COMMENT AND CRITICISM

Wahoo! Just yelling a yell as the first section of the 1936 elections passed . . . the village election. For once every candidate was satisfied . . . there was only one ticket.

Tomorrow . . . ah, that is another thing . . the Township Caucus. Feeling that you should have the latest news, after dusk, one night this week, we parked the car; pulled our hat down over one eye as a sort of down the Village streets . . . you know . . . gum-shoe work. And believest thou, this humble prophet, the township election is going to be a colorful affair. Little groups of democrats and republicans were quietly conversing and discussing survive. chances . . so eagerly interested, in fact that I was only identified by one lad who wanted to know what I was doing out after dark.

The pheasants are now partaking f the hospitality provided by Alex Solley. It is a real pleasure to watch them strut around in the tall grass, apparently not afraid of a thing in the world and still maintaining a watch that I believe sees a curtain drawn about fifty feet away.

If it must be done, Seeterlin Bros. are willing to do the thing themselves. Certainly they deserve thanks for their work on Church Street up to the M. E. Church from M-15.

Another one who likes to depend on himself is Edw. D. Whipple. He has converted a truck into a chemical fire department, secured a few chemical tanks, enlisted a few volunteers and believes he has a service which will prove itself when another fire occurs-we hope never.

If Senator Borah desires to clear out the old guard, he might pass the Townsend Plan and pension them out of the way.

Election Held Last Monday

What was probably a surprise to many was the fact that at the Village election of Monday, altho only one ticket was in the field, 51 ballots

Those elected were Floyd Andrews, President; Percy Craven, Clerk; Tom L. Parker, Treasurer; Roy Gundry, Frank Leonard and Irving H. Ronk Trustees; and L. J. Chamberlain, Assessor.

HOLLY THEATRE

Director Howard Hawks, avowed opponent of "typing," established several precedents in the casting of "Ceiling Zero," the Cosmopolitan production to be shown at the Holly Theatre, March 15, 16.

James Cagney, who usually gets fade out, loses out this time in his role of an aviator who rides to his death.

Pat O'Brien's roles usually make him a disappointed lover. This time he corrals all the sympathetic honors, including one of Jimmy's girls.

Stuart Erwin, noted as a portrayer of rural comic types, is a tragic character as a lost aviator begging the ground crew to "talk him down. June Travis plays a somewhat flighty heroine. Isabel Jewell, heretofore connected mostly with gum-chewing steno-graphic parts, is a bereaved wife in several tragical scenes. Barton MacLane is a minion of the

which he has become identified. -Gary Owen plays a somewhat demented character for the first time in his career. Craig Reynolds, erstwhile lover of the stage and screen, is a high-powered aviation inspector. James Bush, who, a few years ago was billed as the youngest leading man in the West, turns to character as the dramatic radio operator. Mathilda Comont, French born, etress as Mama Gini. All interepret the leading parts in stressing particulary the romance be-program. tween fliers and aviation hostesses, and the new and scientific methods of preventing air accidents.

After graduating from the Clarkston High School, Mr. Walter passed the teacher's examination and for two years taught at Redford. The next two years he taught in the Waterford School. Following this he was a partner in the implement business of Hill and Walter who operated where the restaurant now stands. This partnership continued for about five years when the partnership was dissolved and he entered the trucking business. This was supplemented by farming the Walter farm owned by his mother.

It was Mr. Walter's pleasure to have served his church and school for seventeen years. He acted as Superintendent of the Sunday School most of the time although finding time to also act as Treasurer for about five years. Most of his tenure of office on the School Board he acted as Secretary. While a member of the the wonderful and beautiful school building in this community

For Homemakers

Michigan State College extension workers in dairy and home economics are cooperating in a project to enlarge the varitey of foods for farm families.

Jewell M. Jensen, extension dairyman, and Helen Strow, extension nutrition specialist, are holding a series of demonstrations in eight Michigan counties to emphasize ways of utilizing the pop corn type of cottage Women leaders in each cheese. county will take the results back to nome communities and neighbors.

"The purpose of our cottage cheese demonstrations is to provide better living for farm families, utilize more home produced food products and to enlarge the variety of food for farm families." Mr. Jensen says.

"In order to meet a growing demand for utilization of by-products on the farm, we have planned these chief values found are a concentration of the milk proteins which are excellent muscle builders and the milk minerals which are so indispensable to good health."

Demonstrations already have been scheduled in Emmet, Charlevoix, Muskegon, Ingham, Livingston, Saginaw, Washtenaw and Lenawee coun-

Steps in the manufacture of the pop corn type of cottage cheese follow:

Step 1-For cottage cheese makng, prepare a starter at least 24 houre before the skim milk is to be set. To make the starter, set a mason jar full of sweet fresh milk, cooled to 72 degrees temperature and hold at this temperature until sour. Skim off the cream. The re- ford on account of so many good maining sour or curded skim milk is the starter.

Step 2-Temper skim milk in double boiler to 72-74 degrees Fah renheit. Stir in one pint of good clean starter for each 2 gallons of skim milk. As high as a quart for each two gallons may be used safely and will bring quick results.

Step 3-Cut the curd into onehalf inch cubes, using the back side of a long heavy knife or the prongs of a heavy fork;

Step 4—Heat the water slowly in the pan. It should take about 25-30 minutes to raise temperature from 72 to 115-120 degrees;

Step 5-Stir curd carefully during the first part of cooking period. Do no more at this time than pull the curd away from the side of the pan so that all of it cooks evenly:

Step 6-As the curd firms, more rapid agitation can be used, although the curd should not be beaten into fine bits. The temperature of the whey in the making of this type of E. S., at 7:30 for initiation. heese should not be raised above 120 degrees;

NEW STATE HIGHWAY HAS CLARKSTON ON ROUTE

An organization called "Hill and Dale Highway club" is sponsoring the creation of public opinion which is hoped will lead to the building of a State Highway from St. Clair to Lansing. It would, according to present plans, follow a line running through Richmond, Romeo, Lake chased." Orion, Oxford, Clarkston and Holly presumably making an intersection with M-78 near Morrice. It would furnish a direct route to many motorists who now have either to go north or south to reach a State Highway running into Lansing. Committees are being named in the several communities listed above, and a number of Clarkston persons received notification this week that they have been appointed to act on such a committee. They are asked to meet elect a chairman and a secretary and add others to the committee membership who would boost the project. A joint meeting of the committees will be held at Oxford on Wednesday, March 18, at 8:15 p. m in the high school.

State College Issues Timely Advice and Warning

Hatchery men report greatly increased demand for baby chicks, according to Prof. C. G. Card of the poultry husbandry department, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Good prices for eggs this winter nave increased demand for chicks to such an extent that some hatcheries are having difficulty obtaining sufficient eggs. Decreased production on the average farm because of the cold weather is held partly responsible for hatchery diiffculties, according to Karl D. Bailey, County Agricultural Agent. "Some hatcheries have had difficulty getting sufficient eggs but that will straighten out with the warm weather," says Professor Card. "More farmers are buying chicks from hatcheries this year than for the last six years if we can judge by reports. More than 71% of the chicks raised this year will be bought from hatcheries."

"Hatcheries can produce better quality chicks because they usually purchase good males, properly select eggs and incubate properly. The importance of this egg breeding factory cannot be over-emphasized. Profit or loss depends almost entirely upon the egg breeding of the chicks pur-

Professor Card advises farmers to rive serious attention now to proper nealth conditions and feeding of the oung chicks. Sanitary conditions, ocation on clean ranges, good feeding rations, separation of sexes at an early age, and disposal of cockerels and broilers are very important, he states.

The ration for young chicks recommended by the college includes: 5 pounds alfalfa leaf meal, 2 pounds steamed bonemeal, 1 pound salt, 1 ound cod liver oil.

HILLTOPPER

In Memory of Earl Walter

Our thoughts dwell with a friend today, A friend whose work has all been done, Whose life's complete in a few short years Because of a great race run.

God sent him to this world of men, A friend to all mankind; To render service as he went; To help the weak; to all, be kind.

His gentles jovial attitude Cheered all whom he had met. His influence led them on to God, To keep the faith in Him above,

To him we owe a debt sincere For works that he has done; Through hardships, struggles, sorrow, strife, He labored on and on and on.

One field in which he labored hard Was education of our youth. Through his great interest, efforts too, Both lad and lass are wiser far.

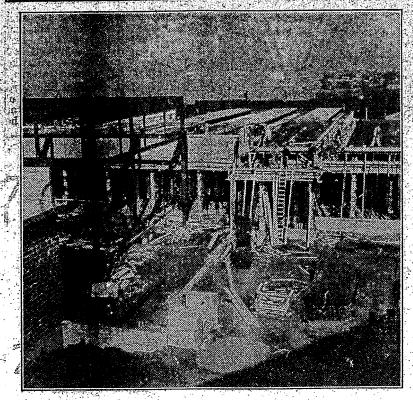

His work for schools is not surpassed.
This truth we all avow—
That never will his equal be,
Nor can his place be filled.

We miss him more than tongue can tell. Yet he is with us still, For life is richer, fuller far Because of him of whom we write

His work's complete; his rest, well earned; His suffering's at an end; For God has called him Home to Him In Heaven to await his friends.

-G. N. Durand.

HAVE MORE ROOM BECAUSE THE FORD V-8 ENGINE TAKES LESS ROOM

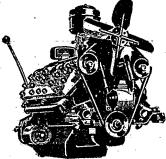

THE compact design of the Ford V-8 engine allows more of the car's length to be used for passenger room. This is just one way in which this engine from the luxury-car class adds to your comfort as a driver and to the comfort of your passengers in the new Ford.

For years the finest cars have been distinguished by a V-type engine. Ford brought this type of engine within the reach of the average motorist. The next great forward step was to make every feature of the Ford car measure up to the quality of the V-8 engine.

You can see the interesting results in the new Ford V-8 for 1936. Comfort, beauty, driving ease and safety—all are in keeping with its V-8 engine quality.
