COMMENT AND CRITICISM

They tell us that this heat wave is over but I still feel like writing in about this style as long as it adds length.

We heartily agree with Beattie Bros. Motor Sales, when they use their paid advertising space to warn you to be more than careful of fires. A fire at any time is bad but right now a fire would be doubly dangerous not only because everything is so dry but also because even water levels are going down and it might be hard to get water.

Somehow it is heartening to see a number of people attend a school meeting in spite of heat. It shows a reasonably healthy condition of thinking about our most valuable asset.

It has been reasonably warm. It has even been hot. But if your job has been such that you could stay in the shade, be thankful. Monday one of the local garages received a new coating of tar and even the sight of that tar glistening in the sun reminded one of the inside of a fiery furnace.

The people of this community can be thankful that there have been no deaths from heat prostrations. And an interesting thing is that most people complained more after the hot spell than during it. As long as they could fight the heat they seemed to keep up but when the thermometer dropped they relaxed and then realized just how much vitality it had taken to try to keep cool.

Regardless of the weather, a few politicians managed to place the country before their personal desires and in an attempt to save the country announced their desires to serve the people, and are seeking election to some public office.

The grading on the White Lake road is nearly completed. Only the bridge at Deer Lake is holding up work. We are informed that the asphalt plant will be here during August and surfacing will start around September first.

Dr. and Mrs. Glass at one time lived in Clarkston where he was pastor of the Clarkston and Waterford churches. School Meetings Held Monday

Clarkston, Drayton Plains and Waterford Hold Annual Meetings

The annual school meeting of Waterford District was held at the School on Monday. Regular business was transacted including election of board members.

There were two trustees elected. Kenneth McVittie and Henry Mehlberg were unanimously named to succeed themselves for three years. The Board later met and named their officers, as follows: President Percy C. King, Secretary Henri F. Buck, Treasurer Henry B. Mehlberg and two trustees Frank Peoples and Kenneth McVittie. All held the same offices last term.

The Annual Meeting for Drayton Plains resulted in the reelection of Stewart Bachelor and the election of one new member, Wales Goodwub.

The meeting at Clarkston resulted in the election of Mrs. Carrie A. Davies for three years and L. F. Walter to serve the vacancy of the two unexpired years of Earl Walter's term. After the usual reports, Lee Clark expressed the feeling of loss to the board in the death of Earl Walter. He stressed the faithful work Earl had performed in his work on the board.

The usual discussion about what to do with the old school consumed some time but inasmuch as the feeling was that the committee now trying to sell the school was doing all that could be done the only thing to do was to wait until a definite offer had been made and then to submit the offer to the people at an election.

FARM WOMEN WILL MEET AT COLLEGE

Rest, Study and Recreation Planned for Five Days

Farm women from all sections of the state are being invited to spend five days in rest, study and recreation on the campus of Michigan State College, East Lansing, during the annual Farm Women's Week Sunday through Thursday, July 26 to 30. Activities in the campus for the week are terminated in the annual Farmers' Day program Friday, July 31.

In outlining the conference, R. W. Tenny, short course director at the college, describes the program as an opportunity for farm women in the state to study home and community problems, to have a week's vacation and rest to better meet these problems, to make new friends and meet old acquaintances, to enjoy the beautiful campus and to gain inspiration.

In brief, the program offers registration and a lawn supper Sunday afternoon and evening. Monday, July 27, the women visitors will hear Dr. Sarah VanHoosen Jones, manager of her own farm near Rochester, Mich. Her subject is "A Woman as a Farm Manager." Clothing, foods and nutrition, home furnishings, home management and child development will be taken up in sections which the women can follow up during the week.

During each day the women are urged to attend a different discussion group, participate in hobbies and enter into the program of rest and recreation as well. Conclusion of the program is Thursday evening, July 30. The speaker will be Miss Grace Fryinger, senior home economist for the Central States Extension Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Heat Prostrations Few in Clarkston

Roland R. Wilson Is One of the Victims

We had a notion on Tuesday to write about the hot weather we have been enjoying (?) but held off to see if there wouldn't be a break by Wednesday. We knew it couldn't last very long—not in Michigan with its changeable climate. Our delay was rewarded. The weather man came forward Tuesday night with a program of real relief.

The hot spell was a record breaker. It lasted a full week with the thermometer going above 100 every day, and quite a bit above at times. It covered a wide area and Michigan appeared to be hit the worst. The toll of deaths caused by the abnormal temperatures reached a startling figure. It is classed as the major disaster of 1936. No scientific explanation of the heat wave has been advanced as yet but the sun is suspected of having something to do with it.

Families with good basements in their homes were fortunate. Many of them moved cots down there at night and some stoves, tables and chairs and lived there in the daytime as well.

The problem of dress was an important one. Perhaps it would be better to say, undress, and the problem was to wear as little as the law would allow.

In addition to the great loss of life the monetary loss to growing crops was tremendous.

Relief from the hot spell is being felt over most of the continent and residents in Oakland county are relaxing after the week of the most trying weather on record.

Although there were many victims of heat prostration and sunstroke in the county Clarkston seemed to keep free from trouble by taking life easy. Many spent most of the time in the basement of their homes and at night slept out-of-doors where they could take advantage of every little breeze.

City folks crowded the highways and the report is that the traffic on the Dixie last Sunday broke all records. Every cottage at the lakes nearby was crowded and in every body of water whether large or small you could find someone in swimming at most any hour of the day or night.

Many factories and many places of business were forced to close their doors.

Although many sections of Michigan have been blessed with rainstorms the farmers and gardeners in and around Clarkston are still hoping for rain in order to save some of their crops.

Roland R. Wilson, one of Clarkston's newcomers, was one of the heat victims. While he was at his office on Friday he became very weak but on account of planning to move to Clarkston on Saturday he thought he could endure until he got out in the wide open spaces where he would get fresher air. However by Monday his condition was worse and he was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in a very weakened condition. He remained in the hospital until Wednesday when he returned to his home in Clarkston. Mr. Wilson's strength is not quite back to normal yet but he feels that with a few cool days and a little rest he will be allright.

Young People's Bible Conference at L. Orion

The Management of Lake Orion, Michigan, are sponsoring a Young People's Bible Conference this year from July 26 to August 2. There will be three services both Sundays: 10:30 A. M., 3:00 P. M., and 7:30 P. M. Daily services will be held at 10:00 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. We believe that this will be a unique conference. Most Bible Conferences have such fall programs that by the end of the week everyone is tired out, and the good has not been accomplished that might have been if time had been given for meditation, rest, and recreation. We have arranged a very fine program and have planned it definitely, but we have left the entire afternoons free for prayer, rest, and play. In other words, every afternoon is yours to meet in prayer groups, read, rest, practice with the orchestra, swim, or to play baseball or tennis. Be sure to bring your bathing suits, tennis racquets, and musical instruments. We have planned helpful and inspiring Bible talks for the mornings and great evangelistic services for the evenings.

Fitzgerald Speaks at Cherry Festival

The work of his administration in the past year and his plans for the future were told to the people of Michigan Thursday by Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald in an address broadcast from the National Cherry Festival at Traverse City. The governor was guest of honor at the festival's "Governor's Day".

The address was the governor's fiscal report for the year ending June 30 and is the basis of his candidacy for re-election.

Financially, he said, the state has state finds itself this year with a balanced budget. The cash balance is $5,600,000 greater than a year ago and the general fund, which had a $4,023,000 deficit, now has a credit balance of $6,394,745.

Balancing the budget, the governor said, is only half the job. Keeping it balanced by elimination of the multitude of proposals for increasing the never been upon a firmer foundation. With revenues exceeding appropriations by $7,100,000, and expenditures $2,200,000 below appropriations, the state's expenditures is just as important.

Meeting the criticism that the state's good financial showing is due entirely to the sales tax adopted by the previous Democratic administration, Governor Fitzgerald said, "Let us be generous in our praise of those who enacted the sales tax law. For those who conserved the revenues derived from it; for those who prevented those revenues from being wasted by slipshod management, let the record speak."

Discussing various governmental subdivisions for which he is responsible, Fitzgerald stated that the Public Utilities Commission has secured rate reductions amounting to $5,173,000 in the last eighteen months for users of electricity, gas, and telephones. Rural electrification program has resulted in the construction of $5,000,000 worth of new power lines, he said, reducing the drudgery of the farmer and his wife with no investment on their part.

PAYMENT RATE FOR CONSERVING SOIL

Farmers Advised as to How Much They Will Receive

The average rate of the Class I or soil-conserving payment for Oakland County under the 1936 farm program is $11.00 per acre, according to Robert McCrory, chairman of the Oakland County Soil Conservation Association.

Mr. McCrory points out that the rate for each farm will depend upon the productivity of the land on the farm and may vary considerably from the average rate for the county. Farms more productive than the average rate for the county will receive rates higher than the county. Less productive farms will receive a lower rate.

The county average payment applies only to the diversion of acreage to soil-conserving crops or uses from the general soil-depleting crops, such as corn, oats, wheat and barley. Special payments apply in connection with the production of sugar beets and flax.

The minimum acreage upon which farmers can receive Class I payments is 15 per cent of the general soil-depleting base acreage for the farm. These Class I payments are distinct from the Class II or soil-building payments which will be made to co-operating farmers who follow approved soil-building practices on their farms. Producers may qualify for one or both of these payments. The soil-building payment to each farmer is limited by his soil-building allowance which is the same number of dollars as there are acres of soil-conserving crops on crop land on his farm this year.

In most cases, the Class I rate for an individual farm will be established by comparing the appraised yield of the farm's most important soil-depleting crop with the average yield of that crop for the entire county. In every case, Mr. McCrory said, only the crop or crops were used which accurately indicate the productivity of the farm as compared with other farms in the county.

As an example, suppose corn is the principal soil-depleting crop on the farm, and the appraised normal yield of corn for the farm is 36 bushels an acre. Then suppose that the normal yield for the county is 40 bushels an acre. The productivity of the farm would be 36-40, which is the same as 90 per cent. The rate of the soil-conserving payment for the farm, then, would be 90 per cent of the county rate.

At this time, 2,898 number of work sheets have been filled out for farmers throughout the county by some thirty township committeemen. It is believed every farm has been visited. In the event a producer feels his farm has not been included on a work sheet, he should immediately get in touch with Robert McCrory, Box 173, Pontiac, or the township committeeman.

The township committeemen for the several townships in this section of the county are as follows:

- Holly—Leo Tinsman, R1, Fenton.
- Groveland—Jess Moore, Clarkston.
- Brandon—Maryin Porritt, R2, Clarkston.
- Rose—Earl Taylor, R1, Holly.
- Springfield—Frank Gromak, Holly.
- Marshall—Gavette, Davisburg.
- Highland—H. H. Cailhouette, R4, Milford.
- White Lake—Albert Orr, Clarkston.

HOLLY THEATRE

Edward G. Robinson returns to the screen in "Bullets or Ballots", which is scheduled as the feature attraction at the Holly Theatre beginning Sunday.

Robinson's new role affords him all the opportunities for characterization that "Little Caesar", the picture that made him famous, gave him, but in this picture he is not a gangster. He is a hard boiled detective determined to put the boldest and best organized band of criminals known to history out of business.

The picture is the story of racketeers who are supposed to be respectable society leaders, business men of wealth, politicians of high position and bankers, men so well known that no one suspects them. They never are seen with any of the crooks who carry out their orders, but contact just one man in the working organization, who carries out their orders and delivers the proceeds of their ill gotten gains.

The story is by Martin Mooney, the New York newspaperman who exposed racketeering in the newspapers, and was sent to jail for thirty days for contempt of court because he refused to divulge the source of his information.

There is an unusually talented cast in the picture, with Joan Blondell, playing the feminine lead opposite Robinson.

Barton MacLane has the role of the chief of the gangsters, the only contact with the "higher-ups", but who still has a terrific struggle in Numbers racket, Joseph King is the commissioner who breaks Robinson.

In the end one of them double-crosses him and shoots him down in cold blood.

The latter part, the toughest of all the tough men, is played by Humphrey Bogart, the killer of "The Petrified Forest".

Frank McHugh furnishes the comedy element, as the personal agent of Miss Blondell, who runs a Harlem who still has a terrific struggle in Numbers racket, Joseph King is the commissioner who breaks Robinson.

"La Societe Des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux" is the fun-making unit of the Legion, named after the box cars on French railroads, built to carry 40 men and 8 horses. Members of the society wear blue smocks, similar to those worn by French railroad workers, and horizon-blue caps. Membership is limited to those who have been active in Legion affairs.

The "8 and 40" is composed of members of the auxiliary. There are about 100 of them in the state.

The auxiliary will hold its meetings in Central Temple House during the convention, with headquarters only a few steps away at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Convention headquarters for the Legion have been established at the Olds Hotel. Registrations and reservations for hotel space now coming in indicate that a new record for attendance at state conventions will be made this year in the Capitol City.

IMPORTANT TO BUYERS OF ALL USED CARS

Motorists of Michigan who are involved in used car transactions are having their attention drawn to a provision in the state's motor vehicle laws which not only cannot be successfully evaded but which often trips up purchasers who do not understand it.

The provision makes it mandatory that within 10 days of the purchase of a used car, the purchaser shall file the assigned title with the Department of State and shall transfer the license plates to himself as well. A fee of $1.00 is charged for each of these two transfers.

Many used car purchasers neglect to conform with this provision of the motor vehicle laws; many others defer the filing of the reassigned title until after the passage of the deadline for the use of the plates which accompanied the car. This delay is taken, it is believed, in the mistaken belief that the fee for plate transfer is thus saved the owner.
