COMMENT AND CRITICISM

To know your future in 1936, look back on your past. A little better, a little duller. In the main it will be a fair repetition of the years that have gone by.

So our wish for the New Year is that the bright spots may be a little brighter and the dull ones a little less dull.

Last week I got a good tip so good that I needs must pass it on. "Why not slip into a pew in one of our churches on Sundays during the coming year."

As for resolutions . . . I wonder whether they are really good or whether they are just things to be broken.

MICHIGAN WOMEN TO MEET FEB. 3-7

Will Discuss Home Problems at East Lansing College

Several traffic cops will be needed around the Home Economics building at Michigan State College, Farmers Week, Feb. 3-7, as space is limited and the program arranged carries an appeal to homemakers from the city as well as for farm women.

One of the talks which all rural housewives will want to hear will be given by Miss Margaret Hartnack, Grand Rapids, who will discuss "Lighting in the Home." Recent developments of power lines in rural districts has made the matter of the choice of electrical equipment one of the most interesting household subjects.

Dr. Mary Swartz Rose, professor of nutrition, Columbia University, appears on the home economics program and at the general meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 4. All general meetings are held in the afternoon or evening. Dr. Rose is a well known writer and her talk will be enjoyed by those attending the home economics banquet Tuesday evening.

The skin of affairs in Ethiopia will be untangled in a talk by Dr. H. H. Kimber, M. S. C. Africa seems far away to most Americans but the situation there may enmesh Michigan citizens unless there is a general knowledge of the import of the moves and counter moves of European nations.

HOLLY THEATRE

Not since his "Bulldog Drummond" roles has Ronald Colman had a part so particularly suited to his talents and a story so in keeping with his flair for the suave and debonair as 20th Century's "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo," which opens Sunday at the Holly Theatre.

Romance and comedy go hand-in-hand in this picture, in which Joan Bennett has the leading feminine role. Cast in important roles are also Colin Clive, Nigel Bruce and Montagu Love.

Ronald Colman plays an impoverished Russian Prince who goes to Monte Carlo with his meagre savings and runs the stake up to 10,000,000 francs at baccarat, breaking the bank of the Sporting Club.

He returns to Paris, divides half his winnings among his friends and then uses the remainder in pursuit of romance in the person of Miss Bennett.

Miss Bennett, who had been hired by the gambling syndicate to lure Colman back to another session at the gaming tables, leads him a merry chase through the gayest continental centers until she falls in love with her intended victim. She tries to save him, but Colman returns and loses his fortune on a turn of the cards.

All ends happily for the two lovers, however, when Colman discovers that Miss Bennett really loves him despite his loss.

One of the highlights of "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo" is the playing of the song, "The Moon is in the Sky," composed by Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruoy. Colin Clive plays Miss Bennett's companion in intrigue, while Nigel Bruce enacts the role of Colman's servant and friend.

Stephen Roberts directed "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo." The production was under the personal supervision of Darryl F. Zanuck.

William Pierce Injured in Fall

Was Rushed to Goodrich Hospital

Last Saturday evening when William Pierce went to the barn to do his chores he went to climb a ladder to the hay mow and had the misfortune to slip. His right leg went between the rounds of the ladder breaking both bones between the hip and the knee. Then the ladder tipped and he fell to the floor. Mr. Pierce shouted for help but his cries were not heard for at least one half hour. Finally Charles Beardslee, who lives on the next farm, heard the screams and he and Mrs. Beardslee drove over to the Pierce farm and found Mr. Pierce. They then notified Mrs. Pierce, who had been in the house all the time and was unaware of what was happening. A doctor was then called and Mr. Pierce was taken to the Goodrich hospital.

The last report was that he was doing nicely.

Young Folk Enjoy Old Time Sleigh Ride

On New Year's Eve eighteen young people enjoyed an old time sleigh ride. George Miller and his sister Martha made a splendid host and hostess. With George handling the reins and the rest of the group all snuggled comfortably in warm robes, the sleigh ride through town and the ring of happy voices let everyone in town know that a good time was being had.

At midnight the group enjoyed a lunch at the Miller home. They were seated at a long table which was centered with winter flowers and unique favors were at each place. After the lunch, music and games were enjoyed and these young people started 1936 with light, happy hearts.

Clarkston Locals

Mrs. Ivy Bird and family of Ypsilanti spent New Year's with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart.

George Walter left on Monday for Florida where he will stay for the rest of the winter.

George Miller and Miss Martha Miller are enjoying their vacations at their home at Seymour Lake.

COUNTY WPA WORK IS WELL ADVANCED

Men Are Placed on Projects of Permanent Benefit

The Works Progress Administration was organized to provide work for all employable men and women on the public relief rolls. "At the close of the year 1935 every employable person on the relief rolls in Oakland County is either working on a W. P. A. project or has had an opportunity to do so," states Bruce Buchanan, Oakland County Area Supervisor of Projects, to a representative of the Advertiser.

Construction projects sponsored by municipal units throughout the County which, when completed, will cost $1,191,964.34, have been undertaken by the local W. P. A. organization. A few projects other than those involving construction have also been undertaken in order to provide employment for women and certain other persons not fitted for construction work.

In every case the projects have been sponsored by local municipal units, and their completion will not only make it possible for those communities to secure needed improvements which they were not in position to finance themselves but at the same time has provided work for those employable persons on relief who may be residents of that community.

WPA regulations do not permit of the undertaking of work normally performed by local governmental units such as janitor work, street cleaning or other maintenance work.

Federal WPA funds are limited to finance project costs not exceeding $900.00 per man per year and if projects are undertaken in which the man year cost exceeds that figure the excess cost is born by the governmental unit sponsoring the projects.

"The success of the WPA program rests not entirely on those persons directly connected with the management and operation of the agency," Mr. Buchanan says, "but also depends upon the cooperation of the officials of all of the municipal units who in the first place conceived of the projects and selected what work was to be undertaken and who now also are concerned with the actual work being performed." Mr. Buchanan states that a great deal of credit is due the municipal authorities in Oakland County for the manner in which they have cooperated with WPA in organizing the work and assisting in every manner possible.

At the close of the year 2115 men and 222 women were employed by the Oakland County WPA. Work was commenced in August and $292,001.50 has been disbursed for labor and $29,168.88 for materials from Federal funds during the period from August to January.

Because of the larger number of unemployed men in Pontiac and the southern part of the county, those sections have received the majority of the projects. In Holly village so far only one project, that in connection with the dam, has been approved, but a few others in the village and township are expected. There are almost no unemployed men here at present.

A careful study of the projects under way in Oakland County definitely shows that only permanent and lasting improvements have been selected. All federal funds being expended are being used upon projects desired and developed by the various municipal units throughout the county. The Works Progress Administration does not originate projects, but only carries out the needs and desires of the local unit in making an effort to provide useful work for unemployed persons in those communities.

OLD AGE PENSIONS SOON TO BE PAID

A. L. Nique, county supervisor of old age pensions, assisted by John R. McDonald, field supervisor, and a corps of trained workers, are now making an intensive effort to complete the investigation of every applicant, and the drive is expected to be completed within two weeks.

Michigan having had its Old Age Pension Act and administrative set-up approved by the Federal Social Security Board, is now in a position to make effective the plan to pay all persons entitled to receive benefits. The rate of pay, it is announced, will be increased from $11 to $16.50 per month.

In Oakland county there are now approximately 425 persons receiving aid. This number of course will be increased.

If at the end of two weeks, there are any persons who have not been interviewed on their old age pension they are requested to get in touch with Mr. McDonald at his office in the Hubbard building in Pontiac.

Opens Dental Office in Clarkston

Dr. Arthur W. Schurz, a graduate of the University of Michigan, in the Dental Department, has opened his office in Clarkston.

Some time ago Dr. Schurz purchased the Bradley property on North Main St. and completely remodelled the dwelling into a modern residence with his office in connection. Modern dental equipment has been installed.

Many Participate In Decorating Contest

The Republican Women's Club wishes to thank all who responded to its request for holiday decorations. The town was prettier this year than it has ever been because so many entered into the spirit of the season. Those who did not decorate the exterior of their homes or business places, brightened the picture by placing their lighted Christmas trees and wreaths in the windows.

The first prize, a lovely turkey, went to the J. H. Alger home which was very pretty with red lights around the doors and small trees with blue lights out in front. Up on the third story was a large silver star.

The judges decided that the Spanish bungalow on Wompol Drive occupied by the Bert Denhams was so artistic that a second prize should be awarded so Mr. and Mrs. Denham received a basket of fruit.

The club intends to carry out the same idea next year and will award two prizes.

The judges this year were Messrs. Guy Walter, James Van Every, C. W. Russell, Louis Walter, Floyd Andrews and D. M. Winn and Mrs. F. E. Davies.

1936 Is Greeted By Young Group

The A. E. Butters home on North Main street was bright and happy on New Year's Eve when Misses Mildred Butters and Genevieve Beardslee entertained a number of their friends.

Dancing, music and games kept the young people busy and just before the clock struck the close of 1935 they enjoyed a very tasty lunch. The guests included Misses Doris Morgan, Violet Coy, June Dunston, Shirley Douglas, Hilda Barnett and Marion Yost and Messrs. Myron Cole, Alton Secord, Durward Ash, Duane Hursfall, Basil Tucker, Bill Parker, Clark Souby and Lester Spencer.

Mrs. Sam Morgan Is Hostess to Club

Mrs. Sam Morgan entertained her club Thursday at a delightful luncheon. The rest of the afternoon was spent in playing pedro. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. Howard Dean, Mrs. Richard Morgan and Mrs. Irvin Orr.

Next week the club will meet at Mrs. Irvin Orr's home.

Coming Events

Jan. 3rd—Friday—The Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs will meet at the Birmingham Community House at 10:00 a. m. Anyone wishing to make reservation for luncheon should call Miss Ada Scraec or get in touch with Mrs. Wall at the Community House. If you lack transportation call Miss Scraec, she may be able to accommodate a few passengers.

Jan. 4th—Saturday afternoon the Republican Women's Club will meet at 2:00 o'clock with Mrs. Milan Vliet at Ingle-Nook. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Jan. 6th—Monday the Clarkston Literary Club is sponsoring a Detroit News tour. All who intend going will be at the bus station at Roy Addis' store at 11:45 a. m. sharp.

Jan. 6—Monday evening the Joseph C. Bird Chapter of O. E. S. will hold its regular meeting at the Temple. There is special business and all members are urged to be present.

Jan. 8—Wednesday afternoon the Royal Neighbors will meet at the Legion Hall at 1:00 p. m. Officers will be installed and light refreshments will be served.

Jan. 10—Friday evening the Independence Grange will sponsor a dance and card party at the Clarkston Opera House. The ladies of the Grange will serve refreshments. A good time is in store for everyone.

Mrs. H. Newman Is Hostess to Club

The Clarkston Child Study Club met at the home of Mrs. H. Newman Thursday evening, Dec. 19th. During the business meeting plans for the Christmas activities were completed. Dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. F. E. Davies gave a very interesting talk on "Bedtime Routine" and carried on a discussion relative to the talk. Roll call was answered by eleven who gave a practical gift for Xmas. Mrs. Walter Ash was voted in as a member. A large red basket surrounded by Xmas lights held the presents for distribution. Each member drew a number and received a small lovely gift.

Monday afternoon, Dec. 23rd, the members of the Child Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Ed Fuller and filled the sacks which were distributed by Santa at the Xmas tree Monday night. Each sack contained a pencil, gum, popcorn, peanuts and candy. The P. T. A. helped in the purchase of the sacks.

The doll furniture which was raffled was won by Mrs. D. Porritt.

The club wishes to thank Mr. Glen Ellis of Springfield for his donation, the Xmas tree. The club also wishes to express its gratitude to each one who aided in the carrying on of the Xmas project.

The next meeting of the club was held at the home of Mrs. Jack Nicholson on January 2, 1936. Roll call was answered by giving a New Year's Resolution. Mrs. Ed. Fuller gave a talk on "First Teeth Are Priceless".

Miss G. Beardslee Honored Thursday

On Thursday evening Genevieve Beardslee realized she was celebrating another birthday when her mother honored her at a six o'clock dinner with some of her friends. The guests included Shirley Douglas, Mildred Butters, Hilda Barnett, Clark Souby, Duane Hursfall, Durward Ash and Bill Parker.

Music and games furnished a good time for the evening and Genevieve received best wishes from all.

Clarkston Locals

FARMERS' WEEK TO BE HELD FEB. 3-7

Will Attract Thousands by Excellence of the Program

The twenty-first annual Farmers Week at Michigan State College will cause thousands of Michigan farmers and members of their families to mark their calendars for their vacation at East Lansing from February 3 to 7.

The Week is always selected by many farm organizations as the date for their annual meetings, when they decide policies for the next year, review past accomplishments, and elect officers for their group. Some of the groups are concerned with livestock or farm crops, but an increasing number of associations are concerned primarily in the welfare of the folks on the farm and in ways to make farm life more enjoyable.

Homemakers will have a complete program to which they can devote their time or they can attend any of the sectional meetings. The general meetings at which noted speakers will give talks will be held afternoons and evenings. Entertainment programs will be given on two evenings of the week.

The usual grain, potato, and livestock shows will be held, and the horse pulling contest is going to be the best ever, according to the committee in charge of this event. Michigan exhibitors of farm products had some wonderful exhibits on the fair circuit last fall and some of these will be shown at East Lansing. The shows during Farmers Week, however, have always been conducted to interest new men and no grower should withhold exhibits because he thinks the older exhibitors have too much experience in the game.

Crops, livestock, farm management, soils, and other sectional meetings will be held before noon each day and will adjourn so that everyone can attend the general meetings. Banquets and luncheons are scheduled nearly every day, and some days a number occur simultaneously.

NEED NOT SELL FURS, TRAPPERS ARE ADVISED

Michigan trappers are under obligation at no time to sell furs. As long as they have notified the Department of Conservation as to the kind and quantity of pelts in their possession, they may hold such pelts indefinitely in anticipation of better market prices.
 "Many trappers seem to think that they must sell pelts in their possession within five days after the close of the respective trapping seasons," said H. R. Sayre, chief of conservation law enforcement. "That is not true."
 "The law says that within five days after the close of the trapping season, individuals having furs must notify the Department as to the kind and quantity of those furs as of the last day of the season. If that requirement has been complied with, the trapper is free to hold the furs as long as he wishes."

Trips to Isle Royale, with all expenses paid, are prizes awaiting the four Michigan high school pupils who win the "Halt-the-Poacher" poster-slogan contest.

This contest is being conducted by the Federated Garden clubs of Michigan in co-operation with the Department of Conservation and is open to all high school pupils. There are no special entrance requirements. Information concerning the contest can be obtained through local garden clubs or directly from the Department of Conservation at Lansing.

The two boys and two girls who submit the most significant and novel poster-slogans in competition with all other high school pupils entered will win free trips to Isle Royale. These trips will be conducted during the summer. Guides and chaperones will accompany the winners.

In some communities local garden clubs are arranging special local contests among high school pupils, the winners of which will receive prizes sponsored by club members. After being judged, the winning posters will be sent to Lansing to compete for the grand prizes.

The winning slogans will be considered by the Department of Conservation in a campaign to encourage law observance and will be posted along highways in the northern part of the state. The purpose of the contest is to focus state-wide attention on the need for better observance of the Conservation laws.
