COMMENT AND CRITICISM

We are still on the doorstep of a new year. Let us then look ahead to what the year may bring. Let's first look at the great National show that is scheduled for next week (and early in that week). Down east they are going to scorch and badly burn in fact electrocute a man in retribution for a crime. Now all this is perhaps as it should be. But this is going to be done in an up-to-date style. 12 witnesses are needed, so the authorities have picked 12 representatives of the largest national news reporting agencies. Then of course the press is entitled to appear so they have chosen 18 lesser representatives of 18 individual papers. If possible pictures will be taken. It is unfortunate, my friends, but because the officials are afraid of going a little too far, we may not be able to get motion pictures with sound effects. . . wonder how it would sound to hear the dying moan of someone being electrocuted. And sad to relate, we may not hear the proceedings over the radio. Now we do not want to appear pessimistic, but as a common man, it was included in our teachings that big corporations were soulless, and somehow we cannot help but shudder when we think of the electrocutions, hangings and other and perhaps not so numerous ways to legally kill a man that might go on even in spite of a reprieve or perhaps a pardon, especially if some commercial sponsor had invested a few hundred dollars in a radio program or a good sound picture, and the employees, eager for more money and expecting to put on a good show or earn a raise in salary, were disappointed by the perfectly legal and just procedure of law.

Another thing, now history so early in the year, was the President's message to "Congress" . . . not a bad speech . . . in fact a very good one . . . spoken like the editorials of a country weekly . . . didn't say much and didn't make many enemies. Two things stand out in our review of it . . . first, that he did not want war . . . neither do we. Second he said there would be no higher taxes . . . and we can do without those, too. There may be those of us who were a bit disappointed, but what of it. If he tried to please everyone he would have what is called a "Sweet" time. Those of us who have private axes to grind . . . I have got two bits coming on a bonus . . . like the veterans, the Townsendites, the Utilities, Big Business (understand they desire caps when mentioned), those for or against cancellation of war debts to foreign nations and all the other axes that need or think they need grinding may have been a little disappointed but as we said before, what of it or So What!

But let's get back to our own backyard. I wonder if we could not hit the WPA for sufficient money to build a recreation beach on Deer Lake. It could be self-sustaining like the one they have at Oxford and not only afford the citizens of this community a safe place to swim but earn some money for the village.

Personally we should like to see a real, honest-to-goodness homecoming in Clarkston during August. One given by the community as a whole . . . with real invitations to all former residents . . . a good time for everyone without any financial object more than to clear expenses . . . the kind of a time that former residents would come miles to attend and one that they would feel had justified the time spent attending . . . a picnic every day . . . a program consisting of events in the earlier history of Clarkston before the former residents had left town for the big city. Hows about it?

Jumping over the back fence again for a moment—if you doubt or do not like my calling the Electro-cution of Hauptmann a National show, just name one of the other seven Mr. Elliott will legally put to death the first three days of next week.

The Kansas broomcorn yield of 1935 was more than 53,000 tons, the largest harvest since 1932.

Death Takes

Evart H. Reid

Burial Was in Pontiac on Wednesday

Evart Howard Reid, 41 years old, passed away at his home in Iron Mountain last Saturday. Mr. Reid had been ill just one week with pneumonia.
Mr. Reid was born May 29, 1894, the son of Julian H. and Eva Hergen Reid of Waterford, who survive him. He graduated from the Pontiac High School in 1913 and was a member of the First Congregational Church and of the Masonic order. On August 11, 1920 he married Miss Elma Stewart of Clarkston who also survives him.
He lived in Oakland County up until three months ago when he moved from Drayton Woods to Iron Mountain as a deputy purchasing agent for the federal government. Mr. Reid was well known and had a large circle of friends in this community. He had served as secretary of the Pontiac Board of Commerce, resigning that position to enter military services during the world war. Later he was purchasing agent for Pontiac and more recently was associated with J. L. VanWagoner in the insurance business.
The body was brought from Iron Mountain to the VanWagoner residence in Pontiac on Monday where funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Dr. W. H. Marbach of the First Presbyterian Church officiated. Burial was in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.
Besides his wife and his parents he leaves two sons, Robert Evart, 10, and James Stewart, 5, and four sisters, Mrs. Carrie Compton and Mrs. Winifred VanWagoner of Pontiac, Mrs. Grace Clark of Lansing and Mrs. Lulu Legge of Waterford.

Keith Douglas Weds Detroit Girl

The Ceremony Took Place in Dearborn on New Year's Day

Miss Orion Mona Crippen, daughter of Mrs. Alexander William Crippen of Detroit, and James Keith Douglas, son of Mrs. Jean Douglas of Clarkston, were married at a quiet ceremony on Wednesday, January 1st.
The service was read at four o'clock in the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reimer of 5815 Miller Rd., Dearborn, Mich., and was witnessed by a small group of immediate relatives and Manley Walker of Clarkston who was a friend of both the bride and the groom.
The ceremony took place in front of a large bay window in the living room which was decorated with all the gay trimmings that bespoke the spirit of the holidays.
The bride was lovely in a blue gown with matching accessories and carried a bridal bouquet of gardenias and Baby's Breath. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Herbert Reimer.
Mr. Douglas was assisted by his cousin, Mr. Gordon Patterson of Detroit.
A small reception followed the ceremony.
Mr. Douglas was formerly of Clarkston and was well known here having attended the local schools.
Mr. and Mrs. Douglas will reside in Detroit.

Literary Club Sponsors Detroit News Tour

Visits WWJ and Meets Entertainers

Although Monday was a stormy day thirty women from Clarkston and one from Waterford enjoyed a bus trip to Detroit to take the Detroit News Tour sponsored by the Clarkston Literary Club.
The bus left Clarkston at 11:45 and on account of the heavy snowfall driving was hazardous and the driver had to be very careful and so took plenty of time going down. Before going very far the windshield wiper refused to work and so a change of bus was necessary at Birmingham. To the surprise of the passengers, when the bus stopped for the red light at the seven mile road the door opened and in stepped a dapper policeman togged in a brand new great coat and cap. Was his face red when thirty-one women began making snappy remarks. However the passengers felt quite safe with a police escort from North Detroit to the Highland Park limits where he left the car after informing the driver that the Detroit News was at the corner of Cass and Fort. After going for some distance down Cass Ave., the driver felt that something was wrong and inquired of one of the passengers the exact location of the Detroit News and he was informed that the News office was between Second and Third with the Entrance on Lafayette, unless it had moved in the last three years. At twenty minutes to two the group arrived at the News and hurried in to be greeted by Sally Woodward who was hostess for the afternoon. She directed them to the check room and then had them assemble in the lobby with several other parties from other towns. Mrs. A. E. Butters, who had gone to Detroit earlier in the day met the Club in the lobby.
The crowd was then divided into several smaller groups and started on their tour, each group with a guide who made explanations before entering each department.
The Art and Photo departments were the first in line and everyone enjoyed seeing the beautiful photos and enlargements that hung on the walls and the complete photographer's equipment. The artists were seated at their drawing boards and some were busy sketching. Then the party moved on from hall to hall, getting a glimpse into the hospital which is fully equipped, even for a major operation. A graduate nurse is in attendance throughout the day and a staff of physicians is on call and renders service to the employees without charge. Another place of interest was the employees' restaurant which is operated at cost; this was especially interesting to the Clarkston women who had had an early lunch. Then the want ad switchboard room where 60 want ad takers, 4 censors and 3 supervisors are employed was well worth seeing. The telephone receiving boards are said to be the largest of their kind in the world. After visiting the file room and reference library which is the most beautiful room in the building the group moved on into the composing room and stereotyping department. In this room could be seen the linotype machines being operated, a group of men working on the display ads and then the pages being made up in the chases and passed along to the department where large mats were made of the entire page and cylindrical casts made from the mats. Then two of these half cylinder casts were locked on a cylinder press. These presses turn out about 45,000 papers per hour each. However on going to the main press room they found they were a little late for the home edition and too early for the night edition and all presses were at a standstill. From the press room all guests were taken to studio A in the broadcasting department. Here they were again greeted by Sally Woodward who explained that Studio A was the largest of their studios. WWJ was the first station to broadcast a regular daily program which started in August, 1920. She explained about the tone-mixing panels in the room, the microphones, the Opera House. The ladies of the Grange will serve refreshments. A control room and the transmitters good time is in store for everyone.
Jan. 14th—Tuesday the Clarkston Literary Club will meet with Mrs. Ed. Miller.

The Williams Lake and Dixie groups of the Ladies' Auxiliary with their leader Mrs. Howard Mortimore have planned a White Elephant party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Terry, to-night, Friday, Jan. 10th.

Secure your ticket from one of the members. Everybody is invited.

H. B. Mehlberg, superintendent of the Sunday School, has named the nominating committee to arrange for election of officers for the year. The members are Mrs. H. F. Buck, Mrs. H. T. Burt and Mrs. Lyman Girst. The election will take place next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Terry got quite a surprise on Monday evening when they returned to their home after a few hours absence they found about thirty-seven friends waiting to greet them. The Terrys are moving to Pontiac this week and will be at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Parish while they are on a southern trip. The evening was pleasantly spent playing games which kept everybody busy. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. The Ladies' Auxiliary presented them with a token of remembrance and in this tangible way said "You will be missed greatly". The Terrys have been active in several organizations and have made a wide circle of friends and will be missed by the whole community.

The Enduring Ingredient

EVEN the stoutest cedar pole must at length succumb to weather and wear. New methods surpass—and replace—the old. Equipment disappears as progress renders it obsolete.

There is, however, one factor in your telephone service that never alters; one important ingredient that survives all the effects of the passing years—and this is the factor of policy.

The policy of this Company is to supply Michigan with the best and most economical telephone service that human effort and sincerity can provide. To accomplish this purpose, there has been a long series of changes—unending changes—that grew out of American inventive genius as applied to the art of telephonic communication.

A noteworthy example of this is seen in the evolution of the cable. Year by year a greater number of wires—each an avenue of speech—has been successfully packed into a smaller circumference. This, with many other improvements, has steadily widened the use of cable. Utilized at first only to link subscribers' telephones with central offices, storm-resistant cable is now used in toll circuits connecting cities, and in a large percentage of all present-day circuits.

This progressive change was not haphazard. It grew out of a policy which itself does not change. That is why telephone service in the State of Michigan is better today than it was yesterday. And that is why it will improve for tomorrow.

Blue and White Flash

Clarkston School News

(Concluded from page one) can tell you the reason—it's all very simple. You see the paper was minus the Blue and White Flash Column for the long period of two weeks. Consequently the students didn't rush the news office for copies (the vain creatures—they just love to see their name in print!) We are surely—but slowly, dropping back into the steady pace of school work again. A few of us, however, are still a bit hazy and are slow at concentrating. Monday morning—scene: School rooms of C. H. S. Chief Characteristics: bothersome students—fretful teachers. Notes flash rapidly back and forth across desks, under tables! "Did you see that All Star Revue shown at the Oakland last week—Aren't ya crazy about that new song—hit, 'The Music goes Round and Round'?"—Say—what did Santa bring you? I got—Didn't we have fun at that Sleighing party—Gee, that's a new dress, isn't it?—Am I ever tired—got in at—!!! Report Cards came out this Tuesday with many Ohs and Ahs. Did you notice—Dupee's new red-checked hunting pants. Doris M. sporting a shiny new watch. Hammy looking very Collegiate in new tuckett trousers. Betty Ann Comstock carrying out the new fad of "smock-wearing". Evey Walz' red skirt. Epworth League Party Saturday nite: All—out!!! Walthena Winchell More News We wonder if Mildred's party will develop into anything serious for Basil and Marion. How about letting us have the low down Marion? Jerome M. must have been out the night before as he fell asleep in session room. And I really think he needed sleep!! The way it sounded. Hilda was absent from school Monday. Were you really sick Hilda or just out too many nites in a row? Shirley's college hero came home for Christmas vacation, and did she go places!! I bet he's missed now isn't he Shirley? June and Herb have been seen together quite often lately. Is this another romance? Betty Oh, received a nice box of candy for Xmas. Now Runt don't blush. Angie seems to have a new boyfriend? We won't tell on her though. By Jove Stuff and Stuff It seems Shirley and Clark aren't that a-way anymore. The Jr's didn't have that party they did so much crowing about. Where was Jo Caswell during vacation? Don H. isn't living up to the O. F. E. morals. Neither is Herb Molter. What Jr. new here this year, received what veteran senior's picture for Xmas? Dupee has some new pants that really speak out. They are red and black. He should wear his orange sweater with them. Betty W. seemed to have sat down rather suddenly on the sidewalks of Clarkston, Monday A. M. The Latin class, (of girls), may have learned how to say "My Man", but they sure are having trouble with conventional Latin. The Shorthand class can't seem to speak that very plain yet, either. Stan: P. finally built his weather tower. It is an immense structure, made of wood, (instead of steel), with a flag on top of it. By the way, Stan, had better not be quite so friendly with the girls. This is "Leap Year". Tucker's new sweater sure is a "honey". Art Clark is a "deep thinker". He thought for eight minutes straight, in O'dell's drug store, without moving. Tucker made a rapid change from conventional clothes to breeches and high tops, the other noon, because it started snowing. I wonder if he had time to eat any lunch. Jo Watt Mrs. Beardslee's Room Pupils neither tardy nor absent during month of December: Bobby Clark, Joel Beckman, Marilyn Jean Molter, Junior Ross, Eldon Rouse, Billy Radovey, Margaret Slief, Alvin Beardslee, Bobby Brown, Margaret Gundry, Robert Hubbard, Billy O'Roark, Edward Ross, Richard Shaughnessy, Betty Kennedy. We were pleased to receive a card from Mazy Wompole mailed at Tucson, Arizona. The boys and girls of this room pleasantly surprised their teacher with a birthday luncheon and gifts on Wednesday. Everyone had a happy time. Mrs. Rockwell's Room Children neither tardy nor absent in December were: Jack Craven, Helen Denton, Mary Drake, Billy Howland, Jerry Howser, Donald Perrin, Henry Ronk, Phyllis Tremper, Roberta Weichert, Basil Ash, Joan Fuller, Norman Johnson, Joyce Lawson, Frances Molter, Jimmy Rowland, Shirley Terry, Marjorie Vliet, James Waterbury, Harold Nicholson, Jack Nicholson, and Audrey Weichert.

collect all the bundles of paper and magazines. The members are asked to have these ready and tied up. A Major Bowes' Amateur Night was then decided upon. This will take place on Thursday evening, Jan. 30th. The men of the class, Miss LaForge and Mrs. Stamp were appointed as the committee in charge with James Bennett as chairman. Mrs. Ronk then named the hostesses for the next meeting and the meeting adjourned. Clarkston Locals Mrs. Durand Ogden attended a class reunion at the Wardell in Detroit on Thursday. Mrs. Oliver Gardner and daughter, Miss Adele Gardner have returned to Ann Arbor. Miss Elizabeth Belitz of Detroit spent last week end at her home here. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Walter of Pontiac were guests at the Earl Walter home last Sunday. Rev. C. E. Edwards was in Pontiac Monday and Tuesday on legal business for the church. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mann, an 8 lb boy, George Burton, on Jan. 5th at the Mary Green Hospital. Fred Myerhauf and William Clark returned this week from the north. They have spent many weeks in their trailer in the northern part of the state. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Morris and family of Detroit and Miss Florence Morris of Rodney, Ont., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Durand Ogden last Sunday. Last Friday evening the cabinet of the Epworth League met at the home of Duane Hursfall. The young people started to make plans for a February event. Dainty refreshments were served. The Adult Bible class of the Methodist church held a pancake and farm sausage supper last Friday evening. It was well attended and enjoyed by all, though it is said the baking soda remedy was called into action in several cases before morning. The old barber shop next door to the bank has been sold to Ed. Krist who is moving it away. The building has long been a fire menace and its passing will not only reduce the insurance rates paid by the bank, but add considerably to the appearance of the immediate neighborhood. Misses Frances Felschaw and Florence Chamberlain and Bruce Chamberlain and R. D. Kelley attended "The Crusades" at the Fisher Theatre in Detroit on Sunday afternoon. In the evening they witnessed the hockey game between the Red Wings and the Canadiens at the Olympia. Clarkston News ads bring results.

Remember Your Home Newspaper All matters handled thru the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper. Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it. We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper week by week. The Clarkston News
