Perhaps because I am so far from being an actor, I overappreciate another's efforts, but the way the Senior class presented their play, the way the actors read their difficult parts (. . . it is difficult to act the first time . . . it is harder to read the part with foreign accents) cannot, I believe, be over appreciated.

Well if Clarkston is to have a new postmaster we can be satisfied with any of the candidates in the field. Earl Walter, Frank Dunston and Stephen Clinton are well known and well liked.

Large Crowd Sees "The Mummy Bride"

Last Friday night a very large crowd witnessed one of the best ty to build a new County Building Senior plays that has been present- was voted down by the taxpayers by ed in the local school.

Well if I don't see any goose on first act the school orchestra played the table for the next year or so, it's a few peppy selections and whispers Mrs. Keith Spencer of favorable comment could be heard in the audience. Everyone is proud A personal note to Bradley Miller, of the school orchestra.

thread of mystery that was unwound this season. in the last act and he too added to the comedy by getting himself into giving with her parents in Rochester, ridiculous situations. Max Soulby, where she has been visiting for the the American consul at Cairo, made a very fine appearance and always affairs have been given in her honor. seemed to be on hand to straighten out any mix-ups that occurred. Max Mrs. John Townsend always found a way out. Duane Hursfall, the English clergyman Phyllis Boyns, the French girl, and Basil Tucker as the French officer had very difficult parts and are to be complimented for mastering the English and French accents so cleverly. Bart Mann, Erma Conklin and Betty Walter were quite at ease on the stage and acted their parts with as much poise as a great many professionals.

The costumes and the stage setting, to say nothing of the mummy se, were all very appropriate and cleverly arranged and much credit is due the director, Mrs. Louis Durand, and Miss Virginia LeForge and Miss Marguerite Andrews, who assisted. At the close of the play, Bart assistants with gifts of appreciation from the class.

Senior News

The Senior play went over with a BANG!!! We wish to thank you all band, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Deming and for your loyal support. We took in close to $80.00. All of the Seniors helped out. Some in the play, some on the setting, some on advertising, some taking and selling tickets, some prompting, etc. It sure wouldn't have been anywhere near the success it was if only part of the class had helped out. As there are only 16 in the class, it took a great deal of work for almost every individual.

The newly organized "O. F. F." club doesn't seem to have many members as yet. It has plenty of promises though. Don H, has really shown that he would be a loyal member. He seems to be resisting the clutches of woman-hood very well. Why not at least say "Good morning" to her Don?

No support, no spirit, and no money. Besides Thanksgiving is, or I might say was here again. Soooo, we have no Senior theater party.

What a life! This senior year is keeping two jumps ahead of most of us, financially. You will not want to miss the Apron Fashionshow with its living models and then you will want to see the Italian friendly greeting for you and something very pretty to show you and then what a treat it will be to visit the Kalico Goody Shop. Really folks. there is a good time in store for you on Friday, Dec. 6th. There will be plenty good things to eat, to see and

There will not be an auction at the close of the Karnival. Any perishable donations that are not sold will be returned to the donors and anything else will be kept by the Aid to. be sold at a future date.

P. T. A. Turkeys Given Away Tuesday

On Tuesday evening the P. T. A. gave away two turkeys at 8:00 o'clock at the Whipple Garage and netted about $23.20. Mrs. Byron Beardslee and J. W. Fielding were the lucky persons. However, Mrs. Beardslee had already planned her Thanksgiving dinner and so gave the prize turkey to someone less fortunate than herself. And say-good P. T. A. supporters, we are going to let vou in on a joke. On Tuesday evening when Mrs. Iva Miller delivered the two live turkeys at the Wompole home, a real comedy was enacted. The participants were Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Wompole and Mr. Turkey. It seems that Mr. Turkey realized he was to be cut up for Thanksgiving and he must get away before the fatal hour. However the two women, after much running around and laughing captured their prize in Chamberlain's garage. The rest of us should appreciate how much work this committee does for the P. T. A. And by the way, you will be interesed in knowing that the silverware has arrived and is just lovely. Everyone will be anxious to see it and use it and we understand that the dishes will arrive in a few days.

This committee is planning great things for Christmas . Watch for details next week.

Christian Endeavorers Have Fine Meeting

Noted Leaders Had Charge of Conferences

Last Monday evening the Oakland County Christian Endeavor Union held its bi-monthly meeting at Andersonville. There were 72 present, the largest attendance since the Union was organized.

Many helpful conferences were held. The officers' conference was led by Ernest Marks of Detroit; the Devotional by Rev. Cletus Parker; the Lookout by Glendon Moon and the Recreational by Lewis Ball. The discussion and the exchange of ideas that takes place at these conferences are a great help to the individual societies.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. Peck, pastor of Calvary Evangelical church of Pontiac. He delivered a Thanksgiving message.

At the close of the meeting cider and dough-nuts were served. The next meeting will be in Pontiac on Jan. 3rd.

Gov. Fitzgerald Endorses Christmas Seal Sale

1935 No scource that has laid its devastating hand upon mankind has exceeded the "white plague", tuberculosis, in destructiveness and desciation. Countless homes have experienced the very depths of bereavement as one after another of its members have been swept away through the rayages of this destroyer. The financial loss to the nation, reflected in interrupted cultural and economic development, has been infinitely greater than the cost of all its wars. For centuries considered unconquerable, modern science, made effeetive through the generous support of the people, has demonstrated this scourge can practically be eradicated. In our can State, in the last quarter century, the death rate from tuberculosis has been lowered by fifty per cent.

The splendid results that have thus far been attained in this vitally important field, have been largely owing to the aggressive and intelligently directed efforts of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, shose activities have been financed in an important degree through the sale of Christian Seals. All that has been gained must be lost unlessthis work is carried steadily forward.

Therefore, in conformity to properly established custom, I, Frank D. Fitzgerald, Governor, hereby direct the attention of the people of the wenlth to the Annual Sale of Christmas Seals, and urgo that each one extropize the came as penerously as personal circumstances may persit.

ABOVE is a facsimile of the proclamation issued by Gov. Frank D. itzgerald, endorsing the sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals in the State of Michigan. The sale is opened officially on Thanksgiving Day and continues through to Christmas. Fifty-eight million tuberculosis Christmas seals are being distributed in the state this year by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, The money raised in this way supports all activities of the Association.

FLOSSIE DELL, is to provide the next star for the Broadway firmament Jimny Boyle's stubby fingers tapped the typewriter keys in jerky mpo. "Hey! you louse!" he shouted Bill Gates, movie editor, a couple of desks up the line, "Did you ever pick a:winner?"

"Softly, Mr. Boyle, softly! Your language is hardly that of a gentleman.

"I've picked a winner!" -

"A winner! Flossie Dell!" "IVho?"

Flossie Dell. The blues singer at the Hollyerest." 'You poor sap!"-

"I said the blues singer at the Holly-Sorry. I heard you the first time. She's nothing to write home about."

"Listen to me!" Jimmy Boyle's husky volce deepened. "I'm telling you, Bill. That's a girl what's a girl." "You're crazy! She's punk on looks.

She can't sing and she's a nobody. Tell me another bed-time story." Jimmie told it next day in his column. And just in case she might miss it, he rend the column to Miss Dell that night at the Hollycrest. She yawned a little, "It's very nice of you, I'm sure, Mr. Boyle, to say such swell things about me!" Jumping up-

'Gee! There's my cue!" He walted till she finished singing. Come on, baby," he begged. "Sit down and we'll drink to big movie contracts for little girls." "It doesn't look well, Mr. Boyle," Flossie objected. "And besides I have to think of my figure." She stared at Jimmle's two hundred pounds. "You should think of yours." The next noon Jimmle passed up corned beef and cabbage at O'Rourke's. Training for a screen test?" asked

"What's the big idea, Boyle?" the managing editor demanded, when that day's column came out, "Turning press agent for a d-d night club singer?" "She doesn't need one, Boss. She's narvelons! Have you seen her?" "No! And I don't want to see you around here, if you plug her any more." "Not a bad column you had in today's paper, Boyle." Tommy Leonard, Hollycrest's master of ceremonies, said that night. He patted Jimmie on the back. "Now that you've spoken of it, I can see possibilities in the girl myself." At the end of a week Jimmie had lost" fifteen pounds. "Do you see any difference, Plossie?" "No, I don't." She shrugged her shoulders, then snuggling up close to Jimmie-"I might, if you wrote more about me. You're the only fellow that has the right slant." It was three o'clock in the morning when Jimmie finished his column, "The beautiful and talented Flossie Dell, scintillating blues singer of the Hollycrest, continues to draw record crowds," was his lead. When the first edition came up the managing editor sent for Jimmle,

"Write a new lead for the next edithe cashler's desk for your pay the next time you write up Flossie Dell. I'm giving you one more chance. After that, you're fired!"

In the evening Jim was waiting outside the Hollycrest when Flossie came

"Seen this?" He handed her a clipping of his first edition column. "No." She held it up near a street light. The lamp that shone on Jim's column brought out the cheap prettiness of her blond hair and red dress.

"Gosh, Kid! I'm nuts about you!" Jim put his arms about her. "Let's give the old marriage game a chance. How does a license for two at the municipal building tomorrow strike you?"

She slipped away from him. "When fall," her voice was taunting, "it's rolng to be for a real guy!"

"Meaning anyone in particular?"

"Who?" "Tommy Leonard. I'm going to mar ry him!" The red that Jimmle saw wasn't Flossie's dress. "You poor simp!" he shouted. "You don't know a real guy when you see one!" He caught Flossle by the shoulders, shaking her thin obstinate little body until her breath came in gasps, "I'm a real guy! Do you hear that?" He was sobblug. "I'm a real Sweeping the litter to the floor, Jim renched in his desk for a photograph. It was a picture of Flossie. With a swift gesture he ripped it in half.

"Say, Boyle." The managing editor "I was wrong about Flossle Dell. She really is a comer. Write a column on her in a big way!"

THANK YOU AMERICA,

for more than a Million cars in 1935

This year Chevrolet has two very good reasons for saying, "Thank you, America.'

One reason is that people have bought so many Chevrolet cars that production for the year will reach 1,040,000.

And the other reason is that they have placed a record number of orders for new 1936 Chevrolets during the first few weeks they have been on display.

Chevrolet is indeed happy to say, "Thank you, America," and to pledge continued adherence to the manufacturing and service policies which have won and held this friendship.

FORD INVITES YOU TO TRY V-8 ECONOMY ON YOUR OWN FARM

IT STANDS to reason that your neighbor's opinion may not be your opinion. He may tell you his Ford V-8 Truck is the best truck he ever owned. But you may hesitate to rely on his opinion when you buy a truck.

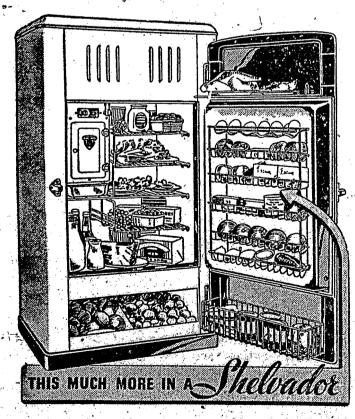

Buying by hearsay is a slipshod methode The SURE way . . . the way that is least likely to bring regrets afterwards . . . is to make your own tests. When you have the opportunity of trying a truck right on your own farm, hauling your own loads, running over the same roads you would use if the truck belonged to you . . . you can get a much better idea of what to expect from that truck.

That's just what Ford wants you to do. If you will set a date for an "on-the-job" test, your Ford dealer will gladly place a 1936 Ford V-8 Truck or Commercial Car at your disposal. Try it out on your farm. Use it as you would your own. Keep track of its costs. See how quickly it gets you places... how its 80-horsepower V-8 engine enables you to pull out of tough spots with heavy loads.

Could any test be more fair? Is there any better way to find out just exactly what a Ford V-8 Truck or Commercial Car will do for you? Get in touch with your Ford dealer today and set a date for this test.

Reunion in Michigan

ON THE last Thursday of this month the people of Michigan, like millions of their countrymen, will observe Thanksgiving Day. In doing so they will be following a thoroughly American custom, a custom which originated more than three centuries ago when the Pilgrim Fathers, immediately after their first harvest in the New World, set aside a day of Thanksgiving for the year's blessings.

The custom, antedating our Republic, survives as our oldest native holiday. Despite the interval of three centuries, despite the momentous changes they brought into American life, the annual festival continues to draw countless American families into yearly reunion at Thanksgiving; and among the modern forces that foster this ancient custom, the telephone occupies an important place.

The telephone helps to combat the distance created by the extension of our frontiers. It fills a modern need. It contributes its share in making the arrangements for any celebration - ordering supplies, extending and accepting invitations, arranging meetings, changing plans at the last minute, sending regards, regrets or congratulations.

Efficient, unobtrusive, often taken as a matter of course, the modern telephone thus plays its part in our daily lives, serving us all as readily and faithfully on holidays as during the working week.
