COMMENT CRITICISM

How unimportant we mortals are We go about our daily duties as if we were about the most important objects under the sun. We brag about how we have conquered the forces of nature; we prove that we can talk to any part of the world. We do do great things and then . . . Nature teaches or rather reminds that we have not accomplished any thing that anywhere approaches the doings of nature.

To those who listened to the broad cast on Tuesday evening from the flooded district the above thought was constantly brought home.

Having found out that mortals cannot conquer the elements the question then arises as to why people stay in such areas. History tells us that when this country was being settled that the pioneers followed the Ohio River westward and in so doing found broad fertile land . ideal place to build a home. Naturally they expected floods and they built levees to protect themselves. But the forests of the country were being destroyed and instead of trees absorbing moisture the water was allowed to flow in larger quantities into the rivers. The levees were unable to hold the floods and every little while the districts suffered. But generations and generations have lived on the land settled by the pioneers. That area has become home. Dangerous, perhaps, but home.

After the flood waters have subsided, most will return to as much of their homes as remains. They will build larger and better levees to protect their homes. Admire their desire to protect their right to live where they want to. And now if they find themselves unable to momentarily overcome the elements help them in their battle.

The Americans are accused by Foreign men of culture of being a money-mad race of people. Perhaps we are. But how quickly the strike news became subject number two in the national thought. And yet the strike is causing a loss to business on every hand. News on this subject is still in the early stage of newspaper discussion. Looking at the thing from the workmen's viewpoint, it may be settled as soon as one John Lewis realizes that in addition to his union that there is in the United States a group known as the American Federation of Labor and angroup who will belong to no

Donkey Ball Game Provides Fun

Alumni Versus Business Men Draws Good Crowd

Last Thursday evening the students of the Clarkston High School astride rubber shoed donkeys played certain of our business men, also mounted, a very good game of Donkey Basket Ball. The game was played in the High School Auditorium. The business men won . . the score was. But why mention such details. It was all in fun and was played for the benefit of the school. The toss up for high honor in scoring with the oldsters went to Robert Jones, Richard Bullen and Garald O'Dell. Could those boys go to town and did they apply linament the next morning. Perhaps the star of the school was immigration, around 1870. It also relates that Hickok never wounded an adversary. It was always a sure hit, and with this reputation handsome soldier-of-fortune went into the Far West to find out who was selling rifles to the Indians in express violation of a government order.

Bud Irish who proved that he could not only play a good offense but by standing up on his donkey was able to keep the businessmen from getting baskets.

On the way he meets the beautiful "Calamity Jane", so named by a troop of soldiers who found her as a child in the wilderness beside the bodies of her dead parents-killed by Indians. ## FROM LACK OF RAI

In six years ending with 1936 farm lands in Michigan have been cheated by nature out of an average of 1,863 tons of water per acre, it is estimated by J. B. Kincer of the United Agricultural Agent Karl D. Bailey, the six year period has meant a 532,818,000 ton total deficiency in rainfall. Michigan has not had the severe drouths that other states have experienced, at least not in 1936, when the rainfall over the state averaged 89 per cent of normal or from three to 17 per cent better than any of the other adjacent corn belt states. In the six year period of 1930 to 1936, the weather bureau estimates, Michigan normally would have had a total rainfall of 23,956 tons of water per acre.

MANY TRAPPERS DO NOT OBSERVE LAW

Officers Out to Bring Violators to Bar of Justice

Concentrating largely on the enforcement of trapping laws during December, conservation officers arrested 852 violators of which more than 200 were taken into custody for breaking trapping regulations.

The remaining arrests were for infractions of general game and fishing laws. Eighteen violators were taken on charges of trespass on state-owned lands.

Fines totalling $3,110, costs amounting to $2,305.03 and a total of 512 days in jail terms were imposed on convicted violators in justice courts. What do you do for frost bites? What are the symptoms of frost

The affected part of the body becomes painfully cold and then suddenly the sense of feeling in that part is gone. The affected part becomes white or grayish white in color.

Keep the patient away from fire or varmly heated room. Apply palm of hand, wool, or fur to affected part. Massage the parts very gently, then apply cold water. Apply ointment as you would to a burn because frost bite is the same in effect.

The object of the treatment is to bring the frozen part of the body back-to-arnormal temperature gradually and to restore circulation.

While the flood situation in the Ohio valley appears to have reached its worst stage, in the Mississippi valley it will not reach the crest for several days. In preparation for the flood there all along the great river on both sides towns and farms will be evacuated from Cairo to New Orleans, with the whole United States Army in charge.

LEAVES $10,000 TO TALKING DOLL

An article in The American Weekly with next Sunday's Detroit Times discloses why a ventriloquist has left a fund to keep his mechanical partner alive after his own death. The article also tells of a doll which was so real that a ventriloquist's wife named it as a correspondent-and the mutilation of another drove his Chinese master crazy.

Contribute NOW to the Red Cross for the benefit of the flood sufferers. This is a very worthy cause.

Good Sportsmanship The student body as a whole is opposed to the display of poor sportsmanship as evidenced at some of the previous games. We students who are loyal supporters of C. H. S. want it known that we look with disfavor upon the person or persons who blacken our name by their "cat calls" and "boos".

It is our aim to be courteous to the visiting teams and their supporters and to express this courtesy to all. We appeal to the entire student body to give our guests adequate opportunity for their cheers. Let us not interrupt them-but after their cheer we will double ours for C. H. S.

Let us show our support to our teams at all times whether they win or lose, but may the Clarkston school never earn a reputation for poor sportsmanship!

Walled Lake Defeats Clarkston Clarkston suffered a drubbing at the hands of the Walled Lake cagers last Friday night. Clarkston scored its five points in the first quarter, Walled Lake ran up 23 points in the first half and added 11 more in the second for a total of 34. The Clarkston team seemed to be particularly confused by the zone defense used by Walled Lake and scored but one field goal. They could not adapt themselves to play their positions as they had been instructed to do against a 5-man defense, even though they had had special training in how to penetrate such a defense. Clarkston's defense looked much better than its offense.

Miss Leola Jacques Was the Guest Speaker

Mrs. Walter Ash, assisted by Mrs. William Shotka, was hostess to the Child Study Club for its guest night last Thursday, Jan, 14th.

Sixteen members and guests enjoyed her hospitality. Roll Call was answered with "The Land of Make Believe For and Against".

The speaker of the evening was Miss Leola Jacques, physiotherapist in charge of the Qakland County Crippled Children's Association. She gave a very interesting, illustrated talk on "Growing Feet", stressing the importance of proper footwear for children and attention to any foot troubles as soon as they are apparent. She also told of some of the work of the association in correcting foot troubles and other handicaps.

Lovely refreshments were served by the hostesses with Mrs. Bailey presiding at the coffee table.

The next meeting was held on Jan. 28th at the home of Mrs. F. E.

(received too late for last week)

HOLDS COMMITTEE MEETING OVER CONFERENCE CIRCUIT

When an important matter arose recently in connection with the work of the New York Board of Trade in which action could not be deferred, telephone conference service was called upon, and so successful did it prove that it has been decided to adopt it as a regular feature of the work of the Board.

To call this meeting held by telephone, an executive of the Board gave the telephone operator the names and telephone numbers of the men wanted. At3:15 P.M. each man's telephone bell was ringing. There was a chorus of "hellos." The Chairman informed the nine other men that this was a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the New York Board of Trade, The roll was called and the voice of each man was easily recognized as he suswered "present."

One man announced his name and made a motion. Another man gave his name and seconded the motion. Before the vote was taken, an opportunity was offered for discussion. When the motion was unanimously carried, another motion was similarly passed, and the meeting was then declared adjourned. The whole procedure occupied about six minutes. In commenting upon the service, Percy C. Magnus, President of the New York Board of Trade, dislared, "It is a great time saver, and money saver and it permits of instantaneous group decision."

LONDON'S MILLIONTH PHONE USED FOR CALL TO CANADA

London has installed its millionth telephone.

On October 16, 1936, there were exactly a million working telephones in the area covered by the Lon-don Telephone Service—fifty-seven years after London's first telephone exchange was opened. It was as recently as July, 1926, that the 500,-000th telephone was installed in the London area. This instrument was placed in the Press Gallery of the House of Commons. The millionth telephone was inscribed to the Rt. Hon, the Lord Mayor of London, Sir Percy Vincent, and one of the first uses he made of it was to speak to the Mayor of London, Ontario, Canada.

London's telephones are now increasing at the rate of about 200

MEETS CHESS OPPONENT 34 YEARS AFTER GAME BY WIRE

John J. Robinson, president of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, met for the first time last summer a man against whom he had played a 12-hour game. of chess 34 years ago. The man was Harlow B. Daly, an employee of the United Shoe Machinery Corporation and last year's city champion of Boston in chess. Their game was played on Memorial Day in 1902. Mr. Robinson, then a cable splicer with the New York Telephone Company, was one of 20 members of a Brooklyn chess team which played against the Boston Metropolitan Chess Team, of which Bertrand A. Smalley, publicity manager of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co., was then captain. The games were played by telegraph, moves being interchanged by wire.

Mr. Robinson's game with Mr. Daly started at 9 A. M. and ended at 9 P. M., when Mr. Daly offered a draw and Mr. Robinson accepted. Near the close of the game Mr. Robinson wired to Mr. Daly that Daly had a chance to win, but Daly could not see it at the time.

Mr. Smalley looked up Mr. Daly last summer at Mr. Robinson's request, and a meeting between the two former opponents was arranged. Mr. Daly had preserved a paper on which he had recorded all the moves of the game they played 34 years ago, and admitted that Mr. Robinson wes-right when he wired that he ad a chance to win.
