COMMENT ORITICISM

Thumbsketches: As we understand the situation, instead of the cure of sit-down strikes as promised by our Governor, the cure only applied to an outbreak on the surface and now the disease is breaking out all over . . . Somehow we fail to get excited about the Supreme Court issue. Naturally we are against it if for no other reason than that John L. Lewis has promised his aid to the President in its favor . . . It is a peculiar thing, or is it, that every attack on the supreme court comes from a group therefore believe in a sort of fancy a teacher was again discussed and who have nothing themselves and gan "Human rights above property pointed chairman of a committee to . . We presume that for awhile higher wages and shorter hours will prevail . . . which is good. Then having more money than he knows what to do with, unconsciously the workingman will start to accumulate property and property rights will again prevail. Nature moves in circles—day follows night, depressions follow prosperity and human rights and property rights play leap frog wtih each other . . . All of which reminds us that nature has left the camp of the tenant and is now residing with the landlord . . . notice the way rents are skyrocketing. Real estate is coming back into its own. Happy days are here again! Clarkston is willing (82 to 19) to spend to improve its streets. Of course the News can shout in large type that it worked for this improvement, but we will not because we believe that in furnishing publicity for this improvement we only did our duty-and that should have been expected of us.

POMONA GRANGE HELD SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Pomona Grange held a very successful meeting at Ortonville on Tuesday, with 70 in attendance. Brandon Grange was host. The feature of the meeting was a discussion of the following question: "Resolved, that Congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for industry.

The discussion took the form of a debate, with the affirmative upheld by representatives from the Michigan State College at East Lansing and the negative by representatives from the State Normal School at Ypsilanti. The State College Teader was Prof. Menchofer and he was assisted by Miss Coleman and Miss Smith. Dr. McKay led the negative speakers, who were besides himself, Miss Evans and Miss Spicker.

The subject was approached in an impartial manner with the sole idea of presenting fairly both sides of the question. Following the talks by the college representatives farmers present participated in a general discussion, presenting their views and asking questions. The general attitude of the farmers was in opposition to the plan.

At the conclusion of the debate oth Dr. McKay and Prof. Menchofer stated that the meeting had been the most interesting and profitable of the three they had attended.

Marvin Featherston and Mrs. George Koester, of Ortonville, presented musical numbers, the former a cornet solo and the latter a vocal solo, with Mrs. Burt as accompanist. The next meeting will be held with. Groveland Grange on April 13.

HOLLY THEATRE

With songs by Irving Berlin carrying it to new heights of swanky melody, "On the Avenue", Twentieth Century-Fox' sparkling musical production, opens Sunday at the Holly Theatre, with a stellar cast of entertainers and the latest hits by the man to whose music most of the world makes love. 🕡 In this real-life romance of New York, gay and glamorous as the town itself, Dick Powell and Madeleine Carroll make a handsome and romantic team, ably surrounded by such masters of mirth and melody as Alice Faye, The Ritz Brothers and George Barbier.

"On the Avenue" gets off to a hilarious start when Madeleine Carroll, as a wealthy debutante, George Barbier, as her father, and Alan Mawbray, as an explorer, enter a theatre just as Dick Powell, Alice Faye and The Ritz Brothers are going into a farcical burlesque of the home life of 'the richest girl in the world".

As the infuriated family stalks from the theatre, voicing threats of damage suits to the manager, Madeleine heads for the stage entrance, and, brushing past the doorman, snatches Alice's wig off and starts to wreck Dick's dressing room before she is ejected.

In a cooler moment, Madeleine regrets her ill-tempered rampage, and, apologizing, invites Dick to dinner. Falling in love with her, Dick promises to revise the skit for their next visit. However, partly from jealousy but mostly as a lark, Dick's partner, Alice, ruins his plan by adding even more caustic lines to the burlesque.

To revenge herself on Dick for the humiliation, Madeleine not only agrees to marry the explorer, but in the script doesn't add to their takes over the show and fills the audience with people who walk out on him when he starts his song, "You're are not so simple as they thought Laughing at Me". Columnists, tipped they were, and Mrs. Walter, an old off in advance, report gleefully that "now they're howling at him."

An exciting conclusion, in which one of Irving Berlin's melodies plays a novel and important part, brings Charles Perry and Betty Chamber- the pair to a thrilling, romantic and lain each glorying in their roles tuneful solution of their difficulties, which enable them to "get back at winding up one of the gayest and each other". It's funny to see Chuck most melodious musicals that the

Romeo, noted as the best team at the tournament, got off to a fast start getting a five point lead which Clarkston overcame to lead Romeo at the quarter by one point 7-6. Both teams favored the fast break which gave the spectators the best entertainment of the evening. Romeo's superiority largely due to the efforts of Sterling, an excellent floor man, began to show near the end of the half when Romeo pushed to a 13-10 lead

Swift and dependable, Long Distance telephone service has won an important place in the modern social life of Michigan. The recent rate reductions have given the service greater usefulness than ever before, have made available to almost every one the pleasure and benefit of "voice visits" to far-away friends and relatives.

Special occasions lend special interest to Long Distance service. It is the ideal way of extending your congratulations on a birthday, a wedding day, an anniversary. Any other remembrance you send could be sent by some one else; but only you can send your voice.

between filling stations in the Ford "60"

THE 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was first developed for Europe, where fuel costs are high. Two years' usage there proved its unusual economy.

When the "60" came to this country this year, the Ford Motor Company made no mileage claims—waited for facts, written on American roads by American drivers.

Now Ford "60" owners are reporting averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. That makes it the most economical Ford car ever built!

Best of all, the Ford "60" is just as big and roomy—just as handsome, sturdy and safe—as the famous 85horsepower Ford V-8. And it sells at the lowest Ford price in years.

If you want a big car for a small hudget-a car you can drive with pride and profit—see the thrifty "60" soon!
