Mrs. Margaret Rockwell Retires From Teaching

After teaching 26 years in public schools Mrs. Margaret Rockwell is retiring. She was born in Waterford Township October 22, 1874. She graduated from the Normal College in Ypsilanti in 1903 after taking a four years' teaching course, and then taught in Colorado for 3 1/2 years. On August 2nd, 1905 she married Arthur Rockwell and they had three sons, Kenneth, Charles and Merritt. Mr. Rockwell passed away in 1929 and Mrs. Rockwell who had never given up her teaching career continued to teach. She taught 22 1/2 years in Oakland County, most of these years being spent in the Clarkston School. Mrs. Rockwell will always be remembered as an efficient and loving teacher. Her pleasing personality won her many friends. The teachers with whom she worked will miss her a great deal. She was a general favorite because of her agreeable disposition and her dry wit. She is a member of the local O. E. S. Chapter, the Past Matron's Club and the Clarkston Methodist Church.

Mrs. Lee Clark Is Hostess Tuesday

The Clarkston Literary Club met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lee Clark, with 18 members and four guests present. During the business meeting plans were completed for the annual picnic which closes the Club year, and at which meeting Mrs. Vollmer of Ortonville will be hostess. A fine program and dinner has been planned and transportation will be provided. The program for the day consisted of an interesting paper on "Our Colored People, their Characteristics and Superstitions" by Mrs. Ira Jones and an interesting sketch of the life of Paul Lawrence Dunbar and his Poems by Mrs. Rose Teggerdine. Then the group was favored with a reading, "A Dardies' Prayer" by Miss Mary Edgar in her usual pleasing manner. The meeting then adjourned, looking forward to the picnic on June 8th. The Clarkston Post office will be open for one hour at noon on Monday. Mrs. Rockwell's future plans are to spend the summers at her home in Clarkston and her winters in the south.

Choral Festival Presented Tonight

The musical treat that the people in this community have been waiting for for the last five months will be presented tonight in the school auditorium. The Clarkston Choral Club, consisting of twenty-six active members will combine with the Northville-Plymouth Male Chorus and the Walled Lake Methodist Episcopal Choir, in singing some very beautiful numbers. Anyone who likes music will enjoy every minute of the evening. The fact that these groups are composed of volunteer singers makes the program even more interesting. On Wednesday night the program was presented in the Northville School auditorium and every number was well received. At the close of the program the applause was so great that one of the numbers had to be repeated. Every person in Clarkston and vicinity should make an effort to hear this concert tonight. Tickets may be secured from any Club member or at the door. The C. J. Cheesemans have returned to Clarkston for the summer.

Memorial Service Sunday Afternoon

A large crowd is expected to attend the Memorial service to be held at Lakeview cemetery Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. A program has been planned. There will be singing and readings and a guest speaker, Clarence Vliet, superintendent of schools in Bellevue. The graves will be decorated. Anyone wishing to donate flowers is asked to leave them at the town hall on Saturday afternoon, May 29. If there are any school children who would like to take part they are asked to report at the town hall on Saturday also.

Not by request, in fact not caring whether you are interested or not, wholly overlooking the fact that brother Rev. C. E. Edwards will deliver a perfect inspiring address about your future; even considering the fact that the words of greybeards are immaterial to the happiness of young people, we persist in following a custom of some years of passing on a word of advice to the Senior class of Clarkston High School as they commence their way in the world. You young people are now at the cross roads of your life. Now is the time to decide what your future will be.

Let's divide the future into two parts. Let's consider the words of a number of famous men—even a few famous women. The import of these words is that ten per cent of the population owns ninety per cent of the wealth of the country. It would seem logical then, in this illogical world, that ninety per cent of the population owns only ten per cent.

Take your choice . . . and then fight like hell . . . well if your choice is not worth fighting for, why make the choice in the first place?

Let's take the ten per cent idea first. Whoever saw a senior who did not think the world his oyster. And this applies to the girls too . . . even if you do not hanker for a career, dollars to doughnuts you will be making some male jump through hoops to satisfy the ideals you expect from life.

To be a successful ten per center seal up your heart, cut out all pleasant emotions and like Alexander set out and conquer the world. Follow this plan for at least sufficient time to put you in a position to relax and spend the rest of your life giving your rewards away. Flatten all opposition. Steel yourself to all such kind remarks as robber, thief, crook, oppressor, economic royalist, and some others that we cannot print. A good ten per center should be able to beat the government out of more in one year than some men make in a lifetime on an income tax alone. And if you can do this you should have some good ideas of your own.

On the other hand if this plan looks too difficult and remember ninety per cent thought so, so you are not alone, you must watch your step. Consider well the job you accept. Be sure that there are more than eight employees, so you can qualify for your social service when you get to be sixty-five. Present indications are that a job with a company that does an interstate business will better qualify you for the government benefits you should learn to expect as a part of your existence. You see Congress, now, has to keep its hands off a business entirely confined within the state. And having chosen, start to relax. Remember life does not expect much from you. You will never be bothered by people with causes, asking you to contribute to this or that. It will make life's journey easier if you remember that Ford is noted for automobiles; Firestone for tires; Edison for electricity; Bell for telephones, and Rockefeller for oil, because it will prove that you have not got a chance anyway, so why try. Make up your mind what you want. Then Go To Town.

 they wandered disconsolately through the halls of Clarkston High School. The mighty Seniors, worshipped and revered by them for so long, were gone. Sadly they shook their heads and conversed in low and muted tones. They must do something. They could not spend the entire day in sorrowful contemplation so they concluded that the best way to soothe their mournful spirits was to listen to the radio. They grouped about it. They twirled the dials rapidly not caring to hear the swing music of Benny Goodman nor the vivid interpretations of Eddy Duchin and were unable to find the mournful type of dirge for which they sought. They were about to turn off the radio when one member of the class turned the dial much further to the right than anyone had previously done. There was a sharp, an almost deafening noise. Then there was a sudden report and a haze seemed to surround the radio. They gazed awestruck upon it and saw that no longer was it the radio to which they had been listening, but a perfectly equipped television instrument which revealed, according to an announcer whose voice now came softly into the room, the world as it would be 25 years hence. No longer sad and sorrowful, the joyful Juniors came closer and with one accord began to turn the dial trying to catch glimpses of the present Seniors in the year 1962.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, we have received word that the famous woman explorer, Shirley Douglas, has been lost in the jungles of Africa where she was looking for the 'missing link' and that the rescue plane with Caroline Walter as aviatrix has gone in search of her." The Juniors could hardly believe their eyes for there before them was Shirley Douglas, her hair blown and her face dirty as she dug deeper and deeper into the earth, and circling above her was Caroline Walter in her plane, "Ki". So interested were they in the television, the Juniors forgot to tune up the announcer's voice and it was left unheard but the television was clear and startling. Each of the Juniors took his turn in twirling the dial and as it was moved they reached Spain where Durward Ash, the world known bull fighter, had just won another victory (over the bull). Another twist of the dial and their vision fitted across the sea to India where Genevieve Beardslee, the wife of a Missionary, and Kathleen Johnson, Mrs. Ashstan, were chatting about the high cost of ice. A giggle was heard among the Juniors and then another scene came upon the screen that made the students hold their breath. In a very large theatre in New York, Angeline Marcora and Fred Astaire in their famous dance step "Suzieque" and the SoLow Quartet with the Soprano, Donald Bain, were being starred. Sitting in a conspicuous box of the theater was New York's prominent lady of society, Jean Oxtoby, and the renowned professor of Public Speaking at Yale University, Lester Spencer, was in the front row. One of the Juniors deciding on a change moved the dial until it stopped at a huge tent with the lettering "BUDLUM BARLEY'S CIRCUS" on it, and inside was Bud Irish, "The One and Only Man on the Flying Trapeze", and his partner LaBelle Butters practicing their stupendous act; Jean Conklin, that graceful bareback rider, was seen in the other corner of the tent riding some of the Broncos. Another short report was heard and a scream of delight came from the Juniors when they saw Eleanor Baynes running a nursery school for all the little boys from the ages 14 and up. But the scene faded and in its place appeared the neatest, cleanest candy shop above which they read the sign: Marion Yost, owner and manager. Gleefully the students again twirled the dial and were surprised to see the House of Representatives where Ruth Borst, representative from Hawaii, was introducing a bill for a patent on Wilson Denton's latest invention, a mechanical thumb for hitch-hiking, and on the side line was Laura Robinson, special cartoonist for "Time", drawing cartoons and comic strips of the Congressmen. Suddenly there came to the view of the bystanders, the faces of Eddy Nelson and Grace Adams in the singing picture, "Clarkston Rhapsody" and of the dramatic actress, Patricia DeLap, who is now starring in the latest Broadway hit,

"The Waterbury Kid". As the scene turned back to Clarkston, they saw Hilda Barnett, the manager of the Lowrie Creamery, paying Lewis Putnam, the happily married farmer, for ery. There was a murmur of surprise the milk he had just sold the Cream when the next scene appeared, for revealed a group of Eskimos and there in their midst was Louise Gulick drawing up the plans for the newest and most modernistic Igloos. The cold appearance of the scene made the onlookers shiver and with trembling fingers they turned the dial, leaving Louise Gulick in Alaska, and coming upon a little church where the preacher was giving a sermon and sitting in the front row listening most approvingly and intently to his words concerning the evils of dancing, was his wife, Donna Lowrie; Doctor Winifred Miller, chief physician of Clarkston, and that prominent Business Woman, Hazel Sommers who was awaiting the arrival of her Prince Charming. Some of the teachers passing by in the hall and took their turn at the dial, and a round of laughter was heard when they came upon the Campbell Bean Factory with Earl Beardslee, the President. Another teacher stopped in just as the Cotton Club Golf Course where Margaret Shaughnessy was competing for the World Championship came upon the scene. Not caring to watch a golf tournament, the Junior President turned the dial and the scene was centered upon the Supreme Court. There they saw Reta Halsey, famous criminal lawyer, defending "Dangerous Dan McGrew" on the charges of having cremated Sam McGee. One of the more light-headed Juniors who didn't care for the complex things of life twirled the dial to the location of the LaFay Dancing School where under the direction of Fay Tondou and Ruth Ferguson Amy, thousands danced in unison. The clearness was gradually fading and the last dim light showed Dorothy Wilson as editor of the New York Times office hiring as special columnist, June Dunston, who had become famous for her "Funster Wisecracks" in the "Funster Magazine".

"That's all of them" remarked the Junior Secretary. "Maybe we can get it to show ourselves 25 years hence", the Vice President offered on sudden inspiration. He twisted the dial expectantly—there was a shrill noise and a puff of smoke burst forth as the machine once more became just a radio. The teachers and Juniors, still in a daze, seemed not to realize that it had actually happened. Only the four o'clock bell brought them to the reality that it was time to go home and that Skip day was over and their beloved Seniors would be back on the morrow.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Waterford Church are planning to have Auxiliary Day at the Church on June 3rd. The hostesses will be Mrs. Isabella Dryden, Mrs. John Gillespie, and Mrs. Lloyd Gidley. Roll Call will be answered with an interesting household hint. The business meeting will be conducted by the president, Mrs. P. L. McLaughlin. A cooperative luncheon will be served at one o'clock.

The Home Extension Club will have a party in the Whitfield Grove, weather permitting, on June 4th. If the plans are changed an announcement will be made. A lovely luncheon is being planned. Those attending are asked to supply their own table service.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Al Smith of Detroit spent the day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Smith. It was Mr. Emery Smith's eightieth birthday. He is in good health and is able to work in his garden.

David Menberg celebrated his 19th birthday on Friday. He entertained a number of his friends at his home. Games were enjoyed and a birthday supper was served.

The Good Will Club was pleasantly entertained last Friday at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Sutherland in Rochester. A three course luncheon was served at a very attractive table. There were nine members present. The short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Menberg. The program was under the able direction of Mrs. Roy Blakeslee, who gave a book review on "Everybody's Lonesome" by Clara Laughlin. This was thoroughly enjoyed. The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bessie Owen and Mrs. F. M. Thompson will have charge of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Girst and family, of Van Syckle subdivision, spent the weekend at Cummins, Mich.

A capacity crowd enjoyed "Polly-Make-Believe", the grade school operetta at the Waterford School, directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Shoup, Friday night. Attractive scenery was made by Mrs. Chloe West, Miss Mildred Clemons and Miss Gertrude Everett assisted in the presentation.

The cast included: Polly-Make-Believe, Evelyn McCann; Lassie, Lois Burt; Mack, Jack McCaffrey; Jimmie, Bobby Smith; Mrs. O'Toole, Charlotte Maybee; Boy Scout, Ronnie Mustoe; Bud, Edward Randeau; Dot, Jean Girst; Becky, Patricia Stites; Lil, Myra Katherine Rowley; Buttons, Max Burt; Rosie, Ann Zander; and children, Helen Smith, Buddy Kratt, Sammy Ledger and Whyoma McEvers. Others took the parts of vegetables, Apple Blossom Fairies, Orphans and children.

During intermission musical numbers were enjoyed. On account of the weather Mrs. Oscar Schmidt's rhythm band lacked a few members. However they played one number and then the children gave a reading led by Marian Emery. Those who attended were pleased with the entire program. The costumes were very unique and interesting in a capable manner.

Miss Anita Harris has accepted a position with the Consumers Power Co. in Pontiac and has been working there for about two weeks.

Firestone TIRES

GIVE YOU GREATER PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING AND BLOWOUTS

YOU will know the minute you see this tire why car owners everywhere call it the greatest tire ever made to sell at these low prices. The deeper, wider, flatter non-skid tread made of tough, long wearing rubber will give you protection against dangerous skidding.

But tires cannot be judged on tread alone. Under the tread of Firestone Standard Tires are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords. This Firestone patented construction feature binds the tread and cord body into one inseparable unit. Every cotton fiber in every cord in every ply is saturated and coated with pure liquid rubber which counteracts the internal friction and heat that ordinarily destroy tire life. This Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping gives greater protection against blowouts and is used only in Firestone Tires.

Come in, join the Firestone Save A Life Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

DO YOU KNOW

THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children?

THAT a million more were injured?

THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to unsafe tires?

CLASS WILL

By Dorothy Wilson

We the Senior Class of Clarkston High School, County of Oakland, and State of Michigan, being of unsound mind and disintegrating memory after four strenuous (?) years, do hereby make, publish and declare this as our last and best will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills, bequests, and devises of whatever nature by us already made.

FIRST: We give, devise, and bequeath to the Junior Class, Mr. Winn, our sponsor, and the Senior holiday, if they can get it, and all memories, bitter, sweet or otherwise of Clarkston High School.

SECOND: To Mrs. Durand we leave our everlasting thanks and good-will for her kind assistance in our Commencement program.

THIRD: To Mrs. Walter, Mr. Bauer, Mr. Waters and any other teacher who may be concerned, we give and bequeath all the amazing knowledge and startling information that we have furnished them from time to time in our various examination papers.

FOURTH: We leave to Miss Wellington the 8th hour session room of Juniors. May she like their pens better than ours.

FIFTH: Be it hereby known that all members of the Senior Class generously, with charity for all and malice toward none, bequeath the following personal and class belongings to underclassmen to help them in the pursuit of happiness:

I. Our dignity and good sense we leave to the Junior Class; may they apply it with rapid and spreading strokes.

II. To the Sophomore Class we leave our quick wits, rapid elucidations, and the best of all, our ability to play hooky without having to make up double for lost time.

III. To the high school infants (Freshmen) we leave our utmost sympathy and our ability to absorb English, science, mathematics and all those studies which are beyond the comprehension of their undeveloped mental capacities.

IV. Durward Ash bequeaths his phone calls and dates to Pete Secord.

V. To Paul Shaughnessy, Jean Oxtoby leaves her modesty and bashfulness.

VI. Kathleen Johnson and Laura Robinson leave their ability to "go steady" to Alice Williams.

VII. To Clifton Russell and Charlotte Sue Miller, Lewis Putnam bequeaths his daily place of rendezvous.

VIII. Mildred Butters leaves that nice quality that covers a multitude of mischief to Dan Addis.

IX. That "results guaranteed" book, "How to Win a Man" is bequeathed to the Junior girls by the authors, Hilda Barnett and Ruth Ferguson Amy.

X. Lester Spencer leaves his ability to study "16 hours a day" to Bettieann Comstock and Vivian O'Roark.

XI. Wilson Derton does give, devise, and bequeath his curlers to Ralph Yost and Leslie Vliet with the complete 10,000 page instruction book on their correct use.

XII. To her sister, Louise Gulick leaves her Senior ties—may she make good use of them.

XIII. Bud Irish bequeaths his physique and everything but his ambition to La Vern Hoyt.

XIV. To Evelyn Walz, Fay Tondou leaves his "gift of gab".

XV. Eleanor Baynes leaves her string of under-graduate boy friends to Mary Lindsey.

XVI. To Mary Gassick, Ruth Borst leaves her trips to Flint and cities whereabouts.

XVII. Margaret Shaughnessy leaves her ability to get away with chewing gum to Ruth Olson.

XVIII. To Marie Alander and Doris Morgan, Genevieve Beardslee leaves her Basketball opportunities hoping they'll not break thumbs in next year's games.

XIX. All the Andersonville School Picnics are left to the younger generation by Reta Halsey and Hazel Sommers.

XX. To Hazel St. Clair all her love for Civics and Economics is left by Marion Yost.

XXI. Grace Adams bequeaths her easy path toward knowledge and wisdom to Earl Lawson in order that he may not have to work so hard.

XXII. Caroline Walter and Winifred Miller leave their ability to giggle to Lucille Sommers.

XXIII. To Charles Perry, Earl Beardslee leaves his steadiness with the request that it be put to immediate use.

XXIV. Donna Lowrie gives her dancing ability to Chester Adams, so he will also be able to "swing it".

XXV. Jean Conklin bequeaths her blushing habit to Hamilton Newman, not that he needs it.

XXVI. To all the little boys who don't like to do home work, Donald Bain leaves the secret of graduating on two period attendance a day.

XXVII. June Dunston gives her poetic ability to Betty Ellen Chamberlain to use in next year's commencement.

XXVIII. To King McIntyre, Angeline Marcora leaves her tiny voice for Public Speaking purposes.

XXIX. Patricia DeLap bequeaths her winsome smile to Lyle Walker.

XXX. To Violet Coy, Shirley Douglas leaves Clark Soulbly and those night rides.

XXXI. Dorothy Wilson leaves her ability to catch gossip to Marie Tremper.

Having bequeathed all that we possess, have possessed, and expect to possess, we hereby appoint Mrs. Durand and Mrs. Walter as executors of this, our last will and testament. In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals this 28th day of May, A. D. 1937.
