COMMENT AND CRITICISM

Automobiles travel faster this year than they did a year ago and the tendency is to travel faster. The next step is not only more speed but safer driving. We believe it a duty to remind motorists of this at the start of the school each year and we cheerfully accept the responsibility of reminding you . . . and you . . . and you. If this saves the life of one youngster, we shall be well repaid.

About once a week, during my stay in Clarkston a small ambitious lad has attempted, often with success, to sell me some magazine. But whether the sale was completed or not the same even nature of the salesman was present. I became interested and on inquiry found that the lad was always doing a favor for someone. He was very well liked. But every boy must have a little time for play and during his play he was injured, fatally. His death removes from our midst, a boy that will not soon be forgotten. Everyone will miss Ralph Cole, Jr.

Miss Lila Jones Honored at Shower

On Wednesday evening, September 11th, twenty-two friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Barnhart and daughter Ernestine to honor Miss Lila Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of Sherwood Dr., who will be married to Ivan Tracy of Cass City on September 20th.

Games were played by the group, and a mock wedding greatly entertained the guests. As Mrs. Barnhart played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" Edith Sutton acted as minister and performed the ceremony using a parody on the regular ritual before an altar of cornstalks. Ernestine Barnhart acted as groom and Mrs. Vera Maybabe carrying a bouquet of carrots, beets and sunflowers was the blushing bride. The groom solemnly placed a cookie on the finger of the bride, and "Yankee Doodle" was played for a recessional. An umbrella containing gifts of linen was lowered and opened by Lila. Refreshments were served and everyone enjoyed a lovely evening.

DEATH TAKES RALPH COLE JR.

Burial Was in Lake View Cemetery on Sunday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cole and family was saddened last Friday when Ralph Jr. passed away at the Goodrich hospital. Ralph Jr. was born July 29th, 1918. He attended the Clarkston school and was known by most everyone around town, on account of his happy disposition and his willingness to do things. Death came after two or three days' struggle for life, the result of an accident on the previous Saturday. It seems that a group of boys were having a good time at the back of the Pontiac garage and it was Ralph's misfortune to fall from a tree and break his leg and hurt himself internally. He was taken to the Goodrich hospital. On the following Tuesday an operation was performed and he rallied until Friday morning when he passed away.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at the Ogden Funeral Home with Rev. C. E. Edwards officiating. Several of his boy friends acted as pall-bearers and were very sad, indeed, when they carried him to his last resting place. The pall bearers were Lester Spencer, Dan Addis, Budd Hoyt, Maurice Terry, Kenneth Skarritt and Bob Beach.

Burial was in Lake View cemetery. Mention should be made of the beautiful floral tributes, which were numerous and so colorful and Mr. Sweeney is to be commended on the artistic arrangement of flowers at the grave.

Those who survive are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Cole, two sisters, Myra and Betty, and two brothers, Myron and Billy.

POTATO GROWERS START CAMPAIGN

Object Is to Advance Sale of the Michigan Product

Michigan potato growers, the State Department of Agriculture, and Michigan State College are embarking on a campaign to prove to users of potatoes that those grown in Michigan can be equal in quality to those grown in any other state.

Producers in all the major potato producing sections in the State will select samples of U. S. Fancy and of U. S. No. 1 table stock and send them to Detroit. These samples will be placed in store windows, hotel lobbies, at markets, and in other places where consumers can see them. A group of prominent men interested in the potato business have formed an organization to encourage the marketing of high quality Michigan potatoes and to supervise the details of the exhibit of such potatoes.

The officers of the association are F. P. Hibst, Cadillac, president; Frank Slupp, Gaylord, vice-president; H. A. Reiley, Bellaire, secretary-treasurer; and H. C. Moore, East Lansing, executive secretary. Directors are John Woodman, Paw Paw; Percy King, Pontiac; Albert Kipfer, Stephenson; Charles Lanphier, Midland; R. V. Tanner, Jackson; Charles Wood, Kingsley; Albert Dietz, Rogers City; Floyd Jenkins, Kalkaska; James Redpath, Kalamazoo; and Howard Smith, Capac.

Most of the Michigan potatoes which have not met the approval of consumers have been tubers which were harvested before they were fully ripe. Michigan table stock which is fully mature is equal in cooking quality to potatoes from any source. Baking potatoes can be grown as well and as easily in Michigan as elsewhere.

The problem confronting the new growers organization is to persuade farmers to grade their potatoes early enough in the season so that they are fully ripe when dug.

1936 LICENSE PLATES GO ON SALE NOV. 1

J. Lee Montgomery, manager of the branch office of the Secretary of State in Holly, has received advices from Lansing that 1936 automobile license plates will go on sale November 1, the earliest date in the State's history.

In making this announcement Secretary of State Orville E. Atwood explained that persons are reluctant to buy a motor car unless it carries next year's plates, and the change is figured to be a stimulant to the industry.

The 1936 plates have black numerals on a grey background.

The Progressive Class Has First Meeting

Mrs. Irving Ronk and Miss Virginia LeForge Are Hostesses

On Wednesday evening the Progressive Class of the Methodist Sunday School held its first meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Ronk with Mrs. Ronk and Miss Virginia LeForge acting as hostesses.

There was a very good attendance and what really pleased was to see a number of the men there. Since the class invited the men to join last spring there has not been a very good male attendance but Wednesday evening showed some indication of male interest for this winter's work.

The president, Mrs. Irving Ronk, presided, and the teacher, A. E. Butters, opened the meeting with prayer. Several items of business were discussed and the president named some of her committees as follows:

Membership, Mrs. C. E. Edwards, Mrs. Walter Ash, Miss Ada Serace and Mrs. W. H. Stamp; Flower committee to act until the end of October, Mrs. Walter Barrows and Mrs. Durand Ogden; Social committee, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Butters, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hutton and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Davies; attendance committee, Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk, Mrs. Emily Beardslee and Mrs. D. M. Winn.

The president announced that the October meeting would be in the form of a Halloween party to be held at the church. The members should make an effort to attend this meeting the second Wednesday in October.

After the business meeting, Miss Virginia LeForge introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Ruth Parks of Ortonville. Miss Parks took the class on a trip to Africa where they visited the Sudan and Ethiopia. Her talk was very interesting especially as she was able to tell of her own experiences when she was teaching in Khartoum a couple of years ago. Her trip down the White Nile river on the flat bottomed boat and the stops they made at the different government wood stations and the experiences they had with their food supply and how they had to take off their shoes and stockings to wade through the clay on the bank of the river was all very amusing. She told of their travel on land from Gambela to the mission station. This trip was taken on mules and was quite an experience for American girls. Her description of the mission station and the work that was being done in Ethiopia was very enlightening. Miss Parks made her whole story so interesting that everyone in the class could have listened for another hour, because they were all quite sure that she had much more to tell.

A very fine discussion on the present Ethiopian-Italian situation followed and many different opinions were expressed.

The hostesses served dainty refreshments.

HOLLY THEATRE

Mexico, with all its beauty and color, its haunting music and exciting dances, come to Holly Sunday.

"In Caliente is a musical with a real plot, replete with humor, action and romance, and introduces several production numbers that most spectators will agree excel any of the previous efforts of Busby Berkeley. Who staged the dances for this picture as well as for most of the Warner Bros.-First National musicals that preceded it.

The action takes place in Agua Caliente, that "made-to-order" Mexican resort near the California border, and concerns the adventures of Pat O'Brien, who is lately of the military or naval service, and who, in the role of a hardboiled magazine editor is kidnaped and taken to the resort on a sobering up expedition by his publisher, Edward Everett Horton. There he runs into Dolores Del Rio, a Spanish dancer, who dances him away from Glenda Farrell, again portraying a blonde menace.

Leo Carrillo has the role of Miss Del Rio's rascally uncle who tries to cash in on her charm. Others in the cast who do excellent work are Phil Regan, who has a special song number; Dorothy Dare, Winifred Shaw, who also sings one of the big production songs; Luis Alberni, George Humbert, William Davidson, Harry Holman, Soledad Jimenez, Herman Bing and Florence Fair.

The DeMarcos, famous dancers, make their film debut in the picture, and another novelty is the specialty singing number of the Canova Family.

The costumes are particularly noteworthy, and may start some new style fads.

Busby Berkeley has outdone himself in the three numbers he created and directed, especially in the "Machacha", in which a score of blonde horses appear with the dark-eyed serenitars.

In this number, which is sung by Phil Regan, Miss Del Rio appears with the ensemble in a specialty dance. Miss Shaw is responsible for the song "Lady in Red", while the title number "In Caliente" is excellently rendered by a group of entertainers.

Treat Seed Wheat To Get More Cash

Small Outlay in Time and Money Will Prevent Smut

Cuts in price which elevator men have to make on smutty wheat can be avoided if seed wheat is treated to prevent smut, according to the botany department at Michigan State College.

Smut is a fungus which develops on the heads of growing wheat. The spores of the smut develop in balls which replace the wheat kernel. During threshing the smut balls are broken and the millions of black spores are scattered over healthy wheat kernels. The smut spores contaminate sacks or bags and these will infect healthy wheat placed in them.

The treatments which will control smut on wheat are easy and comparatively inexpensive. Two materials may be used in treating seed wheat, copper carbonate dust or ethyl mercury phosphate. The wheat should be run through a fanning mill before either treatment is used.

Copper carbonate should be used in a dust tight mixer, and the mixer should be agitated enough so that the kernels of wheat are coated with the chemical. Two or two and one-half ounces of copper carbonate are required to treat a bushel of wheat. Store the treated seed in bags until planted. Place a moist handkerchief across the nose and lower part of the face while using the copper carbonate to avoid inhaling any of the dust. The dust is not actively poison but may cause nausea.

The ethyl mercury phosphate compound is a commercial mixture and should be used according to the directions given by the manufacturer. Do not use over one-half ounce of the compound to one bushel of grain. Leave the grain uncovered for 10 hours after treating.

Do not feed wheat which has been treated by either method to animals. Wheat treated with copper carbonate tends to pack in the drill if the air is very moist or if the grain is left in the drill over night. The drill should be rocked back and forth to loosen the drive shaft if treated seed has been left in the drill for a few hours. Metal working parts of the drill should be well oiled before the treated seed is placed in it, and the drill should be thoroughly cleaned after the seeding is completed.

Members of the home economics department at Michigan State College often find that housewives around the State have discovered practical methods of lightening household work. Most of these devices are ways of saving steps or of avoiding backaches from stooping to perform daily tasks.

One woman made an apron from denim and provided it with a number of pockets to hold cleaning cloths. Polishing cloths, damp cloths, and clean cloths can all be carried and are ready for use as needed without extra trips to the kitchen or to other parts of the room where work is being done.

Wall brushes save climbing ladders or stepping up on pieces of furniture to dust the tops of pictures or along moldings near the ceiling. The tops of window frames also can be cleaned easily. Daily use of the wall brush lightens the toil of house cleaning time.

Even the old familiar dust pan can be improved by equipping it with a long handle. Your daughter's play broom is a very handy utensil for sweeping out corners, taking up dirt, or sweeping around furniture legs. It can be used easily with one hand.

A handy gadget which can be used for the morning cleaning or at house cleaning time can be made by equipping a small basket with soap, extra cloths, cleaning powder, furniture polish, wax, and any other articles needed to do the work. All the materials are together and can be used as needed.

of Mrs. Lydia Lynde, Michigan State College.
Settings for the picture will be in 17 homes in Jackson county, and the story will portray methods used in training children from babyhood through their school years. Miss Grace Frysinger, Washington, D. C., will assist in the movie taking. Miss Elizabeth Weld, home demonstration agent in Jackson, has chosen the cast and the locations for taking the pictures.

The movie when finished will be shown in all parts of the United States. Michigan was selected as the scene of the movie because the child training work in this State is acknowledged to be especially well organized. Groups of women in 35 Michigan counties are enrolled in the child study groups under the direction of Mrs. Lynde.

Work on the picture started Monday, Sept. 9, and will continue through the week.

THE FARMERS' FRIEND?

(Mt. Clemens Monitor)

James F. Thompson is the state commissioner of agriculture, and it is his business to promote the interests of the farmers in this state.

But the activities of Mr. Thompson have seemed to indicate that his major interests have been politics and not farming.

Mr. Thompson has gone up and down the state knocking the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's program. He has lost no opportunity to point out its fallacies and unsavory features, and to hurl all sorts of criticism, much of which has been entirely unfair, and certainly very strange coming from the lips of a man supposed to be furthering the farmers' interests.

This newspaper holds no brief for the AAA. But it does know that Michigan's agriculture has been impoverished and that the AAA has provided the only relief and the only plan yet formulated. Surely Mr. Thompson knows the financial status of the state's farmers. Certainly he must know that they need relief of some sort. And if Mr. Thompson is dissatisfied with the AAA, let him come forward with something better.

The AAA has done a lot for the state's agriculture, admittedly less than its proponents claim, but a great deal more than its critics will admit. Certainly, no farmers have lost money because of it. And that is the point—no matter how small a contribution, it would seem that it is the duty of the Commissioner of Agriculture to further the work of contributing agencies, especially at a time when the state's farmers are so penuriously situated. The least he could do, even admitting that the Commissioner's political conscience may bother him, would be to withhold his constant criticism.
And, incidentally, since when has the present party in office begun spurning the farmers' vote?

The man who holds the throttle—the flagman who "gives 'em the red rag"—people all over the country enjoy Chesterfields.

One reason is Chesterfields are milder—mildness that smokers like.

Another reason is they taste better—a pleasing taste and flavor that smokers like.

From cab to caboose... from Main Street to Broadway... they get an O. K.

Work Started at The Fish Hatchery

Seventy men are engaged on the fish hatchery project, the first WPA job to be undertaken in Oakland County. One group of workmen has already razed the hatchery and office building, another group of men has started to tear up old drains and pipe lines and is relaying them in new locations, another group is engaged in clearing and cutting the brush from the Stowell property which will eventually become part of the great hatchery property and one of the most complete and largest fish rearing plants in the world for blue gill propagation. Installation of new ponds, creation of beds and other needs for the hatchery work and erection of new buildings to replace the present structures are contemplated under the plans. It is expected that it will take about a year to complete the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Married 55 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cooper of Marlette, parents of Mrs. Frank Jeffery, quietly celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary at the home of Mrs. Jeffery on Seeley Ave., Saturday, September 14th, 1935. Mr. Cooper was born in Somersetshire, England, on March 16th, 1853, and at the age of nineteen years with his parents sailed for the United States and finally settled in Pontiac in 1872. Miss Susan Young was a native of Goodrich, Ontario, and was born January 31, 1856, she too coming to Pontiac in 1869. On September 14th, 1880, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper were married at the home of Mrs. Cooper's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis. Mr. Lewis was in the grocery business for many years with Charles Crofoot and was known as the Lewis and Crofoot Grocery and Drug Store and was located where now stands the Pontiac Community Bank. The Boulder Dam stamp has finally been authorized after much delay and it is expected to be on first-day sale somewhere near the site of the dam, possibly Las Vegas, about October 1. It is to be of three cent denomination, about the size of the special delivery issue, and the design, an upward view of the gigantic construction taken from one of the valleys. Latest information sets the date for the dedication of Boulder Dam as probably September 28, when President Roosevelt will stop there en route to California. Michigan is still in the dark regarding the design for its anniversary stamp, but it will be purple in color and the size of the special delivery stamp. It is expected that first day sale will be at Lansing, November 1.

The Spanish Trail Half Dollar

The Old Spanish Trail commemorative half dollars that are being issued this month undoubtedly will be much sought after by many other than collectors for no locality is so rich in history, romance and tradition.

One side of the coin bears the skull of a cow, this having much to do with the family legend of Don Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca, the Spanish explorer who was the first white man to travel through the wilderness across this portion of the country.

According to reliable information, 80 men, the remnant of an expedition of 700, who left Spain in 1527, landed on an island off the coast of Texas late in 1528. Later this number was reduced to 5 who were retained as slaves by the Indians. In 1534 they escaped and with their leader Cabeza made their way across the country to the western coast, the route although probably devious through the big bend country of the Rio Grande, now one of our well known highways. We quote from "Shadows of Yesterday" this highly descriptive bit:

"For he recounted bits of history, legend and fancy of the days of Cortez and his warriors who marched with gaily caparisoned steed and floating banners in the name of Spain, and it is said some of the mustangs of today are descended from the blooded steeds of these rich adventurers; then came the devout priests with their patient little donkeys going from mission to mission tracing and retracing along the same old trail until even to this day the footpaths worn deep in the rocks by the sharp feet of these surefooted little animals still remain.

"Later scattered bands of buccaners from Spanish galleons that had put into gulf harbors with their ill-gotten treasures of gold and silver and jewels, taken with blood-stained hands—heroes who sailed the "Black Roger" under the skull and crossbones; marauding bands of Indians; cowboys in gala attire and peasants with their two wheeled carts loaded with food stuffs to barter.

"The sun would set in a blaze of glory and in the dim shadowy twilight that followed unknown objects easily took the form of pirate vessels riding at anchor; Cortez and his marching men; dull shapes like black-robed priests, while the hum of the motor was like their chanting prayers. Ghosts of the past but full of the romance and glamor of bygone days along the 'Old Spanish Trail'."

RUDOLF SCHWARZE
 Telephone 88
 Clarkston, Mich.

"Obviously, the only sound policy that will meet these obligations is to continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety."

The Unseen Factor

AMERICA's world supremacy in telephone service is an achievement of the Bell System. And no factor contributed more to the winning of that leadership than the unseen factor of policy.

The fundamental policy of the Bell System is to supply the best possible telephone service at the least possible cost; and the status of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company as a part of that System has a definite, practical meaning for the people of this State.

It means that the telephones and other equipment used in Michigan are of the finest modern make, produced for us—more economically than they can be bought elsewhere—by the Western Electric Company, manufacturing division of the Bell System.

It means that this Company gets the benefit of the work constantly going forward in the famous Bell Laboratories, where more than 4000 scientists devote their entire time to the improvement of the service.

It means that we receive assistance in financing; the use of thousands of important patents; advisory counsel on methods of operation. In short, it means that we can utilize the many benefits that have grown out of a half-century's progress in telephonic communication—a progress which has brought to the modern telephone, despite the vast and intricate physical equipment involved, such efficient simplicity that its use presents no difficulty even to a child. That progress could not have been achieved under a dollar-chasing policy, but only under a policy honestly dedicated to genuine public service. And that policy, though invisible, is as real and as important as the poles and wires and cables which link the Michigan subscriber with thirty million telephones distributed throughout the world.
