COMMENT AND CRITICISM

We have heard of motorists running into live deer in the Northland and similar accidents, but this morning I saw a sparrow which had collided with an automobile and had been caught on the license plate. We doubt if the driver had noticed it as the car was empty but the bird, deceased, was still on the license plate.

Somehow it has been so cold that it had slipped our mind that the fourth of July (generally a very warm, yes even hot day) is so close at hand. But such is the case and tomorrow the people of these United States will commemorate the founding of their great nation.

And lest we forget if we can believe all that we have heard over the radio the country needs saving just as much now as it did in the first place. We admit that one party is working on the job and reporting progress but it seems that two or three other groups want us to try them out on the work. There is a saying that it is harder to keep money than it is to earn it and with all respect to our forefathers who fought to start the nation we sometimes wonder if it is not harder to protect our rights than it was to earn them.

We believe in the freedom of speech, the freedom of the press, and the freedom to worship as we please, but somehow when we see that the Communist party will have a place on our ballot, it makes us wonder if this freedom business is not going just a little too far. We wonder if the group that is a sworn enemy of our institutions is not spreading out in a secret way to undermine all that the people of this nation hold as their most valued possession.

Just a little tip. If bitten by a rattlesnake, WALK, do not RUN to the nearest doctor.

There is no doubt that this will be a sane and safe fourth. The sale of fireworks has been outlawed until people who simply adore the sight of the displays go to public places where the exhibition is taken care of by those trained to the work. It is unfortunate that something cannot be done to make the roads safe for sane drivers. It seems too bad that after the years spent in teaching people that fireworks were dangerous, and now they have been removed from the scene that we allow an even more dangerous condition to exist.

Fisherman Bitten By Swimming Snake

While fishing late last week, in Green Lake, near Clarkston, Bob White and his companion, from Detroit who are vacationing at Windate Park, noticed a snake swimming towards the boat. They watched the snake crawl up on an oar, until the companion who did not like to be so close knocked the snake off into the water.

This rather amused young White who, stating that the snake was harmless, reached into the water, caught the reptile and quicker than it took to write this the fangs had pierced his arm.

He was rushed to Dr. Miller's and taken to Goodrich Hospital for an injection of anti venomous serum. He seems to be getting over the effects as well as can be expected.

Jacobus-Meader Rites Read Last Thursday

Miss Jacobus Retired from the Waterford School Faculty in June

Last Thursday evening the First Baptist Church of Vassar was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Miss Mary Jacobus, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. Wallace Jacobus was united in marriage to Mr. Leon Burton Meader of Brooklyn, Maine. Rev. Jacobus performed the ceremony and used the Episcopal ring service.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white lace over satin. She carried a white morocco bound Testament with streamers and orange blossoms. She was attended by her sister Miss Jean Jacobus as maid-of-honor, wearing a pink point de esprit over taffeta and two bridesmaids, Miss Bernice Tavis wearing peach mousseline de soie and Miss Anita Harris of Waterford who wore yellow net over satin. All three attendants carried arm bouquets of Canterbury Bells and baby breath with streamers to match their gowns. Barbara Jean Andrews was a lovely little flower-girl wearing a yellow embroidered organdy and carrying a green and silver basket of rose petals.

Mrs. Wendell Thompson of Detroit, who was gowned in blue net, presided at the organ. Just before she played the wedding march she sang "I Love You Truly" and she also played during the entire service.

The groom was assisted by Clement Jarvis of New York City. Harold Blaylock, of Vassar, Charles Harris of Waterford and Richard Kjelstad of Chicago served as ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

After a wedding trip through Canada to Quebec and to the Gaspé peninsula Rev. and Mrs. Meader will be at home in Brooklyn, Maine where he is pastor of the First Baptist church.

Those from a distance who attended the wedding were Mrs. C. W. McCollough, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunshee, Richard and Barbara Dunshee, Mrs. Ralph McCollough and Mrs. Tarvin E. Gookin, all of Chariton, Iowa; Mr. Albert Meader, father of the groom, and Edith and Dwight Meader of Rochester, New Hampshire; Miss Irene Jacobus of Chesterton, Ind., Louis Gehr of Lancaster, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Clement Jarvis of New York City. Other guests were from Waterford, Pontiac, Jackson, Mt. Clemens and Detroit.

Miss Jacobus was well known in the vicinity of Waterford having been a teacher in the school there for some time. Many delightful affairs were given in her honor and she was the happy recipient of a great many beautiful gifts. She had a wide circle of friends in Vassar where she taught school for a time and was a member of the Vassar church. Among the many lovely gifts she received was a complete chest of silver and a silver tea-pot and several other small pieces of silver from the members of the Vassar church.

Cudnohufsky-Gador Wedding Solemnized

Last Saturday morning Miss Alvena Cudnohufsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cudnohufsky of Hermandville, Mich., was united in marriage to Herbert Gador Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gador of Clarkston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. W. Hendley at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Leo Christian of 153 Chamberlain St., Pontiac.

The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white organdy. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and white carnations. Her only attendant was Miss Lillian Corley of Auburn Heights as maid-of-honor who was dressed in pink organdy and carried a bouquet similar to that of the bride.

Mr. Gador was assisted by Sylvester Cudnohufsky.

Preceding the wedding a lovely luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Gador will reside in Pontiac.

The Nation's Birthday

Ring out the joy bells! Once again,
With waving flags and rolling drums,
We greet the Nation's Birthday,
when
In glorious majesty, it comes.
Ah, day of days, alone it stands,
While, like a halo round it cast,
The radiant work of patriot hands,
Shines the bright record of the past.

The right that conquered, and whose power
Is shown in our broad land today:
Shown in this bright and prosperous hour,
When peace and plenty gild our way:
Shown in the glorious song that swells
The hearts of men from South to North,
And in its rapturous accents tell
The glorious story of our Fourth.

PIONEER FAMILY MEETS IN REUNION

Annual Addis Gathering Held Sunday at Clarkston

On Sunday, June 28, the descendants of Peter and Mary Addis, emigrants to Michigan from New Jersey in 1839, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Walter in the village of Clarkston. About forty were present, including the following: Mrs. Effie Addis Cone, of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Gregory, of Williamston; Mrs. Elizabeth McMullen and family, of Coruna and Owosso; Mrs. W. H. S. Wood, of Howell; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Canale, of Detroit; Harry Williams and Mrs. Frances Addis Eckhardt, of Belvidere, New Jersey; Mrs. Julia Addis, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Addis and family, of Holly; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kitchen, of Cleveland; and the following from Clarkston: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wieland, Mrs. Hattie Petty and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. William Buzzard, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Addis and son, and Ronald and Manley Walter.

After a sumptuous picnic dinner on her beautiful lawn, the hostess and president, Mrs. Blanche Addis Walter, turned the program over to Raymond E. Addis, of Holly, who acted as toastmaster. Fitting responses were made by Mrs. Eckhardt, who had driven 600 miles from Warren County, New Jersey, to attend the function, and by Ronald Walter, son of the host and hostess, one of Michigan's new attorneys who recently graduated from Detroit City College of Law and successfully passed the State Bar examinations. Early recollections were reviewed including Revolutionary days wherein the patriarch, Captain Simon Addis, was frequently and honorably mentioned, he being an ancestor of all the Addises present.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Raymond E. Addis; Vice President, Ronald Walter; Secretary, Grace Addis Gregory, and Treasurer, Roy Addis.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutton Are Hosts Tuesday

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hutton entertained a group of friends at their home at Walled Lake.

At seven o'clock supper was served at a table on the beautiful grounds at the rear of the home.

One thrilling aspect to a meal served on the grounds at the Hutton home is the lovely stone fire place, chimney and all, which is built very conveniently under a large willow tree only a few feet from the water. The fire-place is not only a convenience but is a thing of beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutton entertained their guests by taking them for a speed boat ride on the lake with a tour of the amusement park following and later a social hour in their home.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Barrows, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Ronk and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stamp.

For Homemakers

First rule in shopping for women, if the search is for something to wear, is to shop when sufficient time is available and when the shopper is not exhausted by trivial errands and all the purchases that frequently are put on a Saturday shopping list.

Such is the suggestion offered by Miss Eleanor Cramer, extension specialist in clothing at Michigan State College. When one is tired and exhausted, says Miss Cramer, it is impossible to be enthusiastic, all the patterns look alike and the creative spirit is too dull to recognize patterns and designs that will be suitable as well as clever.

"Wait to purchase your pattern until you have shopped around to see whether you can find the materials," suggests Miss Cramer. "Perhaps the pattern depends upon a long tassel or a certain type of button to make it complete. If they are not available, better select another pattern."

"It requires either a very artistic imagination or a great deal of experience to be able to visualize how a certain fabric and a selected design are going to look. If the shopper will be frank and admit a lack of experience, considerable help can be obtained from designers, experienced sales clerks and from those ridiculed sources provided in 'window shopping'."

A new postage meter, resembling a stamp in shape and with simulated perforation points on all sides, is now in use in several cities. In the center is a spread eagle with three stars overhead. On the left wing is a circle space with name of city around top, date in the center and state abbreviation at the bottom. The right space is square with slightly rounded top bearing "U. S. Postage Paid" at the top and the denomination in the lower portion.

IMPORTANT TO BUYERS OF ALL USED CARS

Motorists of Michigan who are involved in used car transactions are having their attention drawn to a provision in the state's motor vehicle laws which not only cannot be successfully evaded but which often trips up purchasers who do not understand it.

The provision makes it mandatory that within 10 days of the purchase of a used car, the purchaser shall file the assigned title with the Department of State and shall transfer the license plates to himself as well. A fee of $1.00 is charged for each of these two transfers.

Many used car purchasers neglect to conform with this provision of the motor vehicle laws; many others defer the filing of the reassigned title until after the passage of the deadline for the use of the plates which accompanied the car. This delay is taken, it is believed, in the mistaken belief that the fee for plate transfer is thus saved the owner.

Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State, points out, however, that when plates for the succeeding year are applied for, the $1.00 transfer for the old plates is collected before the application for new plates will be received. The only result is to delay the motor car owner when he applies for plates.

LEARNING CAUSE OF CAR ACCIDENTS

Personal Equation Is Greatest Factor Survey Reveals

Basing his conclusion on the results of a study of accidents in Oakland county during 1935, State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner said this week that the "driver is the weakest factor in the highway safety equation."

The accident report, which was compiled by the highway planning survey from state police records, revealed that nearly 80 per cent of the 949 accidents occurring in Oakland county last year were attributed to incautiousness, inattention, and inconsideration. In support of his contention, Commissioner Van Wagoner also pointed to the fact that most of the accidents reported occurred on straight away stretches of highway.

"There are three factors in the highway safety equation," the commissioner said, "the car, the road, the driver. Only 3.1 per cent of the cars involved in the reported accidents were found to be defective and in nearly every case the highway was straight, weather fair, and light conditions normal. This leaves only the driver to be held accountable for the great majority of accidents."

Studies similar to the one in Oakland county will be carried out for other counties of the state. They are a part of the general highway planning survey being conducted by the state highway department in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Public Roads. The survey also includes a road inventory, traffic count and financial study. WPA workers are employed in the accident study as well as on the other phases of the project.

More than 58 per cent of the accidents were reported at intersections. The commissioner pointed out that motorists are expected to use greatest care and caution at such obvious danger points. The survey also revealed that 7.7 per cent of the drivers had been drinking.

The 949 accidents reported in Oakland county caused 103 deaths, and injuries to 1,067 persons. Included in this toll were 237 pedestrians of whom 32 were killed and 205 injured.

The Oakland county accidents occurred on the following time schedule: 5.3 per cent of them between 6 and 9 in the morning, 7.2 per cent between 9 o'clock and noon, 10.4 per cent from noon to 3 in the afternoon, 16.6 per cent from 3 to 6 p. m., 23.4 per cent from 6 to 9, 16.9 per cent from 9 to midnight, and 19.0 per cent from midnight to 6 o'clock in the morning.

The increase in volume of traffic which occurs through the day is believed to account for some part of the steady increase in these percentages. Commissioner Van Wagoner pointed out, however, that the cumulative effects of fatigue undoubtedly play an important part in making the afternoon and evening hours the most hazardous.

Nearly two-thirds of the accidents on which this study was made took place in Pontiac or neighboring urban centers. Of these, twice as many occurred in residential as in business sections.

Special studies of accidents on sections of trunkline highways in Oakland County reveal conditions differing only in degree from those in the City. On US-10 and US-24, which carry traffic of a distinctly urban character, conditions are shown to be approximately like those in the county as a whole.

On US-16, however, where traffic is more characteristic of the normal trunkline, there are important differences.

Dr. Watson Is Head Of Safety Council

Dr. C. H. Watson, medical director of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, was elected president of the National Safety Council at its twenty-fourth annual congress and exposition, held at Louisville, Ky., last Fall.

The honor accorded to Dr. Watson is one in which thousands of Bell Telephone System men and women have a share. In honoring him, the National Safety Council has paid a tribute to the spirit of cooperation of the rank and file of telephone workers, without which the Bell System's notable contributions to the safety movement would have been impossible.

Through the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Bell System became associated with the National Safety Council in 1917. From the beginning of the telephone business, however, many steps had been taken toward the prevention of accidents. By about 1920 this work had been put on a coordinated, system-wide basis and was well established in all Bell System companies.

Records show that since the inception of this intensive effort, the occurrence of accidents in the Bell System has been reduced by more than 80 per cent. To the achievement of this result, many factors have contributed. Careful study, in many cases extending over long periods, resulted in the development of safe methods of carrying out the multitude of operations which enter into the construction, maintenance and operation of telephone facilities. Campaigns of education were conducted in order to familiarize employees with these methods and to insure their use. A competitive spirit was fostered, so that efforts to reduce the number of accidents took on many of the aspects of a sport. First aid classes were organized and these resulted in a keener interest in the entire safety movement. All of these factors have played important parts in enabling the Bell System itself to accomplish notable results in the promotion of safety and have helped it to blaze trails which other industrial organizations have followed.

ences. For instance, darkness and wet pavement appear more frequently as elements of danger. Due to the flow of traffic in and out of Detroit in the morning and evening as well as to heavy truck traffic at night, hazards are greatest between 6 and 9 p. m., with a long danger period from midnight to noon.

"This statistical analysis of accidents which is being provided by the highway planning survey will provide a basis upon which the state police and the state highway department can prepare intelligent and effective corrective programs," Commissioner Van Wagoner said. "Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of the state police, will direct special patrols of troopers to points where accidents are exceptionally frequent. Where some fault appears in the highway itself, the state highway department will take corrective steps."

"Favorable results should be forthcoming as this is the first time that the problem of highway safety has been approached from a truly scientific standpoint."

HOLC BUSINESS

Narrow partisans are finding fault because the Home Owners Loan Corporation is foreclosing on mortgages in default. Instead of being subject to censure the HOLC should be complimented on its business-like handling of mortgages.

The HOLC was organized to relieve the distress of home owners who were about to lose their property. Mortgages held by many banks and building and loan associations could not be refinanced. The process of liquidation was under way and the HOLC was launched to relieve the situation.

What do the present critics want? Do they recommend that the HOLC not exercise the foreclosure clause? Do the critics contend that those who paid their mortgage installments as they became due should now have their honesty and thrift penalized by cancellation of amounts due from those who have failed to meet the mortgage requirements?

It strikes us that the HOLC is proving its worth. It came into the picture to serve a definite need. When that need grew less the HOLC showed a willingness to restrict and eventually halt its loaning. It has not gone on seeking to perpetuate itself in the mortgage field. Now the time has come when mortgages in default are being foreclosed, and the HOLC is foreclosing them. It can do nothing less and play fair with borrowers and the public.

The HOLC is operating on public funds. Bonds were issued on the mortgages. Bondholders and the tax-paying public have a stake in the HOLC. It is their money that is being loaned. From all we have been able to gather the HOLC has been lenient in its collection policy. If the borrower has proved that he is making every attempt to pay and the facts justify additional time on amortization installments, extensions are granted. If the loan is past due and there seems to be a lack of ability to pay them, of course, the HOLC must in fairness to other borrowers and to the tax-paying public and the bondholders foreclose. There is no other recourse.

That the HOLC officials have the courage to do their duty, and their duty is to collect as well as to lend, should be a matter for congratulation. If a vacillating policy of postponement, ultra-liberal extensions, and other moratoria methods were followed there would be occasion for alarm. Certainly there should be no criticism over the fact that the HOLC is operating a financial business along the same lines that the government demands of banks and building and loan institutions.—Ingham County News.

All matters handled thru the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.

Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.

We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper week by week.

HOLLY THEATRE

Gold! God! Gold! That was the cry that started thousands of greed-maddened men for California; that sent them in frenzied hordes across towering mountains, thirst-blazed deserts, tempestuous seas. Gold was the gleaming urge that made them dig in the earth, claw in the rock. Gold was their master. They strove for it, fought for it, stole for it, killed for it. Gold, discovered first on Sutter's land, reduced him from a billionaire to a penniless man. "Sutter's Gold" is the heroic drama of a man's dream of empire and his love of woman. It is the tremendous story of a nation's sweep from sea to sea. It shows the souls of men in triumph; the strength of men who will not know defeat; the glory of women who helped the men they loved build our last flaming frontier. When his great domain is torn asunder by the talons of rapacious, gold crazed men, Sutter still possesses the greatest wealth a man can hold—the deep, abiding affection that is in the loyal heart of the wife who comes to him across half the world. The star of "Sutter's Gold" is Edward Arnold who achieved great heights in "Diamond Jim". The beautiful Binnie Barnes portrays the goddess tinselled with fool's gold. Lee Tracy, the irrepresible, offers a performance distinctly different from any he has given before. This Uni-
