COMMENT AND CRITICISM

Ride over the ruts to the School and back.
Skid on the ice to the School and back.
Plow through the mud to the school and back.
Through different kinds of weather.
(The scene changes)
Who is responsible for the inconvenient and dangerous roads to and from the school?

Not we, says the Village Council. Part of that road is in the Township. Not we, says the Township Board. The State has taken over the highways. And far away, in the capital of the State . . . but why go further the road to school is just "one of those things". Everyone talks but nobody does anything.

Editor's Note: The above is our answer to the numerous requests for comment relative to the road from Clarkston to the Clarkston School. It may sound like a head patting, do-nothing attitude . . . that style so dearly beloved by politicians. But we have had a strange winter for these parts and perhaps if we keep on talking another strange thing may happen and the road will be repaired . . . although there is a question of who is bound to and who will repair it.

Are you better off financially today than you were four years ago? And are you satisfied that we are firmly placed on the road to recovery with more and better prosperity in the offing. If your answer is yes and if you were one of the great majority who voted to reelect Roosevelt, then you were not greatly interested in anything he had to say when for the second time he took the oath of office as President of these United States. You knew that whatever he said would be good. If your answer is no, the only thing to do is to listen and find campaign material for the next Presidential election.

Just a short review of the souvenirs by which we remember the depression. Michigan Legislature entertains a bill to extend mortgage moratorium for two more years . . . probably a good thing. It seems a shame that people who have made moratorium payments to save their homes for four years should lose their homes just when real estate is going up in value. Those who refused to make moratorium payments lost their property long ago. A bill is introduced to cut interest on small loans. Our position on this is that if you are a good risk, your local bank will care for you. On the other hand if you are a credit risk, then probably you should pay an interest commensurate with your fallings as a risk. In other words the world moves on credit and like everything else you pay for what you get in the law of supply and demand.

Four years ago this country was paralyzed with what we called a banking crisis. But like a perfect morning the new day arrived bringing with it bigger and better days. To-day 25% of the nation is injured and will suffer because of a motor strike. This too will pass . . . bringing more and better cars and perhaps better conditions for the workers. As an innocent bystander . . . as just plain Common Ordinary Citizen . . . this thought occurs to us. Why is it necessary for the workers to have to hire a professional agitator to make them realize their troubles. We know a number of workmen. They are intelligent. They hold prominent and important positions in their communities. They could ably care for any complaints they cared to present to the employers. Why then is it necessary for them to hire men, whose only means of existing is their ability to stir up mob spirit and prolong negotiations by bitter propaganda worthy of and comparable to the propaganda in the last war.

Remember that old nursery rhyme. What are little girls made of? Sugar and spice and everything nice, that's what little girls are made of. And

What are little boys made of? Snaps, snails and puppy dog's tails . . . and that's what little boys are made of. So from actual experience what are labor agitators made of? Some years ago a certain city had a number of outbursts in different labor unions. Every little while some laborer was arrested. Every one was defended by the same attorney. Did he exist because of the high fees paid by the workman? No such thing! He received a large fee from the union and all laboring men belonging to the union helped pay. All of which raises the question. Does the labor agitator live for the laboring man or on him?

Clarkston P. T. A. Holds First Meeting

Mrs. William Shotka Appoints Working Committees

On Wednesday evening the Clarkston P. T. A. held one of the liveliest meetings ever held. Although the lightning and thunder raged and the fog was so dense motorists had trouble seeing the road a fine crowd of folks interested in the welfare of the school managed to get to the meeting and encourage the new officers who were about to start on their year's work.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. William Shotka and Rev. C. E. Edwards pronounced the Invocation. Lewis Warden then led the Community singing which consisted of pep songs appropriate for a P. T. A. Lewis is to be complimented. He aroused plenty of pep and made everyone present realize that they were really a part of the P. T. A.

On account of bad roads the guest speaker, Mrs. Williams of Royal Oak, was unable to be present. Mrs. Margaret Rockwell read a paper which made clear just what P. T. A. means and its relation to parents, teachers, children and the community. She gave everyone something to think about until the next meeting. The president then called for the minutes of the last meeting of the year 1936. The treasurer then gave her report and all will be interested in knowing that the report showed the proceeds from the Penny Supper served in December a few cents over $38.00. Mrs. Shotka then appointed the following committees—finance, chairman, Wade Dean, vice-president, Henry Woolfenden, Mrs. Howard Huttenlocher, Mrs. Harold Bauer and Mrs. Fred Kennedy; refreshments, chairman, Mrs. Walter Ash, Mrs. Lionel Waterbury, Mrs. Arnold Mann, Mrs. Warren Strait and Mrs. Stanley Henderson; Program, chairman, Mrs. Irving Ronk, Mrs. Ronald Walter, Miss Betty Elzinga, Frank Bach and Mrs. Joseph Hubbard; Publicity, Mrs. W. H. Stamp and Mrs. George Harris; membership, Mrs. John Shaughnessy, Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk, Mrs. J. R. Skinner, Mrs. E. Denham, Mrs. Emily Beardslee, Mrs. H. Newman, and Mrs. William Dunston. The reception committee will be announced each month. Mrs. Shotka then explained that membership cards were available to any who wanted to secure them at the close of the meeting.

Wade Dean, chairman of the finance committee, made himself acquainted. He said he was a stranger in town and needed the co-operation of everyone in the community if he and his committee were to accomplish anything for the organization. He is quite willing to work and as he has had experience with P. T. A. projects he will be able to make many suggestions for the year's finance program. The group then appreciated piano solos by Miss Betty Elzinga and Miss Eleanor Strom. Everyone was sorry that Harold Konzen was ill and so could not favor them with a violin solo.

The hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Durand Ogden and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seerlin made sure that all strangers were made acquainted and invited everyone to the auditorium for refreshments which consisted of cookies and coffee. Mrs. D. M. Winn and Mrs. I. Ronk presided at the coffee table.

A half hour of visiting closed a very fine P. T. A. meeting.

Rev. & Mrs. Townsend Enjoy Penney Farms

Expect to Stay in Florida Another Three Months

Last week the News received a letter from Rev. Townsend saying, "Send the Clarkston News for another three months, it is like a letter from the many friends that we made during our short stay there. We are enjoying our stay here very much; this is a very beautiful place and a most beautiful philanthropy. Mr. J. C. Penney says it is the most satisfactory philanthropy of any in which he has engaged."

Enclosed in the letter was a descriptive folder of Penney Farms. No doubt there are many in Clarkston who are not familiar with the place nor its location. The town of Penney Farms is the center of a large area of land on which the Penney-Gwinn Corporation in 1926 started their experiments in adapting new crops to that area of Florida soil, and began their colony of farmers who were encouraged to go back to the soil on small farms and engage in subsistence farming under expert advice. In this connection, a substantial acreage has been planted in Satsuma oranges, the Tung Oil Tree—an importation from China—grape vineyards, bulbs and a great variety of ordinary vegetable products. Dairying is another important project and a herd of 250 milking cows is cared for on one of the most modern dairy farms and milking parlors in the South. The Farm Development, located at Penney Farms and surrounding territory consists of a 120,000 acre tract. The cleared area, approximately 20,000 acres, is partly developed into small farms, ranging in size from 2½ to 20 acres.

The Memorial Home Community at Penney Farms, consisting of 96 apartments and a Chapel in the midst of the group, was built by Mr. J. C. Penney as a memorial to his father, Rev. James Cash Penney, and his mother, Mary Frances Penney. This group of buildings was dedicated as a home for retired ministers and their wives, religious workers and their wives, April 24, 1927. In the Memorial Chapel is a magnificent pipe organ given by Mr. Ralph W. Gwinn and dedicated as a memorial to his mother, Eva Harvey Gwinn. In the Memorial Home Community there are eight buildings with five apartments each and thirteen buildings with four apartments; a fourteenth building contains two apartments and the doctor's office and the superintendent's office. This group of beautiful homes is in Clay County eight miles west of Green Cove Springs, the county seat; 36 miles south of Jacksonville and 28 miles west of St. Augustine.

The buildings of the Memorial Home Community are of Norman-French design and in themselves make a little village of about two hundred inhabitants. The town of Penney Farms, exclusive of the Memorial Home Community, has a population of about three hundred people, making a total population in the Penney Farms area of about five hundred.

In the town of Penney Farms there is an excellent accredited Elementary school. High School pupils are transported by bus to Green Cove Springs. There is also a Post Office, public hall, grocery store and meat market, drug store, cleaning and pressing shop, and garage as well as two filling stations. The town has fire protection, water supply, electric lights and power, electric street lighting system, paved streets, sidewalks, curbs and gutters, sewage disposal plant, play grounds, including football, baseball and tennis grounds, organized fire department and a public safety department. The town is incorporated under the City Manager plan.

Ladies' Aid Dinner Well Attended

In spite of bad weather and slippery streets a fairly large crowd enjoyed the dinner served by the Ladies' Aid of the Clarkston M. E. Church on Wednesday evening.

The tables were very attractive with red and white, yellow and white and green and white table napkins daintily folded and standing at each place, while down the centers of the long tables were colorful ring-molds of perfection salad and bright red cinnamon apples.

HOLLY THEATRE

"Gold Diggers of 1937"—fourth and most elaborate of the famed series of musical movies which began in 1929, has been booked by the Holly Theatre, and will have its first local showing on Tuesday, Jan. 26.

Just like the perennial Ziegfeld "Follies" and George White's "Scandals", these "Gold Diggers" of the Warner Bros. seem to have become a genuine American institution. Combining plenty of comedy, lots of hit songs, and no end of speedy and beautiful dancing by big choruses of lovely girls, they have all been tremendous successes.

The 1937 edition co-stars those newlyweds, Dick Powell and Joan Blondell. It features Victor Moore, Lee Dixon, a sensational new dancer, Glenda Farrell, Osgood Perkins, Donald Meek, Rosalind Marquis, Irene Ware and other fun-makers, plus 200 dancing beauties trained by Busby Berkeley.

The most elaborate set, upon which the entire company appears in several scenes, represents the Long Island estate of a New York theatrical producer.

Beginning at one end of the stage, on the porch of a three-story colonial type mansion, the camera was set on tracks enabling it to perambulate across a long artificial lawn spotted with some twenty-five trees, through to a 40-foot square swimming pool, 10 feet deep; across another lawn to a regulation-sized tennis court; through a bandstand pavilion and dining patio, and end up at the far end of the setting containing an atmospheric shrubbery background.

The story, in brief, concerns Dick Powell, an unsuccessful insurance salesman, and Joan Blondell, stranded showgirl who becomes his secretary and who saves the day by landing him a million dollar application. Songs by E. Y. Harburg and Harold Arlen and Harry Warren and Al Dubin are entwined throughout the picture, while Busby Berkeley's dance ensembles are featured at the climax which represents the presentation of a Broadway musical comedy. Lloyd Bacon directed the dramatic part of the picture.

Rates for the Class 1 or diversion payments to farmers participating in the 1936 agricultural conservation program in the North Central region of states, which includes Michigan, have been increased seven per cent, it is announced from Washington. In an explanation received by County Agricultural Agent Karl D. Bailey, the increase in payment has been made to balance North Central and Michigan payments with those in some of the southern states where the government paid county administrative expenses.

Valued most when needed most

TELEPHONE SERVICE has become so efficient, so easily used, that it draws no particular attention to itself. But its value is sharply emphasized whenever a home is threatened by one of the three great domestic emergencies:

Call the police! No home is safe from the lawless prowler, intent on theft or violence. But the telephone is his enemy; its mere presence in the house creates an added risk for him. The prowler knows this. He knows how quickly it can spread the alarm, flash out the call that brings the police swiftly to the scene.

Smell smoke! After a fire breaks out, time is priceless. Every moment's delay increases the damage and danger. There is always a point beyond which control is impossible, and destruction complete. But almost any fire can be extinguished with trifling loss—if taken in time.

Get the doctor! Amid the panic caused by sudden illness or injury, one thought leaps to mind. The man needed now, above all others, is the doctor. The interval before he comes is one of anxious waiting—a dread period which the telephone can shorten. One call secures prompt advice on first-aid, and hastens the welcome arrival of the doctor.

In emergencies, even seconds are important. And the more important they become, the greater the value of the telephone in protecting property, relieving anxiety and saving human lives.

Keego Rout Clarkston 35-21

A fast tall well trained Keego team practically annihilated the Clarkston team in the first quarter which ended 7-1. The score at the end of this period doesn't begin to tell the story. The Clarkston players acted as if they were tied down and they never recovered from this first quarter shock.

Clarkston after playing two excellent games of basket ball went all to pieces. Their shots were bad as well as unlucky. They failed to get the ball off the backboard. None of the players played a really good game but they did manage to run up 21 points which is as good as anyone else has done against Keego.

The second team came out on the end of a lop-sided score (33-7) to complete the defeat of the boys' teams.

Box score:

Girls' Basketball

Folks, if you didn't see last week's game you surely missed a treat! The Clarkston girls led the Keego Harbor team 4-0 until the first quarter end and 6-3 up to the end of the first half. And then the fun began when Keego started scoring. At the end of the third quarter the score was 8-8. The battle raged on, then Keego scored one more point. Clarkston took time out and when play was resumed there were only two minutes left. Keego jumped ahead and the final score was 12-8 in favor of Keego. Never has there been so much support given and we surely did appreciate it.

How about all of you coming over to Walled Lake Friday night?

GRADE NEWS

Due to the increase in enrollment in the past few weeks it has been necessary to add another teacher to our teaching staff.

We have Mrs. William Vliet back with us again this year. The addition of Mrs. Vliet has made possible the separation of the fifth and sixth grades. Mrs. Vliet is in charge of the fifth and Miss Elzinga of the sixth.

The separation is a great advantage to the pupils as well as to the teachers. The teacher can now devote more time to each pupil, which enables the students to learn more easily.

Mrs. Vliet substituted for six weeks at the end of last year and we are very glad to have her with us this year and wish her all the success and happiness possible.

Mrs. Rockwell's Room

Children who won credits in our third grade spell-down on Friday, Jan. 15, were Marjorie Vliet, Frederick Dalton, Frances Molter, Joyce Lawson, Jack Taylor, Marion Sloat, and Tyrus Pinchback.

Eleven of our third graders were transferred to Mrs. Beardlee's room on Monday of this week.

We are studying about the Philippine children in our geography.

Miss Elzinga's Room

The sixth graders are taking review tests this week. They do not plan on taking regular semester tests.

At the beginning of the new semester the sixth graders will add American History to their course. They have completed their poem books, which include thirteen well known poems. Each pupil made a cover for his book.

The 4th Grade Geography class is just completing a study of "The Pacific States."

For their art work Tuesday, the boys and girls made free-hand cuttings of snowflakes.

For Homemakers

From style in clothing to movies, health, child behavior, new fashions in food and what to do about household pests is a part of the range in variety of the program for farm women who will go to East Lansing Feb. 1 to 5 for their part in the 22nd annual Farmers' Week at Michigan State College.

Tuesday, Feb. 2, marks one of the most interesting days of the week for the women. Household pests are discussed by Professor E. J. McDaniel of the college entomology department. In the afternoon there is a general program in the gymnasium and an hour of music in the Little Theatre.

Management, the home, and family life have been built into the Thursday program to complete the main portions of the home economics offering for the women visitors.

BETTER SHOOTING LOOKS FAVORABLE

As Result of Propagation of Hungarian Pheasants

Convinced that the Hungarian partridge, as a game bird, is a good bet in a considerable part of southern Michigan, state game authorities will redouble their efforts to establish that species in Michigan.

Harry D. Ruhl, chief of the game division, says that facilities for the production of the "hunky" at the state game farm will be expanded this spring with the idea of doing all that is practical to get a better establishment and distribution of that bird in the favorable areas of lower Michigan.

The "Hunky" is not a bird of wild, brushy covers like the ruffed grouse or prairie chicken and for that reason it doubtless would not do well in parts of northern Michigan, Ruhl says. It is the open-type good agricultural lands dotted with patches or "islands" of "escape" and nesting cover that this bird favors. This type of cover is to be found in many parts of central, lower Michigan and it is this part of the state where the type of shooting that the "hunky" might provide is most desired and needed, Ruhl says.

Ruhl states that the game division staff has been checking past plantings of the "hunky", finding that in many places the bird has shown a tendency to take hold and increase. To aid the long, slow process of establishment, however, more birds will be propagated and released from that state game farm, he says.

CORONATION COLORS SET FASHION SHADES

No matter how indifferent we may pretend to be over the coming coronation in May, it is bound to affect us in many ways, particularly in what we wear. Believe it or not, the managing director of the Textile Color Card Association of the United States that decides the colors the women of this country shall wear, has been months in London studying the crown, jewels and royal ceremonial robes to select the twelve most fashionable shades for fabrics that will be worn this coming spring and summer. First there is regal purple, the color of the cap worn by the King inside the crown; royal amethyst, inspired by the gem in the royal scepter; crown sapphire shade is named for the famous Stuart sapphire in the crown that was first worn by Charles II. Knights' blue is the color of the court dress of the Knights of the Garter; royal turquoise is named for the stone in the hilt of the King's sword; crown ruby is very dark, named for the Black Prince ruby in the crown; while English scarlet is an intense red, the shade of the gay uniforms of the military attendants. Royal crimson is a deep mellow color taken from the King's coronation robe and Imperial gold from its trimming is a light ochre. Then there is crown pearl, a very delicate tint drawn from the Queen's earrings, and Royal yellow that is a pale orange. Of course there is a soft glowing rose to represent the Rose of England, a rich amethyst from the Thistle of Scotland, and Crown Emerald, a glowing green that is the shade of the Shamrock of Ireland.

FARMERS WEEK IS SOON TO BE HELD

Takes Place at East Lansing February 1 to 5 With speakers scheduled from Canada and Texas and with enough unusual features to last throughout the week for the 25,000 expected to mix learning with variety and entertainment, the annual program for Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, Feb. 1 to 5, is taking form. Included among those who will address meetings during the week is the Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture for the province of Ontario, Canada. He speaks Tuesday afternoon and again in the evening, Feb. 2. Miss Mildred Horton, state home economics extension leader in Texas, speaks Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 3. The team of oxen to be brought to the campus by Frank Martin, Battle Creek, is due for a new type of work. Harry Moxley in animal husbandry and Ralph W. Tenny, short course director and secretary of the week's program, intend to have the oxen hitched up to give some of the college coeds rides to classes, starting early enough to avoid tardiness. Competitions help farmers feel at home at the college. So there will be something new in the program this year, sheep dog trials for Michigan flock owners. Another contest is to identify unsoundness in horses. Other competitions will pick winners in the colt development contest, swine-feeding, lamb feeding and beef feeding, the potato show, the state seed show, turkey show, 4-H club potato, corn, bean and egg show, and a pulling contest featuring stallions. The state's new agricultural commissioner, Burr Lincoln, will address the general meeting in demonstration hall Wednesday evening, and the new governor, Frank Murphy, will address the Thursday evening meeting in demonstration hall.

FARMERS TO HOLD COUNTY CONCLAVE

Will Meet at Pontiac Friday for Important Discussion Mr. and Mrs. Farmer: On Friday evening, January 22nd, will gather at the Board of Commerce, in Pontiac, some of the leading farmers of each township. Those farmers will be ones who realize the dangers that lie ahead for our American form of government and for American agriculture. What effect does the wide spread strike of labor portend for agriculture? What of the wars and threats of wars in foreign countries and in our own America? Farmers must do their part in keeping this nation on the road to better living conditions for all, else we are partners in hastening to our country the causes that have brought on the deplorable conditions in foreign countries. Mr. J. F. Yeager has just recently attended the Michigan State Farm Bureau convention and the National Farm Bureau convention where he heard some of the best agricultural thinkers express their views of these situations. He will present to us some pertinent facts and figures which will clearly point the way which we should follow. Mr. Yeager is a very able speaker and you will find his talk most interesting. You are invited to attend this gathering of representative farmers and participate in the formulation of policies for the betterment of agriculture. The meeting will be held in the Board of Commerce, Pontiac, at 8:00 P. M., Friday, January 22nd. Yours very truly, Harold Albertson Sr., County Farm Bureau.

Authorities of the Michigan Emergency Conservation Work office report that the 22 CCC camps under their administration have built 375 vehicular bridges and 15 foot-bridges in Michigan.

Imagine driving your car with all the windows covered with heavy canvas! You probably would never attempt it. Neither would I. Yet a great many drivers do this very thing during a blinding snow-storm. It doesn't take very long for snow to interfere with the efficiency of the ordinary windshield wiper and also to cover the sidewindows of the car. Winter is here and snowstorms are upon us. Be sure that your windshield wiper is in good condition and that the wiper functions properly. Sometimes the rubber becomes worn and a new wiper is necessary. A small cost, but it can save you considerable annoyance and inconvenience. It is also a good safety measure to see that this equipment is in order. Instead of stopping a minute for emergency cleaning of the windshield, many drivers will continue on their way, trusting to luck that they will not run into anything or anybody.
