the depression took a lot of their members (of course this is how I figure it out) and seeing the list getting smaller the officers decided something must be done. "Make a showing boys" became the watchword and one night when all was quiet—in fact so quiet that even the small we voice of a good idea could be heard, this idea came into being. Why not cut off and keep off the gas tax? If it was a good idea for the politicians to raise taxes, why not start a one club campaign to save taxes. And would the public, tired of spending for taxes, fall for it. And did we fall—$50,000 of us. At least that is, I believe, around the number of names on the petition. But since Sunday evening, I have begun to wonder. And may I present my ideas. I do not ask you to think as I do. The News being an independent paper, the subscribers must think for themselves. That is the only trouble with an independent paper. In the city you can buy a paper that thinks for you and every day you can have a fresh installment of thought delivered—enough to furnish an argument for another twenty-four hours. But enough of this—let's go on.

Sunday evening, my car craved a quart of oil, and as the boat had been perking pretty fair, and altho I would much rather have bought in my own halawic, I bought a quart of oil—priced at 25 cents. From force of habit I offered the twenty-five cents and a penny for sales tax. The penny was refused because the price of oil had been cut to 24 cents hence with the penny tax, I had purchased a quart of 25 cent oil and paid my tax at a total of 25 cents. My mind began to get ideas. I thought of the days of my first car—in those days gas was around 20 cents a gallon, and there was no tax. Gas has not gone up in price and look at the tax somebody pays. I pitied poor, little Mr. Rockefeller. For the last few years he has been absorbing the gas tax and getting no credit for it. And in order to get a reputation he has had to give away a few silver dimes to make the front page. It seems pitiful. However somebody has paid the tax. Now the question is who. We confess we do not know who it was but it has made us wonder whether the tax should be dropped or not—at least we have many good roads and the price of gas is about the same as the first gallon we fed the first car.

We probably use as much gasoline as the average person, driving about 1,000 miles a month and we are interested in the answer. The price people will pay has always been a good way to set the price. We have been wondering if being used to paying about 20 cents, the companies would not force us to continue paying the same, and we would be going without our roads if the tax was taken away. We dislike to have such thoughts about people's desires to protect their own pocketbook, but the incident of the quart of oil forces us to do so.

HOLLY THEATRE WILL BE READY NEXT WEEK

A. Krikorian, proprietor of the new Holly Theatre, expects to have the playhouse ready for opening the latter part of next week. The plastering is completed and the ceiling will be put on next week. The operator's booth is finished and most of the wiring, and the heating plant will be installed within a few days. The furnace room will be at the south side of the building, on a level with the theatre floor, and a blower system will force the warm air through registers in the ceiling. Nearly all of the equipment required is on hand, some of the chairs and the screen being about the only things yet to come. There will be an open arched entrance to the building extending a few feet to the ticket booth, on each side of which will be doors opening into the lobby.

Lovely Affair Given For Miss Mary Owen

Miss Owen Becomes Bride of Stanley Clark on Saturday

Mrs. R. E. Miller and daughters Eloise and Margaret and Mrs. R. E. Miller, Jr., of Ypsilanti, entertained at the former's home on North Main Street last Friday night honoring Miss Mary Owen, whose marriage to Stanley Clark of Lake Angelus Road, Pontiac, will take place at Rochester, N. Y., on Saturday, Sept. 29th. Rev. Crossland, a former pastor in Pontiac, will perform the ceremony.

As the guests arrived, they were handed two slips of paper and were instructed to hide one and place the other on their gift and then put the gift on board the ship which sat on blue crepe paper, resembling waves. The ship U. S. S. Matrimony had all the appearance of a large steamer, with clothes pins, clothes line and candy life-savers for the rail. The smoke stacks had real smoke coming out of them and the whole thing presented a very unique picture. There were many distinguished passengers on board, among them the bride and groom.

Games of a lively nature were played during the evening and a Mock Wedding with funny characters was performed and thoroughly enjoyed.

Miss Owen received many beautiful and useful gifts and the good wishes of the whole assembly. Dainty refreshments were served. Out-of-town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Janks and children Russel and May of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Don McMahon of Pontiac; Mr. J. Herrick of Erie, Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Owen and children of Lake Angelus Road; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lehman of Clintonville, and Stanley Clark of Lake Angelus Road, Pontiac.

The Legion Auxiliary Has Regular Meeting

Mrs. H. F. Buck and Mrs. Geo. Rosenquist Are Hostesses

On Thursday evening of last week the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary met at the H. F. Buck home in Waterford, with Mrs. Buck and Mrs. George Rosenquist as hostesses. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Elmer Collins, and almost all the members were present. The usual business was taken care of and then Mrs. Collins, who had been to the Legion convention in Traverse City, gave a very interesting talk. She told of little incidents that occurred to afford a good time for the delegates, she described the parade, and then gave a synopsis of some of the most interesting addresses that were outlined and briefly Mrs. Collins explained just what was expected of each auxiliary group. The membership throughout the state has grown rapidly in the last year and the leaders are looking forward to bigger things in the next year. The hospital problems and the Otter Lake Billet were discussed.

The Auxiliary decided to have a Halloween card party at the Legion Hall in Clarkston on October 24th. Bridge and Five Hundred will be played and refreshments served.

October Bride Honored at Shower

Miss Frances Marshal to Wed David Stewart Next Month

Thursday afternoon of last week Mrs. J. P. Hubbard of Clarkston was hostess at a kitchen shower at her home complimenting Miss Frances Marshal whose marriage will be an event of the early part of next month. The afternoon was spent at various amusing guessing contests, the winners and losers receiving useful kitchen equipment.

Luncheon was served in the dining-room at a long table with a lovely arrangement of fall flowers and tall tapers. Suspended from the chandelier to one corner of the room was a very attractive rainbow, very similar to the one that is to be seen at the "Century of Progress". As the guests were finishing their last course the radio was turned on so that every one would hear how the "Tigers and Yanks" were coming, when all at once the broadcast changed and a bit of interesting news was heard. The announcer told of the coming marriage of Miss Frances Marshal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Marshal of Clarkston, to David Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart of Clarkston. He said that it was believed that a pot of gold was to be found at the foot of every rainbow, but if Miss Marshal would investigate this "rainbow" at Hubbard's she would find a bucket filled to the brim with very best wishes for joy, health, wealth and happiness.

The guests included besides the honoree and her mother, Mrs. George Marshal, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mrs. Owen Virgin, Mrs. A. B. Hubbard, Miss Floss Hubbard, Miss Elaine Marshal, Mrs. Oscar Virgin, Miss Roberta Virgin, Mrs. William Edgar, and Mrs. Clyde Nelsey of Davisburg.

Friday the team plays a strong team at Walled Lake.

Independents Play Keego Harbor

Last Sunday at 2:30 the Independent football team had their first practice. There were about seventeen members out, which is a very good start. Bob Gehrig was elected captain. We have the most promising team that we have ever had and we also have the fullest schedule of games lined up that we have had in the team's history. The first game will be played with Keego Harbor on Clarkston's own field. Keego Harbor has a fine team and a very good game will probably result. On Sunday, Sept. 30, at 2:30 p. m.

WOMEN TO MEET THURSDAY, OCT. 4TH

A Speaker From Pontiac to Be on Program

The Republican Women's Club will meet at the town hall at 2:30 p. m. on Thursday, Oct. 4th.

The club has been very fortunate in securing a speaker from Pontiac, who will speak on "The Franchise of Women, and the Casting of the Ballot". This talk will be interesting as well as educational.

The first civic improvement to be undertaken by the women will be the improving and beautifying of the town hall.

The club is planning a very extensive program and urges that all women should attend.

Every woman in Independence Township is invited to attend these meetings.

The M. U. C. girls enjoyed their hike and roast at Miller's Woods last Wednesday. All report having plenty to eat and they are getting ready to plan another event.

ENOUGH STUDENTS FOR FERA COLLEGE

Action Now Awaits Return of Enrollment Blanks

Superintendent R. H. Bravender was in Detroit last Friday in conference with the proper authorities at the Wayne University in reference to the proposed F. E. R. A. Freshman College in Holly. He ascertained that they were ready to go ahead with the project as soon as a sufficient number of students had been enrolled. Mr. Bravender procured the necessary application blanks, which he has distributed among those who have signified a desire to enroll, but he reports that so far only a few of them have been returned. A minimum number of forty students is required and nearly fifty have expressed their intention of enrolling in the college. The application blanks, when signed, must be submitted to the state and county F. E. R. A. administrators for approval. This will take a short time but is expected to be little more than a formal procedure.

The Wayne University authorities assured Mr. Bravender that only high grade instructors will be employed; sufficient applications for such positions having been received to guarantee this. None will have less than a Master's degree. The subjects taught will be English, History, Science, Language and Mathematics.

Clarkston students may enroll and take advantage of attending a college near home.

Community Chorus Starts New Season

Many New Members Show that Interest Is Growing

Last Tuesday afternoon approximately twenty-eight ladies from the community assembled at the High School to enjoy the singing under the direction of Charles Hutton. This year the chorus expects to accomplish much, because more and more the interest is growing which is very evident by the attendance on Tuesday.

The chorus meets at the High School for one hour every Monday commencing at 4:15 p. m. with the exception of every fourth Monday when the hour will change to 7:30 in the evening on account of the teachers having a meeting directly after the closing of school in the afternoon.

If you have never attended any of these singing classes you should start next Monday evening at 7:30 and not deprive yourself of something worthwhile that is being done right in your own community.

RED CROSS MEETS IN CLARKSTON

Mrs. F. E. Davies Appointed to Fill Place of Miss King

Wednesday noon Dr. H. H. Furlong, H. B. Heldenbrand, manager of the Waldron Hotel and publicity manager for the Red Cross, and Julia Van Arsdell, executive secretary for the Red Cross of Oakland County, were the guests of the local committee, consisting of Mrs. Durand Ogden, Mrs. C. E. Edwards and Mrs. F. E. Davies, at a delightful luncheon at the Polly Inn.

Immediately afterwards a business meeting was held on the beautiful grounds of Caribou Inn, at which time Dr. Furlong explained the work of the Red Cross.

We are largely inclined to think of the organization working only during some great emergency, but it was explained that there was always work to be finished, even though the work might not be the spectacular and might not be "front page" news.

The Red Cross functions somewhat as our county government. It is a county organization, working, of course, under the national organization, with county officers and a supervisor or director in each township. A large part of their work at present is in helping war veterans secure proper action with the government, such as hospital care for the disabled, help for their families, securing for the veterans opportunity to attend vocational schools and in many ways easing the way of the ex-soldier.

All of this goes by without much notice. Perhaps a more spectacular work and something that more people do know about, was the distribution of cotton and flour furnished by the government during the last winter.

Roll call for membership will be held earlier this year than last and at the present time is set for Oct. 1 to extend to Oct. 15. It is hoped that Independence Township will be fully organized with sufficient numbers to quickly cover the township for the membership call.

Mrs. F. E. Davies was appointed temporary director.

Protection for those Valuables You Cannot Insure.

With cold weather approaching and the need of again starting the winter fires, the hazard of fire loss is once more increased.

You can insure your home against fire but you cannot insure those valuable papers or documents which are difficult or impossible to replace.

Protection is easy to secure; the cost is low—A Safe Deposit Box at this bank is the answer.

Are you enjoying ALL THESE BENEFITS of a running water system?

Probably no other convenience is more appreciated on the farm or in the home than a liberal supply of running water. Do you know that you can have your own completely automatic water system at an operating cost of only ONE CENT for every 100 gallons of water? Here are a few of the advantages that a running water system brings you:

FOR THE HOUSEHOLD
Kitchen—Dishwashing, house-cleaning, cooking, etc.

Bathroom—Washing, shaving, bath, shower, lavatory; septic tank.

Laundry—Wash tubs, washing machine.

DAIRY
Increased Milk Production—Water for drinking cups.

Cleanliness—Cleaning dairy utensils, washing milking machines.

Cooling Milk.

LIVESTOCK
Barn—Water for livestock, cleaning barn.

Poultry House—Increased egg production.

Hog Watering—Hogs fatten more quickly.

MISCELLANEOUS
Fire Protection—Water to extinguish small blazes.

Lawn Sprinkling—To keep grass greener.

Garden Sprinkling—For earlier, bigger and better produce.

Irrigation—To safeguard crops against drought.

Cleaning Car.

Washing Fruits and Vegetables.

Spraying.

For a very moderate sum you can buy a pump large enough for your present and future running water requirements. Then you can install outlets or faucets yourself, wherever needed, and later, as circumstances permit, add such fixtures as a porcelain kitchen sink; bath, shower, lavatory, etc.

Distributors of pumping equipment in this territory will gladly advise you as to the equipment best suited for your individual needs. Or call The Detroit Edison Company for a complete list of distributors. Attend to this matter TODAY.

STATE MATTERS OF INTEREST TO ALL

Digest Prepared in Office of the Secretary of State

Sales of new automobiles in Michigan were nearly 5,000 more during August, 1934, than during August, 1933, according to records in the department of state.

Last month 13,540 certificates of title were issued on new cars, while during August, 1933, only 9,469 titles were issued. The sale of used cars, however, showed a slight decrease, with titles on 34,039 being transferred during the month or 2,206 less than during August a year ago.

Slightly more than 500,000 Michigan automobile drivers must secure new motor vehicle operators' licenses before Jan. 1, 1935.

From May 1, 1931, when the new drivers' license law became effective, until Jan. 1, 1932, a total of 765,093 were granted licenses. Since May 1, this year, 255,000 have secured new licenses as the old ones expired.

The department of state is issuing licenses at the rate of 3,500 a day at the present time.

That the oil industry is to be a permanent part of Michigan's business life, is shown by the fact that several new crude oil refineries have been granted licenses by the gasoline tax division of the department of state in recent months. All of the new plants will refine nothing but Michigan crude oils.

Because of the fact that many new producing wells have been capped to comply with restrictions on crude oil output, it is impossible to determine the actual gain in production during the past year. Despite the restrictions, extensive exploration work is being conducted in many sections of the state in an effort to locate new pools.

SUGGESTIONS FOR FARM LOAN WORK

Improvements That May Be Made With Federal Help

Timely repairs and improvements are essential to the modern farm. They enhance its efficiency, improve its appearance and increase its market value.

There are many improvements that can be made this winter when other farm work is not pressing, and which may be paid for, if cash is lacking, with the aid of the new seasonal payment loan system created by the Federal Housing Administration. If farm property is checked now many dollars in costly repairs may be saved later on. Here is a list of suggestions:

ALL FARM BUILDINGS: Repair. Provide new floors of concrete or other durable and sanitary materials. Provide new stalls or arrange for convenience and livestock health. Build masonry foundations or repair old ones. Cut additional windows. Replace or patch roofs and siding. Enlarge over-crowded buildings. Provide efficient corn crib, potato house and other storage buildings. Repair or rebuild silos and silage carts. Replace inadequate doors. Insulate stock buildings and install ventilating systems. Build ice house, smoke house, summer kitchen. Pave barn approaches and ramps. Provide complete granary system. Provide modern housing for poultry, hogs, sheep, etc. Erect orchard sheds. Replace or repair hay sheds and buildings and roadside markets.

LAND: Construct durable fences. Make watertight tanks and troughs.

Build manure pits. Pave feed lot floor. Build sales pavilions and county or local fair buildings. Provide adequate pens. Build new beehives. Build sheep shearing pens. Construct new curbs and platforms of masonry for pumps and springs. Build windmill or repair with new platform, etc. Lay dry, serviceable walks of masonry or wood. Replace old septic tank for health's sake. Build necessary bridges, culverts, dams and spillways. Provide irrigation canals and gates. Replace fruit and vegetable wash racks. Replace grapevine posts and build grape arbors.

EQUIPMENT: Repair old or build new milk houses and cooling tanks. Install butter-making plant. Erect milk loading platform. Install calf mangers and stanchions. Modernize all present equipment. Build sufficient sheds or repair existing ones. Provide an electricity plant and running water equipment if lacking.

Local meetings will be held in Michigan at which county agricultural agents and corn-hog committee men will outline the present livestock and feed situation. After hearing this information, farmers will be asked whether they want to continue the contract plan.

RESCUE TWO CHILDREN FROM FLOODED RIVER

Installers Trained in First Aid; One Already Holds Red Cross Citation for Saving Boy

A little girl, crying bitterly, recently attracted the attention of Henry J. Schaeffer and Kenneth E. Palmer, telephone installers at Orange, N. J. They stopped their work to inquire of the girl what the matter was, and learned that there were two small children in the river nearby. Rushing some 300 yards to a branch of the Passaic river, Schaeffer saw Jacqueline Ohle, five years old, floundering in the swollen stream.

He jumped, landed near the child, grabbed her and threw her upon the bank. Then looking around for the second child, Jacqueline's brother William, aged two, all he could see was part of a sweater about fifty feet down the swiftly moving river. Floundering down stream, he reached for the child. His first effort to grab the sweater failed, but a moment later he held him firmly and, nearly exhausted, Schaeffer caught an overhanging tree limb for a moment and then succeeded in pulling himself and the child to the bank. The child was unconscious and the installer applied artificial respiration. In the meantime the other telephone man had obtained his first aid kit from his car and was looking after the older child. Both were revived.

Schaeffer and Palmer obtained their first aid training as a part of the course given to employees of the Bell System. Schaeffer's recent act was not the first time he had used the knowledge thus gained. Three years ago he was cited by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and by the American Red Cross for efficient first aid work for a young boy who had cut his arm on a broken bottle, severing an artery.

World's Fair Nears Closing

Gone for all time will be the striking illumination which transforms A Century of Progress in Chicago into a dream city when night falls, after the Fair closes October 31. Dismantling of the buildings will begin immediately after that day. Meanwhile the nearness of closing and the ideal fall weather are beckoning greater and greater crowds.

UP TO FARMERS TO RENEW CONTRACTS

Corn-Hog Signers to Hold Meeting to Make Decision

Michigan signers of corn-hog contracts, of whom there are a number in this area, will be asked soon to cast a vote at local meetings to tell whether or not they approve of the government, again offering contracts in 1935, according to Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture.

This request for an expression of opinion is made because the agricultural situation has changed since corn-hog contracts were offered in 1934. The A.A.A. plan for assisting farmers was inaugurated at a time when huge surpluses of feeds and of livestock were paralyzing the markets for these farm products. Now, the surplus of feeds and of livestock has been reduced.

It now becomes important for the administrators of the A.A.A. to find out if the farmers believe that, through their unaided efforts, they can maintain the gains they have made in orderly production. Past records show that periods of reduced feeds and livestock have spurred farmers back into cycles of overproduction with a consequent piling up of huge carryovers.

The federal plan of benefit payments to signers of corn-hog contracts has been entirely voluntary. If the farmer believed it would be to his financial advantage to sign a contract, he became a cooperator. Others did not sign the contracts.

CALL "VICTORY 1934" FOR 1934 PROGRESS EXPOSITION

The telephone number for A Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago is Victory 1934.

Ample facilities have been provided to care for the needs of the exposition administrative forces, concessionaires, exhibitors, and the visiting public. About 528 public pay stations are provided for the use of visitors. Many of these are located in the same places as last year, but additional booths have been placed in other locations where the use was the heaviest in 1933. There are more outdoor pay station locations this year than last, with one or two being installed in nearly every group of concession stands.

About 1,000 telephones are needed to furnish necessary telephone service to exhibitors and concessionaires. Many of the exhibitors have special switchboards. There is also an eight-position order table which handles requests for information about the Fair and it is this information bureau that can be reached through the number Victory 1934.

In addition to the switchboards, wire arrangements for many special services have also been provided. Facilities are available for broadcasting radio programs from strategic locations throughout the grounds. Circuits lead from these locations to a board in the Administration Building where programs from any location may be switched to the proper broadcasting station or network. A similar circuit layout is provided for the public address system, so that radio programs may be broadcast by the loud speakers.

For Homemakers

Little economies when counted up will make a large showing on the annual household budget. For example, ordinary household lard will be found effective in removing automobile grease or dirt from light or dark shoes. Rub the lard gently into the soiled spot with a soft cloth, then polish off with a clean soft cloth. Have you any old kegs, about 16 1/2 inches in diameter, which are of no further use? Take out one head and saw the back down about six inches as steps toward making a sturdy chair for the two or three year old. Make curved cuts to form the chair arms. Then use the head for the chair seat, securing it with the cuttings from the sides. Use screws to fasten the seat tightly. Screw the seat tightly. When the form is completed, pad it with cotton bats and cover the chair with a piece of solid upholstery material, using upholstery tacks of the same color to hold the material in place.

If you have several closets without doors, a colored shower curtain will prove more substantial and satisfac-

FAIR WILL CLOSE FOREVER OCT. 31

Biggest Events of Whole Chicago Exposition Are Ahead.

Chicago.—"The exposition closes definitely and forever October 31. It will not open next year."

With that statement, made in response to a question put by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, Lenox R. Lohr, general manager of A Century of Progress, spiked the rumors flying about the country that the World's Fair was to be a permanent institution.

After October 31 the magic fairyland that has thrilled tens of millions of sightseers from every corner of the globe for two years will fade into memory as miraculously as it sprang up. Moving in to replace the gay throngs whose laughter and carnival spirit resounded over Chicago's lake front will be crews of wreckers, going methodically about their solemn business of demolishing the world's greatest show.

Plan New Spectacles. Meanwhile the rush is on. From the south, east, west and north the millions are coming for their last look at the Fair. They have finally awakened to the realization that never again will they see anything like it. This, coupled with the advent of the cool, sunshiny fall weather for which Chicago is noted, is expected to make the final weeks of the exposition record-breaking in attendance.

Despite the announcement of the closing Oct. 31, none of the attractions of the Fair—the fascinating scientific and industrial exhibits, the gigantic free shows, the fine music, the happy midway with its breathtaking rides and unique shows, the unmatched transportation exhibits—will be altered before the end. Rather, the Fair has plans under way for spectacular special events of a magnitude to dwarf anything Fair-goers have yet seen.

Famed Scenes Become Memories. But on Nov. 1 the axes will begin to fall. Gone will be the quaint foreign villages, with their charmingly authentic reproductions of life and scenes in fifteen lands scattered all over the earth. The spires of picturesque Old Belgium, the towers of sunny Italy, the winter loveliness of the Black Forest, the white arches and bright minarets of Tunis, the rich romantic lore of Merrie England—all these will leave Chicago's lake front, to be seen again only after thousands of miles of travel across the seas.

Gone will be the happy crowds whose merriment filled the cafes, t. rides, the shows and even rippled with the spirit of the Fair under the turquoise banners of the majestic Arcade of Flags. Gone will be the jeweled setting of the lagoons, with the thousands of lights uniting earth and sky in a giant kaleidoscope of mobile colors.

Travel Costs Reduced. Listed among the best-loved features of the Fair, which will fade into the past with the Fair, are Wings of a Century, great transportation pageant with a cast of 200 actors and the largest collection of ancient vehicles ever assembled, which has already played to an audience of more than 2,000,000; the House of Magic, where a great scientific laboratory is turned inside out to make the mysteries of test tubes do stunts for the entertainment of Fair-goers; the world's largest fountain, which pumps enough water to supply a city of 1,000,000 people; and the spectacular water carnival and circus at the free lagoon theater.

Lord Byron once swam the Hellespont, a distance of about one mile, in one hour and ten minutes.

TELEPHONE INSTALLED JUST IN TIME TO REPORT FIRE

A telephone was installed for the Cleary family in Lowell, Mass., late one day recently and was put to unexpected use almost immediately. The first call to go over the new telephone was to the fire department, when the gas stove in the kitchen burst into flames. A leaking gas pipe caused the blaze, which was promptly extinguished without serious damage.

HARMONY IS UPSET

Opposition to the election of Clark C. Coulter, of Birmingham, as chairman of the Republican county convention last Thursday, led to the withdrawal of 38 delegates after presenting the following resolution:

"Whereas, we the 38 of the duly elected Republican delegates assembled in this Oakland County convention do sincerely believe that the election and seating of Clark C. Coulter has been done illegally, because Mr. Coulter is not a duly elected delegate;

"And whereas, while we do not question the integrity or personal ability of Mr. Coulter, we do most vigorously oppose the apparent known and unknown political influences behind him; and because we sympathize with many of our innocent and unsuspecting Oakland County Republicans whom we believe are being drawn into conditions that we believe will work harm to the party;

"Therefore, it is resolved that we express our opposition to these influences, that we herewith leave this illegally conducted convention and go forth under a banner of our own and work for the permanent good of our party, and that we work diligently for the election of Frank D. Fitzgerald for governor, and that we mutually pledge ourselves to work unceasingly to purge our Republican party of all evil and sinister influences from within and without.

"The above we make a declaration of purpose so that none may be deceived by our leaving.

"George R. Averill, "Harry J. Merritt, "Harold T. Ellerby, "Harry Horton."
