COMMENT AND CRITICISM

And now the question has been raised "Why should the people of Clarkston pay taxes?" They even say we should not. Not that we want to fail in doing our civic duty but because it should not be necessary. If this sounds interesting, it might be worth your time to read further.

The substitute for digging down into our pocketbooks, oh sure there is always some catch, is to have a picnic ground and bath house at the beach and raise enough to pay our Village Taxes.

This may be a partial answer to the News' contention that the people of Clarkston need a safe bathing beach. If it is, it suits us. Visitors are going to use the beach and should pay. Villagers and their guests should have free use of a public beach.

We even understand the Village fathers are considering using the frontage, which Clarkston owns, for such a purpose. Their thoughts right now, are based on the beach at Stony Lake, owned by Oxford Township.

As we have stated above and state again, bathing for Villagers who dress at home should be free. Sure we are selfish. We are fighting for the home folks—but those who want to use the bath house or buy from the refreshment stand should pay. Our attitude is that as long as outsiders will use the beach we can and should profit thereby and therefrom—Or Sumpin.

HOLLY THEATRE

Three of filmland's most brilliant stars add to their laurels in the spectacular production, "China Seas", which opens Sunday at the Holly Theatre.

The stars are Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery.

It is a stirring story of adventure and romance, and abounds with strange emotional qualities that bring them together.

The locale is the wild southeast coast of China, last stronghold of twentieth century pirates.

All the action takes place aboard the wheezy old liner Kin Lung as it plows down the coast between Hongkong and Singapore, with the white passengers in the cabins and the coolies crowded into the forecastle.

Gable is the hard-bitten young skipper. Miss Harlow is an exotic of the Oriental ports who is not ashamed to show her love for Gable. Beery is apparently a bluff trader in pigs, but his obvious occupation masks his more sinister activities as the "brains" of the pirates.

A triangular love story develops, with lovely Rosalind Russell as the contender for Gable's affections.

Besides the stars and the other players mentioned, especial mention must be given Lewis Stone, Dudley Digges, C. Aubrey Smith, Lillian Bond, Robert Benchley, Edward Brophy, William Henry and others for their outstanding performances.

Last Monday, September 2nd, Irene M. Boice of Pontiac and Ray C. Ainsley of Clarkston were quietly married at Vassar, Mich., with Rev. J. Wallace Jacobus, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ainsley left on a two weeks' trip in Northern Michigan. On their return they will reside at 44 Cherokee Road, Pontiac.

Mrs. Ainsley will be remembered by many of the townfolk as Miss Irene Van Horn, who was born in Independence Township and graduated from the Clarkston High School. She then attended college and after graduation taught school.

Zych-Esten Marriage Announced Last Thurs.

Mrs. Ben Miller Was Hostess at a Garden Tea

Friends of Miss Bertha Zych were greatly surprised last Thursday when the announcement of her marriage was made at a garden tea given at the home of Mrs. Ben Miller.

Miss Zych became Mrs. Esten, wife of Walter O. Esten of Williamston, last June 12th at Angola, Ind., with Rev. John Humphreys officiating. The announcement was made in a rather novel manner when Mary Jo Pettengill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer R. Pettengill, carried the ring fastened on streamers extended from a large bouquet, which was later presented to the recent bride, and Charlotte Sue Miller and Leda Miller, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Miller, displayed a large reproduction of a marriage certificate.

Mrs. Ben Miller and Mrs. Leon Greer presided at the tea table on the beautiful lawn at the rear of the Miller home. About forty guests from Clarkston, Pontiac and several other places were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Esten will make their home in Williamston after Sept. 15th.

On Wednesday Mrs. George D. King and daughters, Mrs. Bullen and Mrs. Robinson, entertained at a tea and kitchen shower at the King home honoring Mrs. Esten. There were twenty guests and Mrs. Esten received many pretty and useful gifts.

Mrs. D. M. Winn presided at the tea table.

A PAUL BUNYAN STORY THAT WINS FIRST PRIZE

Perry Allen, of Shepherd, won the prize for the tallest tale told at the Paul Bunyan story telling contest, at Traverse City last week. Perry's story:

"The winter it was 68 degrees below zero and every degree 16 inches long, all the flames in Paul Bunyan's lanterns froze solid, and the only way he could put out the lights was to break off the flames and throw them outdoors. The next Spring, one of the flames thawed out and burned the St. Mary's River in two. Paul had to use a match box to splice it together. The match box is still there; most people call it the Sault Ste. Marie Locks."

The Past Matrons Met Wednesday Evening

DEATH TAKES GEORGE A. MATEN

Burial Was in Crooks Cemetery on Tuesday

George A. Maten, 88 years old, passed away at his home in Waterford on Friday, August 30th, after an illness of about two months.

Mr. Maten spent his early boyhood days on a farm near Troy, Mich. In 1872 he went to Detroit where he spent the greater part of his life. He had many close associations with old Detroit, having served for twelve years as superintendent in charge of the early plank highway which later became Woodward Ave. He joined the Detroit Police Dept., in July 1881, and later became assistant sealer of weights and measures until his retirement in 1917.

On April 10th, 1881 Mr. Maten organized the Holbrook Sunday School at Holbrook and Oakland Avenues, in what was then a sparsely settled district. In a short time it became associated with the First Baptist Church and in 1888, the North Baptist Church was formed from the school. The building erected by this congregation is occupied now by the First Baptist Church, with which it united in 1912.

In 1931 Mr. Maten retired to Waterford after completing four years as custodian in the People's State Bank safety deposit vault. On moving to Waterford he at once took an interest in the church and Sunday school, and for a while was the teacher of the Bible class.

Mr. Maten was a very devout Christian and as all who knew him said, "He loved to tell the story", a prayer service was held at the Maten home on Maple St. at twelve o'clock noon on Tuesday at which time Mrs. E. D. Spooner and H. B. Mehlberg sang, "I Love to Tell the Story". Rev. H. A. Huey gave a fitting tribute to his memory, expressing the feelings of not only his family but of all the warm friends he had in Waterford.

Mr. Maten's first wife, Mrs. Mary Ann Lovell Maten, died in 1900. Surviving are his second wife, Mrs. Mary Florence Gobin Maten whom he married in 1903; two daughters, Mrs. George H. Kimball Jr. of Waterford and Mrs. Harrison L. White-man; a son, Edward E. Maten of Detroit; eight grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in Detroit on Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Hugh Chamberlin Burr, D. D., pastor of the church, officiating. Burial was in the family plot in Crooks cemetery.

He was born Dec. 27th, 1901, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton W. Francis, at the farm home where he died.

He was a member of the Masonic and Eastern Star groups at Thomas.

Mr. Francis was well known to many around and in Clarkston. Surviving are, his wife, Mrs. Luella Smith Francis; five small children, Betty Helen, Marilyn Rose, Shirley, Ronald and Donald; his mother, Mrs. Rose Francis of Lapeer; and a brother, Donald Francis of Oxford.

Mrs. James Urch Honored Wednesday

Mrs. Russell Walter Is Hostess

Mrs. Russell Walter entertained a group of friends and relatives at her home on Wednesday honoring Mrs. James Urch, who was celebrating her birthday.

A delightful luncheon was served at one o'clock at small tables which were set in the living room where garden flowers were used in profusion.

In the afternoon many games were played in the house and out on the lawn and everyone entered into the fun most heartily and made a happy afternoon for the honoree.

Mrs. Urch received many very pretty gifts. Guests, besides Mrs. Urch and those from town were, Mrs. Clarence Howland and Mrs. Mae Howland of Flint, Mrs. Lloyd Fisk of Walled Lake, Mrs. Paul Howland of Detroit and Mrs. Cramer Judd, Mrs. Harold Walter, Mrs. Ray Walter and Mrs. Hugh Archer, all of Pontiac.

Mrs. Louis Walter Surprised Wednesday

Among the many birthday celebrations that occurred during the last week was one at the Louis Walter home on Wednesday evening. It seems that Mrs. Walter was at a little party on Wednesday afternoon and made the remark that although she was having a birthday she did not even have a birthday cake and at once Mr. and Mrs. George King, Mrs. Richard Bullen, Mrs. Charles Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wompole were scheduled very quietly to appear at the Walter home just about the evening dinner hour with the cake and everything that went with it.

This was a delightful surprise to Mrs. Walter and everyone had a most enjoyable time.

Students and teachers were at the school Tuesday morning to begin to get things into shape for a fine term's work. Up until the time of going to press 130 had enrolled in the grades and 150 in High School but more are expected in the next few days.

Regular classes started on Thursday and the classes in shop and home economics are being organized. It takes some time for the preliminary work to be taken care of but they are in hopes that before long these classes will be well on their way.

Parents will be glad to know that by very skillful planning at the school all grades will receive instructions in music and art.

By the sounds that seem to come from the school play ground one would imagine that the football team is in the making and the News is in hopes that "Blue and White Flash" will soon be making its appearance.

Homecoming Is Well Attended

Refrigerator, Radio and Shetland Pony Given Away

The two day homecoming sponsored by the Van Rancelor Post of the V. F. W. and the local business men came to a close Saturday evening. Everyone attending seemed to have enjoyed themselves and all had a lively time.

Among the attractions perhaps the most fun-provoking was the "Kangaroo Court." The number of "cops" included Joe Skinner, Bradley Miller, Howard Huttenlocher and "Chief" Ed Fuller. Some of our prohibition advocates were charged with excessive drinking. Some who won blankets were charged with thefts and practically all were found "guilty" and fined 25 cents. The receipt was a ticket on the Refrigerator and Radio.

The Pet parade was interesting. Winners were as follows: 1st, Verne Hoyt; 2nd, Mary Jane Rouse; 3rd, Barbara Craven. Judges were Mrs. Bert Beebe, Mrs. Walter Arnold of Holly and Mrs. William Lee of Royal Oak.

The Donkey Ball game gave the East Side an opportunity to defeat the West Side by a score of 2 to 1. Many good laughs were provided at this game and the town fellows found out just how easy it was to ride one of these Rocky Mountain Canaries. Following the game a greased pig was let loose and Albert Allen was lucky enough to carry home the bacon. The baseball game played at the home of the school diamond at 3:30 gave Ortonville a victory over Drayton Plains. The crowd at this game was not very large on account of the shower of rain that fell just as the game was about to get started.

In the evening the mid-way was crowded most of the time because a great many remained in town with minds set to take home the refrigerator or the radio, which were given away about 10:30. However the refrigerator went to Miss Jeanette Moran and the radio was presented to Miss Elizabeth Bellitz. The children were very anxious about the Shetland Pony that was being housed in Ted O'Roark's garage and when the winner's name was announced it happened that Billy O'Roark was the lucky boy and he was satisfied that his prize was quite safe.

Incidentally the tickets were drawn from the box by Florence Chamberlain, the winner of the popularity contest, who was presented with ten dollars. Irene Greenwald stood second and received five dollars while Phyllis Boynes came third and was presented with a huge basket full of beautiful gladioli, donated by Cyrus Limabury.

The crowds dispersed soon after the prizes were awarded and the homecoming came to a close.

For Homemakers
Michigan is one of the important fruit producing states but, even here, many housewives do not give this food due credit for its value as a preserver of health and as an aid to serving an attractive meal, according to the home economics staff at Michigan State College.
Fruits contain supplies of vitamins A, B, C and G and fuel values in the form of fruit sugars. These direct values are in addition to the substances which give such desirable flavors and to the colors which appeal so strongly to the eye that they help lagging appetites. Fruits alone or in salads should appear on the family menu daily.
The different varieties of fruits vary considerably in their content of the vitamins and of energy values.

A few of them are sources for all the vitamins. Prunes rank at the top as a fruit supplying the four vitamins, containing supplies of both calcium and iron, and furnishing good energy values.
Vitamin A spurs body growth. B is an appetite builder and a guard against the run down condition which induces bad dispositions. C aids in avoiding heavy dentist bills and must be supplied at regular intervals, and G is a preventative of pellagra and allied conditions of malnutrition.
The best sources of readily obtained fruits for vitamin A are apricots, bananas, blackberries, cherries, dates, peaches, and prunes. Fruits rich in B are oranges, pears, prunes, and pineapples. Vitamin C is supplied in most liberal amounts by currants, gooseberries, grapefruit, lemons, limes, oranges, dried peaches, raspberries and strawberries. Vitamin G is contained most abundantly in peans and prunes.
Bananas, dates, peaches and raisins contain good amounts of calcium and iron. Apricots, dates, figs, peaches, pears, prunes and raisins furnish the greatest number of calories per pound of fruit. The addition of sugar in serving fresh fruit or in canning fruit adds to the energy values of this food and, of course, increases the calories.
The vitamin content, which is the health insurance feature of fruits, is affected by cooking processes and sometimes by exposure of juices to the air. Heat readily affects the content of Vitamin C. Fruits processed in sealed tin cans retain a larger proportion of their vitamin content. Processing times should be kept as short as possible, both in exposure to heat and to air.
Fruits do not provide all the necessary supply of vitamins for any person but they are an excellent source of these materials and should be used every day to supplement other foods.

HOW TO HARVEST FINE BEAN CROP

State College Recommends Use of McNaughton System
Past weather records prove that rains will occur in Michigan during September, and the farm crops department at Michigan State College says that the way to avoid weather damage to this year's fine bean crop is to use the McNaughton system of harvesting.
The additional cost of using this method is very small in comparison with the great protection afforded to the crop. Tests made of putting the beans in the small fields stacks have proved that the pick may be reduced as much as 10 to 15 pounds per bushel below the amount taken from beans cured at the same time in windrows and piles.
In addition to the actual savings from the reduction of weather damage, beans may be harvested when a little less mature and will ripen in the stacks. This fact is important to cranberry bean producers, as this bean matures later than the common white pea bean. Threshing can be done at the farmer's convenience after the beans are stacked, and grain can be sown in the field before threshing, as the beans occupy very little space.

Steel fence posts or stakes are driven firmly in the ground, a base of straw or rails is used to keep the beans off the ground, and the beans are piled around the stake and extend well above it in the McNaughton system. The stacks must have straight sides and should not be more than four or four and one-half feet in diameter. The height of the stacks should be about twice their width.
The beans are stacked immediately after they have been pulled and raked toward the center of a 32-row strip. Average crops require from 10 to 14 of the stacks per acre. A wagon carrying posts and straw can be driven along and the stakes and bases prepared as needed. The straw base should be at least four inches thick.

Citizens of Tomorrow
It is an obligation of good citizenship to pay taxes; it is an obligation of government to spend this tax money wisely. In common with many thousands of other citizens, Michigan Bell Telephone Company recognizes its obligation to pay a share in the support of the functions of government.
The Federal, State and other taxes paid this year by Michigan Bell averaged $7.28 for each telephone in use. In total this amounts to more than $3,225,000, of which $2,737,955.25 is in the form of payments to the State of Michigan. It is particularly pleasing to us that these State taxes go into the primary school fund for the purpose of educating our citizens of tomorrow.
The primary school fund helps support the State's elementary, grammar and high schools. It erects and maintains the buildings, buys supplies, helps pay the salaries of our 32,000 teachers. Into it go the State taxes paid by many of the utilities of Michigan, and of these Michigan Bell Telephone Company pays the largest individual tax. From 1921 to the present year the total taxes paid by us into the primary school fund amounted to $32,643,350.99.
Like all other citizens who have a genuine pride in the progress of Michigan, we appreciate the value and profound importance of an adequate school system.
And to the telephone users of our State it must be a great satisfaction to know that indirectly they make an important contribution to a school system entrusted with the education and character-molding of 960,000 boys and girls—Michigan's school children today, her citizens of tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Waterbury departed on Wednesday for Danville, N. Y., where they expect to visit the McFadden Health Resort for some time. The W. H. Stamps had as their guests at dinner at their home on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dorner, Dr. F. E. Stamp and Mrs. E. G. Stamp, all of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. T. Sills of Niagara, Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wompole had as their dinner guests on Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Murray, who will leave for California on Saturday, and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Davies and daughter. According to the engineers in charge, Boulder Dam will be completed by the last of September and as yet no official word as to design. While it might still be possible to turn out a stamp in the limited time, forced production usually results in an inferior product. Michigan is also still in doubt, and while the Great Seal of the State insists on 1835 as the beginning of statehood, others insist that it was only the beginning of the struggle for statehood and the old dispute is still on as to where Michigan stood between 1835-1837. The Weekly Philatelic Gossip devotes two entire pages of valuable space in a review of the history of the state and what date the commemorative stamp should bear. (Editor's note—All of which makes good advertising for what we native born believe to be the best state in the Union.) A ship is to be named "Philatelist", the first on record to so honor a hobby. A special cover has been designed for the christening by John Coulthard and cover collectors may obtain a cachet by sending a stamped, addressed 6 1/2 size cover unsealed, unstuffed to E. C. Sharpe, Dollar Steamship Bldg., San Francisco, Calif. Closing date is October 5. The year 1936 will mark the 70th anniversary of the Grand Army of the Republic and patriotic organizations are actively supporting a commemorative stamp.

EASTERN STARS TO MEET IN CONCLAVE

The program of the Grand Chapter will begin at 5:30 Tuesday evening, Oct. 8, when the annual banquet will be served at the Pantlind Hotel. Reservations should be made with the worthy matron or secretary of the local chapter who in turn will make reservation with the banquet committee. Governor and Mrs. Frank D. Fitzgerald, both of whom are members of Grand Ledge Chapter, No. 14, will be present at the banquet, and the governor will speak at the opening of the Grand Chapter. The Grand Chapter will be formally opened at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. In addition to the officers of the grand chapter the entrance procession will include the pages, guards, and guardians appointed for the session, and a drill by over 100 members of the Orient and Occident Clubs of Wayne County. A memorial service will be held Wednesday evening. The installation service will take place Thursday afternoon. The banquet, grand chapter opening memorial, and installation will be open to friends of Eastern Stars. The Michigan Grand Chapter is the oldest in the world, having been organized in 1867. The oldest individual chapter is at Coldwater, Michigan; which was organized in 1867. The order will be found throughout all parts of the world with a total membership of over 2,000,000. Three major projects are carried on by the Michigan Grand Chapter: (1) It sponsors a Villa at Adrian where 70 children, orphans of Masons and Eastern Stars, are cared for. Approximately $18,000 is spent yearly in maintaining the Villa. (2) Nearly $11,000 will be spent this year through the grand chapter relief fund, in caring for aged sisters of the Order in the state, and (3) An educational fund is provided so that loans are made to worthy students who need help the last two years of their college course. This fund now has assets of $50,000, and is the second largest fund so provided by a grand chapter. The students aided do not pay interest on the money while at school, but as soon as they become earners, as rapidly as possible they repay the money with four per cent interest. In addition to the above nearly every chapter in the state has its own local relief program and participation in local community affairs. Reports of the Grand Secretary, Miss Genevieve M. Nauman, of West Branch, will show an increase in membership this year. In 1929 the Order had over 105,000 members. This number dropped to about 85,000 as a result of the depression but now the tide has turned and an increase will be recorded.

It is expected that this year's Grand Chapter will be largely attended and an excellent program is being prepared. Grand Rapids chapters are planning on several tours that will be sure to interest the several thousand visitors to the furniture city that week. Already several banquets have been booked and all who plan on attending should make hotel reservations early. The Pantlind Hotel will be Grand Chapter headquarters.

BROADCASTING ERROR UNITES OLD FRIENDS

Use of "Live" Telephone Number in RadioScript Brings Army Buddies Together Again

Telephone numbers spoken by performers during the broadcasting of radio programs are what are known as "dead" numbers; that is, numbers not assigned to actual telephone subscribers. Such numbers are furnished by the telephone company. Once in a while, however, there is a broadcast at which a live telephone number is used by mistake. When this is done, usually something happens. Number Was Not Checked A case in point is the "First Nighter" broadcast, produced by Charles Hughes, in which June Meredith stars as leading lady. Not long ago a play entitled "Public Enemies" was given. The writer of the original dramatic script happened to use a real telephone number in New York, and by some mischance it was not checked with the New York Telephone Company. The result was that a surprisingly large number of literal-minded radio listeners called the number, expecting thereby that they might reach Don Ameche, who generally acts the role of the hero in connection with these weekly presentations. In this particular case, the telephone number which the script writer had so carelessly used turned out to be that of Henry M. Berliner, a New York accountant, and it was Mr. Berliner and his secretary who were deluged with telephone calls for the star of the show. Meet After Sixteen Years The use of this special telephone number, however, led to an interesting renewal of a war-time acquaintance which had lapsed for sixteen years. During the war, Mr. Berliner had known a Charles Hughes. As he had listened from week to week to the "First Nighter" performance, the name of the producer often recalled to him his war-time friend. When the flood of telephone calls came, he wrote to the producer, requesting that his number should not be used again, and also made mention of the fact that a Charles Hughes was in the same Army company with him back in 1918. It turned out that the two Hughes were one and the same, and the old friendship has now been renewed.

TELEPHONES GOLF SCORE TO PALESTINE

A golf score was telephoned not long ago from Boston to Palestine after F. W. Whittemore had shot a 69 in the senior golf championship tournament at Pinehurst, N. C. Mrs. Whittemore read of her husband's score in Boston newspapers and called her sister in Palestine to tell her that he apparently had regained his health "because he had shot a 69." It seems likely that this is the longest telephone call ever made concerning a golf score.

Facts About the Telephone

The Bell System operates more than 17,000 trucks and other motor vehicles. Of the approximately 675,000 stockholders of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, more than 375,000 are women. At the end of 1934 there were two per cent more telephones in service in the Bell System than at the beginning of the year. Only three countries in the world with more than 100,000 telephones each are at present inaccessible by telephone from the United States. They are Russia, China and New Zealand.
