COMMENT AND CRITICISM

During the World War, certain young men heard the call of their country and joined military service. other young men were forced, by the so called "draft" to join the serviceall at one dollar a day. But by far the greater majority, for some reason or another, were able to stay at home and earn war-time wages, sometimes and political friends in the interest ranging up to twenty and thirty dollars a day.

After the military service was mustered out and while the country still had some appreciation of their The last call he made was at the services Congress attempted to adjust the service man's pay with the the last one to speak to him. He left pay of those who stayed at home and passed a law obligating the government to pay a dollar a day, for those who stayed on this side and one and one-quarter dollars a day for those who "went over".

The man who earned his big pay at that grew until today, now that the bubble of false prosperity has broken, he finds himself in a far weaker financial position than before the war. The service man, on the other hand, on his dollar a day was not able to enter the "wave of prosperity", many never really "got on their feet' and today, 16 years after the close of the war, finds that he has just existed for 16 years and naturally was not in as good a position to stand the depression. In most cases he is financially "way down" but he is not "crying" and he is not "out".

Today, after years of republican and democratic experiments, there is a great hesitation to try the experiment of trying to pay one's debts and darned if it might not be a good thing to try. Perhaps paying the bonus would be a good start. A man or a government never borrowed its way out of a depression and sooner or later this will be proven to be true, May Heaven forbid that we find it out in a bankruptcy court.

We believe in good government and fair play. We want what is best for everyone. We are entitled to the bonus-but we have lived so far without it and think we can last quite a little longer without it—yes even until 1945. But we do object to a the P. T. A will meet at the school. Using a powerful lobby that can and does The new officers are starting this in the same film for the first time darning needle and cord, sew the spend thousands of dollars for a adv in the Saturday Evening Post showing the veteran with his hand out for government bounty. We do object to Byrd of exploration fame, schools by attending the P. T. A. drawing a pension from the government of thousands a year as well as a salary from this same lobby to fight the bonus.

The facts should speak for themselves. Let's cut out politics and decide this bonus question on its merits. Let's cut out private interests who have lost their own money thru speculation and consider perhaps the service man who never got a chance to accumulate enough to speculate with. But more especially let's try and pay our way out of the depression instead of borrowing our way into bankruptcy.

Here is at least one minister who appreciates the editor. At a recent editorial convention, a Kansas minister is reported to have offered the following toast:

"To save an editor from starvation, take his paper and pay for it promptly.

"To save him from bankruptcy, advertise in his paper liberally.

"To save him from despair, send him every item of news you can get

"To save him from profanity, write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible.

"To save him from mistakes, bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes."-Wisconsin Press.

TWO GREAT PLAYS COMING TO HOLLY

Screen Production

The breath-taking combination of makes "Fors comes to the Holly Theatre Sunday and Monday, one of the hit productions of the year.

The locale is socialite Park Avenue, which has given the art directors an over the top of the chair. These opportunity to create some of the most beautiful settings ever seen on the motion picture screen.

As a light comedienne, left standing at the altar one minute and pursued by two handsome men the next,

Joan Crawford is at her best. Gable and Montgomery are both well known as masters of light comedy and they vie to outdo one another with the many hilarious situations of the story.

The supporting cast is excellent throughout with Billie Burke, Charles Butterworth and Frances Drake.

"Music In The Air", which opens Tuesday at the Holly Theatre, is this reviewer's candidate for the outstanding musical film of the season.

In its musical setting alone, film has never been surpassed, for Jerome Kern has contributed score. His melodies are the most lilting and joyous that have been heard on the screen and Oscar Hammerstein II has written notable lyrics Gloria Swanson turns in a performance which will astonish even her most ardent fans. John Boles, opposite her in the role of the light opera tenor, has many opportunities to lift his spiendid voice in song. Douglass Montgomery and June

Lang are likewise featured in important roles, and the notable sup-porting cast includes such sure funmakers at Al Shean, Joe Cawthorn, Reginald Owen and Roger Imhof.

Delightful and vivid dances are performed by a troupe of dancers brought to the west coast from

For Homemakers

Slip covers are the best friends of old, cast-out chairs giving them a new lease on life and permitting them to add color and comfart to the home. It is so much cheaper than buying new furniture that the homemaker is more than doubly repaid for the labor necessary to make them, according to home economics related arts specialists at Michigan State College.

The chair will need to be padded before the slip cover can be made. If the chair already has a cushion, one large bat of cotton will be sufficient for padding the inside of the back and arms of the chair. If there isn't a cushion, two bats of cotton will be necessary.

To pad the chair, unroll the cotton, and using the flat piece, cut large sections to lay against the inside of the back and against the inside of Next Wednesday evening at 7:30 Joan Crawford, Clark Gable and the arms if the arms are filled in at sides, using large stitches over the surface. Strips of cotton are then cut to lay on top of the chair arms and around strips should be fairly thick in order to make the arm and head rests of the chair quite soft and comfortable They should also be cut wide enough to allow the cotton to curve around the edges of th arms and top of the chair. Using the long needle and cord, bind the cotton on securely with a large over and over stitch, similar to an overcast stitch. Sometimes the front of the chair below the chair seat needs to be padded if it slants forward or is rather rough, but this is usually not necessary. The outside of the arms and the back of the chair do not require padding. A pattern for the slip cover is not necessary as the amount of material necessary can be computed after measuring the chair. The next procedure is to lay the material against the chair, using plenty of pins to tack it securely and cut the material right on the chair, making a seam allowance of more than an inch. It is advisable to use a cheap grade of unbleached muslin to make a pattern as the exact amount of material can not be determined.

Care should be taken in cutting the material to have the grain straight will start at 7:00 o'clock. on the various parts of the chair and parallel with the main, structural lines of the chair. If patterned material is used the inside back of the chair, the arms rests, and the cushion seat are places where the large figures can be centered to the best dren, 10c. advantage.

The slip cover should fit the chair quite smothly, yet allow enough room to slip it off when it needs to be cleaned. A placket may be used to insure a smoother fit if desired. If it is necessary to make a cushion looks more tailored. In that case, the billow should be firmly stuffed so The Junior Literary Club will meet that the edges will not roll.

bers of the squad saw action. This Friday night the boys meet South Lyon in an S. O. L. C. League game. Little is known of the strength of South Lyon, but Clarkston hopes to come out a winner and avenge the defeat South Lyon handed them in football—the only team that was able to beat them. A fast game is to be expected. The Boys reserves also play. As South Lyon has no girls team the Clarkston girls will take on a team from the Junior High School School will probably furnish the competition. This preliminary game will

Makers of 2,000 Souvenir Long Distance Calls Overestimated Rates to Places They Called

About 25,000 visitors to the Bell System exhibit at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago took advantage of the opportunity to make souvenir long distance calls to friends and relatives in other cities. Showed Modern Telephone Service

The purpose of offering these souvenir calls was to demonstrate the clarity of transmission and the ease and speed with which long distance calls can be made. Bell System officials also obtained some very interesting information about how much -or how little, really-the public at large knows about long distance telephone service in this country.

It was found that most people had little idea of what it actually costs to make a long distance telephone call. making applications for the souvenir calls revealed the fact that only about one-third of them knew what the actual rates were to the places they were calling. The others were asked to guess.

Three-Fourths Were Too High

About 76 per cent of the guesses were higher than the actual rate, and about 30 per cent of them were at least twice as high. The average guess was 74 per cent higher than the actual rate. These figures thus serve to substantiate the fact that the public believes long distance rates to be higher than they really

Although most people seemed to know that the rate for station-tostation calls was lower at night than during the day, the amount of the reduction did not appear to be generally appreciated. The guess on the night rates was, on the average, that they were 35 per cent lower than the day rates. The actual reduction in most station-to-station rates at night is about 40 per cent.

LIONS CLUB PUTS ON GUEST PROGRAM BY TELEPHONE

Recently the Birmingham, Ala., Lions Club put on a unique program. They had as their guests the Omaha. Neb., Lions Club, but they were long distance guests, as the program was carried by telephone to Omaha and to a loud speaker in the club room. At the same time, the program was broadcast in Birmingham over Station WBRC, while in Omaha the radlo station there picked up the program and broadcast it over the Middie West.

REPAIRMAN RESCUES PET, MOUSE IN TELEPHONE

A youth walked into a lunch wagon at Kansas City, Mo., the other day with his pet white mouse. Proudly he let the mouse run about his shoulders, when suddenly it disappeared. Then began a frantic search, which proved all in vain putil someone came in and deposited a coin into-the public telephone near the counter. The telephone didn't work, but, instead, a series of faint squeaks. came from the instrument. A ropair-man from the telephone company was summoned, and when he opened the telephone box, cut jumped the mouse, which had crawled through the coln return slot and they been trapped inside.

SEEKS FURTHER RELIEF FOR HOME OWNERS

Under H. R. 2764, a bill introduced in the House of Representatives on the opening day of the 74th Congress by Congressman George A. In introducing the bill, which

The selection of an appropriate and attractive design for the Connecticut Tercentenary Stamp will undoubtedly be a subject of discussion and disagreement for some time until a design is finally agreed upon. Among the suggestions is a portrait of Jonathan Trumbull, Revolutionary Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bates of Seeley to do with the founding of Connecticut. Another is a map of the state showing its present boundaries, principal rivers and early settlements, which would at least have an educational value even if not an artistic The "Charter Oak" has also been suggested and this would seem very fitting.

FORMER SPLICER'S HELPER NOW PRESIDENT OF COMPANY

John J. Robinson was recently elected President of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, succeeding Matt B. Jones, who became Chairman of the Board.

Thirty-five years ago, Mr. Robinson entered upon his telephone career as a splicer's helper for the New York Telephone Company. He became a splicer, and then a splicing foreman. Later he was made a supervising foreman, and in 1911 became district superintendent for suburban Long Island.

From 1912 to 1919 Mr. Robinson served with the Southwestern Bell-Telephone Company as general plant superintendent, and in 1919 he became associated with the Michigan State Telephone Company in a similar capacity, returning to the Southwestern company in 1921 as general plant manager. Since 1924 he has been with the New York Telephone Company, first as general plant manager, later as general manager, and most recently as operating vice president until his election as president of the company having its headquarters in Poston.

SNAKES IN MANHOLE GIVE TELEPHONE MAN A SCARE

Sixteen snakes, varying in length from 18 to 30 inches, were recently found wrapped around an underground cable of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company by Howard Hubbard, who was making a survey of the cable between Columbus and Circleville. Removing the cover from a manhole, Hubbard saw what appeared to be copper wire wrapped around the cable. When he lowered himself into the manhole, he discovered that the copper wire was in reality a mass of snakes wound around the cable and through the holes in the manhole racks. The snakes were speedily disposed of.

SECOND SEMESTER NOW APPROACHING

Review of Opportunities Offered by the Freshman College

In regard to the course for next semester, Mr. Ponitz, Director of Emergency Education of Michigan, has ruled that where work or inter-Friday night and Saturday with Miss est of a local community drops off, Fern Hockey at Lake Oakland. the faculty of the unit must be rethe faculty of the unit must be reduced proportionally. Holly has suffered very few drops, less than ten per cent. An average faculty load of 150 student hours is required for each instructor. Holly still has a 754 student hour load for five instructors Because of the new ruling, should courses be desired, it will be a big help to let the local Director know so that the increase of student load can be determined and an instructor be obtained if necessary. Therefore should any reader be interested in Art, Music, Dramatics, Accounting, Mechanical Drawing, Practical Electricity, or others, please let Mr. Bay know immediately. This past week we have had many requests for the various subjects.

The following letter regarding next semester's work has been received: To Directors of Freshman Colleges:

new term or semester will soon be opening in your Freshman College. Every effort should be made at this time to add to your enrollment those who are qualified to pursue work on the Freshman College level.

The Freshman Colleges, through their educational advantages, should make further contribution to the youth of Michigan. They should take several thousand more high school graduates from enforced leisure and make them a part of this constructive educational movement.

The fact that the Freshman Colege movement was purely experimental at the beginning of the fall term deterred many qualified students from enrolling. The success which these organizations have enjoyed should dispel further doubts as to their values and advantages.

Many classes are now too small. Through wise adjustment of programs practically every unit may add additional students without increasing the personnel.

May I suggest that you use every effort to see that all potential students residing within your jurisdiction be informed in regard to this

> Very truly yours, Orin W. Kaye, Director of Emergency Education and Professional & Technical Projects.

Mr. Carhardt, Director of Curricula, and Professor Hill, Head of French Department at Wayne, visited the Holly Freshman College on Wednesday. Professor Hill made her regular inspection of the French department and seemed pleased with the work. She will send her report later, Mr. Carhardt was interested in schedules, building, library, He was very well pleased with the accommodations Holly has furnished the College. The College expects the other heads of the departments soon as each department is to be inspected each semester.

At the present rate of wearing away, Niagara Falls moves westward toward Lake Erie at the rate of three and a half feet a year, says Hilary J. Eason, biologist of the United States Bureau of Fisheries. Eventually the American Falls will be dry and many thousand years later Niagara Falls will reach Lake Erie, drain it and leave nothing but a river. Lakes Huron, Michigan and Superior will be reduced in size to only that area which lies below the bottom of the present Lake Erie.

Remember Your Home Newspaper

All matters handled thru the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.

Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.

We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper week by week.
