COMMENT AND CRITICISM

Now let's think about Christmas.

Clarkston High School is going to have a real Basket Ball Team and one that is supported by the home folk. Their schedule is printed in the school news this week and tickets for all home games (at reduced prices) are now on sale.

The first snow (by that we mean the one that makes for dangerous driving) has arrived. Naturally all one can do is drive just a little more carefully.

This brisk weather should take the rust off the coal shovel.

But getting back to Christmas! Local stores are prepared to take care of your shopping needs and now are displaying their Christmas stock for your approval.

Somehow just a few T-B seals on your Christmas packages, show a little thoughtfulness and a little reminder on your part that there are those more unfortunate and that you are remembering them.

Two sure things are bound to happen and you cannot escape Death and taxes. And while you may postpone the first . . . better start preparing the check book for the second. How's that for a Christmas thought.

There is a job open for someone in Clarkston. Bids are desired for carrying mail to and from the depot to the post office. Final day is Friday the 27th. If interested get application from the postmistress.

HOLLY THEATRE

Two of the foremost stars of the silver screen, Marion Davies and Clark Gable, are brought together in "Cain and Mabel", a Cosmopolitan production replete with popular music, comedy, romance, spectacular feature numbers and the slashing action of the fight arena, which will have its local premiere at the Holly Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

Besides the glittering background of the theatre, with its beautiful pageantry and its revelation of backstage life, and the thrill of a championship battle in the squared circle, there are two mammoth specialty numbers, one of which is said to eclipse in magnitude and splendor anything of its kind ever presented on the screen.

Miss Davies has the role of the young waitress who springs to stardom almost overnight. In her rise to fame she inadvertently interferes with the career of a young prize fighter who aspires to become world's champion, the latter part played by Clark Gable.

The two come to hate each other cordially, but a truce is established by the actress' press agent who conceives the brilliant idea of announcing a romance between the two in order to further their popularity with the public.

Roscoe Karns plays the part of a newspaper man turned press agent to the rising young musical comedy star, while Allen Jenkins is the satirically comical prize fight trainer to Clark Gable. Walter Catlett is a theatrical producer who sponsors Miss Davies' shows and David Carlyle her leading man, who is a rival of Gable's for her love.

Coming Events

Nov. 27th—Friday evening—the Epworth League of the Clarkston Methodist church is sponsoring a party at the church. All young people are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Annual Bazaar Will Be Held at the Clarkston Methodist Church

Remember the date, Wednesday, December 2nd, the annual chicken supper and bazaar will be held at the Clarkston Methodist Church. The bazaar will be held during the afternoon and evening and the chicken supper will be served starting at six o'clock.

The committees are working doubly hard this year to make this a big event. Those in charge of the baked goods have decided to take orders in advance to supply you with just what you want when you visit their counter on December 2nd. If there is anything special that you would like to get in the baked goods line if you will just get your order to any on that committee as soon as possible they will see that your goods are ready for you. Of course even if you do not order anything in advance visit the baked goods counter anyway and you will be sure to see something you want. The baked goods committee is composed of Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mrs. Anna Fleming, Mrs. John Mann, Mrs. Durand Ogden and Mrs. Oscar Virgin.

Thanksgiving

By Hazel Harper Harris

On this Thanksgiving Day my heart would run
To count its silver in November sun
That others, drawn by glint and gleam, might bring
Their hoarded treasures for an offering:

Long silver needles of the April rain
That crochet lilacs down a country lane,
The silver ruching at a pear tree's throat,
A silver poplar dressed in evening coat,
The slender silver wicket of the moon
Through which stars come in little silver shoon,
The silver wedge of wings when wild geese fly
Their silver planes across the blue of sky,
The silver lace that trims a frozen pond,
And silver toes along a willow wand.

All these I count with grateful heart to show
The poor in beauty what the months bestow
In wealth of silver spread before our eyes
Which hoarding dulls, but sharing multiplies.

The Community Christmas Tree to Be Lighted Again This Year

The Child Study Club held a very interesting meeting last Thursday evening, Nov. 19, when they met at the home of Mrs. Irving Ronk with Mrs. Fred Kennedy assisting the hostess. There were eight members present and the Jr. Literary Club was entertained.

SERVICE OFFERED BY STATE EXPERTS

Object Is to Insure Safe Drinking Water in Michigan

"Safe Drinking Water" not only is the title of a new bulletin soon available from Michigan State College but is a phrase indicating a service offered throughout the state of Michigan to cut down the possibility of water-borne disease in private drinking water supplies. In Oakland county Karl D. Bailey, county agricultural agent, sees an opportunity for rural residents to protect their health and safety.

According to W. L. Mallmann, research associate in bacteriology at Michigan State College, the state department of health has obtained remarkable results in curtailing typhoid and other diseases traced to public water supplies. The service offered by the college now will pass along similar protection to those who depend upon private water sources, as well as obtain information about such supplies for the college bacteriology department.

The bacteriology department is offering to test water samples, if these samples are obtained and sent in according to precise directions and accompanied by specific information about the water supply.

Types of water supplies include those of rivers and lakes, springs, dug wells, driven wells and deep wells. The new bulletin, to be numbered Extension Bulletin 173, and soon available, contains descriptions of the dangers typical of each, and in general suggests methods of correction for safety. The bulletin describes methods of obtaining proper samples from these sources and directions for sending them in for analysis. In order to obtain a report on the supply, those who submit samples are asked to fill in a questionnaire, included in the bulletin.

Waterford High School Joins Forensic Assoc. The Senior Play Is Big Success

Waterford High School has become a member of the Michigan High School Forensic Association and will compete in the various state-wide speech contests to be sponsored by the Association this season. Mr. H. T. Burt of the high-school faculty will coach the contestants.

Over 300 high schools throughout the State have enrolled to date, and additional enrollments are coming in daily to the Association's office in Ann Arbor. It is hoped that a record enrollment will be reached this year.

The major activities directed by the Michigan High School Forensic Association consist of state-wide interscholastic contests in debate, oratory, declamation, and extempore speech. The earlier part of the season is devoted to debate, the other speech contests, opening in the early Spring.

The debates will be conducted in two series again this year, a preliminary series and an elimination series. The preliminary series will open on November 27 for the great majority of schools. Three succeeding preliminary debates will follow on December 11, January 15, and January 29. Each member competing in the Association's regular preliminary schedule will debate twice on the affirmative and twice on the negative of the subject to be discussed. Also, each will debate two times at home and two away.

The topic to be argued in all debates sponsored by the Forensic Association will be that of "Government Ownership and Operation of Electrical Utilities." Much interest has already been aroused because of the timeliness of the subject.

Those schools attaining the required number of points in the preliminary tilts will enter the elimination series which opens on February 19, and which terminates in the Twentieth Annual State Championship Debate to be held in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, on the evening of April 30. In this series, losing schools will drop out of competition and winners will be paired in each succeeding round until there are but two remaining schools. These will be brought to Ann Arbor, expenses paid, to compete for the State Championship.

Various awards are presented through the courtesy of the University of Michigan and Detroit newspapers. To each school taking part in the elimination series, a beautiful Wall Plaque Trophy of American walnut will be presented. The design is taken from the University of Michigan shield. To each debater will go a lapel button or pin replica of the Plaque.

Each debater participating in the Twentieth Annual State Championship Debate will receive a beautiful engraved gold watch. The two competing schools will be presented with bronze loving cups, as will the semi-final teams. Competition in oratory, declamation, and extempore speech is conducted in three series, school, subdistrict, and district contests. No State championship contest is held in these activities. Here, also, awards are presented. Each subdistrict winner will receive a Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, with his or her name engraved in gold on the cover. Each school winning in the district contests will receive a wall banner.

Three hundred and fifty-five schools participated in these various activities last season. It is estimated that nearly 14,000 Michigan high-school students took part. They were heard by a total audience of over 112,000 persons. Hundreds of awards have been presented through the Association since its inception in 1917. Dr. William F. Halstead, member of the Speech Department of the University, will continue as manager of the Association this year.

Thousands of packages of material have been furnished by the Library Extension Service of the University of Michigan, under the direction of Miss Edith Thomas, to aid contestants in their preparation.

Several from Clarkston attended the civic lecture in Pontiac on Tuesday eve, and heard Richard Halliburton tell about some thrilling experiences.

The Proceeds Amounted to Ninety-one Dollars

Last Friday night the Senior Class of the Clarkston High School presented their play with unusual success. There was not a vacant seat in the auditorium.

At about eight o'clock the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Frank Bach played two or three selections. Everyone in town is proud of the school orchestra and many commendable remarks were passed around on Friday night when those young musicians played some stirring numbers as well as many of our paid orchestras. And then the curtains parted and "Miss Jimmy", a farce in three acts by Jean Provenca was started. The cast was well chosen as was evidenced by the ease with which each student took his or her part. There were laughs from start to finish. The College girls got into many tangles that kept the audience wondering just what was going to happen next. Genevieve Beardslee who played the part of Miss Watkins, dean of the girls' college, was a puzzle to a great many in the audience. Her make-up was certainly a scream and was typical of the old-time dean of a girls' school. Genevieve's actions were in keeping with her disguise and she afforded a great many laughs. Lester Spencer and Lewis Putnam also had very difficult parts but both were quite at home on the stage and were extremely funny. Lester was able to take all the knocks that were in store for a college junior in a peck of trouble and like all good stories everything turned out all right. Lewis, who played the part of the colored janitor, kept the crowd laughing every time he made his appearance, because he talked and walked so slowly and also because of his interest in his chicken farm. His actions appeared to be quite natural. Wilson Denton made a very fine Professor and his English accent created a lot of laughing. Louise Gulick, the sophomore with the big heart, received much criticism from her girl friends and class-mates for rescuing Jimmy many times and at the same time she was making the girls jealous she was really winning Jimmy. She played her part with a great deal of poise. The other girls, Hilda Barnett, Shirley Douglas, Eleanor Baynes and Mildred Butters deserve mention. They were a credit to the Senior Class and also to the director.

The special numbers between acts were thoroughly enjoyed. Margaret and Paul Shaughnessy with their violins always please and everyone in town likes to see Angelina Marcora and Louise Newman tap dance. Friday night was no exception for these young artists, they received hearty applause.

The stage setting was well arranged and showed careful planning. After the final curtain the class presented Mrs. Durand, the director, and two assistants, Mrs. Strait and Miss Strom each with a gift.

"THANKS A MILLION"
FOR MORE THAN A MILLION

America has bought 1,130,000 Chevrolets during the past twelve months, thereby giving Chevrolet the greatest year in its history and the greatest measure of buyer preference it has ever enjoyed.

CHEVROLET The builders of Chevrolet are thankful for many things, but most of all for the warm friendship of the American people.

And so again at this Thanksgiving season we say, "Thank you, America," for you have given Chevrolet a measure of good-will without parallel in the annals of modern industry.

Consider, for a moment, all that you have done to inspire Chevrolet's appreciation during the past twelve months:

You have purchased 1,130,000 Chevrolets; you have made Chevrolet your favorite car for the seventh time in the past ten years; you have given Chevrolet strong preference in every section of the country; you have conferred this same high honor upon Chevrolet trucks by purchasing more than 205,000 commercial units; you have made 1936 the most successful year in all Chevrolet history.

And now, to climax these expressions of friendship, you are displaying even more marked preference for the new Chevrolet for 1937.

It is difficult to express adequate appreciation for gifts so great and so generous as these.

All we can say is, "Thanks a million" for more than a million cars in 1936; and all we can do is offer you the still finer Chevrolet of 1937 in return for the finest friendship ever bestowed upon any motor car manufacturer.

Good Sportsmanship for Students and Others

"Sportsmanship is that quality of honor that desires always to be courteous, fair and respectful, and it is interpreted in the conduct of players, spectators, coaches and school authorities."

Fielding H. Yost.

High school students should set a good example in the matter of sportsmanship and should quickly condemn unsportsman-like conduct on the part of either other students or adults. To this end they should:

1. Remember that a student spectator represents his school the same as does the athlete.
2. Recognize that the good name of the school is more valuable than any game won by unfair play.
3. Respond with enthusiasm to the calls of the cheer leader for yells in support of the team especially when it is losing.
4. Learn the rules of the various athletic games so that either as spectators or critics they will be intelligent.
5. Accept decisions of officials without question.
6. Express disapproval of rough play or poor sportsmanship on the part of players representing the school.
7. Express disapproval of any abusive remarks from the side-lines.
8. Recognize and applaud an exhibition of fine play or good sportsmanship on the part of the visiting team.
9. Be considerate of the injured on the visiting team.
10. Insist on the courteous treatment of the visiting team as it passes through the streets or visits the local school building, and extend the members every possible courtesy.
11. Acquaint the adults of the community and the grade pupils with the ideals of sportsmanship that are acceptable to the high school.
12. Impress upon the community its responsibility for the exercise of self-control and fair play at all athletic contests.
13. Advocate that any spectator who continually evidences poor sportsmanship be requested not to attend future contests.

Boys' Basketball

At the first basketball meeting of the season Coach Waters was greeted by 20 bright and smiling faces, but few were the faces which were among those who last year enabled the team to score a total of 125 points and become runner-up to Romeo in the District Tournament. Of last year's starting lineup of Soulbly, Parker, Molter, Mann and Yost, Yost is the only man returning and he will not be available for the first of the season due to a shoulder injury suffered in football.

The chance of each man on the squad to make the team is excellent, for even the coach does not know definitely who will play any position. Russell, Irish and Secord, last year's strongest reserves, will be hard pressed by returning sophomore talent. Clark, Tee, Boyds, Addis and Adams from last year's reserves have excellent chances, and Walker, a newcomer from Waterford, shows possibilities.

The team opens the season against Lake Orion on the local floor next Tuesday night. Both the players and the coach will appreciate your support of their efforts.

Girls' Basketball

Practice for Girls' Basketball starts December 2. Those who intend to go out for this sport must have their physical examination blanks (signed by a physician) in before they will be allowed to play. We hope all the girls will take an interest in Basketball and we expect a great amount of support from the school and the townspeople.

The girls have ordered their Basketball suits under the supervision of Mrs. Strait. The suits are dark blue, attractively trimmed in white. These suits will not only be good looking, but they will make playing much easier. It was no fun playing in those heavy sweaters. The girls are selling candy to meet the cost of the new suits.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

By Charles Perry

The Question: Do you like the idea of having two girl cheer leaders to lead the Clarkston cheering section at the basket ball games?

Senior, Durward Ash: "Yes, I think it would be a very good idea."
Junior, Bettieann Comstock: "I think it would inspire the teams greatly."

Sophomore, Evelyn Jenks: "I think it's a fine idea."

Freshie, Dick Lowrie: "Aw, I like boys better."

Eighth, Elaine Waterbury: "Sure".

Seventh, Richard Baird: "Oh, I don't know."

Miss Wellington (Girls' Coach): "Very, very much."

Mr. Waters (Boys' Coach): "Sure, I think we need a couple of good cheer leaders."

Wilson Denton, (Student Council President): "I believe we could use one boy and one girl cheer leader."

Marion Yost (Girl Player): "Yes, because I think girls have more enthusiasm for the game than boys."

Clinton Russell, (Boy Player): "I think it's a good idea if we can produce cheer leaders with enough life and color to get up a cheer."

We have given you a cross section of the school concerning this question—now, what do you think?

FACULTY INTERVIEWS

by Reta Halsey

MR. WINN

Mr. Winn, the superintendent of Clarkston School, began his education in a Rural School in Lapeer County. In order to attend this school he walked a mile to and from school every day. He later graduated from Inlay City High School. Mr. Winn is very proud of the fact that during his first twelve years of school he was seldom absent and never tardy. Mr. Winn attained his A. B. degree after a four year course at Michigan State Normal College. He then went to the University of Michigan and received his A. M. degree there.

This is his eighteenth year in educational work. He taught mathematics and science and coached all athletics in his first five years of work. Then he became the head of the Mathematics department at Redford High School the year before he came to Clarkston. He has just begun his twelfth year as Superintendent of Clarkston School.

Mr. Winn is interested in all fields of educational activities, however he is especially interested in the trend away from the mathematical grading of students to placing less emphasis on marks and more on the development of desirable habits, ideals and attributes. He feels that emphasis on marks develops undesirable traits, such as cheating and cramming, which destroy the appreciation of subjects studied in school.

When asked to make some statement about his work Mr. Winn replied, "My philosophy of my job as a teacher can be summed up in the following sentence: I am teaching boys and girls certain knowledge, abilities, skills, habits, attitudes, and ideals by means of geometry."

Mr. Winn gives this word of advice to students, "In selecting a vocation choose one that is in the process of development and be one of the best in that vocation. There is always room at the top."

NEWS FROM THE CLASS ROOMS

Reviews and tests! Reviews and tests! All week long—three days!!

MRS. DURAND

The Public Speaking Classes are presenting a Thanksgiving program for and by their own members.

We Latin students are having another test this week. (Woe is us!) and Mrs. Durand thinks there is no limit to our ability.

We English Nine students are beginning to quake in our boots for Mrs. Durand is being so kind as to give us the opportunity to speak before the class. (We are going to tell anecdotes and short stories.) Unity, coherence, emphasis, and euphony have played a large part in 10th grade English work this week.

MRS. WALTER

The Tenth Grade History Class is studying the unit on the development of Christianity and its conflicts with Mohammedanism. (We're dusting off the Bibles and learning things we never knew before about religion.)

The students of American History class have been drawing bar graphs to show the increase in population in the states, railroad and canal mileage, growth in number of newspapers and magazines, and the increase in steamboats coming into New Orleans between 1820 and 1860.

MR. WATERS

The Arithmetic 8th class has divided into two groups which study separately. One group may proceed as fast as their ability allows. The other group proceeds at a slower rate. The class has been studying problems relating to the home, hunting up those menaces of family peace, the gas and electric bills, working problems about them and other problems of practical nature. These problems have come from the various homes and not from the text-books.

MUSIC

The Girls' Glee Club and the Boys' Quartet are practicing Christmas songs.

Any boys who are at all interested in singing are welcome to come to the music room, on Tuesdays and Thursdays, to practice songs with the rest of the chorus. Either only a few of the boys in school are able to sing, or they are too bashful to show that they can sing. Perhaps they see no reason for singing. There are many reasons, one is that singing makes you feel better and relieves your mind. The way that the boys in our school exert themselves should make them want to sing for a long time each day. Let's see how many boys we can have at the music room next Tuesday.

GRADE NEWS

Mrs. Beardslee's Room

The fourth and fifth grades have new reference maps to be used with maps of Miss Elzinga's Room.

They have finished their free-hand posters for Thanksgiving, some of which are of the Mayflower, the Indians, and the Pilgrims. They have a frieze across the black board, of Indians, Pilgrim women, cabins and trees.

Miss Elzinga's Room

The sixth graders have been keeping two notebooks, one is a collection of poems, and the other is a geography note book.

They have made a complete study of the British Isles, and British possessions in Africa, and are now studying British possessions in India. They have made maps of the British Isles and Africa.

The sixth graders now are the grateful possessors of a large set of reference maps, which former students were much in need of, but did not have access to.

At the beginning of the year, several interesting pictures were unearthed from the dust of one of the school's store-rooms and now add to the attractiveness of the walls.

SOCIAL

The Freshman Class Party came off with a big bang Thursday evening, November 12, in the High School gymnasium. The boys (inevitably) played Volley ball, while the girls kept closely to such pastimes as "Ruth and Jacob" and, of course, later supervised the serving of cider and doughnuts to all the members of the class.

HUMOR

Mr. Waters: "Now, Willie, if the earth's axis is an imaginary line, can you hang your clothes on it?"

Willie: "Yes, Sir".

Mr. Waters: "Ha, Ha! That's good. And what sort of clothes, Willie?"

Willie: "Imaginary clothes, Sir."

"Clinton, what is the matter with Frank?" asked the mother of the boys.

"He's crying," replied Clinton, "because I'm eating my cake and won't give him any."

"Is his own cake finished?" asked the mother.

"Yes", answered Clinton, "and he cried while I was eating that too."

Miss Wellington: "Name six wild animals found in Africa."

Robert Bennett: "Two tigers and four lions."

Customer: "Are these eggs fresh?"

Durward Ash: "Fresh. Why, the hens haven't missed them yet."

Mr. Secord, riding with his son, "That's an attractive village we're coming to, wasn't it?"

"King," said Mrs. McIntyre, "is it possible that you are teaching the parrot to use slang?"

"No, mamma," replies King, "I was just telling him what not to say."

Violet: "What is your niece's name?"

Doris: "I don't know yet, we can't understand a word she says."

Charles Jenkins: "That means fight where I come from."

Clinton Russell: "Why don't you fight then?"

Charles T.: "Cause I ain't where I came from."
