> The Alumni consisted of a collection of college and professional players all of whom are graduates of or heve played basketball at Clarkston in the past. This team, although the players had not practiced together, was by all means an excellent one. The players were: Molter, Mann, Miller, Marthy, White, Scrace, B. Parker, G. Parker, C. Soulby, M. Soulby and Spencer.

Marthy, Miller, Mann and C. Soulby, it is believed, are playing college basketball and G. Parker, M. Soulby and Scrace are playing professional baskethall. Quite a boost for Clarkston High's basketball teams of the past! We wish the boys luck and here's more power to them.

In publishing a winter edition, State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner was motivated by two reasons. The first objective is to emphasize winter-sport development in Michigan and the second to make the map itself more accurate. Since the September issue of the map was published, hundreds of miles of highways indicated at that time as under construction, have now been completed.

For the first time, superhighways on the trunkline system are also indicated on the cover side of the map. All trunklines of three or more lanes are indicated by a heavy red line.

Otherwise the map is similar to the last edition including the popular accordian fold, a table of state parks and their facilities, and an index of all cities and villages on the trunklines together with a key to their location on the map.

The reverse side is profusely illustrated with winter scenes in Michigan. "Previous invitations to enjoy. Michigan's summer recreational facilities are extended to include the pleasures of a holiday in Michigan's Winter Wonderland'," Commissioner Van Wagoner states in stressing the main objective of the new map.

In previous years, the map has been published in May, July and September editions.

The new maps are available to the public free of charge. The News has a few copies for first applicants, or they can be obtained by writing to Commissioner Van Wagoner.

FACULTY INTERVIEWS

Mrs. Rockwell, our oldest teacher in point of service, says that she attended high school so long ago and in so many different places that she can't remember them all. She graduated after a four year course at Ypsilanti and also studied one year in a summer school course at Colorado College, Colorado Springs. After that Mrs. Rockwell taught school 3 years in Colorado and one year at Coldwater before she came to Clarkston. She was married in Clarkston and has lived here since. Mrs. Rockwell is now teaching her 17th year in the Clarkston School.

Mrs. Rockwell is very fond of travel in automobiles, especially during her summer vacation. She would have all the boys and girls follow this timely advice, "Stick to what you are doing until it is done."

An American Parade of Progress

IN THE parade of American progress, there can be no resting on yesterday's laurels. To stand still is to fall behind, to drop out of the parade.

The automobile or radio of a few years ago, for example, would find no market today. Refrigerators, clothing, cameras, office equipment-in all industries the old models are constantly being rendered obsolete by improvements in style, value or performance.

Michigan's telephone service has kept pace with this great march of progress. There is little resemblance between the original service and that of today-as little as there is between the first "horseless carriages" and the splendid, efficient automobiles that Michigan is now supplying to the modern world.

The tremendous advance in telephone service was achieved by years of research in the famous Bell Laboratories; by the engineering skill of the Western Electric Company in producing dependable, standardized equipment; by the efficiency and loyalty of operating and administrative personnel. Thus, America's world supremacy in telephonic communication was won by tireless effort coordinated under this unchanging policy: To supply the best service, and the most, at the least possible cost.

That policy has stood behind your telephone for more than half a century. Year by year it has made the service swifter, more convenient, freer from error. It has brought the telephone within the reach of all-has made it a valuable factor in the domestic and industrial life of modern Michigan.

Sincere and thorough, the search for improvement must continue in order that the telephone shall maintain its welldeserved place in America's parade of progress.
