CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1936

COMMENT AND CRITICISM

Friday the 14th, Valentine's day! Now, if ever, is a good time to remind everyone that this is leap year. Of course I could be "like that" and say that every year is, but the men do not know it . . . but that would not be nice and probably not entirely truthful. So girls with this reminder let's just drop the whole subject.

Somehow winter does not arrive until the wreckers start digging out cars that have stalled in the snow . . . and we remark that winter is here. There were three cars stalled in one block just south of Clarkston Tuesday evening . . . knowing, the roads hereabouts . . . the rest is just a matter of arithmetic to see how many cars are stalled in the community.

The weatherman estimates that this is the coldest year in 19 years. Personally we know it was 11 below at eleven Sunday a. m. . . and if it was any warmer during the rest of the day, it must have been down in Florida. All of which reminds me of a card from George D. Walter from Eustis, Fla., who remarks: "I receive the paper and am glad to get the news from the home town. I was lucky to escape the cold winter you are having. This is a nice town, back in the center of the state . . . a higher elevation and we do not get the salt air we would at the coast. There is a nice park on Eustis Lake and lots of amusements. Best wishes to all."

Now that the Townsend plan is bogged down with cold weather and investigations as to the amount Dr. Townsend is receiving for his brain child, it seems to be a good time to start pushing the new idea that is being planned to enlarge the operations of getting something for nothing. This plan calls for the Government to establish a $20,000 trust fund for each youngster so that on reaching maturity he or she can retire and live on the interest of the fund. Of course it is foolish but if the older generation is going to saddle unborn generations with a public debt to care for them, why not give the unborn generation a chance.

We will be back next week and in the meantime just keep shoveling . . . either trying to get the car out of the snow . . . the snow off the walk . . . or coal in the furnace.

For Homemakers

Dressing, for a child under school age, may be either a pleasant experience or a disagreeable task, depending on the attitude of the parent, say some economics experts at Michigan State college.

Children even three years old will enjoy washing if they have their own small wash racks, their own cloth and towel, and a box or stool on which to stand while washing. Likewise, they will enjoy undressing and dressing if they have their own hanger for their clothes, and are taught to lay their clothing out in proper order.

A three-year old must not, however, be expected to carry through the entire process of dressing. It is enough that, encouraged by the parent, he attempts to remove simple garments, and to discover the proper order of putting on clothing. Even if the youngster does appear slow and awkward, he must be allowed sufficient time to do these things for himself.

A shoe that does not go on easily, although a mere tug to the parent, is a problem to a struggling three-year old, and no child should be faced with the problem of a hard knot or tying a bow knot until he is five or six. Furthermore, if clothing is in good repair and fits, the child will find undressing and dressing a much pleasanter experience than if he has to struggle with buttons that are too large for the button holes, or with safety pins where buttons should be.

It is not asking too much of a child to look to him to take his clothing from the lower drawers in chests, although the selection of the day's garments is too much to expect.

Finally, as the child gains proficiency in undressing and dressing a race with daddy or mother will help to speed up the process, but winning the race should not overshadow thoroughness in washing, brushing the teeth, or brushing the hair. Neatness, as well as speed, should be the goal.

Large Crowd Hears Dr. Josephine Schain

The Local Literary Club Is Represented

Last Friday 400 women gathered at the Birmingham Community House to hear Dr. Josephine Schain of Washington who spoke on the cause and cure of war. Dr. Schain appeared under the auspices of the international relations committee of the Oakland County Federation of Women's clubs, the American Association of University Women, the League of Women Voters, the Girl Scouts and the Birmingham Women's Club.

A program was presented in the morning with a luncheon at noon and Dr. Schain's address in the afternoon.

"The most hopeful thing in this world of confusion is the growing public opinion in favor of cooperation for world peace," said Dr. Schain. "We must work to overcome war in comparison to the measure we dread it. In a democracy this is a double responsibility. American women with all of their privileges have a challenge to take leadership in this movement."

Dr. Schain was a very clever talker and gave the women many things to think about. Those from Clarkston who attended were Miss Ada Scraze, Mrs. Ray Clark, Mrs. Rose Teggerdine and Mrs. C. H. Soulbey.

Birthdays Celebrated Wednesday Evening

On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Durand-Ogden entertained Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Huey and son Bob of Ann Arbor. The occasion was to celebrate Mrs. Huey's and Mrs. Ogden's birthdays.

At six thirty a very delicious dinner was served. On account of celebrating Lincoln's birthday too, the dining table was pretty with a centerpiece of American flags and red, white and blue decorations. In the living room was a large bouquet of snapdragons. The evening was spent visiting.

HOLLY THEATRE

Truly magnificent in its spectacular sweep, yet absorbing in its delightful intimacy, "A Tale of Two Cities", starring Ronald Colman, opens a limited engagement starting Sunday at the Holly Theatre.

It takes its place among the immortal works of the screen, entertainment which cannot be praised too highly. It is a photoplay that no man, woman or child can afford to miss.

Ronald Colman's fans will find him at his best. He never has had a role which gave him such opportunity for the quiet-humor, the high drama and the poignancy he expresses so well. As Sydney Carton, whimsical, sardonic, brilliant waster, he reaches the peak of his artistic career.

The story of "A Tale of Two Cities" is intimately known to millions of readers. It tells of the joys and sorrows, the adventures and the trials of a little group of people, English and French, who are caught in the maelstrom of the French Revolution of 1789. Specifically, it tells of the strange love of Carton and Lucie Manette, played by Elizabeth Allan—a love that was doomed to frustration in life, yet which transcends death in its sublime majesty.

With the star is a cast of 112 stars and featured players, most of them world favorites. Among these, outstanding performances are contributed by Miss Allan, Edna May Oliver, Reginald Owen, Basil Rathbone, Blanche Yurka, Henry B. Walthall, Donald Woods, Walter Catlett, Fritz Leiber, H. B. Warner, Mitchell Lewis, Claude Gillingwater, Billy Bevan, Isabel Jewell, Lucille Laverne and Tully Marshall.

Clarkston Man Was On Winning Team

An Oakland County team composed of O. F. Foster of Clarkston, Sidney Smith of Lake Orion and Ward Carey of Rochester won first place in a livestock judging competition at Michigan State College, during the annual Farmers' Week events.

Sixteen counties were represented by teams and the men judged 15 rings of animals, including beef cattle, dairy cattle, draft horses, hogs and sheep.

Each team member received a ribbon award and each team was presented with a plaque which will be hung in the county agricultural agent's office. The awards were made last Thursday night.

Those in charge had the tables daintily arranged with favors and table napkins appropriate for St. Valentine's day. There was an abundance of food and everyone ate a hearty meal.

After dinner a business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Irving-Ronk presiding. The committee in charge of collecting the waste paper and magazines explained that the collection had not been made on account of the weather conditions and the huge snow drifts and they decided to collect at a later date.

APPLICANTS MAKE MISTAKES GALORE

Owners of Autos Err Often in Making Out Plate Blanks

Current figures of the Department of State show that practically every fifth application for 1936 automobile license plates contain an error of some sort.

This condition is not the fault of the managers of the branch offices of the Department of State nor of their clerks. Each application is carefully checked but when "rush" days occur there is not sufficient time for a detailed check of each application submitted, with the result that sometimes errors pass unnoticed. A recent typical "rush" day showed that a total of 33,239 applications for plates and half-year permits or "stickers" was forwarded to the state capital from branch offices, and that about 1,000 had to be segregated for further checking.

A former Secretary of State once estimated that the errors made by taxpayers cost the state about $50,000 annually because of the necessity for involved investigation and other similar activities. Naturally, the errors made by motorists in making out their license applications would make up a large portion of this.

People who write their "signatures" rather than their names cause grief; others, in writing long serial or engine numbers on opposite portions of an application, will become confused. Others fail to furnish necessary information. In the meantime, of course, they have their plates and the state has the application which must be held up for study and investigation. These errors also cause delay in the return of titles to the applicants.

Seymour Lake

Gordon Kelly escaped serious injuries last Tuesday when he attempted to fix the gas line in his car with a lighted lantern. The gas ignited and burned the inside and top of the car badly but Gordon got out of the car, only receiving minor burns.

Mr. and Mrs. George Willobee and sons, Marvin and Russell, visited at the Fred Vertels' on Sunday.

Fred and Robert Beardslee attended the horse sale at Lansing on Saturday. George Miller returned with them and spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Iva Miller.

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Walton Kishpaugh entertained a group of friends at a one o'clock dinner, the occasion being their 28th wedding anniversary. The guests were former members of the Seymour Lake choir.

Miss Kate Beardslee has returned to her home after spending a month with her mother, Mrs. Josephine Beardslee, in Pontiac.

LEAGUE STANDINGS

As we go to press the standing in the Southwestern Oakland County League is not complete. However the local teams are out of the picture along with several others as Walled Lake boys won again this time from Milford by a 20 to 12 score, and practically clinched the league title. The Milford girls remain unbeaten adding Clarkston's scalp Friday nite. The complete league standing will be published at the end of the season.

"FIRE"

School was quiet during noon hour on Thursday as word came that Fricks' house was on fire. The children large and small rushed to the fire only to come hurrying back for coats and hats, as the day was cold and clear.

The high school boys rendered service carrying water, and assisting the voluntary firemen. Several of the boys including Durward Ash gave valuable service in aiding the firemen through the whole fire. As the tardy bell rang, breathless students came rushing to classes, and shortly normality was restored.

Girls' Game

The C. H. S. Girls were defeated at Milford Friday night 24 to 6. Although they lost they played a good game. Ruggles, Milford's left forward, accounted for 17 of their 24 points. Her one hand shot seemed almost impossible to stop. Lowrie sank two field goals and two foul shots for Clarkston for a total of six points. The Girls have been practicing hard this week with hopes that the results will break their losing streak which has been confined to the last three games.

This week the game is with Brighton here. Our Girls won from them earlier in the season by a 30 to 5 score.

ATHLETIC NEWS

The jinx on the local high school Basketball team rode high again Friday night as Milford high won three games from Clarkston.

The Milford reserves outscored the boys 19-11. The last quarter was fast for a reserve game, and both teams showed improvement over the kind of ball played in the earlier contest which Milford reserves won 26-8.

The boys' varsity game was a close game all the way with very little scoring on either side during the 1st quarter which ended 5-3 in Milford's favor. In the second quarter Milford extended their lead to a 10-5 count. With the opening of the 2nd half Mann, Molter and Parker reentered the game after being pulled in the 2nd quarter because of fouls.

With the 3rd quarter well underway Clarkston cut Milford's lead to a 14-12 score, and it looked as though the local lads might pull the game out of the fire. However as the quarter ended, Milford sank a bucket to finish the quarter with a 16-12 lead.

The fourth quarter was even for a time, but Parker was forced from the game on fouls and Mann was pulled after Milford had sank 3 baskets in a row while Clarkston could only sink one, and Milford went on to win 27-16.

The basket shooting of the regulars showed improvement with a much bigger percentage of the attempts scoring, but Milford's tight defense gave very few set up shots at the basket.

Sam Houston's "Man" Gets a Job

"Uncle Ro" Adams, once body servant to Gen. Sam Houston, will be 100 years old, March 2, 1936, the day Texas, where Gen. Houston ever will be a historic figure, celebrates its one hundredth year of independence from Mexico. "Uncle Ro" is shown above as William A. Webb, manager of the Texas Centennial Exposition, which opens at Dallas June 6, assures him he will have an Exposition job.

A HEROIC TRADITION UPHELD—St. Paul, Minn., Star
A telephone operator at St. James, Minn., has pluckily upheld a noble tradition—the tradition, namely, that there is always a plucky telephone operator to save communities in times of catastrophe.
Disregarding flames that were sweeping through the telephone building, Grace Cook stuck to her post, sent calls for help to neighboring towns and was responsible for saving from complete destruction the business district of St. James.
This kind of unpremeditated and spontaneous heroism is worth a thousand hair-raising stunts by which synthetic heroes draw attention to themselves. It is that rare kind of bravery which obliterates all thought of personal safety in the sole desire to bring succor to others who may be in danger.
If there are any extra medals not in use, Grace Cook ought to have one, and a grateful community doubtless will see to it that she does have one. But no medal of precious metal can adequately acknowledge or honor the selfless courage of a woman who defied a horrible death to save her town and her neighbors. Some services are unpayable in material terms. Here is one.
