COMMENT AND CRITICISM

For some time Frank Leonard and Ted Sweeney have been tearing down the old Masonic Temple. As this building was one of the oldest in Clarkston, there is much local interest connected with it. We know that many people here could give us some interesting facts about this landmark and we would appreciate any information. When we have secured enough facts we will publish a complete history. Will you help us?

The building on Main St. formerly occupied by the Vulcan Company has been taken over by a new firm. Further details will be given next week.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS TRIAL

P. T. A. Well Pleased with Receipts

"The Trial of the Century" that took place in the Clarkston H. S. Auditorium last Thursday and Friday nights was enjoyed by all the townspeople and a great many from out of town.

The play was a scream from start to finish and those taking part are to be favorably commended for furnishing so many laughs all in one evening.

The members of the jury with their quaint costumes, their lusty cheers, and their ready response to any pathetic testimony, kept the crowd laughing every minute. The court clerk and the court crier were extremely amusing and did not hesitate being clownish whenever an opportunity was afforded.

The judge, Joe Seeterlin, had a very difficult time trying to be dignified. He wore a large pink peony as a boutonniere.

There was a fresh outburst of laughter each time a witness took the stand. Their garb was very funny but very appropriate. One witness, the plaintiff's aunt, in the person of Mrs. F. E. Davies did a very clever bit of acting when she attempted to take the law in her own hands and give the defendant, Ed. Seeterlin, a beating.

Another witness, the plaintiff's brother, played by Roy Frances, should be congratulated. He was one of the screams of the evening. Charles Ray or Harold Lloyd had nothing on him. As the dumb brother and a bug catcher he couldn't be beaten and he received plenty of applause.

The defendant, Ed. Seeterlin, deserves mention. At times when the testimony seemed hard, Mr. Seeterlin seemed quite disturbed and then again a good joke in "Life" made him forget that he was being sued for $3.98.

The two attorneys, kept things going, of course, but tried to be dignified throughout the trial.

Fred Stewart, the foreman of the jury, certainly got all that was coming to him from the jurors and when he came in to give the jury's decision he had a black eye and his clothing was disheveled which was evidence of what took place in the jury room.

Last, but by no means least, was the final scream of the evening when Nellie Bly, the plaintiff, in the person of Hamilton Newman, came racing into the court room just as the verdict had been read and court was about to adjourn. Mr. Newman is certainly a splendid impersonator and by the way he carried his dog, Narcissus, one might guess that he was an animal lover.

It seems that Clarkston does not have a home talent play very often but when it does everyone attends and has a good time.

The acts that were put on during intermission and while the jury was deliberating were exceptionally good which goes to show that there is hidden talent in town.

The P. T. A. committee wishes to thank all who helped make the show a success and especially all who took part. The committee realizes that much time was devoted to rehearsals and they appreciate the generosity of all participants; the jury, Fred Stewart, Mrs. Zoë Grant, Mrs. Ganier, Mrs. Dolan, Mrs. Boynes, Mrs. Geo. Perry, William Edwards, Orson Coe, Jeff Hubbell, Frank Petty, Mrs. Pearsall and Mrs. A. Mann; the witnesses, Georgia Johnson, Mrs. F. E. Davies, Harold Doebler, Robt. Jones, Floyd Andrews, Manly Walter, Roy Frances and Chester Fiske; court crier, Lou Chamberlain; court clerk, Louise Warden; defendant, Edward Seeterlin; defendant's attorney, W. H. Stamp; plaintiff, Hamilton Newman; plaintiff's attorney, Miss Reta Mann; newsboy, Lester Spencer; Western Union messenger, Milton Fiske, and those taking part in the vaudeville, Cliff Waterbury, Claire Rasmussen, Clark Soulbly, Duane Hursfall, Forrest Irish, Genevieve Beardslee, Mildred Butters, Shirley Douglas, Betty Jean Clark, Louise Gulick, Caroline Walter, Betty Chamberlain and Winifred Miller.

A very dainty lunch was served and at the close of the afternoon the little girls left for home wishing Lillian many more happy birthdays.

WARNER BAXTER IN NEW SCREEN ROLE

Will Be Seen at Holly Theatre on Two Nights

Responding to the demand of the public, Warner Baxter has created a screen role more romantic than his famous "Cisco Kid". The picture is "Under the Pampas Moon," playing Friday and Saturday at the Holly Theatre.

In the picture, which B. G. DeSylva produced for Fox Film and which was directed by James Tinling, Baxter takes the part of a South American gaucho, a cowboy of the great plains of the Argentine republic. A nomad, a descendant of the bandit crews which roamed the pampas and raided villages before the railroad and civilization settled the country, the gaucho is part Spanish and part Indian, controlled now but not tamed. He is a roistering, hard-riding sentimental fellow, inseparable from his horse, quick to fight and quick to forgive, careless in his love-making but tender and chivalrous to the weaker sex.

For some time a suitable vehicle of this type has been sought for Baxter and "Under the Pampas Moon" is the result of this long quest. It has an entirely new setting for a screen play and beside portraying the life of the gauchos on the vast rolling pampas, it introduces vivid and colorful scenes of Buenos Aires.

Opposite Baxter is Ketti Gallian, the French star who scored so heavily in her first American appearance in "Marie Galante." She is cast as the Parisian cabaret singer over whom the gaucho becomes enamored through an unexpected encounter in an air wreck on the lonely pampas.

OLD-AGE PENSION LAW IS NOW IN EFFECT

The new old-age pension law went into effect on July 1. In an effort to clear up misunderstandings regarding the operation of the work, County Agent Arnold L. Nique said Monday: "Aged persons who have already registered for pensions need not re-register. If they will merely wait, investigators will call at their homes."

"Already about 1,700 applicants are registered in Oakland County, and about 300 are receiving pensions under the old law. These will continue to receive pensions under the new law and the investigators will call on all applicants at the earliest possible moment."

Mr. Nique reported that the investigating staff is now being organized by the Old Age Pension Bureau, a division of the State Welfare Department at Lansing.

HORSE TOURS ARRANGED TO ADVANCE BREEDING

The old gray mare ain't what she used to be. Neither are her colts. Selective breeding, feeding and care and management have played their part in producing better animals.

Results of this proper handling of horses will be evident to those horse lovers who attend the tours scheduled for the week of July 8. The tours will include the establishments of the leading breeders of Belgians and Percherons in the state.

Among the farms visited will be that of Lamb Brothers of Hillsdale, owners of Carthela, 4-year-old Percheron, the Grand Champion at the International Livestock Exposition for the last two years. Another outstanding horse to be seen on the tour will be Marcelin de Pottes, Reserve Grand Champion Belgian stallion at the International last year. This horse is now head of the J. E. Burroughs stud at Flint.

Detailed information concerning each stop can be secured from County Agricultural Agents within which the stop is made and from local publicity.

A schedule of the tours includes the following of interest to horse owners in this section:

MANY ENJOY "LISTEN TO ME"

Proceeds to Be Used for Tennis Courts

Those who attended the musical comedy "Listen to Me" given at the Waterford School last Thursday and Friday nights enjoyed the humor, the music and the dancing which was all furnished by the local talent.

A great many of the cast had only one or two rehearsals but they were just as at ease on the stage as though they had practiced for several weeks. The whole cast is to be congratulated.

Each character contributed towards the humor of the story from start to finish. The music which was interspersed received a great deal of applause. The maid, Margaret Walker, and the bell-hop, William Spalding, were exceptionally snappy characters and their vocal duets were greatly enjoyed.

The theme song "Listen to Me" which was sung by Leon Burt to Roberta Virgin was very effective.

Each member of the cast really deserves mention because a musical comedy is something very difficult to enact with so few rehearsals. The dancing girls added pep to the program and their numbers were well received.

The popularity prize was presented to Miss June Harris by William Jacober.

The Alumni Athletic Association wishes to thank all who helped make the show a success, especially the members of the cast who devoted so much of their time to rehearsals.

STATE TREASURY GETS LARGE SUM

In Taxes From Michigan Bell Telephone Company

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company will pay in taxes this year $7.26 per telephone, based on the average number of telephones it operated in 1934; this is approximately $1.00 more per telephone than it paid last year. It requires the net earnings from 187,600 telephones or nearly 38% of the average number the Company operated last year to pay the tax bill which will amount to $3,594,000.00. And if taxes were paid through a meter, the Michigan Bell Company would be required to stuff $6.83 into the slot each minute of every day in the year.

On Friday, June 28, Michigan's auditor general, John O'Hara, received at Lansing the Telephone Company's check for $1,368,977.63, representing half of its state tax bill of $2,737,955.25. The balance is to be paid before November 1.

In addition to its state tax, the Telephone Company will pay the federal government approximately $809,000 this year, and its miscellaneous local taxes will approximately $47,000.

Under the Michigan law, telephone and telegraph companies, railroads, railway car-loading companies and express companies pay taxes to the state, in lieu of local taxes, upon property generally used for conducting their businesses. The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is the largest individual taxpayer in the utilities group.

Tax money received by the state of Michigan from public utilities goes into the primary school fund and is distributed among all public school districts in proportion to the number of children of school age residing therein. It is estimated that the Michigan Bell Company pays approximately 28 per cent of the sum paid into the fund by the state's public utilities.

SOCIAL RATING IS NOW GIVEN SKUNKS

The skunk, legally, is no longer a public enemy in Michigan.

The general game bill adopted by the 58th state legislature and recently signed by Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, takes the skunk from the "vermin" class and treats him to the respectable social rating enjoyed by other species of fur-bearing animals.

The skunk may now be taken only from November 1 to January 31, whereas in former years it could be hunted the year around by sportsmen having small-game licenses and permits to carry firearms in closed game areas.

A prevailing popular belief has been that the skunk was dominantly predacious and that the harm it did outweighed its value as a fur-bearing. Studies of such well-known specialists as Dr. E. C. O'Roke and Prof. Ned Dearborn of University of Michigan have tended to place the skunk in a different light.

Opera Under the Stars

beautiful musical of love, gaiety and tragedy.

Coward's versatile ability is readily recognized when it is realized that the same man who wrote this lovely production is also responsible for "Design for Living," "Cavalcade" and "Private Lives." "Bitter Sweet" is one of those rare productions where the music and lyrics are written by one and the same person, with the result that both are blended together and that neither seems to be an interpolation, as is so often the case.

The very name, "Bitter Sweet," suggests the character of the story revealed in dramatic action upon the stage to the accompaniment of Coward's charming melodies. It is the story told by the Marchioness of Shayne as she advises Dolly Chamberlain who faces the dilemma of being engaged to one man and being in love with another. That story ranges through more than half a century. Although it is laid in the fashionable London of today, as the tale is told, there are "cut-backs" to the London of 1875 and the gay "90's" and to the Vienna of 1880.

The Marchioness of Shayne herself was engaged to one man and loved another—the fiance being a young diplomat, the beloved one, her music teacher, so she forsook a brilliant career to elope with the musician. Then followed days of poverty, in the course of which, while defending his wife from insult in a Vienna cafe, Carl Linden, composer, was killed, but not until he had written for his wife a cycle of masterpieces of song. The young widow, now known as Sari Linden, devoted herself to music, became the most famous concert singer of her day, and was won by the Marquis of Shayne. This is the story as told in the operetta's action, and Dolly Chamberlain makes up her mind.

A notable cast will present this charming operetta. There will be seen Gladys Baxter, Bartlett Simons, Leonard Ceely, Desiree Tabor, Nancy Welford, Ruth Dennis, Mary Rix, Elizabeth Grandall, John Clark, Robert Betts, Hope Emerson, Barnett Parker, Betty Davis and many others.

There are many lovely musical numbers including "Tokay," "I'll See You Again" and "What Is Love." The chorus and ballet, fascinatingly gowned in costumes of another day, should make another of the spectacular pictures for which "Opera Under the Stars" has become famed.
