COMMENT AND CRITICISM

You have been asking for good roads. Next Monday is a good day to do a good deed and vote for them. Casper Warden's letter on this subject is worth your reading.

Constant advertising is an investment. Notice we say constant, regardless of size. The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. reports a 13.37% increase in business in Clarkston, last year.

To you who are interested in reading one version of the robbery of the Clarkston State Bank, about four years ago, may we refer you to Real Detective magazine for March pictures and everything.

You cannot eat your cake and have it. If you had not inaugurated a President in January, yesterday would have been the regular day.

Two new subscribers this week.

Always have your audience leave with a smile. Be sure and remind them that the income tax is due in another week.

Contract Club Entertained Tuesday

On Tuesday Mrs. Weighel entertained her contract club at her home. At one o'clock a delightful luncheon was served and during the afternoon bridge games were enjoyed. The awards went to Miss Viola Alger and Mrs. Milan Vliet.

Hawley Skarritt Honored on Birthday

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Judd Skarritt entertained at dinner honoring their son, Hawley, who was celebrating his birthday.

The dinner table was centered with a lovely birthday cake.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Janks of Detroit and Miss Wanda Hawley of Pontiac.

Seymour Lake

Elizabeth Young was the week-end guest of Betty Draper.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Fritz were guests on Sunday at the Porritt farm.

By the looks of the roads in this section Spring must be here.

Marvin Porritt is now employed by the Yellow Cab in Pontiac.

The Shadow Social held by the Sunday School last Friday was a success. The proceeds amounted to $19.75.

Marguerite Porritt has the cast off and has a brace on her leg. We hope to see her walking again soon.

The Ladies' Aid will meet at the Community House on March 10th with Mrs. Mallory Stickney as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Oswalt spent the week-end with the former's sister and husband. Mr. Oswalt's mother returned to Indiana with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallory Stickney and daughters are enjoying a short vacation with her parents, the Malcomsons, in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Porritt had many visitors over the week-end including June Crawford, Jane Taylor, Bill Cosgriff, Fern Hoard, Harry Laser, Elizabeth Young and Don and Betty Draper.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shoppe enjoyed a chicken dinner at Frankenmuth with Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Mann of Pontiac, in honor of their 54th wedding anniversary. Their friends and neighbors wish them many more happy anniversaries.

Many changes are being made in this neighborhood this spring. The William Draper family will move to the farm vacated by the Batten family; Stan Solley will move to his home vacated by the Drapers and Batters are moving to a farm near Leonard. At Johnson has purchased the Kelly farm and the Kellys will move to the Taylor farm vacated by Stan Solley.

Prince, one of Beardslee's best horses, had to be killed one day last week because of the carelessness of someone who used a gun. It was found that the horse had been shot in the rear leg sometime early last fall and as time went on the leg decayed. It seems that a real hunter could distinguish a horse from a rabbit or a pheasant and if not then the firearms should not be used.

Election Monday

Be sure to vote Monday. The tax payers will vote Monday on street question. Come out and vote. The question is shall the village of Clarkston issue Bonds to the amount of $7000 for the purpose of paving with Black top all of its dirt streets not all ready taken over by the County, providing federal aid can be secured on a 50-50 basis. No federal aid, no paving.

The equipment for preparing this road material is still at Clarkston Station. It is an expensive apparatus to move from place to place.

Do we want to pave our streets as a means of solving their maintenance.

The members of the Village Council believe it is economy and a solution of the street problem. Mr. Osgood of the Anabor Construction Co. has agreed to build this road 3 inches thick for 60c. per square yard.

We have measured and have a list of all our streets. The number of sq. yards.

If by your vote you favor the building of the streets Mr. Van Wagoner, State Highway Commissioner, has said he would send a representative here to investigate our plan. If it meets with their approval, then we must get the approval of the Securities Commission, and lastly find a market for the Bonds.

The village has no debts. It has survived a larger burden. The assessed valuation is $536,381.70.

The tax rate last year was 5.60. By spreading this obligation over a period of 5 to 10 years we believe this tax will not be a burden. Very little in excess of our present rate. Come out and vote.

If you are in favor of the plan vote yes. If not in favor of the plan vote no. C. WARDEEN,

Large Crowd Attends Gay Winter Carnival

Laura Robinson Is Crowned "Winter Queen"

A large crowd attended the "Winter Carnival" held on the Clarkston Mill Pond last Saturday afternoon. Folks from many nearby communities were present to enjoy an event that was unusual in a small town.

At three o'clock the ice was in readiness, Ronald Walter who was in charge of events was all ready to start, the crowd had already assembled and the skaters were anxious to be off. Mr. Walter was ably assisted by Mr. Bauer, Mr. Strait, Mr. Winn and Mr. Waters.

On the shore right alongside of the event area was a stand where you could buy hot-dogs, fried-cakes, hot coffee and candy-bars and those in charge were kept busy all afternoon. Hot-dogs and hot coffee never tasted better than they did while you were standing on the ice facing a cold north wind.

The three-man team winning the 660 yard relay was composed of Wilson, Walker and Irish while Lawson, Newman and Sloat came in second. Rita Wilson was first and Marion Chamberlain was second in the 220 yard race for girls 13 years and under. In the 100 yards (back) race for girls 14 and over June Harris of Waterford was the winner while Laura Robinson was a close second. Donald Tee and Byron Miller were the winners in the 220 yard race for boys 13 and under. Other winners were; 100 yards (back) Harold Sloat and Max Souby; 100 yards for boys 13 and under, Stewart Baynes and Jack Skarritt; 100 yards for boys 14 and over, Hamilton Newman and Bud Irish; 100 yards (back) Laura Robinson and Rita Wilson; 75 yards, Anne Russell and Rita Wilson; 440 yards for boys 14 and over, Harold Sloat and George Dupee.

The ballot box for the Queen was kept busy all afternoon and at 5:30 the votes were counted. Shortly after six o'clock Laura Robinson was crowned as Clarkston's Winter Queen. All contestants passed through under an arch of hockey sticks and each one received a great applause. The four highest in the selection of queen were: (1) Laura Robinson; (2) Betty J. Clark; (3) Evelyn Walz; (4) Mildred Butters.

Joseph Seeterlin had the honor of placing the crown on the Queen. He made a few brief remarks and complimented Laura who seemed quite excited over the whole affair. At about 8:30 the Queen presented the race winners with their prizes.

The Progressive Class is very grateful to all who helped make the event a success. The Class wishes to thank the following for their donations, the Clarkston State Bank, King's Insurance Agency, Rudolf Schwarze, LeRoy Addis, G. A. Walter, Kennedy Barber Shop, Rita's Beauty Shop, Beattie Bros., Seeterlin Bros., Edw. Whipple, Waterbury's Market, Lord's Barber Shop, L. F. Walter, O'Dell's Drug Store and a few others whose names are not listed. The class and many carnival patrons are thankful to the Clarkston Coal Co. for keeping the fires burning all afternoon. The donation of coal was a big item to a person who was almost frozen, and besides it provided the heat for the hot-dogs and coffee.

Everyone seemed well pleased with the results of the Carnival and many have expressed a desire to make it an annual Clarkston affair.

SPORTS

Girls' Basketball

Friday, February 26, the Clarkston and Walled Lake people watched the Clarkston girls' defeat Walled Lake. The loss of this game meant much to Walled Lake for it gave the league championship to Keego Harbor. Clarkston's starting lineup was: Coy, Bradford, Dunston, forwards. Robinson, Yost, Douglas, guards.

The game started out with a bang. Walled Lake scored the first point. At the end of the first quarter the score was 6-2 in favor of Walled Lake. Then Clarkston started scoring and at the end of the half the score read 7-6 in favor of Clarkston. The crowd was excited and tense during the third quarter as Walled Lake took the lead 10-9. In the last quarter Clarkston took the lead 12-11. All of the playing in the last two minutes was done in Walled Lake's end of the court. When a Walled Lake basket would have meant a Walled Lake victory, the Clarkston guards showed marvelous defensive work and supported by cheers from the grand stands held the score.

The girls were very happy that they won their last game particularly the Seniors who will be leaving Clarkston High. That the spectators enjoyed the game is shown by the following comments:

Mr. Waters: "It was a well played game and rough enough to excite me."

Mrs. Durand: "It was the most interesting game of the season."

Miss Elzinga: "It was a grand game."

Mrs. Strait: "It was fine."

Genevieve Beardlee: "It was swell and so exciting."

Miss Wellington: "Well, they say a cat may look at a king. Certainly our girls took a long look at the league-leaders last Friday night. They discovered that, while Walled Lake's squad may number forty, they can play only six girls at a time. Both teams, I thought, played very good basketball. To me, the most surprising things about the game were Laura's sudden transformation from a forward into a guard, and that Genevieve did not leap-off the stage and join the fray."

Boys' Basketball

Clarkston came out on the floor Friday night with but one intention in their minds—to stop Walled Lake. They played a very aggressive game but were over-powered by a stronger foe.

In the first half Clarkston scored but one point whereas Walled Lake scored 12. Clarkston came back in the second half to score 15 points however, but that was not enough to overcome their opponents for Walled Lake had increased its score by 17 points. The game ended with the score Walled Lake 28, Clarkston 16.

The second team lost a well contested game. At the start it seemed as though Clarkston would win but the final score was 29-20 in favor of Walled Lake.

MUSICAL ASSEMBLY

Tuesday afternoon, the students of Clarkston High School, and some parents too, were entertained in the school auditorium by Brownes' Metropolitan Jubilee Singers. It was a delightful program consisting of Negro "shout" songs, southern melodies, and Negro Spirituals. The singers were all Negroes with a Negro accompanist. They were represented by one lyric soprano, one contralto, and one bass.

Although the program lasted from 1:00 till 2:00 in the afternoon, no one missed any classes, for all periods were shortened a little. The whole program was enjoyed but the characterizations of the master of ceremonies were particularly well received.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB ENJOYS HOBBY PROGRAM LAST FRIDAY

In the absence of the president, Genevieve Beardlee, the vice president, Betty Chamberlain presided at the meeting which was made up of a short business meeting, followed immediately by the program of "Hobbies". Violet Coy, Shirley Douglas, Marian Yost, Margaret Shaughnessy, Reta Halsey, and Eleanor Baynes spoke on their own various hobbies and gave much in the way of new hobby ideas to the club members.

To make it more interesting, as many hobbies as were obtainable were used as displays to illustrate the speakers' subjects. Among these hobbies on display were: stamps, books, stone collection, coins, leaf and flower study, scrap book, memory book, old valentine collections, butterfies, crafts including: needlework, quilting, wood craft, knitting, and picture framing; and antiques.

Punch and cocoanut wafers refreshed the group after they each had had an opportunity to examine the hobby collection.

GRADE NEWS

A Miniature Museum

In the class room of our sixth grade is an interesting and unusual collection of many forms of plant and animal life. One of the most fascinating of these is the home of the trap-door spider, which was contributed by Mazy Wompole. The spider's house, found in California, is a queer structure made of clay, with a door which is partly open to catch the passing insects even while the spider sleeps.

A carved Coconut husk with the face of an Indian and ears and eyes of shells was brought by Ann Russell. Mr. Bach gave the room a small live turtle with a white enameled shell and the picture of a rose painted on its back. It also has the pen-written words, "Cleveland, Ohio" inscribed on the shell. They have remarkable pieces of petrified honeycomb and petrified wood and bone contributed by the students of the sixth grade.

The pupils have contributed to the collection many other interesting items such as the bowl of an Indian pipe, the mouths of three saw fish, the skeleton of a sea-horse, an abalone shell, coral, Indian arrow heads, angel wing shells, starfish, the skeleton and pinchers of a crab, a miniature totem pole, coal bearing rock, a sample of fools gold, some sea dollars, pine cones from Yosemite Park, cork wood and several interesting specimens of sea coral and shell and rock formations of various color, shape and size.

The collection is very unique and also very instructive to the students who helped to build it as well as those that did not. We are very proud of this fine collection made and exhibited by our sixth grade in their class room.

Miss Elzinga's Room
We are studying the Netherlands, Belgium and Denmark in Geography. In Art class we are going to draw pictures of these countries.

We are planning an Eskimo Village scene for one of the Bulletin Boards in the study of Greenland.

We have been writing patriotic stories of America in our Language classes.

Mrs. Rockwell's Room

Children who won credits in our spell-down Friday, February 26, were Ronald Jones, Gordon Hemingway, James Waterbury, Harold Kennedy, Frances Moller and Audrey Weichert. Most of our children have recovered from the measles and have returned to school.

Mrs. Beardlee's Room

For their Art work this week, the boys and girls have made attractive posters of Community Helpers—the Postman, the Iceman and the Milk Man.

We are learning two new songs—"Pussy Willows" and "A Spring Song".

The 4th Grade Geography class is just beginning a study of the New England States.

Winners of the spell-downs on Friday were Sara Collins and Marian Sloat.

Fifth Grade Reporter—Edna Bain

In Geography we have begun the study of a new continent, Asia, and we are now studying Japan. We are all working together on a Japanese poster, and are collecting articles made in Japan.

A few of our class are out of school because of measles. One of them is Eldon Rouse who has had a perfect attendance record for five years.

We are keeping a record of our daily spelling with our spelling thermometer and are trying to hit a hundred.

The story of Aladdin made our reading periods especially interesting last week.

FEATURES

Is This You?

Last week's most charming appearance: It is evening, about dusk. Soft flurries of snow are falling silently, covering the earth with a thin white layer. The trees are weaving slightly, shaking the snow from their branches. Both sides of the street are strangely quiet except for the cheery whistling every now and then slight interruptions of calling "Paper!" as Clinton Russell—"It wasn't a bad Carnival—More people should have attended. It wasn't well enough advertised."

Miss Strom—"It proved a very enjoyable activity for boys and girls—encouraged sportsmanship and I think an event of this sort should be held every year."

Evelyn Jencks—"Oh, it was swell!" throws the last paper on each porch and door-step. He is homeward bound—this probably accounts for the happy expression on his face.

The Inquiring Reporter

Question: "What did you think of the Winter Carnival?"
Hamilton Newman—"I enjoyed the afternoon very much."
King McIntyre—"I had a darn lot of fun."
Shirley Douglas—"It was grand."
Miss Elzinga—"It was very nice, I had a grand time and was very proud of the Winter Queen."

Winter Queen

Clarkston was well pleased with its selection of winter queen. Laura is a senior well-known at school. She is interested in sports and hence makes a good choice for a winter queen. Music is another of her interests and she often leads the singing at assemblies and pep meetings. She is a good sport and has won many friends among the students and faculty. Saturday the voters recognized her merits by choosing her as queen. Betty J. Clark and Evelyn Walz, who were runners-up, are also well-known at school and deserved their honors.

We Wonder!
If Rosemary Bradford was annoyed or pleased by the dark stranger who was in the halls last Friday night, the tall boy in the comical looking hat.

Whether Lester Spencer and Max Souby enjoyed the Fenton and Holly game.

Who the Walled Lake girl was that Bud Irish was escorting around at the game.

Why certain young men find it fun to take candy bars and not pay for them. (If the hat fits, wear it.)

Who is taking who to the Senior Prom this March 19. (We would never tell.)

What the choice has in store for us at their musicale on March 11. (It sounds interesting.)

What happened to all the left-over sandwiches at the Basketball Party. (The gals seem to think of the men folks on all such occasions.)

Looking in on C. H. S.
Girls wearing shirts and suspenders to school—What next? Don't be surprised if you see the boys wearing dresses.

Ralph Ware kicking the girls under the table. Maybe he is practicing for football.

Betty Williams receiving two mysterious notes signed Mr. X, lately. George Dupee reading "Better Homes and Gardens" in Session Room.

Kenny Wainman giving Mary Stadler his aviation pins.

Richard Craven dosing eighth period in Session Room. Just another architect who builds castles in Spain.

Muriel Boyns seeming to like to go ice skating. Wonder why?
Clint Russell and those freshman girls again. He can't seem to make up his mind.

We wonder who the boy was that Pearl Olson met in the lower hall eighth period Tuesday.

Art Clark and Howard Boyns have discovered a new game—at least you'd think so if you saw them hitting paper back and forth with their pencils.

Who was the boy who took Evelyn

Jencks home from the dance Friday night?
Wonder what (or who) was on Hammy Newman's mind Friday night when he made a basket for Walled Lake.

Ellis Jencks was unconcerned about everything else but his joke book Tuesday afternoon.

Donald Tee thinks dishwashing is not so bad.

The boys seem to like the name of Betty, note: Betty Beemer, Betty Fiske and Betty Davies.

Note to disappointed Juniors: After all you know somebody had to be left out and there is always another year. So, cheer up!
