1935 Business Gets Off to a Good Start

COMMENT AND CRITICISM

Spring has come and spring always means recreation. Everybody seems happier. Sales are better hence with pleasure we submit our spring number.

Perhaps it's the spring weather that makes us feel generous. Anyway we are going to give away some ADVERTISING FREE, GRATUITOUS, WITHOUT COST, etc. Yes, you can use the classified advertising columns of the News without cost if you are a subscriber. The News will be pleased to insert free in the want ads, one advertisement of not more than 3 lines (16 words), once during the month, and only the month of May.

Look through your attic, basement, through the barn and sheds. Maybe you farmers would like to swap some kind of feed for another, or horses for cows, sheep for machinery, or visa versa, anything that has value usually finds a market and is valuable to others. It is often more of a matter of knowing where and what, and someone has need for things you may need. Maybe we can help some farmer sell some of his stock, machinery, wood and other things. Perchance our good subscribers in town have extras in the garage, the barn, the attic that they would like to sell.

To subscribers of the News, this service is offered free, because we want to be of service to you all and in as concrete and tangible way as we know how. And by bonafide subscribers, we don't mean in advance or anything of the sort, just a subscriber receiving the paper. If a little in arrears, the advertisement might help get a little ready money to bring your subscription up to date or a year in advance.

We know of a number of people who have been wanting to take the News, but have hesitated. By use of an advertisement perhaps you will make enough to take the paper.

So now it's up to you to take advantage of this offer, but remember only one adv., once during May. Let's go.

Auto Dealers Reporting Sales Everyone Seems to Be Getting A New Car

Ed. Seeterlin, of Seeterlin Bros. Inc., Robert Beattie of Beattie Bros. Motor Sales and Edw. D. Whipple report excellent sales during the last month.

All three dealers state that the improved conditions and returning confidence in the future are making sales to those who had been prospects, "at some future time".

STAMP CLUB HAS MEETING

On Wednesday evening the Clarkston Stamp Club had a very interesting meeting. This club was organized for those interested in stamp collecting and trading and for a general discussion on stamps. Robert Jones is the president, Margaret Shaughnessy is recording secretary and treasurer and Wylie Pearson is corresponding secretary. This organization is open to new members. All who are interested in stamps and wish information, kindly get in touch with any of the above mentioned officers.

Fire Breaks Out in Drayton Plains School

George Blakeslee, the janitor of the school, discovered the fire as he opened the building at 7:30 a. m. last Saturday morning, the fire being caused by combustion of baled papers. Mr. Blakeslee extinguished the papers with a fire extinguisher. Arthur Hill, a clerk, telephoned for the fire department, Engine Co. 3 responding at 7:45 a. m. Dense smoke filled the basement and the upper portion of the school for about an hour. The heat in the basement was so intense the steel beams were at white heat.

The papers had been gathered by the Boy Scouts and were stored in the basement awaiting sale. The last thing before Mr. Blakeslee closed the building he went through to be sure everything was all right. Damage to the building was mostly from smoke although a partition in the basement was destroyed by the flames. A concrete ceiling on the basement constructed a year ago with C. W. A. funds prevented the flames from reaching the first floor of the building and concrete walls prevented the flames spreading in the basement.

Kansas Sand Storms Described by Visitors

Witnessed Several of the Haviest Storms Known in State

Sometimes we are so dissatisfied with our surroundings just because we are tired and in need of a vacation that we almost decide that the grass is greener, the air is clearer, and things in general are much better in any other state than in Michigan. But when one hears the story of the "Western Dust Storms" he decides he would be quite content to sing "Michigan My Michigan" for the rest of his life.

This past week the guests at the home of the editor related many dismal tales about these terrible storms in Kansas. These young people whose home is in Toronto, Ontario, had been making a tour of the States and arrived in Garden City, Kansas, just a day or so before one of the worst dust storms the people in that section had ever seen. Their story follows:

From the door of the newspaper office, which happens to be in the downtown section, could be seen what appeared to be a huge window material drawn across the horizon. This strange looking object seemed to move closer and closer until almost in an instant you were standing in daylight and looking into night just about twenty feet away. Then this horrible blackness enveloped all about you and you realized that dust was rushing through every little seam or opening in the building. The people immediately sought shelter and motorists tried to get their cars under cover. This lasted for several hours and when the wind subsided the dust and sand was in heaps against buildings and fences. The wheat that was already a fairly good height was flattened and buried under a heavy blanket of sand. The wheat that had what you might say just a good start was blown out of the ground and the farmers throughout the section or at least the wheat growers had again stood by helpless and watched their crops ruined.

The very next morning we noticed that the sun was a very queer color and it looked like a pale red ball suspended from the sky. We were told that another dust storm was on its way and would most likely be there in a short time. We hurried around and fastened unbleached cotton over the outside of the windows and doors. Our efforts were fruitless, the sand and dust went right through the cotton. Then we got a roll of sticker tape and stuck it all around the windows and doors and in fact every place where we thought the sand might seep in. This helped a trifle, but even at that the house had to be thoroughly cleaned the next day. Out in Kansas the housewife has to clean her house every week, and by that we mean the kind of cleaning that the folk in Michigan do two or three times a year. And Oh, yes, we rushed to the cupboard and turned the dishes upside down just to save ourselves a little work and make sure we were not serving sand with our dinner.

A person who has never seen one of these storms does not realize how terrible they are. You begin to think that your breathing mechanism is going to play out and in fact a great many, especially those who must go outside, wear masks. Darkness prevails and you rush from window to window looking in every direction and praying that the storm will soon end.

Right now this section of Kansas is just a bare after acre of buried farms and wheat ranches. "We experienced several of these storms during the three weeks we were there. In fact the air was always full of dust. On our way back to Michigan we decided that we were glad we had not bought a new car to make the trip because the sand had worn every bearing and the steady grind of the motor kept reminding us that we had driven through Kansas."

Mrs. Jos. Seeterlin Hostess to Club

On Tuesday afternoon the bridge club of which Mrs. Joseph Seeterlin is a member enjoyed a one o'clock luncheon and an afternoon of bridge at her home on Holcomb street. There were two tables in play. The honors went to Mrs. Seeterlin and Mrs. C. W. Russell.

Improved Business in Building Supplies

Miller & Beardslee Report 50% Increase Last Month

Regardless of the government aid to building, Miller and Beardslee find business conditions much improved in the building line. The increase in the last month amounted to over 50%.

While much of this has been remodeling one cottage has been constructed. Prospects for the future look even brighter.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards Get Pleasant Surprise

On Wednesday evening about forty-five happy folk met at the Methodist Church to have a pot-luck dinner and help Mr. and Mrs. Edwards celebrate their thirty-fourth wedding anniversary. What a pleasant surprise this was. The group gathered around a table laden with the most delicious food and plenty of it. The places of honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, were marked with beautiful corsage bouquets. In the center of the table was a lovely plant, a Lady Washington geranium, which was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Edwards after the dinner.

An amusing program was enjoyed in the evening. Everything was impromptu and everyone was so congenial and so willing to do their share.

We understand that Mr. Edwards was very thankful indeed for this happy occasion because he believes he needs something to remind him that he was married on the twenty-fourth and not the twenty-third. However what difference does one day make after thirty-four glad years.

Clarkston Locals

Mrs. C. G. Fiske spent Tuesday in Detroit.

Mrs. Florence Edgar, of Pontiac, visited relatives here on Sunday.

Herbert Beach, of Clarkston, and Bill Oakes, of Drayton Plains, left a week ago Tuesday for Los Angeles, Calif. They drove by way of Cheyenne and Salt Lake City. Herb expects to return shortly, but Bill's stay is indefinite.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Pritchard and family were Sunday visitors at the Methodist parsonage.

Window looking in every direction and praying that the storm will soon end. Right now this section of Kansas is just a bare after acre of buried farms and wheat ranches. "We experienced several of these storms during the three weeks we were there. In fact the air was always full of dust. On our way back to Michigan we decided that we were glad we had not bought a new car to make the trip because the sand had worn every bearing and the steady grind of the motor kept reminding us that we had driven through Kansas."

Future Bright for Local School

Restricted Program to Give Way to Improvements

The outlook for the coming year for the Clarkston School is the best in five years. Curtailing of school activities has ended and there is hope that with the increase in state aid that some of the ground lost during the past few years will be regained.

Through the use of the plan for the payment of delinquent taxes with bonds the greater portion of the past due bonds have been canceled. At the present rate of payment the bond and interest obligations of the district should be paid up to date in a short time.

If the Thatcher-Sias bill, now before the Legislature, becomes a law it will materially assist in taking care of the operating costs of the school. For the first time in several years it will be possible to forecast with a fair degree of accuracy the revenue available for the operation of the school. This will make possible a long range plan for the gradual improvement of the school program and such as it has been impossible to launch with uncertain revenue. Details of the plan will be announced through this paper within the next few weeks.

During the past few weeks the grade enrollment has increased by twenty pupils. A further increase of approximately twenty-five pupils will place the school in a size class that will increase the per capita allowance of state aid for all grade pupils from $32 to $48. This scale of aid should quite adequately support the school program and make possible improvements which will be to the advantage of the boys and girls.

Mrs. B. F. Miller Entertains Club

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. B. F. Miller entertained her bridge club at her home on North Main Street. A delicious one o'clock luncheon was served and three tables of bridge were in play during the afternoon. The awards went to Mrs. L. Weighel, Mrs. Dave Miller and Mrs. John DeLind.

Floyd Hursfall Attends Service at Hollywood

Almost 80,000 People Crowd Hollywood Bowl

There is a remark that has oft been repeated, "It's a picture no artist can paint", and this is what was in the mind of Floyd Hursfall as he sat in the Hollywood Bowl early Easter morning.

From 4:30 until 5:30 a. m. the Sunrise service was conducted in this natural hollow in the side of the mountain. The deepest part of the hollow, about 35 or 40 feet out of the side of the hill, is the band shell and here was the pulpit. Up back of the band shell, very prominent against the sky stood three crosses. What a picture! Just at 4:30 there was a slight mist and as the rising sun spread behind the mist the on-looker was amazed with the beauty, for right before his eyes was rising a filmy curtain of all colors, from deepest purple to palest green.

The bowl has a seating capacity of 75,000, but Floyd says there must have been 80,000 people there, because there wasn't even any standing room left. The congregation was made up of people of all creeds, colors and sizes.

At 4:30 the dawn was heralded by six trumpeters. The choir was composed of 300 voices, the members ranging from six years to seventy years of age. The speaker was wonderful as his voice rang clear on the morning air. His subject was "The Ability of Modern Man to Free Christ and Christianity from the Tomb".

Floyd says that this was, he believes, the most impressive and thrilling sight he has ever seen.

Crowded Street Tells Story of Improvement

Parking at a Premium as Car Owners Make Purchases

Just try and park on Main Street on any afternoon and the thought occurs to you, "Where did all these cars come from?"

And the people in the stores are not "window shopping". They are buying.

Sales are improving and quality instead of quantity is the byword.

Saturday, May 25th To Be Poppy Day

Saturday, May 25th, will be Poppy Day in Clarkston, Waterford, Drayton Plains and immediate vicinity. On that day the women of Campbell-Richmond Unit of the American Legion will distribute little red poppies on the streets to be worn in honor of the World War dead. The observance here will be part of the annual nation-wide observance of Poppy Day, during which millions of Americans will pay tribute to the memory of the war dead by wearing memorial poppies.

The poppies which will be worn have been made by disabled veterans. The poppy-making has provided employment for needy veterans through the winter and spring months, enabling them to help support themselves and families.

In exchange for the poppies the women will ask each person to make a contribution for the welfare of the war's living victims. A great many have been made by disabled veterans. The poppy-making has provided employment for needy veterans through the winter and spring months, enabling them to help support themselves and families.

The enthusiasm of these women for the Poppy Day project is due to the two great purposes which the little memorial flower achieves. First, it pays tribute to those gallant young men who sacrificed their lives in defense of American ideals on the poppy-studded battle fields of France and Belgium. Second, it raises funds for the relief and rehabilitation of the disabled veterans; their families and the families of the dead. The Legion and Auxiliary are hoping that the people in this vicinity will understand the significance of the poppy and will give their support on Poppy Day.

TRIAL ELECTRIC RANGES

IN Angel Food Cake especially, the VITAL POINT—to achieve desired results—is proper baking. The cake shown above . . . is an excellent example of what can be done in an electric oven. Fluffy tenderness and fine texture are combined in this most difficult of all cakes. And whether you bake one cake or a dozen, an electric oven assures uniformly successful results time after time. No longer is cake-making a hit-or-miss proposition: Electric baking ends guesswork.

You simply set the dial for the proper temperature, and the electric oven does the rest. We want you to try electric baking in your own kitchen. We want you to enjoy electric cooking without making any investment or being under any obligation. So we have arranged a special trial offer. We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Since this trial plan was begun a short time ago, over 4000 of our customers have taken advantage of the offer. Send in your application for a trial range today!
