PROCESSING TAX IS NOT TO BLAME

Bears Little Relation to Increase in Price of Bread

Consumers who have been blaming the processing tax on wheat for the increased price of bread are advised by government experts, says the Michigan State College, that the tax is responsible for only one-fourth of the average two-cent rise in price of bread.

The farmer was getting an average of 88 cents a bushel for wheat in October, 1934, as compared to a farm price of 32 cents a bushel in February, 1933. At the same time, the cost of a loaf of bread has increased two cents.

The remainder of the increase in bread prices is due to the higher prices for wheat and to the added costs for other ingredients and for labor. The farmer who signed a wheat contract is getting the average price for wheat, plus the benefit payment which is made from money collected by the processing tax. This gives the wheat grower about $1.10 for the same wheat which sold for 32 cents in February, 1933.

The margin between 32 cents and $1.10 enables many farmers to pay debts which have been hanging over them for years and to buy clothing, equipment, and furnishings that are turned out by city factories. A portion of the two cent rise in bread prices also goes to employees of bakeries who are city residents.

The agricultural adjustment program is based upon the theory of increasing prices for farm products to the point where any of the products will buy the same amount of goods as it purchased in previous years. The demand for these goods keeps factory wheels turning and furnishes employment for many people.

GREAT MUSICAL EVENT AT HILL AUDITORIUM

The Boston Symphony Orchestra, Serge Koussevitzky, Conductor, consisting of 110 players, will make its only Michigan appearance this year in the Choral Union series, Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, Tuesday evening, December 11, at 8:15 o'clock Eastern Standard time. On its western tour, the famous organization will visit Buffalo, Ann Arbor, Toledo, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, and Schenectady. The program for the Ann Arbor concert will be the same as that with which the famous orchestra and its conductor opened their New York season in Carnegie Hall, on November 19. The concert was praised by music lovers as one of the finest of the season. The opening number will be Mozart's Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro," while Beethoven's monumental Eroica Symphony No. 3 will follow. After the intermission, Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition" will be played. This work was originally written for piano but was rearranged for full orchestra by Maurice Ravel, especially for Dr. Koussevitzky.

MANY MOTORISTS HAVE NO LICENSES

Widespread Failure to Comply With New State Law

Approximately 260,000 Michigan motorists are operating automobiles without drivers' licenses, according to records of the department of state.

Under the present motor vehicle operators' license law, which was adopted by the 1931 legislature, 750,000 motorists obtained new licenses by Dec. 1, 1931. These licenses must be renewed every three years but thus far in 1934 only 490,000 drivers have applied for new permits.

While operating a motor vehicle without proper license has been a misdemeanor in Michigan for years, the financial responsibility act, adopted by the 1933 legislature, makes a motorist without a license liable to the provisions of that act.

"The present operators' license law is intended to bar those unfit to operate automobiles from the highways," Secretary of State Clarke W. Browne asserted. "It protects every user of the highways. I suggest that every automobile driver look at the expiration date of his present license and if it has expired or will do so in a short time, he should apply for a new one."

In order to provide prompt issuance of licenses, the operators' license division of the department is now working 24 hours a day.

Securities Commission Up for Congressional Investigation

The Michigan Securities Commission is again in the limelight. This time a congressional committee is the instrument through which the shortcomings of the commission and the punishment given investors is being aired.

The history of the Michigan Securities Commission is a stretch in the nostrils of every Michigan citizen. Designed and created to protect the unwary from investments in "blue-sky" stocks and bonds, it became, in the course of years, a web baited with rich morsels into which the thrifty people of Michigan were lured to the extent of more than a half billion of dollars of losses.

It is a sad chapter of intrigue and fraud which the records of this commission disclose. The gullibility of the public was played upon even to the point of using the magic words, "Federal" and United States of America" in the labels as if the national government stood behind the bonds when nothing was behind them except the machinations of cheaters and manipulators. Second, third and fourth mortgages were peddled by "1st Mortgage and Bond" concerns. An institution created by the state to protect the public worked hand in glove with interests set up to milk the public.

Salesmen licensed by the state were permitted to go about the state selling securities passed by the state. Why should not the victims cry out against the state when it is learned that they sold stuff they would never have touched had they stood their own guard and had not been lured into a false sense of security? Even the banks are found involved as it becomes known that sucker lists were largely secured from bank clerks who handed out the names of those with substantial deposits to their credit.

Michigan has thus far failed to clear its skirts of this drab stain. The Michigan Securities Commission still exists, virtually under the same personnel which sent thousands into the dole line and swept away the investments of other thousands. Perhaps an investigation made by congress may bring better results.—Ingham County News.

FACULTY CHANGES IN F.E.R.A. COLLEGE

More Instructors Added; Other Items About the School

The entire Freshman College was greatly surprised to learn that three new instructors had been added to the faculty. The action taken by the Detroit office is sufficient evidence to convince the skeptical that the Holly Freshman College unit is sound.

The director has been negotiating for weeks regarding the endorsement and appointment of a Physical Education department. Although it was suggested that Holly should have a half time or "circuit rider" instructor, the director has worked to convince the Detroit office that a full time instructor would be advantageous.

Mr. Harold R. Hoolihan received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Albion College and Master of Arts degree from the University of Michigan. Mr. Hoolihan majored in History and Economics, and has been secured to teach these subjects in the college. Mr. Hoolihan has been recommended as a keen student and has been heartily endorsed by the student body.

Mr. Louis Thurman, a graduate of Wayne University, has been appointed Physical Education instructor for men, also College Basketball coach. Mr. Thurman majored in Physical Education and during his college career participated in the university athletics, being a member of several university teams. Mr. Thurman also instructs the class in geology. Miss Beatrice Norton, a graduate of Marygrove College, has been appointed Physical Education instructor for women. Miss Norton majored in Physical Education and during her college career she participated in college athletics. Miss Norton also instructs a class in physiology.

The first Freshman College basketball game will be played here Friday evening, December 7, with Pontiac Freshman College. The game will follow the regular High School games. It should be interesting to see how our local college team will compete with another Freshman College team. Coach Howe of the Holly High School is to act as referee.

The mid-semester examinations are over! A relief, however in retrospect each student realizes what he might have done to have been more prepared for the ordeal. This is always the case, we are all guilty of procrastination. The last half of the first semester has begun. It will be more interesting, better organized, less confusion and a greater social atmosphere. Parties, dances, and athletic events will be sponsored. Although we have not actually had eight weeks of college, we are informed that the mid-semester eight week period closed with the Thanksgiving recess. The reason for this is to bring all units of the Freshman Colleges together so that the last half will be uniform.

Owing to the vast amount of back work and the short time allowed the course in accounting which was to be given in the Holly Freshman College has been postponed until February. Anyone expecting or desiring such a course should let the director know so that the plans can be included in the second semester schedule.

Anyone interested in any course should make his wish known and possibly that very course could be arranged. Don not wait and wonder if the course will be given, let us know your desires and we will do our best to provide the course if enough can be induced to enroll.

A community class for women in Physical Education has been organized. All women interested may join.

New Emergency Cable Developed to Restore Carrier Telephone Circuits

Improved equipment for restoring service promptly when accident or storm puts carrier telephone circuits out of order has recently been developed. Carrier circuits are extensively applied to open wire lines. They make it possible for several telephone conversations and also a number of telegraph messages to be carried simultaneously over one pair of wires. Occasions arise from time to time when the wires are accidentally broken, or are diverted because of highway changes, cable installation, or other changes. To make it possible to bridge such temporary gaps in open wire lines on which carrier is operated, but with a minimum of time, a one-pair rubber insulated cable has now been developed by engineers of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. Each unit length of cable is provided with built-in loading, and has terminating devices at each end for direct connections either to an open wire line or to another section of the same type of cable. This newly developed emergency cable is extremely light and at the same time very strong, and is stable electrically so as to cause a minimum impairment of transmission. These qualities are necessary because of the conditions under which the cable may be used. In addition to being strung over crossarms, it must sometimes be laid on the ground or along fences. Also, owing to geographical conditions, there are many times when the cable has to be carried by linemen over considerable distances rather than transported by truck. This new loaded cable has been designed to be directly connected to open wire carrier circuits without the use of impedance modifying devices or building-out capacitances. As a result, several miles of loaded emergency cable may be used without seriously impairing the operation of the carrier telephone system into which it is temporarily connected.
