COMMENT AND CRITICISM

So few days to Christmas and so much shopping to do. One very good way to save time though is to shop in your home town. And in a number of cases not only will you save time but you will save money, as well. See the home merchant—FIRST.

And after you have made your purchases for friends, why not mail your presents and assure yourself that they will get there on time. Of course it is fun to watch Postmaster Andrews rush around, but the fun soon becomes tiresome if you are waiting in line.

And for the information of our friends in the South and West, there is some snow on the ground and the weather at this writing is cool enough to remind you that winter is here.

Information concerning prospective postmasters is largely in the rumor stage. From sources we rely upon but we cannot guarantee the information, we understand that eight persons took the examination last Saturday. It is always more pleasure to say "We brought home the 'bacon'" than to say "we also ran" and we rather enjoy their quiet attitude. Anyway we doubt if a mail is missed because of the change because we are confident that the change will be made in good season to allow the next incumbent to "learn the ropes".

Club Entertained Last Thursday

Mrs. Judd Skarritt was hostess to her 500 club at her home last Thursday evening.

At 6:30 a cooperative dinner was enjoyed and the usual card games were played during the evening. The awards went to Mrs. Raymond Miller and Mrs. Doris Hursfall.

The girls' team started off their season by defeating the team of the Dublin School, Oxbow Lake, at the school on Monday night by a score of 31-8. The team looked much better than it did at any time last year. The girls demonstrated more speed, aggressiveness and teamwork. They hope to have a smooth running team representing Clarkston this year.

Beardslee R.F. Alying
Lowrie L.F. Brendell
Dunston C. Welch
Coy S.C. Sanders
Yost R.G. Ogg

The first league game will be played with Walled Lake at their school on Friday night of this week. The league has decided to change the time of the girls' games. This year they will be played off after both of the boys' games have been played instead of between the first and second team games as was formerly done.

In General

We are glad to welcome a new column into the Blue and White Flash. It will be called "Shop news", and concerns the Shop class, of course. We hope Mr. Bauer will have someone write it up every week.

As the students have been kicking about too much censoring, we are going to print most of the things suggested, so don't believe them, even though we do allow them to be printed. All news turned in will be gladly accepted and anything reasonable will be printed, so how about some help????

By the way, be sure and attend the Epworth League bake sale mentioned above.

Mrs. Rockwell's Room

Children who received credits in our spell-down Friday, Dec. 6, were: Patricia Johnson, John Ronk, Jerry Hauser, Phyllis Tremper, Donald Perrin, Billy Howland.

Mrs. Beardslee's Room

Christmas will soon be here, and we are all eager and willing to observe the day. For our part in the Christmas program we are going to take you back to the very first Christmas, and tell you about the birth of the Child Jesus, about the joy of the shepherds when they heard the glad tidings of the angels, about the visit of the wise men—just as these facts are recorded in the Gospels of Saint Luke and Saint Matthew.

The characters in the play, "The First Christmas," are:
Shepherds—Wilbur Adams, Billy O'Roark, Bobby Clark, Eldon Rouse, Donald Steiner.

Angel—Mazy Mompole.
Mary—Phyllis Walter.
Joseph—Jack Wetzel.

The Three Kings—Edward Ross, Alvin Beardslee, Richard Shaughnessy.

The boys and girls who will sing the Christmas carols are:

Louise Shaughnessy, Madeline Scribner, Duane Howser, Margaret Gundry, Junior Ross, Louise Newman, Bobby Rowland, Viola Frick, Joel Beckman, Gladys Bain, Billy Radove.

Shop News

The shop classes have now completed three of their required projects and are ready to start on their fourth. These three projects consist of: a hand awl, sanding block, and a bench hook. Such articles make up the equipment of every craftsman and many of the projects will remain as permanent equipment of the school shop while the surplus will be sold.

On Thursday and Friday of next week the shop classes are planning to have a sale of their surplus products which will give those persons interested in starting a home workshop an opportunity to acquire essential tools.

Mrs. Irving Ronk Is Hostess to Club

The Next Meeting Will Be With Mrs. Hamilton Newman on Dec. 19th

The Clarkston Child Study Club held a very interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Irving Ronk on Thursday evening of last week.

Nine members responded to roll call by giving a cute saying of their children. Three guests were present, Mrs. Percy Craven, Mrs. Walter Ash and Mrs. Irish.

The club is undertaking three projects for the holiday season. It will sponsor the lighting of a community Christmas tree which will be placed in front of the Masonic Temple for one week. Complete plans for this will appear in the following issue of the paper. Watch for it!

Mrs. Joseph Skinner has donated to the Club a complete bed-room set of doll furniture, made by Mr. Skinner. This will be on display at the Waterbury Market. You will have a chance to own this furniture. Inquire about it. The money obtained from this doll set will be used to meet the expense of the lighting of the Christmas tree.

The members are also making Holly Wreaths, to be suitable for hanging out-of-doors. These are to be on sale at a very reasonable price.

Mrs. John Shaughnessy read several articles on Fear. The entire group took an intelligence test for parents and this proved very interesting.

Mrs. Farmer Davies gave a very complete demonstration in wreath making.

A delightful luncheon was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hamilton Newman on the evening of Thursday, Dec. 19, at which time a Christmas party for the members will take place.

Clarkston Locals

Mrs. L. F. Walter spent Wednesday in Detroit.

Mrs. Anna Fleming has returned home after visiting in Bay City for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Davies and daughter Ruth and their guest Mrs. Williams visited in Fenton last Sunday.

Have you thought of decorating your home, grounds or place of business for Christmas? Remember last year how pretty the village was and the Republican Women's Club gave a prize. Well this may be repeated this year. Watch for a notice next week. Anyway help make Clarkston beautiful for Christmas.

Several From Clarkston Enjoy Christmas Tea

Tom Wade Was One of the Speakers

A very delightful Christmas Tea was given by the Women's Auxiliary of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital on Monday afternoon in the hospital.

The auditorium was all aglow with Christmas lights and the cozy-looking platform was bright with a lighted Christmas Tree which will be used on Dec. 19th at the Kiddies' party.

There were approximately 75 members and their friends present. The first speaker, Rev. William H. Marbach, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was introduced by Mrs. William A. Kennedy, program chairman. Mr. Marbach spoke very highly of the work done by the auxiliary and other such organizations.

Mrs. Arthur Keith Lovrien introduced the next speaker, Tom Wade, of Detroit. Mr. Wade is known far and near because of his connection with the Curtis Publishing Co. His subject was "Interesting People I Have Known". He portrayed the characteristics of some notables and some very ordinary people, yet he could find something outstanding and interesting in both classes. He mentioned writers, actors, artists, soldiers, producers, countesses, explorers, scientists, a princess, an officer on the New York police force and the fellow that is his guide when he goes trout fishing. He told about different ones who had been his guests at his famous Sunday morning breakfasts and he related many humorous incidents in his own war experiences.

Mr. Wade concluded his talk with a Christmas story. The scene was in France in 1918 in the Vosges Mountains. The characters were his own regiment and the children of the village. He and his regiment not only made a happy day for the poor little kiddies but for themselves as well.

After the program tea and cakes were served from a table centered with beautiful poinsettias flanked by red tapers and presided over by Mrs. Frank L. Doty and Mrs. Henry Gaukler. Mrs. John Wood of Birmingham was in charge of the tea. Those from Clarkston who attended were Misses Mae and Nell Barry, Mrs. J. R. Campbell, Mrs. Milan Vliet and Mrs. Wm. H. Stamp.

Past Matrons Enjoy Dinner

The Past Matrons' club enjoyed a chicken dinner and social evening last Saturday. The husbands of the members were guests. There were 23 sat down to the delicious roast chicken dinner at 6:30 and they not only enjoyed the dinner but they had a fine visit during the dinner hour. In the evening they played cards and had a delightful social time.

P. T. A. Meets Next Wednesday

A Xmas Program Will Be Presented

The P. T. A. will have its regular meeting next Wednesday evening and a beautiful Xmas pageant will be presented by the children. And just to let you in on a little secret and surprise, we understand that a notice of shipment on the china has been received and if the dishes arrive in time they will be on display next Wednesday night. This will be a real treat as the P. T. A. as well as the students will be able to view with pride something that will be used in the school for many years.

Yes the P. T. A. working committee is busy every minute. They have received two lovely donations for disposal before Xmas, a gorgeous basket from the Home Dairy in Pontiac and a beautiful doll from Chase's. Maybe some lucky person will carry either of these prizes or maybe a ten pound turkey-home with them next Wednesday evening. Well the committee was very considerate of our own merchants this time and did not beg any prizes from them because they felt that our own merchants had always been so liberal and they had been asked for donations so many times that it would be an imposition to take advantage of their generosity.

The doll will be on display at the L. F. Walter store and you must watch for the other prizes too and make sure that you are doing your part towards the proceeds that will be realized.

Royal Neighbors Elect Officers

Mrs. William Belitz Is Hostess on Wednesday

Wednesday noon the Royal Neighbors met at the home of Mrs. William Belitz and thoroughly enjoyed a co-operative chicken dinner. There were 28 present.

In the afternoon they held their regular business meeting and election of officers took place as follows—oracle, Mrs. Vera Craven; vice oracle, Mrs. Leona Secord; recorder, Mrs. Mary Baldwin; receiver, Mrs. Helen O'Roark; chancellor, Mrs. Mary Green; marshal, Mrs. Nora Leonard; assistant marshal, Mrs. Flossie Holcomb; inner sentinel, Mrs. Emma Green; outer sentinel, Mrs. Anna Gundry. Then the appointive officers were named.

To add a little Christmas spirit to the meeting a grab basket was an amusing feature. Each member drew a gift.

Progressive Class Meets Wednesday

A Co-operative Dinner Was Served at 6:00 O'clock

On Wednesday evening the Progressive Class of the Methodist Sunday School held its regular meeting. Mrs. R. A. Noble, Mrs. W. Neff, co-operative dinner was served to about forty people.

The long tables were arranged in a triangle and were prettily decorated with cedar, Michigan holly, small pots of poinsettias and red and green tapers. At the top of the triangle was a Christmas tree and a miniature Santa Claus with a pile of gifts.

Everyone enjoyed the dinner and had a grand time visiting. At the close of the meal, the president Mrs. Irving Ronk announced that there was a gift for everyone and she cheerfully acted as Santa and carried the large sack around the tables and each one pulled out a package. The business meeting was short because no activities were planned for the next few weeks on account of the busy holiday season. The hostesses for the January meeting will be Mrs. H. Huttenlocher, Mrs. Lee Clark, Mrs. Ray Clark, Mrs. Forest Jones, Mrs. Kennedy and Miss Wilma Doebler.

Third Winter Concert Given Friday Evening

Chas. Hutton, the Director, Will Sing Several Numbers

The Clarkston Women's Chorus will present to their guests their third annual winter concert, Friday evening at eight-thirty, at the school. They will be assisted by an instrumental ensemble composed of members of the school orchestra and directed by Frank Bach.

The nature of the current program will be entirely seasonal, consisting of the more familiar old English, French and German Christmas carols, with interpretations adhering closely to tradition.

The chorus will sing ten numbers, ranging from the familiar and ever beautiful "Silent Night" to the lovely "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming", a 16th century melody by Praetorius.

The manner of presentation by the chorus will be that of a vested choir, with a setting simulating the chancel of the English church.

The ensemble will play two groups of seasonal numbers and will accompany the chorus at intervals. Charles Hutton, director of the chorus, will be heard in solo interludes. Mrs. Winifred Perrin is the chorus accompanist.

An audience of nearly two hundred has been invited to attend.

Christmas Seal Pays Tribute to U. S. Mail Service

THE 1935 tuberculosis Christmas seal pays tribute to the United States mails and the part the post-office has played in the fight against tuberculosis in this country. Miss Marion Cook and Miss Louise Collins, coeds at Michigan State College, are shown here as they examine one of the attractive Christmas seal posters with Claude E. Cady, postmaster at Lansing.

"It is particularly fitting," Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, declared this week, "that the Christmas seal should commemorate the mail service which has done so much for the public welfare and plays such a major role in the distribution of the seals."

Michigan people are being called upon to purchase 2,000,000 more seals than in 1934. In all, 12,000,000 seals have been sent out from the Lansing offices of the Association. All activities of the organization are financed solely by Christmas seal pennies.

In the period from November 1931 to June 1935, over 88,000 Michigan persons were given tuberculin tests at clinics sponsored by the Association; more than 19,000 chest X-rays were made in the same length of time. These are the modern methods of discovering tuberculosis in the early and curable stage.

Tuberculosis is still the principal cause of death between the ages of 20 and 40. Your pennies will help to reduce the mortality rate.

Compensation

By MAURICE GLEYRE, McClure Newspaper Syndicate, W.V. Service.

TWENTY thousand dollars' compensation for slipping on the ice in front of his own grocery store!

Mr. Pagnetta dropped his bold black eyes to yell their exultant gleam.

"My client," Attorney Rubinsky stated, "only desires compensation for the wrong that was done to him."

Mr. Pagnetta darted a sly look at the defendant and took pleasure in Mr. Schwabacher's increasing discomfiture.

Mr. Pagnetta's resentment had been accumulating ever since Mr. Schwabacher had opened a delicatessen next to his grocery store, with a window display of canned goods. When day after day he saw one or the other of his erstwhile customers come out of the store next door with an armful of bundles and a smile that reflected Mr. Schwabacher's expansive good humor, he could no longer be civil.

"There's not room for two grocers on this block," he told his competitor one morning when he saw him out on the sidewalk awkwardly wielding a broom.

"Mine iss delicatessen," Mr. Schwabacher corrected with a friendly smile.

"You're stealing my canned goods trade. There oughta be a law—"

"Togedder we bring more trade into the block," the other interrupted placidly. "We both benefit."

One winter morning he stepped out to survey his icy sidewalk, and found Mr. Schwabacher from the vantage of his own already ash-strewn premises doing the same thing.

"You better the ashes lay before the customers commence," Mr. Schwabacher advised after a hearty "good day."

"And you better thind your own business," retorted Mr. Pagnetta.

"The ice iss everybody's business," Mr. Schwabacher contended good-humoredly.

Mr. Pagnetta turned about with a violence that sent his feet from under him. The result was a broken leg.

During subsequent days in the hospital his chief diversion was planning how to get the better of his rival.

"Can I collect damages," he asked the lawyer Rubinsky, "for my hospital and doctor bills, and the loss of time from business?"

Rubinsky shrugged his thin shoulders up to his large ears. "You can sue, and maybe you collect. How did it happen?"

Mr. Pagnetta described how his competitor, Mr. Schwabacher had come out of his store, picked a quarrel, and finally struck him, knocking him down and breaking his leg.

"Have you witnesses?" Rubinsky wanted to know.

"Yes. Several people heard him call me a lousy wop and other names."

"Witnesses to the blow?"

"Well—" Mr. Pagnetta thought of Bagnoni who would witness anything for a consideration, and of Pappas who would welcome the chance to cancel a long-standing debt. "Yes. I know of two."

Mr. O'Ryan, counsel for the defense, now wanted to know just how the blow had been delivered, exactly where it had landed.

"Just indicate it," he suggested. "How? With his right hand—"

"Right fist!" Mr. Pagnetta corrected emphatically.

"With his right fist he delivered a blow on your left jaw behind the ear. You are sure it was his right fist?"

When the plaintiff's testimony had been fully corroborated by his two witnesses, Mr. O'Ryan faced the jurors. "Gentlemen of the jury," he said, "you have seen the blow which could have been delivered only by a good, right from the shoulder—the blow for which the plaintiff asks twenty thousand dollars' compensation."

At the mention of compensation Mr. Pagnetta moistened his lips while his thoughts strayed into green pastures of anticipation. But when Mr. Schwabacher, red faced and visibly nervous, took the stand he was all attention again.

"Gentlemen," Mr. O'Ryan addressed the jury in hushed voice, "I want to call your attention to the fact that the defendant is one of our war heroes."

He reached over and touched a little cross pinned on the lapel of Mr. Schwabacher's coat. "And I am going to prove that this war hero not only would not, but could not strike a blow with his right fist. Mr. Schwabacher, will you kindly remove your coat and roll up your shirt sleeve?"

While Mr. Schwabacher struggled out of his coat, Mr. Pagnetta sat forward unasily.

"This cross—" Mr. O'Ryan held his client's coat up and turned slowly so that all could see the small medal—"was given in compensation for a wound won in combat." Flung out, his free hand he pointed dramatically to the arm which Mr. Schwabacher had just exposed to view.

Mr. Pagnetta in company with every one in the room, looked—and his gaze remained transfixed. In his mind's eye he was seeing again those awkward movements of Mr. Schwabacher as he swept his sidewalk, while the voice of the counsel for the defense beat into his ears.

"Mr. Schwabacher suffered a serious wound in his upper right arm. So serious that the bone between the elbow and shoulder had to be removed. As you can see, the arm is practically useless—your honor, I demand the arrest of the plaintiff and his witnesses on charges of perjury."

Come and enjoy with us the first of the many programs which characterize the busy but joyous Christmas season in the Hartland Area.

SEEKING BALANCE IN CORN AND HOGS

Contracts This Year Have That Result in View

The terms of the contracts offered by Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, to Michigan farmers for the adjustment of the production of corn and hogs in 1936-37 are explained in a statement sent to R. J. Baldwin, administrator for the AAA in Michigan.

Farmers are not required to make any reduction in the number of hogs from their base allotment, which is the average number of hogs marketed in past years. The base which farmers have had under the present contract may be changed by action of the local committees with the consent of the State Control Board. Signers of hog contracts must produce at least 50 per cent of their allotments and may produce 100 per cent.

Corn growers may reduce their acreage as much as 75 per cent but they receive no adjustment payments for any decreases beyond 30 per cent. Payments are made on the basis of the amount of reduction up to the 30 per cent. The adjustment payment is 35 cents per bushel on the estimated yield of the adjustment acres.

Payments on hogs will be $1.25 per head for the farmer's base number. It makes no difference if he produces 50 per cent of the base number or 100 per cent. Farmers who are allotted 20 hogs will receive an adjustment payment of $25 if they meet the terms of the contract by producing for market between 50 and 100 per cent of the base number. Deductions are made for under production as well as for too high production.

Farmers with an allotment of 20 acres of corn may receive payments on from 10 to 30 per cent of this acreage, depending on the actual acreage planted. At least two acres must be designated as adjustment acres and six acres may be so designated. Payments will be made on the estimated yield of the acres taken out, up to six, for the farmer with a corn allotment of 20 acres. Michigan corn yields average 30 bushels per acre and the payment is 35 cents per bushel. Good land will yield more than 30 bushels so the payments will be higher per acre on such soil.

The purpose of making no request for reduction in hog numbers and in adjusting the acreage of corn is to restore a normal balance between livestock numbers and corn available for feeding. Production of too much corn always results in a multiplication of hog numbers because farmers must find some way to dispose of surplus corn. The final result is an over production of both hogs and corn.

The 1936-37 corn hog contracts will be explained by committeemen in Michigan at local meetings. Participation in this adjustment program is entirely voluntary. Farmers should attend the meetings, hear the contracts explained, and then decide whether it will be more profitable to follow their own dictates on planting corn or raising hogs or to cooperate with farmers in this and other states to adjust production to the amounts needed for food and export.

HOLLY THEATRE

The most modern stratosphere gondola ever designed was constructed for the thrilling flight sequences in Jack Benny's starring comedy-drama, "It's in the Air", which opens Sunday at the Holly Theatre.

The gondola, constructed after "The Explorer", which was used in the flight sponsored by The National Geographic Society and the United States Army Corps that took place July 28, in the Black Hills of South Dakota, was built at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios under the supervision of Cedric Gibbons, head art director.

The gondola serves as the setting for the thrilling flight of Benny and Ted Healy in the comedy-drama directed by Charles F. Riesner.

The comedy-drama features a cast including Ted Healy, Una Merkel, Nat Pendleton, Mary Carlisle, Harvey Stephens and Grant Mitchell.

Supporting Miss Davies is a remarkable all star cast of famous

"name players" including Dick Powell, Pat O'Brien, Mary Astor, Frank McHugh, Lyle Talbot, Patsy Kelly, Barton MacLane, Allen Jenkins, Hobart Cavanaugh and a score of others.

A new song, also bearing the title "Page Miss Glory", written by Hollywood's leading team of hit writers, Warren and Dubin, is sung as a duet by Miss Davies and Dick Powell.

The story of "Page Miss Glory" is as funny as it is unique. Miss Davies, in the role of a country girl, neither pretty nor bright, gets a job as chambermaid in a swanky New York hotel in which reside a promoter, portrayed by Pat O'Brien, who has nothing to promote, and Frank McHugh, a jobless newspaper photographer.

McHugh, learning that an advertiser is offering a big cash reward for a photograph of America's prettiest girl, makes a composite picture, blending the features of famous stage and society beauties and submits it under the name of "Dawn Glory".

He wins the prize and trouble starts. A "Dawn Glory" craze sweeps the country and even Miss Davies falls for it with startling results. Properly attired and "made-up", she becomes the reincarnation of Dawn Glory, but all she wants to be is the sweetheart of Dick Powell.

For Homemakers.

Most homemakers greatly enjoy beautiful plants but the belief that it is difficult to grow them to have them indoors prevents many homes from having these natural decorations, according to the horticultural department at Michigan State College.

Plants have certain natural requirements which are more difficult to supply indoors than outside but many plants can be grown successfully in the house. All plants require light, heat, moisture, and air, and the amounts needed vary with the different species of plants. All flowering plants need more sunlight than do the foliage plants.

Geraniums, begonias, and roses thrive best in a south window but ferns, vines, or palms make the best growth in an east or west window. North windows admit too little light for the best results with house plants.

Lack of moisture in the air is one of the chief difficulties of growing plants in a dwelling house. The moisture can be supplied by spraying the foliage of plants twice daily with water. Shallow metal trays in which the flower pots are placed on a layer of pebbles covered with water also aid in supplying additional water. The soil around the plant should never be allowed to become thoroughly dry.

Too much water around the plants' roots prevents the absorption of air and slowly kills the plant. Some plants, such as cactus and euphorbia, require very little water, but ferns need a great deal. Provision must be made for the draining of the excess water in pots or plant boxes. Water evaporates faster from earthen containers than from wooden boxes. Rain water is better than well water for plants. Plants should be watered when the surface of the soil becomes dry and enough water should be used so that water drains from the bottom of the container.

Most common plants will thrive in temperatures ranging from 50 degrees Fahrenheit at night to 68 degrees in the day time. The primrose, cineraria, hydrangea, and cyclamen grow best at lower temperatures. Plants placed near windows must be protected on cold nights by drawing the curtains or by coverings of paper.

The best container for house plants is the common, porous clay pot. Painted or glazed earthenware is impervious to air. Pots which are too large usually retain enough excess water so the soil becomes sour. Yellow foliage on a plant is often an indication that the container is so small that the roots are crowded and are not able to develop properly. Such plants should be transferred to a larger pot.

BRITISH EMPIRE HAS ONE TELEPHONE PER 100 PEOPLE

The commonwealths of some 70 countries and island groups which go to make up the British Empire, with its dominions, colonies, mandates and protectorates, has a combined population of over 600 million people, or one-fourth of the earth's population. The total number of telephones in the British Empire is about 4,400,000, or an average of less than one telephone for every 100 people.

The United States, by way of comparison, including outlying possessions, has about 142,000,000 people and 17,000,000 telephones. This corresponds to a telephone development of nearly 12 telephones per 100 population, or about 14 times as many as in the British Empire.

GIFT FESTIVAL IS CRANBROOK EVENT

Interesting Christmas Services Will Be Held Dec. 15th

The Festival of Gifts, to be held this year on Sunday afternoon, December 15, at four o'clock, has become traditional in Christ Church, Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills. Following prayers, the Christmas story and Christmas litany, the church lights are dimmed almost to extinction. While the choir sings "Silent Night", unaccompanied, the shepherds silhouetted against the beautiful fresco in the sanctuary of the church move across the chancel, down the nave to the narthex and up the north aisle to St. Paul's Chapel. In the chapel is set up a stable. About the manger in this place, Mary, the Virgin, and Joseph gaze adoringly upon the Christ child. The shepherds join them in adoration. Following the star, the wise men with their slaves bearing the gifts of gold, incense and myrrh take the same path as did the shepherds to the stable where they present their gifts and become a part of the group about the holy family. Then the angelus is rung on the bells of the carillon. After this the choir carrying old-fashioned lanterns marches singing Christmas carols along the same path followed by the wise men and the shepherds to the place where all the characters are assembled. Finally the entire congregation joins in the procession. On this occasion every one is asked to bring gifts of toys, clothing, food or money. Bearing these gifts, young and old alike slowly move toward the manger where they place their gifts and gaze a few minutes upon the characters grouped about the Christ child in the stable. The people then return to their places in the pews. All the gifts left before the manger are afterwards distributed to some seventy-five needy families. As a climax to this service the Gloria in excelsis is sung and at the end the choir files silently out. Before and after the service, the bellmaster plays on the carillon Christmas hymns and carols.

Odd Jobs

In addition to their regular work, the shop students are finding many opportunities around the school to exhibit their skill in repairing and making equipment for the various school departments and activities.

The typing students are already shop conscious and have benefited from the work of the shop classes. Angle irons formed in the school shop and installed on the typewriters now prevent the machines from "walking away" from the typists. Many other miscellaneous jobs have been completed, are "in production", or on schedule so the shop students are not lacking for work.

Whatnots

Hello Folksies! My, but I had a lovely vacation, from news of course. It seems that Rasmuson wants me to make up things if there isn't any real news. So if I do make up some good fish stories—or think up a few white lies, don't blame me, I'm just followin' orders.

And all this just shows to go you that you can't keep a Sophomore down, but I'm practically burning up to distribute some sweet revenge amongst and amidst a few of those mighty (?) Seniors. So beware, and as Mr. Shakespeare would say "There's method in her madness."

Miscellaneous: The Honor Roll for the month of November reads as follows: 7th Marna Houser, Elaine Waterbury, Maxine Yerkes, 8th Evelyn Davies, Charlotte Sue Miller, Larry Newman, 9th LeRoy Kelly, Susan Lowrie, Iva May Sommers, 10th Chester Adams, Betty Ann Comstock, King McIntyre, Charles Perry, Clinton Russell.

The 8th grade tots had an ice-skating party last Friday nite, on the Mill Pond.

Most of the Seniors, so we hear, are satisfied with their pictures which is rather unusual for most classes in the past have not had such good luck with their rings, pictures, etc. Maybe the Picture Company is improving with the years. If so, we Sophs. will probably be signed up by Billie Ziegfeld or if we have television by then we may be appearing before the "Mike" of Station WZBK, N-U-T-S, or something of the kind.

Isn't funny how people have different ideas on things. The other day we saw Tucker looking intently at Jo, across the session room. Why don't you give him a break Jo???

Christmas days are here again, and so is cold weather, sleet, ice, slush, and snow!! (Say, we wonder how cute Rassie would be in a snow suit?)

Who was it that autographed the picture that was to go to the girlfriend, "Your Pal", what's the trouble, bashful?

Hammy won a bet, the consequences of which being that I should publish nothing about him for two weeks. The two weeks are up and now have no news. Sigh-Tears, and what have you.

Can you imagine a mere Sophomore taming a "flighty" Junior? We can't—hardly.

The faculty was well represented at the Kalico Carnival, held Friday evening, at the M. E. Church. Seems so we oughta be proud of 'em—they looked nice enough to eat! What with their school mannerisms left at home, by the fireside. You know, parents of today, you're pretty lucky! In the "days of yesterday", the teachers didn't come out of their school rooms—but now, you have the chance to meet, on altogether informal ground, the individuals, who, poor dears, try to cram a little bit of knowledge into our heads.

Wanted!

New games to play, ideas on new diversions to put into force, at our class parties. The boys kick if we play "Post-office", the girls kick if we play too much baseball, etc., we both kick if we play games that are too learned or too schoolified. So dear public, please, please, come to our aid. Mail all suggestions to C. H. S., c-o Mr. Winn, Sophomore Class.

Wanted—a few "A's" and "B's". Betty Clark.

Wanted—one pair of extraordinary, large sized, ear-mufflers. King McIntyre.

For Sale—a pair of bagpipes. Clinton "Scottie" Russell.

Swaps!

Swap—white blackbird for a 4-ft. yard-stick. Hammy Newman.

Swap—some Henna rinse for a bottle of Peroxide. Violet Coy.

Swap—a short little fellow for a tall, handsome Romeo. Hilda Barnett.

Swap—knowledge on sentence structure for knowledge on parallel-

Fashion Notes

Bangs are going out as quickly as they came in.

Bobby pins should be either omitted from the hairdress or ducked (like a safety pin).

Spats: The oldest and yet the newest thing.

Sweaters—in brilliant hues are being worn excessively and becomingly by the male members of C. H. S. Zippers, we hear, are gradually fading from our horizon. Both in sweaters and "Arctics". Everything got a snap in it nowadays, and that of course, is just keeping up with Father Time.

Waltena Winchell.

P. S. What a break Chet Adams gettin' with Santa Claus this year. He wears a size "12" shoe.

Comments on the Foregoing Article "Whatnots"

The remark quoted from Will Shakespeare will have to be disputed because if we remember the story that remark was to Hamlet who pretended he was crazy.

The one big reason why the Seniors were satisfied with their pictures is because good pictures can always be made using good models.—Signed—Senior Class.

We hear that the Camp Publishing Company after one look at this year's Juniors and Sophomores have started work on a lens which will stand the gaff.

If little Waltena Winchell would stop looking at people who are looking at people she might turn out a letter column.

What would S. Douglas want with another Ford, we thought there was one in the family. She probably wants one in Clarkston instead of Lansing. What would a Ford need a crank for with her around?

You mean everything's got a snap except the Waltena Winchell column. Why don't you confer with Mr. Talon so you can put a little zip in that column?

We were talking to Hilda, she says you're wrong, a short handsome Romeo is as good as a tall handsome Romeo even if they do run into trees. 2 1/2 Haunters.

This and That

Is this vacation idea getting to be a habit? On Wednesday, Dec. 11, about 10:33 A. M., Friday stated that she didn't have any news. If she changes her mind, and writes a large column,—well, you won't see this. Now to get down to the rescription of the guilty Jr. I am told that she is 5'3 1/2" tall, blond, and goes around with one of the Souby boys. I'll try and find out her correct name. She plays basket-ball for good old C. H. S. She usually wears a jacket to school with a scarf, tam, and mittens. The aforesaid seem to wander a great deal. So does he. She was quoted as saying she had something under her thumb. I don't know exactly what. I have heard that she likes to have people buy her candy. Her public, and the Souby boy from Michigan State should get together on that. I guess that's all the low-down on her this week. More ambition to you Friday.

Senior News

The Senior pictures have arrived and been distributed. Everyone seems to be well pleased with them.

We heard a good one on Erma but we promised not to publish it if she would get us some good news.

It seems that some how, some where, Eileen tried coming down stairs in the most unusual way. But still she doesn't need a pillow.

Don't forget the opening of the basketball season Friday the 13th at Walled Lake.

We seem to be having rather a hard time trying to get a party together.

We also have been thinking of having under-classesmen, when addressing us Seniors, use the terms Madam and Sir; especially those infantile Juniors.

We still haven't received our invitation to that waffle breakfast. How about New Year's?

When we think last year's class has separated, and scattered enough, we are going to take down their pictures which hang in front of all of us.

Don. H. doesn't like his pictures because he thinks they look too much like Clark Gable.

Molter

P. S. I promise to take all the blame for any Senior news printed.

Herb. Molter

Listen, Rassie, better not take up too much of Erma's time. She's got a steady and if he finds out. Oh! Oh!

There must be a new romance in session room as Hammy has been seen lately with Jean Conklin's ring on. Give us the lowdown, Jean.

Waterbury has been seen flirtin' with those Drayton girls. We wonder if it's anything serious. (If you hear a laugh that's from the guy that's writing it up.)

June has the habit of giggling a lot in Eng. Literature. I wonder if it has anything to do with Tucker.

By Jove.

Remember Your Home Newspaper

All matters handled thru the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.

Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.

We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper week by week.
