week it has been proven that hatred this section. Charles Hutton, the difor others produces hatred. This week rector was well pleased with the ata number of members of a group, professing hatred for certain classes, were found guilty of killing a fellow human. It may do to say that the members did not really believe the group as a whole would go so far as to take a life but the facts are that the group did go that far and now they must pay. Hatred was cast upon the waters-

Virgin-Sutherland Rites Read Thursday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Virgin was the scene of a pretty event at three o'clock on Thursday afternoon when their daughter, Roberta N. became the bride of Kenneth G. Sutherland, son of Mr. and Luther B. Butt of Fenton Methodist Church performed the ceremony.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father was charming in a tea rose moire gown with jacket buttoned down the back and sleeves wide at the shoulders and pointed over the wrists. She wore a band of tiny rosebuds on her head and carried an arm bouquet of tea roses. Her only attendant, Miss Grace Mc-Vittie of Waterford wore an aquamarine gown with sweeping skirt and tight-fitting jacket with peplum. She carried an arm bouquet of roses and garden flowers.

Mr. Sutherland's brother, Edward Sutherland acted as best man.

After the reception which followed the ceremony the forty guests were seated at small tables and light refreshments were served. The bride's table was prettily decorated with flowers, candles and a three layer bride's cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland left on a trip through a part of Canada and on their return they will reside in Rochester.

Young Group Enjoys Picnic

Last Tuesday evening several of the young ladies from this community had a good time at a picnic at Cranberry lake. They left town about 4:30 and drove to the picnic grounds where they built a camp-fire and enjoyed roasting weiners and marshmallows and of course had everything that is tasty in a picnic lunch.

While around the camp-fire the girls sang many of the new songs and also many of the familiar oldtimers which always seem so appropriate for such an occasion. Several row-boats were put into use and as it was an exceptionally clear night the girls enjoyed the moonlight on Cranberry Lake.

A few of the girls had to leave for home a little early and among them was the chauffeur for the crowd. However this fact did not disturb the rest of the group because they enjoyed the hike back to town about

The group included, Genévieve Beardslee, Shirley Douglas, Mildred Butters, Louise Gulick, Josephine Caswell, Violet Coy, June Dunston, Angeline Macora, Laura Robinson, Eleanor Baynes, Marion Yost and Doris Morgan.

OFFERING SHORT COURSES AT M. S. C.

Instruction to Be Given in Many Phases of Farming

Opportunities continue to knock at the door for Michigan's farm boys and girls even if they do not have complete college courses in their education, asserts Ralph W. Tenny, short course director at Michigan State College. He announces the opening Oct. 26 of the Michigan State College schedule for 1936-1937 in short courses, special courses and conferences.

Owners of farms seek farm managers, dairy and creamery operators seek specially trained and farm bred youths, certified seed growers, fruit growers and poultrymen continue to demand trained help. More than sixteen thousand have been enrolled in short course work at the college since the first one was started in 1894.

The catalog for the 42nd year, containing announcements and descriptions of the 35 short courses special courses, and conferences to be held this year, has just been printed and a copy may be obtained from the Short Course Office, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Credits obtained by students attending courses of six weeks or longer may be evaluated and applied on regular collegiate courses, Tenny says. These courses include instruction in general agriculture, various phases of dairy work, poultry, agricultural engineering, floriculture, home econom. Refreshments will be served. ics, golf course management, forestry and wildlife conservation. The last course is being offered for the first time this year.

The two-year course in general ag-riculture will start Oct. 26. A twoday special course in muck soil manment, Nov. 30-Dec. 18.

LAYING TRAP FOR

POULTRY THIEVES

Among many good measures recently taken by the Michigan State

Poultry Improvement Association to assist poultry growers, perhaps none is more timely than the campaign to end losses from theft. While the toll from this source is less in some counties than in others, yet the annual toll from this state is tremendous and in some counties, Oakland included, the future of poultry is threatened.

Most of the thefts are perpetrated by large scale operators, who work with trucks and gangs of men, sometimes brand being applied with a simple instrument furnished each poultry-man. Each farmer has his own distinctive brand, which is then registered with local, state and county police authorities. The branding remains legible until the birds are disposed of. In case of theft the loss is reported to the police, who make a careful search of all markets where the birds might be offered for sale.

The idea is similar to the branding and protection of cattle on the west-pushed rapidly by organizers who are a time. The cost is nominal and less than the value of half a dozen fowls.

There is no expense after the initial investment for the tattooing outfit.

Each poultryman who joins the plan becomes a member of, the Michigan tion and is entitled to participate in all the work which that organization is doing for the poultry industry.

The Michigan State Poultry Improvement Association is sponsoring a worthwhile enterprise. It is represented by a national reputable concern, the National Tattooing and Registering Association which is registering the brands not only in this state but in other states. This is important as stolen poultry is often sold outside of the state. Be safe; tattoo your birds, have your brand registered and report all thefts

Remember Your Home Newspaper

All matters handled thru the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.

Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.

We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper week by week.
