COMMENT AND CRITICISM

Now is the time for all good men (and women) to come to the aid of their party. I have often written the above to try out a new typewriter ribbon. Today marks the first attempt to use it in a factual statement on an election. Perhaps we might go further and say that Tuesday is the day to express your opinion as to whether you are satisfied with the performance of the present public office holders or desire a change. Much has been said this year on all issues. Much will be said in the next few days. As the popular speaker would say "The heat is on." We believe that the sane voter knew last spring how he or she would vote on many issues. However the final bombast is to properly instruct the undecided. The United States as a nation has experienced some lean years. To some extent it has been a case of every man for himself. To every voter including Mr. Average Citizen who is thinking of himself the News (Independent) urges that everyone who can vote—Will Vote. While the writer may have his own thoughts, we realize that there are two sides to every question, so we urge you to vote, not our way but as you wish, providing you have some reason for voting. If you are undecided, or do not know of the candidates or issues, stay at home, and do not spoil the results of those citizens who are trying to think and are trying to decide the issues squarely and fairly.

Tomorrow is the one day of the year that goblins and ghosts or their representatives take possession of our fair domain. We doubt that innocent fun will be denied the representatives, by anyone, but any idea of just downright spite and meanness will not be tolerated. Officer Kimball will be here, there and everywhere to protect property—so have a good time—BUT WATCH YOURSELF AND YOUR ACTIONS.

Child Study Club Joins State Assoc.

Mrs. James Bennett Is Hostess Thursday

The Child Study Club met Thursday evening, Oct. 22nd at the home of Mrs. James Bennett. Eight members responded to Roll Call with "Short Quotations from a Favorite Author". Three guests, Mrs. Lionel Waterbury and Mrs. Clarence Drake of Clarkston and Mrs. Norris of Detroit were present. Mrs. Irving Ronk was elected to fill the vacancy for vice president. Plans for Christmas activities were discussed so they may be under way as soon as possible. At a special meeting held Oct. 13th at the home of Mrs. Fuller it was voted to join the State Association. A convention is being held in Ann Arbor Oct. 28-30 and several members plan to attend on Thursday, Oct. 29th. Mrs. William Shotka gave an interesting paper on "Books for the Pre-school and Elementary Child", and had several copies of good books for the members to examine and compare with other types of children's literature. The lesson in parliamentary procedure on "Obtaining the Floor" was discussed briefly by Mrs. Fred Kennedy. After the meeting a dainty lunch was served with Mrs. Waterbury assisting the hostess. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 6th at the home of Mrs. Edward Fuller.

Hilltopper

Mock Election

Just so all of us future voters can blow off a little of our political steam and we have plenty, and so that we will learn to form the habits of a good citizen, we are going to have a mock election at school. All students in the 7th to 12th grades are automatically registered and may vote in this election. The Senior Civics class will have charge.

Senior Play

"Miss Jimmy" a three act farce by Jean Provence, has been selected by the seniors as this year's play. The play takes place at the Brier Mountain College for Women in the East. The cast follows: Louise Gulick—Louise, the typical college girl. Hilda Barnett—Florence, who really sounds tough but isn't. (Concluded on page three)

Epworth League Has Box Social

Proceeds Clear League Debt

Last Friday evening the Epworth League of the Clarkston Methodist Church held a box social at the church.

Shortly after seven o'clock the young people started to arrive in all kinds of costumes including gypsies, sun-bonnet maidens, girls who turned out to be boys and boys who turned out to be girls. The last arrival was an old hunchback begging alms, hobbling along with the aid of a stick and wearing dark glasses and a sign on the front of his coat asking to "Help the Poor".

Many appropriate games were played before one of the big events of the evening was started. Then a scavenger hunt got underway. The crowd was divided into 8 groups each with 8 articles to secure in a limited time. These lists of articles included shaving soap, moustache mugs, china eggs, thanksgiving turkeys, and what not. The two groups getting back to the church first with their articles got the prizes. One group got all-day suckers, one for each member and the other group got a large sack of peanuts. After everyone was safely back to the church a story-teller in each group told the tall stories of how each article was secured. This caused much merriment.

The next big event on the program was the auctioning of the splendid array of boxes of various hues, shapes and sizes. The very clever personage, Durward Ash, made an excellent auctioneer and some of the boys who wanted certain boxes had to pay as high $1.10 for their box. The league served cocoa which was enjoyed with the lunches.

As the church had to be in order for the next Sunday it was agreed that the cleaning up would be done before anyone left, so while the girls washed the dishes the boys formed a clean-up squad and made short work of the decorations which consisted of cornstalks, scattered leaves, orange and black paper, skeletons and many weird creatures.

This party proved to be the most successful that the League has sponsored in recent years. The purpose of this party was to clear the League debt which was met very adequately with the $17.00 that the young people made on this affair.

The League is planning more such parties—so be on the lookout and be ready to enjoy an evening of real fun with these peppy young people.

Annual Roll Call Is in Progress

Mrs. Durand Ogden is in Charge in Clarkston and Mrs. William Fielding in Independence Twp.

The annual Red Cross Roll Call for membership is in progress this week. "The usual time for the Roll Call has been from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day," said Rev. Charles W. Heath, Chairman of the Oakland County Chapter. In this county the Board of Directors, representing all townships and cities in this county, decided at their September meeting to have their Roll Call during October because many of the workers find it much more comfortable then and have greater success in seeing those who will join before the weather becomes such that it makes driving difficult.

In Clarkston Mrs. Durand Ogden is taking charge of the enrollment of members and in Independence Township, Mrs. William Fielding is taking charge of the enrollment.

The Oakland County Chapter during the past year has conducted the regular service which has been done for many years, that is, giving service on claims to all ex-service men; qualifying Junior and Senior for Life Saving and assisting examinees to become qualified so that they may pass those who desire Life Saving Emblems; approximately 5,000 children have been enrolled in Junior Red Cross; and in about twenty communities instruction has been given by a registered nurse in classes of Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. The new project for the last few months has been the establishing of two First Aid Stations on the Dixie Highway. One at Waterford and one at the intersection of the Dixie and Grange Hall Roads. These stations have at least two attendants who have passed the Red Cross First Aid Course and the Red Cross Chapter supplies such supplies as splints, stretchers, bandages, etc., so that those who are injured near these spots can have First Aid Treatment in a short time. At the station there is a list of nearby ambulances, physicians and hospitals so that they can be reached on a very short notice. The station at Waterford has assisted victims of three accidents, one which occurred on Labor Day was a very serious one in which two people were killed.

Mr. Virgil Myers, Chairman of the Committee of First Aid Stations on the Highway said, "More than 1100 road-side stations have been established in 45 states. It is our endeavor", Mr. Myers said, "to eliminate the phrase 'helpless bystander' when accidents are referred to. To do this we are trying to train enough citizens and especially those whose business keeps them close to the highways, so that we can have a first aider near the scene of these motor accidents."

The Oakland County Chapter is asking for 9,000 members in this county. This money is needed to carry on the work and to meet the increased demands for the various activities in this county and to send to the National Red Cross the portion of membership, which is 50c for each membership. Last year the National American Red Cross assisted in 105 disasters in 39 states. Only at the time of the terrible floods in the East and the Tornadoes in the South did they need to ask for funds from the public. The sum of eight billion dollars was spent to give relief and rehabilitation to those who lost their homes and business through the floods and tornadoes.

Don't Wreck Democracy!

The real estate tax and the sales tax are the chief revenues, respectively, for local and state government in Michigan. Proposals Three and Four of the state constitution amendments to be voted upon November 3 would destroy or cripple these revenues. Proposal Three would exempt the sales tax on certain foods and thus take away at least $12,000,000 of state school aid, old age pensions, and welfare funds. Proposal Four would exempt real and personal property from almost all taxation and thus wipe out nearly all revenues for local support of government and schools, a loss of approximately $127,000,000 annually.

Foreign Imports Raise Living Costs

Alien Products Flood America; Our Markets Gone

The loss of export business by American farmers under the agricultural program of the new deal, directed by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, and the tremendous rise in imports is costing the American public millions daily.

In Michigan the cost of staple foods has increased 36 percent since January, 1934, and the end is not in sight. The American farmer gets very little of this increased price; his place has been taken by the foreign importer of agricultural products.

To mention but a few items: cattle imported in 1933 numbered 65,000; in 1935, 365,000. Imports of hogs by the pound for 1933 was 3,000; for 1935, 3,414,000. Imports of butter for the pound for 1933 was 899,000; for 1935, 115,059,000. Imports of corn (grain) by the bushel for 1933 was 160,000; for 1935, 43,242,000. Imports of oats (grain) by the bushel for 1933 was 132,000; for 1935, 10,107,000.

The same tragic story goes on and on. The whole program seems an insane dream when its results are traced from beginning to end. American taxpayers pay and pay to reimburse the farmer for his decreased production of crops or slaughter of livestock. Then more American money goes abroad in payment for imports of the very crops and meat that are made scarce over here.

We have exchanged foreign products for the fruit of the finest farming land in the world.

The facts are that the inundation of the American market started long before the effects of the drought were ever felt. The drought only made the whole plan look more ridiculous. This economy of scarcity has forced the American wage earner to dig down in his pockets to pay for imported products while the farmer has been forced into acceptance of federal charity.

Mr. Roosevelt once said that he would try one thing and if it did not work he would try another. You can only try jumping off a cliff once. He also said, "Don't let them tell you anything different. We planned it that way." If he planned his agricultural program that way he comes close to being guilty of a charge of criminal mismanagement.

Since the new deal dumped him out of their devised Democratic party the words of Thomas Jefferson have become unfashionable, but it will do no harm to repeat that he once wrote, "Were we directed from Washington when to sow and when to reap, we should soon want bread."

Thomas Jefferson was wrong. We do not want for bread, although Washington does direct when, where, and what to sow and what not to reap. But Jefferson never contemplated the importing of wheat grain (39,000,000 bushels in 1935) into the greatest wheat growing nation in the world. It took a 1932 new dealer to improve on Jefferson.

We are so used to the flights of fancy of Roosevelt and those surrounding him that nothing can surprise us anymore. But can anyone imagine Governor Alfred M. Landon proposing any such "cockeyed" agricultural program as this?

WHATEVER HAPPENS WALLACE CAN'T LOSE

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is president of the Hi-Bred Corn company of Des Moines, Ia. This company advertises seed corn which will increase the yield of corn per acre by 11 bushels, or more than 25 percent. Secretary Wallace pays the farmer for plowing under 25 percent of his corn. The farmer can take some of this money and buy some of Secretary Wallace's seed corn. If this seed corn does what Secretary Wallace claims, it will increase the yield of his remaining acreage by as much as would have been grown on the land plowed under. The racket is that Secretary Wallace profits by the sale of the seed corn and the farmer grows more corn on three fourths of his land than on his whole farm.

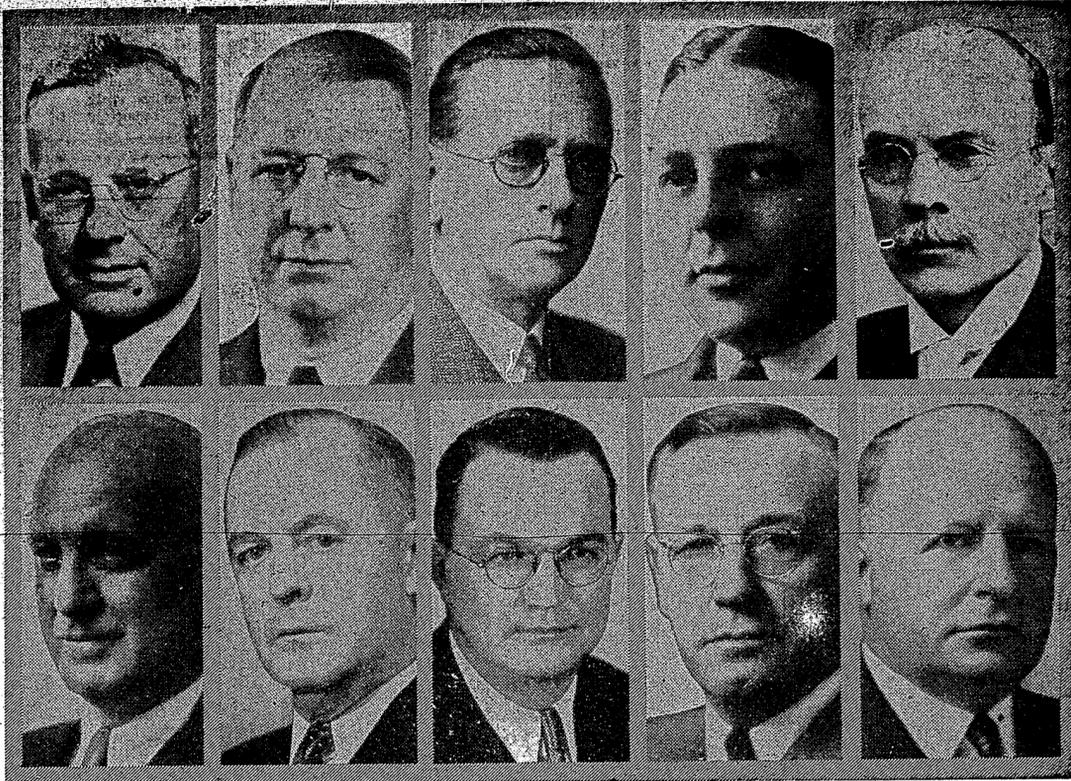

IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE—OR CAN IT?

What happens under a dictatorship is shown in the following paragraph printed in the Detroit Free Press of October 22, 1936.

REGENSBURG, Germany, Oct. 21.—A local innkeeper was arrested here tonight for turning off his radio in the lobby during one of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's speeches. He is formally charged with "infraction of the law on hypocritical attacks against the state."

America's railroads are the only steam lines in the world which charge less than a penny, 0.978 cents, to transport an average ton of freight a mile.

Social Security Act in a Nutshell

The Act Provides:

Beginning January 1st, 1937, a tax of 1 percent shall be deducted from the pay check of everyone earning up to and including $3,000 per year ($7.69 per week).

By 1949 the tax rate shall have reached 3 percent and will remain at that figure thereafter.

The tax will be taken out of the worker's paycheck by his employer. The employer will pay a like sum as a tax.

The tax money will be used to provide a fund for old age pensions for those who come under the act when they reach the age of 65.

Twenty-six million workers, about half the nation's total, will come under the act.

The act provides for unemployment insurance, but this feature does not become operative until passed by state legislatures whereupon the state may add its tax onto the federal tax.

Maximum pension under the act is $85 per month. To earn this a worker would have to make $3,000 per year for 43 consecutive years. Average pension will be less than $35.

Major Faults:

1—Similar pension benefits may be obtained from any life insurance company at rates 40 percent less than the federal tax rate.

2—The act does not provide for any legal claims to benefits. The workers' money goes into the general fund and may be spent for any purpose the congress may choose. There is no guarantee that the pensions will ever be paid.

3—The tax will take away from the small salaried worker an amount about equal to what he would put into a savings account, over which he has complete control. It equals the money he spends for life insurance.

Other Faults

1—Worker must cease working in order to draw a pension he has paid for.

2—Young workers must pay not only for their own pensions but must assist in accumulating a pension to take care of the present aged who will be eligible for pensions by 1942.

3—Workers will receive a number and be identified by that number from then on through their lives.

4—It is estimated that only about 30 percent will ever live to receive the benefits they have paid for.

5—Employers' pay rolls will become public property for the use of his competitors.

6—WPA workers, and other federal relief workers are exempt from the provisions of the act. Many of this class would need pensions the most.

7—Today 40 states have old age pensions that pay aged about $60 per month without any contribution from them. This act will force the worker to pay from January 1st, 1937 until he reaches 65 and then the average pension will be less than $35.

8—Employers will pass on the tax to the consumer. Thus the worker will really be paying out 6 percent of his wage for a less than 3 percent pension.

WHAT THE REAL DEMOCRATS SAY

Senator Byrd of Virginia: "The AAA is Hitlerism in America."

Senator Champ Clark of Missouri: "Today the people of the United States are struggling under the most tremendous load of taxation the nation has ever seen."

John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for President in 1924: "Surely the idea that nothing can go well unless government has a hand in it is one of the most insane delusions that has ever vexed the minds of man."

Senator Tydings of Maryland: "Mr. Roosevelt is deliberately inciting the hatred of one part of the people against another."

Senator Glass of Virginia: "The new deal, taken all in all, is not only a mistake; it is a disgrace to the nation, and the time is not far distant when we shall be ashamed of having wandered so far from the dictates of common sense and common honesty."

WHAT LANDON SAYS OF SECURITY ACT

"Because of my firm belief in the justice, necessity, and feasibility of old age pensions, I am going to discuss the present act with the utmost frankness. It is a glaring example of the bungling and waste that have characterized this administration's attempts to fulfill its benevolent purposes. It endangers the whole cause of social security in this country. In my own judgment—and I have examined it most carefully—this law is unjust, unworkable, stupidly drafted, and wastefully financed."

CAMPAIGN CLOSES TUESDAY, NOV. 3

Three More Days to Decide How You Will Vote

Next Tuesday is election day. The polls in Independence will be held in the Town Hall and will open at 8 o'clock a. m., and close at 8 o'clock p. m., with no intermission at noon. Voters are advised to cast their ballots as early as possible to avoid the rush of the later hours. There will be two precincts, as usual, with voting booths at each end of the hall.

With nine tickets on the ballot and four constitutional amendments to be voted for, the election boards will have nearly or quite an all-night job counting the votes. It probably will be past midnight before any definite information as to the trend of the voting will be available.

Although the campaign has been generally an active one, here it has been unusually quiet. Nevertheless there is a general belief that a record vote will be cast. Inclement weather is predicted by the weather authorities.

9—A small army of federal investigators and clerks will be needed to keep track of the 26,000,000 workers who come under its provisions.

Social Security Act Aids G. O. P.; Cite Digest Poll

A sweeping Republican victory, from top to bottom of the ticket, was confidently predicted by state leaders today as the Michigan swing to Landon gathered the momentum of a landslide.

Heretofore cautious in their statements with regard to the entire ticket Republican tacticians today stated that the definite turn to Landon that they had been waiting for was now in full swing. They have never had any doubts about the state ticket.

The break that they say will mean the carrying of the state for Landon is the awakening of the industrial worker to the full consequences of the social security act, a Roosevelt piece of legislation soundly criticized by Landon.

"The Roosevelt administration has finally taken off the Santa Claus costume it has been wearing to fool the worker," was the view of Howard C. Lawrence, state committee chairman, "and the worker is turning toward Landon; a man who refuses even in the heat of the campaign to promise them anything he cannot deliver."

It is the opinion of Lawrence and other state leaders that the social security act has let the Roosevelt cat out of the bag. Arguments used in attempting to convince the industrial worker, whose lot has improved since 1932, that he will have to pay twice over for whatever benefits he is getting now, have been of little avail. But when faced with the realization that his weekly wage is to be sliced, whether he likes it or not, the Michigan worker begins to think for the first time that maybe there is some hitch to the Roosevelt spending.

Roosevelt, Republicans point out, has used up every source of federal revenue he could find in order to pay out more billions to insure his election. He has loaded the banks with government bonds, attempted corporation surplus taxes, increased and added taxes wherever the traffic would bear it, and now is going into the paychecks of 26,000,000 American workers to accumulate a huge fund for more spending. The worker will not stand for it. He feels that something is being put over on him and when told that Landon was the first man in the nation to bring the inequities of the act to the public's attention he begins to regard the Republican candidate in a different light.

In Michigan, particularly, the awakening of the worker is causing a devastating slump in Democratic areas. Democratic leaders realize the danger of the act and recently started defending the theory of the act while going very softly on its actual provisions. As a matter of fact, they resent the act as much if not more than the worker; they realize that as honest, truthful, factual campaign material it is a gift to the Republican party.

They have been unable to state with any truth that Landon is attacking the act because he is (against) providing for the old age of workers and for insuring their jobs. Landon made it very plain in his Milwaukee speech that he was against the act because its provisions did enormous harm to the whole program of social security—and authorities who have been promoting such legislation for decades agree with him.

While the social security act alone warrants these leaders in awarding the state to Landon, they have powerful confirmation for their belief in the results of the Literary Digest poll. This is the one poll in America that it is agreed is impartial and accurate. The poll has shown Michigan in Landon's column ever since its first returns. Democrats early adopted the attitude that when the Detroit votes poured into the magazine the results would change. They still have the attitude and the poll is still unchanged.

"Democrats say that Wayne county will whip the rest of the state," Lawrence said, "but that will never happen. In the first place it could not happen even if we awarded them the majority there that they boast of. In the second place, they are in for a surprise in Wayne county. There were enough Republicans left in that county in 1932 to give Hoover 212,000 votes. We have recovered our normal Republican vote there in the past four years and with the present Landon swing we are making inroads into the Democratic vote. Roosevelt couldn't fool all of the people all of the time either, although he certainly used every known method in attempting it."

Other factors that have convinced the Republican leaders that victory is theirs are the excellent administration of state affairs that Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald has given to Michigan and the obvious reaction in favor of the whole ticket; the fact that the prohibition issue is dead and buried by common consent; the knowledge that Michigan is a Republican state and showed that it was on the way back from the 1932 debacle by the Republican 1934 victories; and the fact that the state's newspapers, Democratic in 1932, are solidly for Landon.

HOLLY THEATRE

The awakening of China's teeming millions to battle against age-old oppression is the basis of a thrilling romance of intrigue and adventure, "The General Died at Dawn", which appears Nov. 1-2 at the Holly Theatre.

With Gary Cooper as a dashing soldier-of-fortune who links his fate with the oppressed, and with beautiful Madeleine Carroll as the woman whose charms are used by a scheming war-lord to destroy him, "The General Died at Dawn" was based on factual background.

Enmeshed in the web she hepled to prepare, Miss Carroll finds her admiration for her victim blooming into love. She offers her life in return for his freedom. But their destinies are worked out as they could be only in the modern, war-torn Orient.

"Stage Struck", heralded by First National as the gayest and snappiest of all its long list of musical comedy hits, comes to the Holly Theatre beginning next Tuesday.

There is an all star cast, which includes Dick Powell, Joan Blondell, Warren William, Frank McHugh, Jeanne Madden, and the four Yacht Club Boys besides a large number of supporting principals and hundreds of extras.

In addition to three spectacular chorus numbers, there is still another in which Powell sings "Fancy Meeting You" to his lady love, Miss Madden, in the New York Aquarium with all the piscatorial aggregation as listeners. This catchy song as well as another, "In Your Own Quiet Way" sung by Powell and Miss Madden together, were written specially for the production.

Joan Blondell plays the role of the actress, who has gained notoriety and riches through many marriages and the shooting of her latest mate.

SAFETY PLAN FOR WINTER DRIVING

State Adopts Measure to Remove Peril of Icy Roads

Special safety measures to be included in the winter highway maintenance program were announced this week by the state highway department.

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner said that metal containers filled with sand would be placed at hills and curves on trunkline highways for emergency use by truck drivers and other motorists. He will ask assistant district engineers in the field to indicate the number required in each county. He estimated that the number of containers would exceed 800.

"Our regular winter maintenance program calls for applying sand on all sections of the highways during slippery weather," said Commissioner Van Wagoner. "We can not, however, apply sand over the whole trunkline system at once, and emergencies are bound to arise. This will be especially true of trucks which travel almost constantly and occasionally are caught in an ice storm.

"By assisting truckers to keep their vehicles in motion we are making the roads safer for all types of traffic. Of course these same facilities will be available for other motorists who may need them."

The containers to be used are 50-gallon metal drums. Maintenance crews will check the containers to keep them well stocked with sand. Calcium chloride will be mixed with the sand to keep it from freezing and to make it stick to the ice. The container will be painted the standard orange color used on all highway equipment.

CHEVROLET DEALERS MAKE GOOD RECORD

"Chevrolet dealers were never in a better position at the end of a model year than at present," said W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company this week as he examined sales totals and dealer stocks of cars on hand in a final check-up before the 1937 models are announced in early November.

Actual sales during the last 12 months have totaled 1,142,482 new cars and 1,974,593 used cars.

"The used car stocks of dealers will be reduced to approximately half the normal total that an operation as large as Chevrolet's carries prior to display of new models," continued Mr. Holler. "Our dealers will have less than one 1936 model on hand per dealer. They have made the most complete 'clean-up' of both new and used cars in the history of the company. I believe it is a record for the industry."

"Last year at show time the Chevrolet organization said it would sell 1,000,000 of the 1936 models and 1,800,000 used cars. At the recent meeting of 1,000 members of the field force in Detroit a quota of 1,200,000 was announced for 1937.

"One of our greatest aids in establishing records every month this year has been the intelligent use of newspaper advertisements in more than 6,000 papers of the country," said Mr. Holler. "In the sale of new cars it was our main reliance; in the used car record, newspaper may claim a great share for the advertisements Chevrolet ran in May and June, sold nearly half a million used cars and helped us avoid a serious increase in stocks during the fast selling season."

For Homemakers

Good weather for ducks in the fall of the year usually means that families which resort to popcorn for fire-side gatherings are about ready to open the season for cider, crisp apples and popcorn and it's usually about the time that Halloween approaches.

High prices for popcorn this fall and unfavorable weather for a good home grown supply point one the necessity of better care in harvesting and storing, according to J. R. Duncan of the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

Years spent in the study of popcorn growing and use have given

Duncan many points of information about the crop. In harvesting, the popcorn must be allowed to mature thoroughly on the stalk. Immature ears are high in moisture and may not only spoil but spread mold spores to the more mature ears with which they come in contact.

Corn should be dead to the third joint below the tassel if it is to be cut and shocked. If husked from the hill, the stalk should be entirely brown and dead before separating the ear from the stalk.

Most important to those who handle the popper, whether that person is the grower or a city buyer, is the moisture content. Fourteen per cent is considered best.

Too little moisture, says Duncan, causes corn to pop quickly and feebly. Sprinkle with a little water three to four days before using, or hang in a bag where moisture can be absorbed from the air. Too little moisture causes popcorn to steam and then scorch with little popping. The corn should be placed in a moderately warm dry place where the temperature is between 60 to 70 degrees.

Keego Defeats Clarkston 7-0

For the second time in the history of Clarkston football Keego was victorious.

For the first time this year the Clarkston boys played together and put up a hard battle against an experienced Keego squad.

Blocking, tackling and line plays are greatly improved but passing and punting still show weaknesses.

Line-up

- L. E.—C. Russell. L. T.—A. Clark. L. G.—R. Tee. C.—H. Boyens. R. G.—W. Rexford. R. T.—E. Irish. R. E.—W. Denton.

Q. B.—K. Waiman. L. H.—P. Secord. R. H.—R. Yost. F. B.—G. Dupee. Substitutions: Lawson, Bird, McIntyre, Walker, Newman, Weston.

Secord kicked off to Keego's five yard line and Yost brought the runner down on the ten. When Clarkston gained the ball they slashed off tackle for three first downs and about thirty-five yards; Yost, Secord, and Dupee carrying the ball. But with first and ten on Keego's twenty Clarkston failed to score because of a bad pass from center.

In the second quarter Keego passed for a touchdown over Waiman's head and scored the point on an end run.

Clarkston chose to receive and McIntyre, behind beautiful blocking, ran the ball back forty yards to Keego's forty. Play continued around midfield until the half.

Secord again kicked off and Yost and Russell brought the runner down on the thirty. Again play continued about midfield and then Yost passed to Russell for a first down on Keego's twenty. Clarkston again failed to score.

In the fourth quarter Clarkston got the ball on their own twenty where three passes failed and a few minutes later Clarkston got the ball on Keego's thirty. A pass by Newman failed then Dupee passed to Walker for a first down ending the game. The game was mostly featured by bad breaks and hard fighting by Clarkston.

Jackie Tee won the spelldown in the Fourth Grade on Friday and Wilber Adams in the Fifth Grade.

The Fourth Grade made Hallowe'en masks with colored crayons and manila paper. The Fifth Grade made free-hand cuttings of masks out of colored construction paper. The children have very good imaginations; some of the masks are exceedingly weird.

The boys and girls are looking forward to a Hallowe'en party in the Lunch Room, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Rockwell's Room

The children of Second and Third Grades are preparing their room for Hallowe'en. The pupils are learning songs and Hallowe'en poems.

Pupils of the Third Grade who won credits in the spelldown on Friday, Oct. 23, are:

- Shirley Terry. James Waterbury. Jack Taylor. Joyce Lawson. Gordon Hemingway. Frederick Dalton.

The Second Grade has begun to read in their Elson Readers and are enjoying the stories very much.

Miss Elizings's Room. The children of the Sixth Grade are decorating the Music Room for their Hallowe'en Party on Friday, Oct. 30.

From the Class Rooms

Mrs. Durand: The Public Speaking Class is working on enunciation and finding that they didn't know how poorly they had been enunciating some of their common words. Some of the words which tied up many tongues were "authoritatively" (just try and see if you can enunciate the "ta" clearly), "citizenship" (when you pronounce it does the "t" sound as "d"?), "government" (can you make the "n" before the "m" heard?), "incomparably" (where did you put the accent?) (can you hear the second "a"?), "zoology" (when you pronounce it does the word start with a "zoo" or "zo"?)

Mrs. Walter: The American History Class is making cartoons, these are the first that the eighth graders have ever made and they think it great fun.

The American Lit. class is studying Washington Irving and is writing character sketches after the manner of his Peter Stuyvesant. Mrs. Walter says she is very pleased with many of them. The Lit. class is now beginning the section on William Cullen Bryant.

Mrs. Strait: The Home Economics class—nine and ten—is still working on breakfasts and this time it is on the setting of the breakfast table for a family breakfast. The class divided up into groups and set different types of breakfast tables and planned a breakfast to go with them.

The Home Economics class—eleven and twelve—is collecting articles of clothing throughout the class and is planning different outfits, such as: sports outfits (for tennis and golf), spectator sports outfits, (these would be for football games), school costumes, party costumes, and many other costumes.

FLASH: The Juniors have selected their class rings.

Gossip. At the League party, how did it happen? Bill got Genevieve's box, John, Betty's; Duane, Mildred's; Chuck, Marie's; King, Evelyn's, etc!!

Are the old haunts calling Duane back to school, or could it be Mildred?

Did you know that the word "Sophomore" originated from the Greek word "Sophos" which meant a kind of philosopher, who by use of tricky language, made the people think he was smarter than he really was?

Why all the long faces on the Seniors? Can it be because they didn't get a part in the play? It's a good thing the pictures were taken before the cast was announced.

What sophomore girl has managed to go steady a whole week? We wonder!

What Junior takes a walk every night in order to meet a subdivision girl?

We hope the pairing off at the scavenger hunt doesn't produce any new cases—it's all we can do to keep up now!

Music

Girl's Glee Club

The Girl's Glee Club have begun practicing three new songs: "Amaryllis" by Edmund Parlow, "The Cuckoo Clock" by Grant Schaefer, and "I Passed by Your Window" by Brake Lucas.

Sixth Grade

The Sixth Grade pupils are learning to sing the four stanzas of "America" from memory. We are also learning to sing some well-known songs, such as "Dixie", "Sailing", and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia", in two-part harmony. Our theory work in music consists of the study of notes and syllables, their time-values and the key signatures.

Orchestra

The Clarkston High School Orchestra made its first public appearance of the year at the first P. T. A. meeting. They played many beautiful selections but they were greatly surprised when only a few applauded their work. Perhaps this was due to the fact that the people were anticipating the next part on the program. However, they would appreciate your applause as it gives us encouragement.

The students of the school are giving their best efforts toward making every social entertainment enjoyable, and so if a little more applause was given them it would show that the people enjoy it. The next time the orchestra plays it wouldn't hurt the members' feelings a bit if it was so loud and long that it even shook the foundations of the school.

Before Amelia Earhart was introduced the Pontiac Women's Chorus rendered several beautiful numbers and of course those in attendance from Clarkston were very much interested and enjoyed every selection.
