"Whether you have dinner at 6 or dinner at 8 I'LL COOK A DINNER FOR SIX while you're out for the afternoon!"

"DUTCH OVEN SUSAN" "I'm DUTCH OVEN SUSAN, the Electric Cook, and I'll work wonders for you in the way of delicious meals. For $9.50, you can have my services for life—and enjoy electric cooking every day. You can go out every afternoon in the week, and I'll prepare dinner while you're away. When you come home your meal will be waiting, perfectly cooked—piping hot and ready for the table.

"I'm not at all fussy about hours. . . . If you're late, it doesn't matter a bit. I'll keep dinner warm until you arrive, and have everything as well done as if you'd supervised it yourself. You don't need to furnish special wiring for me. Any convenience outlet will do, and I use no more electricity than a toaster.

"I can roast a 10-pound ham, a 6-pound chicken or a large leg of lamb; I can roast all cuts of meat to perfection; I can fry eggs, steaks, chops, etc.; I can bake cakes, pies, cookies, biscuits and muffins; and I can hold half-a-dozen pint jars when canning by the cold pack, hot water bath method.

All the food shown here was prepared at one time by Dutch Oven Susan. There is three-pound rolled rib roast, string beans, potatoes and gravy, and chocolate flake pudding—a complete meal for a family of six, cooked electrically without attention.

"I have a Small Sister Susan who is an electric casserole. She can't turn out quite as large meals, but she can prepare all casserole dishes such as waterless pot roast, fried chicken, baked potatoes, Boston baked beans, etc., in two-quart quantities. And you'll smack your lips at the delicious flavor she retains in foods!

"Here's a hint: Either my sister or I make fine last-minute 'pick-me-ups', in case you've delayed Christmas shopping too long and don't know what to buy. We're a perfect gift for almost anyone on your list. . . . and we're very attractive in appearance, fitted out in charming Colonial dress. Come in and meet us soon!"

Mrs. Florence Walker is seriously ill at her home on Frembres St.

The three children of Tracy Monroe are all ill with pink eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Koop and family spent Sunday with Mr. Koop's brother, Max Koop, and family, in Detroit.

Mrs. Mary Coleman is spending the Christmas holidays with her son, Ernest Coleman, and family, on Dixie Highway.

Mrs. Clara Cole and William Black, of Detroit, spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Micholson.

The Home Demonstration group spent Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Nolan where the lessons on slip covers were given.

Mrs. Rowley's Sabbath School class was entertained at a Christmas party at Miss Vivian Dean's home on Saturday afternoon. Games were played and gifts were exchanged.

Mrs. Polly Parish, mother of Myron Parish, had the misfortune to fall down the grade steps at the home of her son last Wednesday afternoon breaking her hip. She was removed to the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. Mrs. Parish is 88 years old.

Adult Class in Women's Gym and Tap Dancing will meet at the School Auditorium at 7:30 Friday night of each week. All women in the community who are interested may attend.

Udene Coleman entertained twelve young ladies at her home on Dixie Highway last Wednesday evening. The home was prettily decorated with Christmas colors. Games were played during the evening and at the close dainty refreshments were served.

The Science Club of Drayton Plains High School under the direction of Mr. Waterman had a Christmas party in the school auditorium last Thursday evening. Two new members, Betty Lou McNally and Frances Jones, were initiated. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served.

William Monroe continues seriously ill and has been moved to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Roy Sippely, where Mr. and Mrs. Monroe will stay until Mr. Monroe has recovered. They have closed their fruit stand for an indefinite time.

APPLY FOR LOANS AT PRESENT TIME

Farmers Are Advised to Make Early Application

Forehanded Michigan farmers who will want to borrow money from their local production credit association can make applications now and save any chance of delay next spring, according to Commissioner S. M. Garwood, Washington.

Some loans are being made now but the rush of applications begins just before the crop season. Most farmers know whether they will need additional credit facilities next spring and can make their applications now. Money on approved loans will be advanced when wanted and interest charges begin only when the money is advanced.

The production credit associations are permanent additions to the credit facilities of agriculture. They are conducted by local people and make loans only on a business basis of ample security for the money loaned.

Commissioner Garwood points out that the two common mistakes made in borrowing money are to borrow too early and pay unnecessary interest charges or to borrow too late and be unable to get cash discounts on materials purchased. Managers of production credit associations are expected to assist their clients in avoiding both these mistakes.

Borrowers do not have to draw the full amount of the loan at once. The money can be taken up at the production credit association as it is needed, and the interest charges are made only on the portions which have been withdrawn. If application has been made for more than is needed, the balance can be left at the association and no interest charge is made.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM AT DAVISBURG CHURCH

A Christmas program will be given at the Davisburg M. E. church on Sunday evening, Dec. 23. There will be exercises, songs and recitations from the different classes of the Sunday School, followed by a play entitled "A Sign Unto You" and directed by Mrs. Spracklin.

Col. Richards, of Ironwood, Mich., spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Perry.

The friends of Mrs. William Dunston are sorry to learn that she is still unable to resume her duties at the school and wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rockwell, who has been caring for Mrs. Fox at Waterford, has returned to her home on Washington street. Mrs. Rockwell has been away from her home for practically ten months.

Mr. and Mrs. James Redman had as their guest for a few days last week, her sister, Mrs. Martin of California.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perry and family of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Perry of Grand Blanc and Mr. and Mrs. R. Perry of Arkansas and Mr. and Mrs. R. Bird of Detroit were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Perry.

the brim with sly, ingratiating humor, telling a romantic tale that cannot fail to delight every onlooker, and echoing the never-to-be-forgotten melodies of Franz Lehar, "The Merry Widow" comes Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to the Holly Theatre as one of the most glorious film treats ever offered by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

With a cast that could not be improved upon and the superb direction of Ernest Lubitsch this picture floats along like a bubble of merriment to tell its story of the debonair prince and the bewitching widow whom he waltzes away to romance amid the nocturnal delights of gay Vienna and Paris.

Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald have never enjoyed a greater triumph. They sing the Lehar songs as they have never been sung before, backgrounded by a magnificent symphony orchestra. Una Merkel and George Barbier help in the humorous scenes and the eye-filling dances and Albertina Rasch ballets are a joy to behold.

Christmas Box to Be At Schwarze Store

At the meeting of the Royal Neighbors at the home of Mrs. John Shaughnessy last Thursday afternoon it was decided to have a Christmas box to help bring cheer to someone at this season. This box will be left at Rudolf Schwarze store at the corner of Main and Washington streets, opposite the Caribou Inn and anyone who would like to make a donation of any kind will leave their package in this box.

Any clothing that you have decided not to use any more will be very acceptable. Remember, "It is more blessed to give than to receive" and the Royal Neighbors will be glad to accept your gift and pass it out to make someone happy.

For Homemakers

In selecting wool blankets, choice depends on the climate and use, according to textile specialists at Michigan State College. The warmth of a blanket is due partly to the fiber from which it is made and partly to the construction of the blanket. A material which is a trifle loose in weave and having a nap will hold the heat of the body, thus producing warmth.

Blankets are now labeled with the percentage of wool they contain. No finished blanket containing less than 5 per cent wool can carry the word "wool" in any form. A wool content of between 5 and 25 per cent can be labeled "part wool, not less than 5 per cent wool". If the blanket contains more than 25 per cent, the guaranteed minimum wool content is stated in percentage. Blankets containing above 95 per cent can be labeled "all wool".

"Virgin" wool on a label means that it is new wool which has never been used. Other wool used is called "reworked" wool or "shoddy" which is obtained by tearing up old material and using the fibers again. This kind of wool is usually shorter, is often harsher, and does not make as good a blanket as "virgin" wool. The quality of material will depend, however, on the amount and grade of reworked wool used.

The size of the blanket is an important factor to consider. Widths for different size beds vary from 60 x 80 to 72 x 90 inches. The lengths are 75, 80, 84, and 90 inches. Sufficient length to tuck in well, not only gives more warmth, but decreases the strain put on a blanket if it is constantly being tugged at to keep one covered.

Bindings are a small item, but should be considered. The overcasting stitch provides a durable finish. A good grade of sateen wears well and costs less than satin, and will wear better than some of the cheap rayon bindings.

Variance in price of wool blankets is due to the grade and amount of wool used. The finer wools are of a higher grade and cost more.

HOLIDAY PROGRAM AT HOLLY THEATRE

Includes Two Pictures That Will Appeal to Goers

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" has been made into a motion picture and comes Sunday and Monday to the Holly Theatre.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" is generally ranked with "Little Women", by Louise May Alcott, and "David Harum", by Edward Noyes.

Pauline Lord, distinguished stage star, makes her screen debut as "Mrs. Wiggs". She rejected numerous screen offers in the past but succumbed to the chance to play in this classic.

Evelyn Venable and Kent Taylor are cast as the young lovers, Miss Lucy and Mr. Bob. W. C. Fields has a leading role and ZaSu Pitts plays the vapid Miss Hazy. All five of the child roles—Jimmy, Billy, Asia, Europa and Australia—have been filled by well-known youngsters already prominent in pictures.

Regulations Regarding When and What Can Be Taken

Freezing weather, snow and ice, have brought a new pastime that takes its place beside rabbit hunting in the interest of Michigan sportsmen. Fishing through the ice in its various forms is now in full swing throughout the state, according to the Department of Conservation.

Rabbit hunting is legal to and including Jan. 31 in both the upper and lower peninsulas, but those individuals who enjoy sitting in a fishing shanty on an inland lake or fishing through the ice in the open may enjoy their sport as long as the ice remains on the open waters.

Except for designated trout lakes and streams, all inland waters of Michigan are open to legal fishing until April 30.

Spearing and hook-and-line fishing affords an outdoor pastime that help sportsmen to bridge the winter months. The spear may be used through the ice only in January and February on waters not otherwise closed to spearing. The following species of fish may be taken with the spear: Carp, suckers, mullt, red-horse, sheepshead, lake trout, smelt, wall-eyed pike, great northern grass pike or pickerel, garpike, muskellunge, whitefish, ciscoes, pilotfish or Menominee, whitefish, and dogfish. The use of a jacklight or any form of artificial light with spears is illegal.

As in past seasons, state fishing regulations permit each hook and line fisherman the use of no more than five single lines with one hook attached to each line for fishing through the ice. The lines must be attended every two hours.

The following species of fish may be taken by means of hook and line through the ice or until April 30: Wall-eyed pike, great northern grass pike or pickerel, perch, rock, calico and strawberry bass, crappies, bluegills and sunfish, white bass, warmouth bass, muskellunge and all non-game species. Black bass may not be taken after December 31.

Under the general fishing license law adopted by the state legislature in 1933, the possession of a fishing license is necessary for fishing through the ice.

REMEMBER BIRDS AT THIS SEASON

They Will Like to Use Discarded Christmas Trees

Santa Claus is quite liable to overlook Michigan's song and game birds in making his rounds during the coming Christmas period unless the bird lovers of the state keep them in mind.

If a plan suggested by Dr. P. F. English, cover specialist of the Department of Conservation, were carried out, however, the song and game birds of the state would have a Christmas tree throughout the winter season.

English urges bird lovers to save their trees and place them in suitable places to attract the birds. The branches are excellent places on which to place morsels of food such as bread and pieces of suet; ears of corn may be hung from the lower limbs within reach of ground-feeding birds.

If several discarded trees are available, English says, they may be placed in a circle, in the center of which food can be placed for the birds. The trees arranged in that fashion will provide protection from the elements as well as hiding places in times of need.

CHOIRS TO SING "THE MESSIAH"

At Hartland Area Next Sunday at 3 O'clock

The combined choirs of Hartland Area consisting of Hartland Methodist, Tyrone Community, Deerfield Catholic, and Osceola Methodist churches, assisted by singers from the First Presbyterian Church choir of Milford and Calvary Methodist Church of Holly, will present Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah", at the regular vesper musicale, Sunday at three o'clock. This is the third annual production and the fifth time that "The Messiah" has been presented in Hartland.

The Oratorio will be under the direction of Nellie Beatrice Huger, Minister of Music of Hartland Area. Before coming to Hartland, Miss Huger directed music in city churches in Detroit, Chicago, Philadelphia and New York City, where she has presented cantatas and oratorios with large chorus choirs. Miss Huger is a well known director throughout the state as a promoter of better church music and is chairman of sacred music of the State of Michigan in the Music Federation.

The soloists this year will be Margaret Burke, soprano; Kenneth Leisenring, tenor; Eleanor Phillips Beam, contralto; and Mark Bills, baritone. Mrs. Beam has sung in other productions of "The Messiah" at the Music Hall and her beautiful voice and artistic interpretations of "The Messiah" have endeared her to everyone who has the privilege of hearing her. Mr. Bills is the baritone soloist at the First Methodist Church in Ann Arbor and his work in the University of Michigan operas has placed him in the artist class of musicians. Miss Burke and Mr. Leisenring both possess beautiful voices and have appeared in concerts sponsored by Arthur Hackett. Miss Thelma Torrey of Flint, Michigan, will be the organist.

Tickets may be had gratis by writing the Hartland Music Hall. A silver offering will be taken.

HENRY RADABOUGH PASSES AWAY

James Beucler went to Byron, O., this week to attend the funeral of Henry Radabough, who was at one time connected with the Clarkston Dry Goods store. His grandson Drexel Beucler has been staying with him for the last few weeks.

The first American flag was hoisted over the headquarters of General George Washington, on Jan. 1, 1776. This was on Prospect Hill, Somerville, Mass. A stone tower marks this historic spot.

P. T. Barnum, the famous circus man, ran for Congress in 1866 and was defeated.

The original City of London occupies less than a square mile, but modern London covers 120 square miles.

Mrs. Custer's Estate Valued at $130,884

Mrs. Elizabeth Bacon Custer, widow of Gen. George A. Custer, left an estate which showed a balance of $130,884.48 in an accounting filed in Surrogate Court in New York by City Bank Farmers Trust Co., administrator. Mrs. Custer died April 4, 1933, at the age of 91.

The accounting covered the period from her death to April 30 this year. Mrs. Custer bequeathed to the Government various commissions of her husband to ranks in the United States Army. Some of these were signed by Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson. Among these bequests was a piece of towel used as a flag of truce by the Confederate forces when Gen. Robert E. Lee surrendered at Appomattox.

Portraits and photographs of Gen. Custer, his arms, accoutrements, uniforms, souvenirs of war and the frontier, books and trophies of the chase were left by the will to a public museum which is to be erected on the battlefield of the Little Big Horn, Montana.

(Concluded from page one) Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Spooner were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Thompson on Tuesday evening. Mrs. George Slayton is ill at her home on Maple St. She was taken sick over two weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. George Rosenquist were in Detroit on Thursday on business. Waterford School will close its doors this Friday afternoon until after the New Year and will resume work on January 2nd. Mrs. H. B. Mehlberg spent Tuesday in Pontiac the guest of Mrs. Isabella Pratt. In the evening Mr. Mehlberg and the family went to Pontiac for dinner. Practice for the Christmas program has been going on now for the past three weeks and Mrs. Helfer and Mrs. Rosenquist have given so much time to make the affair a success. Everyone is urged to attend. Mrs. Helen Kelley, mother of Mrs. Slayton, who has been with her daughter for the fall months, went to be with her other daughter on Tuesday of the past week for a time. The young men's basketball team of Waterford are making real headway in bringing in the victories. These are played at Eastern Junior High in Pontiac. George Hunt, who was injured in an auto accident several weeks ago and has been confined to his bed, was able to be up the latter part of the week. Mrs. Etta Campbell of Airport Road and her daughter Miss Agnes Campbell of Washington, D. C., who is staying in Michigan until after Christmas, went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carol Annis of Grand Rapids, where they will remain for several days. Mrs. Annis is another daughter of Mrs. Campbell. There was a great mistake made by the correspondent this past week in not getting the names of the entire class of Myron Carr's pupils from Waterford in the paper. Jack Saylor was one of those who went to the recital held at the Miller home this past Tuesday evening and he played three lengthy numbers from memory. He has been taking lessons for nearly one year. We were sorry to have made this error.

Waterford School News

Fifth and Sixth Grades The sixth grade is giving a dinner for the fifth grade Friday, Dec. 21. We are making Christmas gifts for our art work. We are sorry to report that Margaret Dailey is still unable to attend school. Dorothy Bunker has returned to school after a week's illness. Doris Eskle has been in Ohio for the past week. Virginia Carter, Loretta Bohlman, Marion Roehm, Phyllis Schwalm and Jeanne Spalding have been out of school several days. Second Grade In our Arithmetic contest the blue side is leading. The side which loses the contest must entertain the winning side at our Christmas party.

Virginia Knox and Murdena Warner have been absent this last week due to illness. Those having a perfect record in spelling this past week are: Russell Coryell, Virginia Knox, Dorothy Marshall and Myra Katherine Rowley. Third Grade We are busy these days finishing our Christmas presents for our mothers. Madeline Bohlmas has been confined to her home by illness. Those receiving perfect grades in spelling this week are: Billy Helfer, Wyoma McEvers and Helen Smith. Third and Fourth Grades The third and fourth grades are playing "David" and the "Health Elves" and "The Story of Tiny Tim" for Christmas. We would be very glad for our mothers to spend Christmas with us. Richard Coryell is absent because of illness.

SHORT COURSES TO BEGIN JANUARY 2

Nine Will Be Given This Winter at State College Eight three-month short courses at Michigan State College will open January 2 and will continue through March 1. A one-month course will open at the same time. Winter term subjects in the two-year course in general agriculture will be given as a continuation of the fall term classes which drew a record enrollment. This type of education is proving especially popular with students who desire practical knowledge for use on the farm. Three-month courses in both dairy production and dairy manufacturing will open January 2. The production course is designed to be of benefit to the dairy farmer, cow tester, dairy herdsman, dairy farm manager and the dairy field man for a commercial company. Either butter making or cheese making may be selected by the dairy manufacturing student. These courses are designed to furnish training that will prepare the student for responsible positions in the creamery or cheese factory. Poultry is an important factor on most farms, and in many cases it is an agricultural business by itself. A course providing training of unlimited value to the experienced poultryman as well as the beginner will be offered during the same three-month period. Work in the agricultural engineering short course, which opens the same date, consists of a large variety of practical problems from which the student may choose one or several subjects according to his individual needs. In working out the problems selected, an opportunity is offered to become acquainted with a variety of laboratory equipment and also to come in contact with all members of the department staff. Some of the projects offered for study are: belt lacing, rope splicing, soldering, shallow well pumps, wiring for electricity, electric motors, remodeling the home, sketching building floor plans and study of house floor plans. An opportunity for the women of Michigan to study some of the problems relating to living will be provided in the home economics course. Introductory work will be given in several phases of home economics, as well as English and the appreciation of art and music. Lectures on special topics will be arranged from time to time, and insofar as is possible, the studies will be adjusted to meet the interests and needs of the individual students. The short course in practical floriculture is designed to give intensive training in the fundamentals of greenhouse management and retail store management. It will provide the training desired by those who are entering the various branches of floriculture, as well as by those who are already employed in the business and who desire to improve their status through a better knowledge of the technical details concerning the management of an up-to-date establishment. Thorough technical training in the art and science of green keeping will be provided in the golf management short course. It is expected that the majority of students in this course will be young men who are now acting as assistant green keepers or helpers on golf courses; or young men who desire to become assistant green keepers and some of the younger green keepers who have found themselves handicapped thru insufficient technical and theoretical training. Subjects offered in this course are: soils and fertilizers, plant diseases and weed identification, golf course accounts and book keeping, floriculture, landscaping, insects, tree trimming and identification, and golf course machinery and drainage. The one-month course in commercial fruit production opening January 2 provides intensive study of commercial production methods. Subjects that will be treated include: varietal selection, establishing the orchard, soil management, pruning, pollination, spraying, harvesting and marketing. There will be periods devoted to special fruit crops, such as strawberries, grapes and peaches.
