

Veterans Receive Bonus on First Mail Tuesday Morning

COMMENT AND CRITICISM

"For three long years"—
—tune of three Blind Mice.
"For twelve long years"—same tune.
"Cashed 'em yet?"—one veteran to another.
"The past is prologue."—President Roosevelt.

Notice how the vote gatherers consider the bonus as something different than the regular debt. Stepping on the toes of 3,000,000 soldiers would be bad.

Is the office calling Gov. Landon? Notice how he explained his ideas on the platform before his name was placed in nomination.

Is our county clerk so confident of re-election that he does not need local papers? Petitions are being placed without the customary visit to the editor. We wonder why?

Some of the blood used in signing black legion oaths must have come from anemic people.

Considering the number of veterans known to mail men it seems a bit unfair to say that only jail-birds and those enroute need no identifications to receive their bonus.

Next week's democratic convention will counter-charge the republican charges—with interest.

Question: Shall I attend a political banquet or stay home and listen to the fight?

Andersonville

Fire Extinguishers Should Be Registered with Department

Jeff Hubbell, the head of our fire department has requested the owners of fire extinguishers or those who have village apparatus to call Irving Ronk and have them called for to be refilled and returned. Many have not been filled for some time and would be worthless in time of need.

It has also been thought wise to know where the apparatus is so that the fire fighters can call, should need arise, and use them.

This is for your benefit and should be taken care of at once.

CRANBERRY BEAN PROFITABLE CROP

Michigan Farmers Are Largely Increasing Acreage

Farmers in the cranberry bean growing industry in Michigan have taken away much of the market that once belonged to California, principally because this state is closer to centers of consumption. So that in 1936 Michigan bean growers are safe in planting the equal or perhaps some increase in cranberry beans over 1935 acreages, according to Professor H. C. Rather of the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

The cranberry bean has a mottled skin which appeals to consumers, especially to families in the eastern mining and southern industrial sections. Supplies grown in Michigan in 1935 are all sold at prices that were around $4 for a hundred pound bag in October and wound up early in June at $2.75. Marketing earlier, Rather points out, seems to have its advantages.

"In many sections the cranberry bean yields as well or better in Michigan than the white navy or pea bean," says Professor Rather. "Farmers in the state are warranted to plant as many or a little more than they put in in 1935 of this type for the prospective market for the cranberry bean is as good or a little better than for the white bean."

"Crop figures indicate that the cranberry bean in 1935 was a crop worth more than three fourths of a million dollars in this state. There were 259,000 bags harvested in 1935 as compared with 108,000 bags in 1934. Although approximately 40,000 acres were grown last year, it is safe to estimate the market will take the crop from 50 to 60 thousand acres of cranberry beans from Michigan farms this year."

Long Awaited Payment of Bonus Finds Veterans On Hand to Receive Their Bonds and Checks

Local Post Mistress Has Rush of Business in Assisting the Immediate Transfer of Bonds into Cash

The long awaited payment of the soldiers' adjusted compensation has been accomplished. In what seems like the majority of cases the bonds are being cashed so apparently the spur to business that was promised if the payment was made is coming true.

As near as we can learn about 50 veterans secured payment. What percentage will immediately cash the bonds is not known at this time.

However the money will probably be used in this community in about the manner the soldiers the nation over will use theirs.

Some strange things are happening as was expected. One man bought a car—and was killed by the same car, the same day.

STATE PLANS TO SAVE TREES ON ROADSIDE

Michigan's first statewide save-the-trees campaign along trunkline highways was initiated this week. Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, announced that crews will operate four power sprayers along the trunkline roadsides of 42 counties during the next month to protect walnut, hickory and butternut trees against forest tent caterpillars. The counties cover the lower part of the state.

In answer to a number of queries by farmers, Commissioner Van Wagoner said that he had been advised by Michigan State College entomologists that the spray will not injure livestock. He pointed out that it consists of a solution of arsenate of lead and water in the proportion of 3 pounds of lead arsenate to 100 gallons of water. Experiments by the college have determined that a solution of 3 pounds of lead arsenate to 50 gallons of water is not injurious to livestock.

The Commissioner urged motorists to stop their automobiles when approaching a power sprayer in action. He has been advised that the solution does not injure the car's finish but is difficult to remove.

Clarkston Locals

Mrs. C. G. Fiske attended the Rie Sanderson club meeting at the home of Mrs. Joy Freeman in Holly on Thursday afternoon.

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart entertained at a one o'clock dinner at their home on North Main street. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Stewart and son, Adsit of Texas, Mr. and Mrs. William Maybee and daughter, Isobel of Holly, Mr. and Mrs. John Mann of Clarkston and Mrs. Anna Fleming of Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Winn and daughter Mary K. went to Tecumseh last Friday and spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tingley. On Friday night Mrs. Winn attended the Tecumseh High School Alumni Association meeting and enjoyed meeting old friends. Then on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Tingley celebrated their 12th wedding anniversary and entertained the Winks at dinner at a very exclusive place in Toledo.

Mrs. Clarence Drake and sons, Manly and Edsel of Clarkston and Dr. and Mrs. Atkins of Pontiac spent last week end with the Glenn Howlands at Cheboygan. The Howlands were former residents of Clarkston and so were more than pleased to greet their guests. On Saturday evening the group enjoyed a trip to Mackinaw City. All, except Manly, returned home on Sunday evening and he intends to stay in Cheboygan for some time on account of his health.

The first run of the Arkansas Centennial commemorative took place last Tuesday, June 9, without all the usual fanfare, all the dignitaries being absent, with the President on his southern trip. However the stamp was placed on sale June 15 at Little Rock and no doubt a great many of the 75,000,000 ordered printed are now in collectors' albums and dealers' stocks.

HOLLY THEATRE

Trouble is a matter of gloom for the ordinary man, but it's the stock in trade and the key to laughter for Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, as these two merry madmen prove by revealing the funny side of as dangerous and disastrous a series of adventures as ever beset a wild westerner in their comedy, "Silly Billies", coming Sunday to the Holly Theatre.

Everything goes wrong for these screen pranksters—so far wrong that if they aren't threatened with lynching, they are being prepared for burning at the stake by a band of ferocious Indians, or being captured by bandits. They're swindled into buying land in a ghost town and force at the blade of a tomahawk to compete for the hand of a 250 pound Indian princess. They're trapped in a helpless wagon train while a hundred redskins circle for the kill.

Nothing is serious or sacred to them, not even the ancient profession of dentistry which brings them to the west seeking a fortune.

Neither of the lads knows anything about teeth, but that doesn't worry them until they begin working on jumpy-nerved bandits and blood-thirsty Indians.

Dorothy Lee, the vivacious young blonde who has been in almost every one of the Wheeler and Woolsey frolics, again has a wild and woolly romance with Wheeler, and the two of them sing the rollicking "Tumble On, Tumble-weed, Tumble On."
