COMMENT AND CRITICISM

Will wonders ever cease? I have seen a court room that it was a pleasure to walk into. Not your large, spacious, dull painted severe courts with uniformed attendants, but just a nice quiet "homey" sort of room—perhaps like the den in your home. The walls were painted with views of the outdoors, trees, bushes and even wild game. Heads of animals were displayed in appropriate places and along one side of the room on the floor was a little rail fence and between this fence and the wall were game birds. The kind of place children would like—and that place was for children, Oakland's County Juvenile Court. Certainly no juvenile—please distinguish from delinquent—can remain in such an environment and listen to Mr. McVittie's quiet voice without gaining confidence that perhaps the whole world is not against them even if they have had the misfortune to lose their mother and father.

Only on rare occasions do we try to tell anyone how to run their business. But may we suggest that if giving the population a free movie, once a week, is a good investment, why not complete the program and supply benches. Not only would the grounds hold more, but more would attend. Perhaps some carpenter could build an inexpensive bench and find a ready market by selling the same to the sponsors of the movies.

Jim Quick, advertising man for Standard Oil Products for this section, can be proud of the company's movie "Stan". It was advertising of course, but a good-will builder as well.

Speaking of advertising (something that I never or at least seldom mention) forces me to state that consistent, well planned advertising does pay. One of the characters in "Stan" ate about a peck of peanuts. Personally I got so hungry for some that after the show I went over to the carnival for some . . . and about a half a dozen, who had also seen the movie, were pleased to enjoy them with me.

Everyone has had their embarrassing moments, so let me tell you about one of mine. It seems that every month or so, I invest in a hair cut. While in the chair, conversation drifted to the carnival playing in town. I remarked that I knew the booking agent but that he had forgotten the News on this trip. Then the man in the other barber's chair sat up and I was shaking hands with Mr. Booking Agent, in person. However one should be paid for embarrassing moments—see the adv on page 4 of this issue.

Relatives Surprise Huttenlochers Sunday

Last Sunday the H. W. Huttenlochers were pleasantly surprised when about thirty-five or forty of his relatives arrived to spend the day with them.

As a rule when a crowd of this size assembles one of the first questions is "When do we eat?" However this was no great problem because nothing had been forgotten and before the day was far advanced they enjoyed a very delicious cooperative dinner.

Guests were from Detroit, Jackson and Munith.

OBITUARY

Franklin S. Kent

Franklin S. Kent, aged 86 years, passed away on Wednesday morning at his home in Waterford Township. Mr. Kent was born in Ortonville on Sept. 8th, 1850, and resided in Ortonville for many years. He was a retired farmer.

He leaves two children, F. Floyd Kent, Pontiac Realtor, and Mrs. Robert Ervin of Los Angeles, Calif., and one brother, Remond Kent of Pontiac.

A funeral service will be held at 2:30 Friday afternoon at the Oden Funeral Home in Clarkston. Burial will be in Ortonville.

Clarence K. Phillips Taken by Death

Funeral Was Held Thursday Afternoon

The residents of Independence Township were shocked on Tuesday morning when word was received that Clarence K. Phillips had passed away at the Pontiac General Hospital. Mr. Phillips had been taken to the hospital just two days previous suffering from an infection caused by an injury to his hand with a hay-fork less than two weeks ago.

Mr. Phillips was born in Independence Township July 18, 1869, the son of county pioneers, Theodore S. Phillips and Mary King Phillips.

He attended Hunter and Clarkston schools and on Jan. 1st, 1895, he married Virginia Poole. They resided at Sashabaw Plains. He lived in the township all of his life and served as Supervisor for many years. He was well known throughout the County having served as chairman of the Board of Supervisors. Mr. Phillips' life was one of service and all who knew him admired and respected him.

Many of his friends knew that he had been injured with a hay-fork but they seemed quite confident that he would be alright. However his condition became more serious and infection resulted and very few were aware that he had been removed to the hospital. Lockjaw caused his death.

He is survived by his widow and three daughters, Mrs. Ethel Barnett of Pontiac; Miss Mary Phillips at home and Mrs. Edith Longmuir of Lake Angelus.

A prayer service was held at the home at two o'clock on Thursday afternoon. Funeral services were held at the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church at 2:30 with burial in the Sashabaw cemetery.

ERODED PASTURES MAY BE BETTERED

By Following Suggestions Given In Article Below

If takes more than a few strands of rusty barbwire stretched around a worn-out field to make a pasture, says James Porter, extension soils specialist of Michigan State College.

Many Michigan pastures are severely eroded, Porter says, largely because the land was severely eroded before it was put in pasture. Since a good sod controls erosion and provides an almost immediate return in low cost feed, he urged careful planning in establishing new pastures on eroded land.

Contour furrows help to control erosion and also conserve moisture, thus aiding in establishing a good sod, according to Porter. Plowing in small gullies before constructing the furrows is usually recommended. Small galled spots can be revegetated more readily by broadcasting manure over them or mulching these areas, he said.

"After contour furrows have been constructed, the next step in providing a good sod is to apply lime if needed, and to fertilize adequately," Porter said. "The disturbed areas and other portions of the pasture where vegetation is insufficient should be seeded to a good pasture mixture."

Porter's recommendations are in accord with those of the Soil Conservation Service.

Have you ever examined the extension cords and sockets in your home? There are few who have not at some time had a shock from fixtures, wires, switches, or appliances. Some even brag that "I don't mind 110 volts."

The only reason that some of us survived the experience is that we were standing on and touching nothing but some dry non-metallic substance not connected to a ground, such as a floor, a rug, or a chair, which was a sufficiently good insulator to protect us from the fatal shock.

We will not always be so fortunate if we remain so careless. Be careful with these extension cords, sockets, and lighting fixtures. It will be well worth your time to make a thorough check of them.

Downtown Clarkston Crowded Every Night

This week the Clarkston streets are crowded every night. Parking space is scarce. The reason—the street carnival on East Washington street.

Saturday will likely be a busy one and in all the rush you are asked to remember the pet parade for the children at 2:00 p. m.

Billy Kanold Is Five Years Old

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Paul Kanold entertained a number of little folks in honor of her son, Billy's fifth birthday.

From two o'clock until four the little guests were kept busy playing games and amusing themselves with Billy's toys. Refreshments were served at a table centered with a battleship. Toy soldiers were the favors and these along with the color scheme of pink and white made the table very attractive. The children were delighted with everything especially the lovely birthday cake with the five little candles on it. To make the day complete each child received a colored balloon.

Billy received many pretty gifts and the little guests were just as pleased as he was when he opened them.

The guests included Mary Kay Winn, Joyce Woolfenden, Caroline Woolfenden, Jean McCaren, Nancy Davies, Jimmy Hubbard, Jimmy Huttenlocher and David Ronk.

Family Reunion Held At Big Fish Lake

The second annual reunion of the Byron Beardslee family was held at the Beardslee cottage at Big Fish Lake on August 1st.

A cooperative dinner was served and just like at all gatherings this was one feature on the program that was thoroughly enjoyed.

The weather was ideal so the entertainment did not have to be confined to in-doors. Some of the group spent the time visiting while others had a good time playing baseball, quoits and croquet. Of course the young people enjoyed the games and they had what might be termed a "Big Day".

Besides being a family reunion it was also a birthday celebration. It happened that the date was very close to Byron Beardslee's birthday and so to him it was not only a pleasant surprise but a real happy birthday celebration.

Those present besides Mr. and Mrs. Byron Beardslee were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Beardslee and Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Giese and family of Detroit; Elwin Murphy of Wyandotte; Mr. and Mrs. Hart of Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Beckman of Lom; Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Smith and Miss Florence Smith of Lapeer; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Beckman and daughter, Harriett of Oak Hill; Thomas Kelly of Oak Hill and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Miller and family of Clarkston.

HOLLY THEATRE

Just about a year ago two people were placed on the Paramount payroll for the first time. They were Bob Burns and Martha Raye.

Today, the hilarious fun-makers have reached stardom in a picture of their own. It's "Mountain Music", the hillbilly comedy which opens on Sunday at the Holly Theatre.

Millions on the air know Bob Burns as the hill-billiest hillbilly of them all. So it was only natural that eventually Burns would be placed into his favorite locale of Arkansas and bring to life characters about whom he talks.

The picture itself is a satire in which mountain feuds are kidded. In the picture Bob is a girl-shy chap who can't resist a desire to work. His father inveigles him into a position whereby Bob is scheduled to marry the daughter of another clan and thus settle a feud. The idea was great—but Bob leaves her standing at the figurative altar.

In the supporting cast are such notables as Jan Duggan, for five years the star of "The Drunkard", Fuzzy Knight, who scored such a hit in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine", and Rufe Davis, hillbilly sensation from the night clubs.

John Howard and Terry Walker provide the subsidiary love interest to the "romance" of Burns and Miss Raye.

"Mountain Music" was especially written for the screen by MacKinlay Kantor, noted novelist and poet, whose "The Voice of Bugle Ann" proved one of the film sensations of the season a year ago. It was "pepped up" by John C. Moffitt, Duke Atteberry, Russel Crouse and Charles Lederer, and directed by Robert Florey. Burns himself took a large part in designing the mountain shacks to make sure they were authentic.

Getting Ready For Tax Sales in May

The compiling of sales records on certain counties of the state was started today by Auditor General George T. Gundry.

The compilation is done on a staggered schedule so as to conform to the term of court in each county that precedes the date of sale. Mr. Gundry explained that the records for all counties must be completed and in the hands of the county officials six to eight weeks prior to the opening of the Circuit Court. Mr. Gundry commended county treasurers of the state in making their returns of payments so promptly.

Mr. Gundry continued: "Posting of payments are progressing rapidly for all counties. The work in some counties is farther behind than others but the general thought is to complete the work on a schedule according to the terms of court in various counties during the next month. Several additional counties will be started and by the middle of September our task of compiling the Tax Sale Record will be in full swing."

Mt. Bethel Church Observes Centennial

Rev. R. M. Atkins Is the Guest Speaker

About 150 persons attended the centennial anniversary celebration at the Mt. Bethel Methodist Episcopal Church last Sunday.

Service was held at 10:30 a. m. with Rev. R. M. Atkins, district superintendent, of Flint, as the guest speaker. He was assisted by Rev. H. A. Smith, Pastor, and Rev. R. E. Winn of Flint. The special music included a vocal solo by Mrs. Louis Walter of Clarkston and Mrs. Eleanor VanAtta of Detroit.

At noon a lovely cooperative picnic dinner was enjoyed and everyone had a good time visiting and renewing acquaintances. A program was presented during the afternoon. Early pioneering experiences formed an interesting part of the program with Mrs. Estelle Graham relating many interesting and amusing events. Readings by Elaine Bird, Dorothy Lamb and Martha Atkins were appreciated. Other numbers on the program were a piano solo by John Atkins; vocal solo, Mrs. R. E. Winn accompanied by Mrs. Charles Wortman; cornet solo, Robert Wright accompanied by Carol Wright Jr.; piano solo, Vera Heuer; vocal solo, Harold Wright Sr., and readings by Florence Bird.

Twelve Year Old Lad Has Endurance Test

Bobby Price Pedals from Detroit

On Wednesday morning, bright and early, a twelve year old lad who lives in Detroit packed his little bundle, got out his road map and then his bike and started out to visit his sister in Clarkston. The lad, Bobby Price intended to visit his sister, Mrs. Ralph Habermas. He left Detroit at 8:15 and enjoyed the ride all the way. Alas, when he arrived at the Habermas home he found the doors locked and the occupants gone. What a disappointment. The Habermas family had gone to Detroit. However the A. B. Wompoles saw the predicament and invited the lad to visit with them. It was just 12:45 and lunch time so Bobby enjoyed the hospitality of the Wompoles. He was tired and perhaps a little disappointed but he will enjoy a few days in Clarkston anyway.

Contract Club Entertained Thursday

On Thursday of last week Mrs. Harold Bauer was hostess to her Contract Club at her home on South Holcomb St.

BASEBALL NEWS

Clarkston at Pontiac Sunday, August 8

Score Last Sunday Clarkston -16, Milford 2

In the game last Sunday between Clarkston and Milford on the Clarkston diamond, Clarkston made 16 runs, 18 hits and 1 error while Milford made 2 runs, 8 hits and 7 errors.

Heavy hitting by Clarkston and poor fielding by Milford made the game interesting and the few spectators, who were out to boost the players, enjoyed the game very much. It was assumed that Milford had a better team than Clarkston but either Milford was very poor or Clarkston was exceptionally good because there certainly was a big difference in the playing of the two teams.

Next Sunday, August 8th Clarkston plays the Fisher Body night shift at Pontiac. All baseball lovers should make an effort to accompany the local lads and give them some encouragement. Go to Pontiac and cheer for your home team.

LAKE LEVELS ARE GETTING HIGHER

Heavy Rains This Year Have Brought This About

Inland lakes throughout southern Michigan and particularly the southeastern portion are tending toward higher levels as a result of frequent heavy rains in many of the southern counties this year, says the Department of Conservation, and this observation is confirmed by a visit to the lakes around Clarkston.

The weather bureau station at Jackson reports that precipitation for the first half of 1937 has been 9.32 inches in excess of the six-month recorded average. Several inland lakes that all but disappeared in the vicinity of Jackson during the past several seasons of sub-normal rainfall are reported coming back.

One inland lake near Lansing where the precipitation this year has been measured at nearly five inches in excess of the six-month average, is unofficially reported higher than at any other time in 20 years.

From 1930 to 1936, inclusive, there has been a deficiency of normal rainfall in many parts of southern Michigan with the result that some of the "pit" lakes without inlets or outlets and other lakes as well have dropped to lower levels.

CHILDREN IN COURT

Judge Malcolm Hatfield

The tragedy of a boy with too much idle time on his hands was revealed in court today when a college freshman was convicted of a reckless driving charge in which several persons were injured.

Some ten or twelve years ago the son of the late Calvin Coolidge was approached at his work in a tobacco shed by a young man who casually remarked "Believe me, if I had a car and my father was President of the United States you wouldn't catch me doing this kind of work."

Young Coolidge is reported to have looked up and replied, "You would if Calvin Coolidge was your father."

If there were more parents like the late President we would have fewer boys with high powered automobiles and large expense accounts seeking excitement and thrills on heavily congested highways.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Church met at the home of Mrs. Lovell Spalding at Williams Lake on Thursday. A lovely luncheon was served at noon. There was quite a good attendance as the members and their families were invited. In the afternoon a great many enjoyed swimming.

So many philatelists have gone in for specializing that one would think the various groupings should be well covered but still at times some new ones appear. A New York collector of note has gone into "Music in Philately" in a big way. He not only collects the stamps that bear portraits of famous musicians but included in his collection are pictures, usually post cards, or cathedrals that house famous bells; sheets of music that represent the best of the honored musician or perhaps just a familiar bar of one of his most noted compositions or a picture of the instrument for which the piece was written, and numerous other sidelines. His collection even includes an autographed stamp of Paderewski and he assured Mr. Steinway it would be the only one he would ever sign, making this one item alone an enviable possession.

It would seem that there could be no ending of such a "specialized" collection and the same idea might well be applied to any special group.

There are two favored suggestions for Alaska, the first a reproduction of the painting that depicts the signing of the treaty under which the United States paid $7,200,000 for purchase of Alaska and the other a view of Mount McKinley, highest peak on the North American continent.

MICHIGAN'S DUSTLESS ROADS, PARKS AND PICNIC NOOKS ATTRACT $300,000,000 TOURIST MONEY

State Facilities a Boon to Michigan Tourist Industry

DURING a typical year, the occupants of 2,500,000 out-of-state automobiles spend approximately $300,000,000 in Michigan, in pursuit of good times and recreation. Their cars burn 30,000,000 gallons of gasoline, adding $900,000 to the state's gas tax revenue. Penetrating to almost every nook and cranny of the upper and lower peninsulas, these tourists and vacationists traverse practically every mile of the state and county highway systems.

Michigan's popularity as a vacationland has increased tremendously during the last decade, and the State Highway Department is largely responsible for the increase. Miles and miles of concrete and bituminous trunk lines cross the state in all directions. Many-laned arterial highways lead into, around, and out of the principal cities. Gravel trunk lines, and many of the side roads as well, have either been stabilized or are adequately treated with surface applications of calcium chloride to eliminate the discomfort and danger incident to dust. No other state in the Union boasts as high a percentage of dustless roads as Michigan.

Along the highways at frequent intervals, the tourist finds beautifully landscaped and well-kept picnic spots, where chosen bends in the road, lakes, streams, and woods provide picturesque settings for the rustic tables, stoves, water wells and other facilities provided by the state. The Michigan State Highway Department has indeed become a national leader in making dustless highways and roadside picnic spots a powerful agency for the stimulation of Michigan's great tourist industry, an industry which in 1936 was the largest in the nation.

This activity to increase Michigan's attractiveness to the tourist has been greatly enhanced by other departments of the state in establishing an elaborate system of tourist camps and state parks in beautiful and historic locations. County highway departments, too, are becoming increasingly conscious of the value of calcium chloride dust treatment for roads and are also doing their part to provide tourist facilities. They have found that the use of the dustlayer not only stimulates local business but conserves road materials otherwise lost as dust.

The natural beauty of the state, its many lakes and streams, and wooded parklands, combine to make Michigan a vacation paradise. And its roads, known the nation over for their excellent condition, will keep visitors coming back year after year, bringing their friends with them.

CCC Men Needed to Fight Forest Fires

Lansing—Failure of quotas of new enrollments to bring Michigan CCC camps up to full strength together with high weather hazards is causing a serious forest-fire situation in the northern part of the state, P. J. Hoffmaster, director of conservation said today.

Individual CCC camps are permitted maximum strength of 160 men, Hoffmaster said. Because of lack of enrollments under the quota which extended to July 31, camps now have an average strength of but 100 men.

"Last summer when Michigan faced the highest fire hazards in a decade, losses were held to approximately 50,000 acres," Hoffmaster stated. He attributed much of the credit for this low loss to the fact that thousands of CCC enrollees were on continuous call as fire fighters.

Youths between the ages of 17 and 23 are eligible for enrollment in a CCC camp through application to the county welfare administrator. It is not necessary that their families be on the welfare, but the boys must be out of jobs at the time of application. Enrollment periods are for six months.

MAJOR CHANGES MADE IN FISHING LAWS

Lansing—Several major changes in Michigan's fishing laws were made by the state legislature to become effective Jan. 1, 1938.

The most notable change is the one requiring that residents who want to fish for trout to pay $1 for their license. Under the dollar license, resident fishermen will be permitted to catch not only trout, but all other species of legal gamefish in any of the waters over which the state has jurisdiction.

The old rod license remains in effect, except that it no longer permits the holder to fish for trout. In the case of resident male fishermen this license will continue to sell for 50 cents. No changes were made in non-resident fishing license fees.

Non-residents will be required to buy a fishing license in 1938 and thereafter to fish in the Great Lakes and connecting waters and Saginaw Bay for all species of fish except perch, catfish, bullheads, blue pike, sand pike, ciscoes and carp.

No change was made in the regular trout season by the legislature which left the opening date, the last Saturday in April, unchanged. The legislature also amended the fishing laws to require all persons over 17 years of age to buy a license.

For Homemakers

Vacation time and summer are harmonious with bright, washable frocks and the latter frequently acquire stains while on a picnic or a motor trip. Julia Pond, extension specialist in home management at Michigan State College, has some suggestions which may aid those who fail to see "fresh paint" warning signs or whose washable dresses come in contact with grease or fruit stains. One of the most important points in successful stain removal is promptness; either remove the stain as soon as it appears or before the cloth is washed or ironed.

The type of stain—whether it is sugar, fat, protein, or chemical—determines the method to be used in removing. One should also consider the fiber in the garment and the effect of the stain remains, one may apply the remover upon the color of the fabric. Sugar stains or washable fabrics are removed by clear water, while grease spots may be removed by warm soap suds or by a grease solvent such as carbon tetrachloride. If black automobile grease or tar, Miss Pond suggests that the stain be saturated with kerosene and left to stand for a short time before being washed in warm soapsuds.

Protein stains, including those caused by milk, cream, and perspiration are removed by washing first in clear, cool water and then in warm soap suds. Chemical stains, such as those caused by ink, rust, and medicine must be removed by a reagent suited to the particular stain. For ink, the fabric should be washed in warm soap suds or soaked in milk, careful to rinse thoroughly.

An oxalic acid solution. This solution is made by dissolving one teaspoonful oxalic acid in one and one-half cupsful of water. Stretch the stained material over a bowl filled with hot water, moisten the spot with water, and apply the acid by means of a medicine dropper. To avoid rotting or weakening the cloth, one should be

Fruit stains may be removed by stretching the fabric over a bowl and then pouring boiling water on the stain from a height of two or three feet, followed by washing in warm soap suds. If any stain remains, apply Javelle water by means of a medicine dropper and rinse carefully. Paint stains should be sponged or soaked with kerosene or turpentine before being laundered. Grass stains should be washed in hot water and soap and any remaining color bleached by Javelle water, followed by thorough rinsing.

HOW NEW YORK FAIR MOVES BIG TREES BY HUNDREDS

NEW YORK (Special).—As the housewife reports geraniums or the gardener moves berry bushes, so does the New York World's Fair 1939 Corporation transport stately trees from five states to the 1216 1/2-acre exposition site. The Fair's landscape engineers explain that the moving of the big trees differs from the replanting of small shrubs only in the matter of size, and that modern mechanical aids make possible the creation of a mature-looking park on the newly made land of Flushing Meadow.

Shown at the top of accompanying photographs is a grown maple that has just been restored to upright position after a 120-mile ride on a specially-built truck.

Note truck's winch and the secure balling of earth about the tree roots. In the center is a 35-foot Norway maple, 12 tons weight, moving the last few yards to its new home by means of the forward gear of a modern tree mover. All trees shown, a number of the 474 veterans moved this spring, are new to the great expanse of filled land. The Fair will move 10,000 trees and 250,000 shrubs.

Shown, just above, on the bay hunter is Harvey D. Gibson, President of the Manufacturers Trust Company and Chairman of the Fair's Finance Committee. Up on the handsome grey and speaking to a landscape engineer is Grover Whalen, President of the Fair Corporation, during a horseback tour of the site.

At least one design has been selected for the United States Territorial Possession, the Hawaiian stamp which will bear a portrait of Kamehameha I, first king of the Islands.

Born in 1736 and called by his subjects "The Great" and by the world "Napoleon of the Pacific" he conquered and brought all the surrounding islands into one group as his kingdom. He died in 1819. The portrait is taken from a statue that stands in front of Iolani Castle in Honolulu.

The color of the stamp is yet to be decided as well as the date.

It is quite possible that the Puerto Rico stamp will feature a view of San Juan Harbor.
