COMMENT AND CRITICISM

It is more than a pleasure to notice the enthusiasm displayed over community enterprises. The school reunion certainly was proof that interest in that annual affair is at high pitch. Another event was the penny supper at the church on Wednesday evening and was it well patronized. The largest crowd yet, I believe, to attend these church dinners.

When Joseph "JOE" W. Greenhaigh announced that he would be a candidate for the office of county clerk he probably expected a few friends to be interested, but whether he expected the enthusiastic support he is receiving around the county or not is another question. Perhaps this support is proof that people liked the service he gave as post master at Pontiac, for four years, and believe he will make a good county clerk. Ability, patience and service always merit and receive such support.

The Washington-Holcomb-Deport-White Lake road has reached that point where progress is being shown on Holcomb and about to turn on to Washington. Then the grading will be completed and the tar coat will be applied.

In our March of political thought let us give a thought to the office of Circuit Court Commissioner. One should do well to consider this office because it affects many people in the course of their work. While on the subject of political candidates and while reading the announcements in this issue study the notice of Verne C. Hampton, a candidate for this office.

Little Miss Rita Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wilson, has just returned home after spending a few weeks in Alpena and Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. George Harris attended a very novel affair in Detroit last Saturday. The occasion was the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Harden. The ceremony was performed at five o'clock and the couples' attendants were their sons and granddaughters. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served.

HOLLY THEATRE

Paramount has put a good helping of everything best in radio and screen fare into its latest hit show, "Rhythm on the Range," which opens Friday at the Holly Theatre. It has Bing Crosby and Bob Burns, swing music, western songs and romantic ballads.

The two stars are cowboy participants in a Madison Square Garden rodeo as the picture opens. With his winnings in the rodeo events Crosby buys a prize bull and starts with it in a box car for Arizona.

Miss Farmer, wealthy society girl, flees from a prospective marriage and stows away in the box car, hoping to get to the ranch operated by her aunt, Crosby's employer. Bull, Crosby and Miss Farmer begin a transcontinental trip by box car, on foot, and by auto and trailer. Somewhere en route they learn that they don't hate each other as much as they thought, despite Miss Farmer's vexation when Crosby ignores her to croon to his beloved bull.

Burns and his bazooka, meanwhile, have been taken in tow by the dynamic Miss Raye. Their comedy-romance also gets under way as they are speeding from New York to the Arizona ranch.

The nation's motion picture fans shouted a prompt "Yes!" when Paramount teamed up Fred MacMurray and Carole Lombard for the first time in "Hands Across the Table" a short time back. So emphatic was the response that no time has been lost in casting them again, in "The Princess Comes Across," booked to open Sunday at the Holly Theatre.

The story is set aboard a transatlantic super-liner. Miss Lombard appears as a lovely American girl, posing as a Swedish princess in order to gain a movie contract. Aboard ship she meets MacMurray, concertina-playing band leader, and the romance begins.

A pair of murders, blackmail, intrigue and the swoonings of five detectives en route to an international convention at New York provide suspense and thrills. All action of the plot is liberally sprinkled with music, comedy and romance of the MacMurray-Lombard brand.

Vacation Bible School Has Closing Program

Craftwork Is Exhibited and Judged

Last Friday night the Vacation Bible School held at the Clarkston Baptist Church for the last three weeks had its closing program. The attendance was fairly good although so many were on vacations.

Rev. and Mrs. Stevens and their two sons were in charge of the school with Mrs. George Van Horn assisting, and it was amazing to see what had been accomplished in Bible work and craft work in just three weeks time. The program was almost a repetition of the routine carried out each morning in the school. The children were very attentive and the response made by even those in the kindergarten class was a great satisfaction to the instructors. When the audience was seated the children marched in singing a hymn. After greeting Rev. Stevens who was the leader they repeated the twenty-third Psalm. The children remained standing while Rev. Stevens led in prayer. The school motto was repeated and the classes were seated.

Mrs. Stevens then had the kindergarten class march to the platform for recitation and the parents present were proud of the little folks. They sang several songs, recited some Bible verses and answered many questions on the Bible.

The intermediates were then called to order and they sang their chorus and even taught it to the audience and had all sing. Then they recited many passages of Scripture, some very lengthy ones. Rev. Stevens then conducted a Bible drill and these children were so alert at answering and finding the different verses in the Bible that they shamed a good many of the grown-ups. At the close of the intermediate program the whole school marched around the church led by a girl and a boy carrying the American flag and the Christian Flag and they formed a line at the front of the church and pledged their allegiance to both flags.

The report of the judges for the craft work was then given and the following received awards—read fruit baskets—Betty Kennedy, Marjorie Baker and Viola Frick—read vase holders, Marjorie Baker, Lois Hall and Betty Kennedy—Hammocks—Maxine Yerkes and Pearl Olsen—letter holders—Clayton Erick, Burton Steiner and Freddie Hemingway—door stops—Eldon Rouse and Don Steiner—the racks—Don Steiner, Jack Skarritt and Eldon Rouse—revolving clowns—Burton Steiner and Jack Skarritt—polar bear letter holders—Eldon Rouse and Don Steiner—bird house—Jack Skarritt—book ends—Don Steiner—broom holder—Eldon Rouse.

Every piece of handwork was so well done that the judges had a difficult time making decisions. The reed work and wood work was all very neatly done and the hammocks, which were large enough for an adult, were exceptionally well made out of Seine cord. The scrap-books, blotter holders, clay paper weights and colored cut-outs made by the little folk deserve mention, each piece was a work of art.

The attendance at the school this year would average about thirty and it is to be hoped that next year if Rev. Stevens and his wife and family are willing to devote their time to this work that more parents will avail themselves of this opportunity for their children and double the attendance. The classes are not long enough to tire even the smallest child as they convene at nine o'clock and dismiss at eleven thirty each morning, and there is something interesting going on each minute.

NOTED WOMAN TO SPEAK IN COUNTY

Will Address Political Rally at Pontiac, Aug. 24

Miss Harriet Elliott, dean of women at the University of North Carolina, who is campaigning for the re-election of President Roosevelt, will address a political rally on Monday evening, August 24, in the ball room of the Roosevelt Hotel in Pontiac. Mrs. Bennett W. Donaldson is in charge of arrangements.

Jolly and unusually well-informed, Miss Elliott makes the men sit up and listen to her. For twenty-one years she taught political science at the University of North Carolina where she is now dean of women. In her activities in economics and politics she has practiced what she preached. The first suffrage group in North Carolina was organized in 1913 through her efforts. She is a charter member of the League of Women Voters; and a former director of the Study Groups of the Women's Division of the Democratic National Committee. Through all these connections she has made her influence widely felt among women the country over, and has won countless audiences to her point of view.

She was one of fourteen members of the women's advisory platform committee and at the Democratic National Convention at Philadelphia she was elected alternate to the Platform and Resolutions Committee, and attended its sessions. Miss Elliott is a fervent advocate of peace, and a member of the National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War.

Brother and Sister Have First Meeting

Mrs. Mabelle Hazlip of Mississippi Visits Palmer Glover of Drayton Plains

Tuesday of last week is a day to be remembered as far as Palmer Glover of Drayton Plains is concerned. He met his sister, Mrs. Mabelle Hazlip of Glenn Allan, Miss. for the first time.

It seems that in 1895 the parents who lived in Strathroy, Ontario, separated and the children were scattered among relatives. Mrs. Glover, the mother, came to Deckerville, Mich., and it was here that Palmer Glover was born. In the meantime his sister, Mabelle, who was then ten years old went with her grandparents into the eastern states and from there on communication with the rest of her family was stopped. The boy, just an infant was taken by his mother back to Strathroy and given to his great grandparents who took care of him until their death when he was twelve years old. The boy was then, you might say, at the mercy of the community because he worked wherever farmers would give him food and a place to sleep. When he was fifteen he worked for a farmer who gave him ten dollars a month and when he was sixteen he had saved enough money to take him to Florida. He worked there for about a year and then returned to Canada for a short time. In 1918 he came to Pontiac and worked for a year but the wanderlust seemed to get the better of him and he went to the west coast where he did a good deal of shifting around before coming back to Michigan. Finally he settled in Michigan and married Mildred Hobson of Brown City and to this union there were three children. He and his family lived for some time near Clarkston, having been superintendent of the Remick place on M15 for quite a time and then they lived on the Lester place on Orion Road for a while. It was in 1926, while on the Lester place that his wife and two little girls died. He and his little son then shifted around a bit but still remained in Michigan. He then married Ellen Green of Hillsdale, Mich. and to this union there were two children, a boy and a girl. Four years ago he and his family settled in Drayton Plains. He is employed by the Pontiac Motor Co.

Several times Mr. Glover made efforts to locate his sister. He had in some way found out that she had married and was living in Glenn Allan, near Vicksburg, Miss. where her husband was in business but it was not until 1933 that he really contacted her. A week and a half ago he got word to meet her at the bus station at the Tuller hotel in Detroit but through some misunderstanding about the arrival of the bus they did not make connections and Mr. Glover returned to his home very disappointed. However in a few hours a taxi drove up to the house and brother and sister had a happy meeting. She said she believed she would have recognized him because he was the picture of their father.

Mrs. Hazlip only had a few days to stay so they made the best of the short visit and they went back to the old home town in Ontario and met relatives and friends of many years ago.

On Thursday morning Mrs. Hazlip left for her home in Glenn Allan after having one of the biggest thrills of her life.

In calling the roll Mr. Craft called from memory all the names of those who graduated during his tenure of office, and three responded. Mrs. Byron Beardslee, Mrs. Zoëa Grant and Mrs. William Pierce. Then the orchestra composed of Mary Louise, Paul and Richard Shaughnessy and Dan Addis with Margaret Shaughnessy at the piano played a stirring number. Mary Drake recited and receive loud applause. Miss Adele Gardner in her usual capable manner favored the assembly with a very pretty piano selection. Then another of Clarkston's popular musicians, Harold Konzen, played a violin solo. Then the crowd was delighted when Mrs. Craft gave two interesting and amusing readings. Both numbers were greatly appreciated. The Crafts were then presented with a beautiful basket of flowers by Mrs. Ray Ainsley and after another selection by the orchestra the program closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

The oldest guest was William Starving, age 84 years. He was a student of the Clarkston school. In these days when even the novice in philately is wise about tongs to handle his stamps, and very "choosy" about the kind of hinge he uses, it is interesting to read that the first stamp collector in France, one Auguste Mancini, who began dealing in stamps in 1853, displayed his wares by pinning them to sheets of paper. Customers unpinned, examined and replaced the stamp with utter indifference to pinholes.

RIGHT METHOD OF STACKING BEANS
 Will Result in Considerable Savings for Growers

Growers of beans in Michigan receive nothing for cull beans and in fact are docked for the labor charge in hand picking. Because many cull beans are the result of conditions prevailing during the first two weeks in September when beans are harvested and in the stack for curing, H. R. Pettigrove, assistant professor in farm crops at Michigan State College, has compiled a new bulletin, "Field Stacking for Michigan Beans," Special Bulletin No. 276, available within a few days by writing the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

"Pick is the term used by bean growers and shippers in this state to designate cull beans," says Pettigrove. "The term includes foreign material and all diseased, discolored and damaged beans. The average pick on Michigan beans from 1914 to 1934 was 8.16 per cent. Obviously pick is an important factor in bean prices and bean profits.

"A typical transaction shows why a reduction in pick is worthwhile to a grower. Take a price of $3 per hundredweight for choice hand picked beans. For eight pounds of culls there would be a reduction of three cents per pound because of loss in net weight, or a loss of 24 cents. There would be a cull picking charge of five cents per pound for labor, or another deduction of 40 cents. Subtracting 64 cents from the $3 quotation, the grower actually would receive but $2.36 for the hundredweight."

Weather conditions are not subject to human management but harvest practices are, says Pettigrove. The method used in the harvest can do much to overcome the disadvantage of unfavorable weather.

A full description with illustrations includes details of using the McNaughton system of stacking, which is one of the means which Pettigrove suggests for cutting the percentage of culls. The result would be better returns from the bean crop in which Michigan ranked first in quantity in 1935 in the nation.

For Homemakers

Prevalence of much eye strain and the need for wearing glasses is proof of the importance of the slogan "Better Light for Better Sight," suggests Miss Helen Noyes, extension specialist in home economics at Michigan State College.

"When you buy a lamp," Miss Noyes advises, "look for the tag which says 'Compliance with I.E.S. Specifications.' The letters stand for Illuminating Engineering Society, which makes a careful test of bulbs and shades to determine which give best results in the amount of light and the ease in the treatment of the eyes.

 "A coat of white paint on the inside of a dark lamp will do wonders for the eyes and incidentally will save you money by giving more light for the energy burned. A shade must give 75 per cent of the light from the bulb through the shade before it merits the I.E.S. tag."

The reflection of light is best from light colored walls and ceilings, which leads to the suggestion to keep all walls and ceilings light for economy in lighting and for better preservation of eyesight. By the use of bulbs from 100 to 150 watts and a reflecting bowl, according to Miss Noyes, the lamp with a light shade gives maximum light in a room that has light walls and ceiling. Sufficient light with no bulbs in sight is the recommendation of the I.E.S.

No longer does the modern homemaker shirr navy blue georgette over a rose silk foundation and sew heavy fringe on the bottom. If she knows proper illumination, says Miss Noyes, she may paint the dark shade white or look for new lamps which bear the seal of approval of the lighting society.

Pony Entrant

Little Walter Rix, 7, of 1143 West Six Mile Rd., Detroit, is the first to enter a pet in the Michigan State Fair pet show. He brought his pony, Ginger, to the Fair Grounds and said he would enter his pet if Ginger were given grazing privileges on the Fair Grounds. The request was granted. Ginger is here shown taking a lump of sugar from Miss Virginia Lyon. The Fair will be held this year Sept. 4 to 13 inclusive.

'Lost Cord Quartet,' Their Voices Restored by Science, Meet by Chance

The men pictured here are not smoking; they are conversing by means of artificial larynxes, through which science has restored to them the power of speech which they had lost as the result of operations. The four are E. L. Wolfe, Z. K. Greene, A. W. Kauffman and W. A. McMullen. Living in widely separated parts of the country, they were visiting in St. Petersburg, Fla., last winter, and were unknown to one another until a newspaper article brought them together. The artificial larynx was developed at the Bell Telephone Laboratories, and is made available by the Bell Telephone Companies, at cost, to persons thus afflicted.

Four men whose homes are in various parts of the country held an unusual meeting in St. Petersburg, Fla., last winter. E. L. Wolfe, Z. K. Greene, A. W. Kauffman, and W. A. McMullen by name, they were total strangers to each other, but they had one thing in common: the gift of speech, once seemingly lost forever, had been returned to them by science. That boon bound them together as no ordinary ties of acquaintance could ever do.

Each of the four had lost the power of speech through the removal of the vocal cords by surgical operation. Each had later learned of the artificial larynx, a device which substitutes a mechanical "voice box" for nature's larynx and enables the user, after some practice, to speak freely and understandably. All four men are now wholly dependent on their artificial larynxes for the ability to converse. The artificial larynx was developed at the Bell Telephone Laboratories, is manufactured by the Western Electric Company, and is made available to sufferers from such operations through the associated companies of the Bell Telephone System without profit, at the cost of manufacture. The meeting of these four men was brought about by an item in a St. Petersburg newspaper which described how Mr. Kauffman had lost his voice and then regained it. The other three saw the article and each went, independently, to see Mr. Kauffman. Thus was born this unusual friendship. The same newspaper article was instrumental in aiding a woman resident of St. Petersburg, who did not know of the artificial larynx, to discover that there was hope that she also might regain the power of speech.

How is this, Mr. Ripley?

CHEVROLET TRUCKS BREAK SALES RECORD

Further evidence that purchasing power is rising is seen in the announcement that Chevrolet truck sales are nearly 20,000 units higher, for 1936 to date, than they were in the same period of 1929, the previous truck record year.

The announcement was made by W. E. Fish, Chevrolet commercial car and truck manager, in a report to W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager. It showed that Chevrolet had delivered 140,271 trucks this year, up to the end of July, as against 120,355 in the same period in 1929. The improvement parallels gains made in passenger car sales, which are at the highest level in Chevrolet's entire history.

In the lower part of the stamp, separated by the date 1936 are pictures of a pony express and stream-lined train, while overhead is a transcontinental airplane. The lettering, "American Philatelic Society" and "Omaha" occupies the upper portion. Printed in red, blue, brown and purple, these label stamps are most attractive and will add to any collection. They will be available at dealers or may be obtained direct from the office of the Convention manager, Mr. R. R. ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Rauchle, who resides at 2018 Linwood avenue, Royal Oak, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff at the September primary.

A native of Philipsburg, Pa., he attended school and spent the first 23 years of his life there. At an early age he started in the building business with his father and later took a building engineering course. Coming to Detroit in 1912, he worked with the Cadillac Motor Car company for 12 years and received a silver and a gold medal for services. He was married in 1916 and purchased a home in Royal Oak at that time. He has four children and has resided at his present address for 11 years.

Mr. Rauchle has been employed at and has managed the Oakland County Cement Block Plant for 10 years, during which time he built the West Boulevard County Office Building and the County Cement Block and Storage Plants, most of this work being done with jail labor. The use of jail labor required that he be deputized by all sheriffs in recent years.

Mr. Rauchle is 47 years old and is a member of the Royal Oak Presbyterian Church.

"If elected to the office of sheriff," he said, "it is my intention to fully cooperate with the courts and State and county officials, for I realize that no service can be obtained without cooperation. Those who know me believe me to be courteous and considerate."

"I believe that every effort should be made in patrolling the highways to keep them as safe as humanly possible; that the office of sheriff was created to render service to the community under its jurisdiction. This I propose to do and I solicit the support of every honest, law-abiding citizen."

It is planned to make the first run of the Susan B. Anthony Stamp some time this week, probably the latter part, and elaborate ceremonies have been planned befitting the occasion. A representative of the Susan B. Anthony Memorial Committee is expected to be present and will give a talk bringing a message to the followers of this pioneer leader. The stamp is scheduled to go on sale August 26, in Washington, D. C.

No official date has been set for the appearance of the first of the Army and Navy series and photographs for the models have not yet been approved. If they are to appear this year, it will be necessary to issue two each month beginning with September.

Exposition Proving Meccato Traveling America

Visitors to the Great Lakes Exposition on Cleveland's lake front are enthusiastic about the way the original purpose of the Exposition—the demonstration of the industries which have made the prosperity of the Great Lakes Basin—has been carried out. It is a graphic picture of the reasons for the country's wealth.

These visitors to date have numbered nearly one million persons and each day the industrial and commercial exhibits are attracting increasing attention.

Iron and steel are recognized as the basis of the industry of the middle west, and the great producers of iron and steel have combined, in intensely interesting exhibits, to show not only the extent to which manufacturing processes have been carried but also to demonstrate in striking fashion the historical beginnings of the industry. From a graphic portrayal of the production and shipment of the ore, coal and limestone used in blast furnaces and steel mills to moving models of giant machines of manufacture, the exposition visitor is able to study the industry to a point where books could not take him.

There are also interesting exhibits of many articles of manufacture, from machine tools and steel house frames to office and household equipment. Various lines of food products are shown, and there are automobiles, farm tractors, heating and air conditioning units, printing presses and almost everything which helps to make up the equipment for modern living.

But the big exposition is not entirely a school, even though the lessons it teaches are of vital interest to the many thousands who pass through the grounds each day. The location, on the shores of Lake Erie,

King Henry the Eighth, a colorful character at the Shakespearean Globe Theatre at the Great Lakes Exposition, Cleveland, waves a greeting to his friends while walking in the theatre gardens.

...makes a perfect setting for a play-ground, and there have been provided many amusements including the marine theater with aquatic acts, a most unusual horticultural display, the Streets of the World with an unusually beautiful grouping of Old World architecture and displays, and a midway with many striking attractions. Over it all the Goodyear lightrails come and go, giving passengers a wonderful view of the grounds and the business section of Cleveland and lending their touch of the modern to the Exposition picture.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Long is a Republican candidate for reelection as State Representative from the Second District of Oakland County. He resides in Commerce Township and is a member of the Masons, Eastern Star, the board of trustees of the Commerce Methodist Church and a director of the Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club. He is married and has three children.

JOSEPH A. LONG

Regarding his candidacy, he says: "After receiving nearly 8,000 written communications relative to proposed legislation at the last session of the Legislature, I recognize the fact that people of today are keenly alive to State problems; many have helpful suggestions which I am always glad to receive, with the thought in mind that they may be written into or out of law, consequently improving conditions. All demand intelligent, sensible, workable laws.

"I am a farmer and working man and had, previous to my election to the Legislature, 15 years of experience as a township and a school officer. I have served seven years on the Board of Supervisors, during which time I served on many important committees. I believe this has placed me in a good position to intelligently represent my district.

"If reelected, among other things I stand for a civil service bill based on merit, increased old age pension allowances, adequate aid for schools, additions to State hospitals, unemployment insurance, divert part of sales tax money back to local municipalities, and adjust the delinquent tax problem.

"I oppose reducing non-resident hunting license fees to the same level as Michigan residents."

Tax-payers:

Michigan Real Estate is Worth Protecting.....
Make your 2nd payment on the 10-Year Plan before September 1, 1936.

MICHIGAN has made real progress in cleaning up its back tax problem. During last year's drive fifty-five millions of dollars in taxes for 1932 and prior years were put on a 10-year plan, by payment of the first part.

And remember: if you failed to place these taxes on the 10-year plan heretofore, you still may do so by paying the first two parts, together with 4% interest, and a small extra charge on the first payment.

Now the second payment becomes due.

You must meet this payment promptly in order to retain the fullest benefits you secured by putting your back taxes on the 10-year plan.

See your county treasurer immediately. Make your second payment, with interest of 4%. Your property should be a cherished possession. Protect it by keeping your tax record clear.

Note:

If You can pay now in full You will Save 8% to 36% in Future Interest Payments.

THOSE who are in a financial position to do so are urged to pay up the remaining portion of their back taxes now on the 10-year plan. For them there is a substantial saving, ranging from 8% on the third year's payment to 36% on the tenth year's installment. Pay now and save.

By Order of Augmented Administrative Board of State of Michigan
