COMMENT AND CRITICISM

The other morning I was sitting out of doors getting the fresh morning air, at about seven-thirty, and I heard roosters crowing. Now I happen to know that these roosters were hatched in an incubator. It also happens that I believe hen-hatched roosters on a farm start their morning music about four or five o'clock. So this question comes to me. Do city-bred (incubator-hatched) roosters get up at a later hour than their country cousins?

Last week's paper was hardly in the mails when a merchant called in to say that they had some lumber to donate toward building benches for the citizens who attend the free movies. Now how about a carpenter?

Dick Seeterlin wishes us to advise you that there will be a show at the Airport Sunday. All kinds of flying by all kinds of flyers. In fact we understand that Dick will do some stunting. Anyway it is worth attending.

And now the carnival with its rides and two-price shows is history. And perhaps not exactly good history. Now we make this suggestion. We would like to see some society, or group of societies, organize to bring to Clarkston a real, old-fashioned home coming next year. It is not too early to start planning such an affair. Why not.

Friends Entertained Last Thursday

Mrs. Margaret Miller Was Hostess

On Thursday afternoon of last week Mrs. Margaret Miller entertained a number of her friends at her home.

PLAN BIG DAY FOR POTATO GROWERS

Event Will Be Held at Lake City Experiment Farm

Forty acres of potato demonstration and test plots will be on exhibit for Michigan potato growers who attend Potato Field Day at Lake City, September 2. About 2,500 growers are expected to attend.

This event, sponsored by Michigan State College and under the supervision of H. C. Moore, potato specialist, will include various exhibits and demonstrations of machinery showing the latest types in planting, spraying, digging, and grading. Other exhibits will show new and standard potato varieties, the best methods of disease and insect control, and how to harvest and grade potatoes to get the better prices.

The program includes discussion of the work being done with irrigation of potatoes by George Amundsen of the agricultural engineering department; potato disease and insect control presented by J. H. Muncie, plant pathologist, and C. B. Dibble, of the entomology department; methods of applying commercial fertilizers by George Grantham, of the soils department; development of new varieties explained by E. J. Wheeler of the farm crops department. After lunch, which may be brought from home or procured on the grounds, Ashley Berridge, superintendent of the Lake City experiment station, will discuss the development and operation of the farm; and R. J. Baldwin, director of agricultural extension, will give a brief address.

Potato grades will be on display under the supervision of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, which will show the new set-up on grades recently introduced. An exhibit showing an improved marketing program will be shown by C. L. Nash, Michigan State College economist. A meeting of the directors of the Michigan Quality Potato Association will be held late in the afternoon.

The experiment station at Lake City is located 13 miles east of Cadillac, 25 miles west of Houghton Lake, and may be reached on state highways 55 and 66.

BACK TAXES MUST BE PAID BY SEPT. 1

That Is Dead Line for 1935 and Prior Delinquencies

GEORGE T. GUNDY

Auditor General

In order to bring to the attention of the people of Michigan the danger of neglect to pay delinquent taxes, the State Administrative Board has authorized a State-wide campaign of advertising which calls attention to Public Act 28, passed in the 1937 session of the Legislature. (See our advertising columns.)

The Act clearly provides that properties delinquent for taxes for 1935 and prior years will go on sale in May next unless advantage is taken of the provisions for partial payment, before September 1, 1937. The Legislature has recognized that a method of relief is necessary in the case of some property-owners and has made possible the payment of back taxes on a "10 and 10 plan".

According to Auditor-General George T. Gundry, who is charged with the duty of supervising the operation of this law, all 1933, 1934, 1935 back taxes, as well as taxes levied in prior years, must be paid before September 1st, 1937 or else it is mandatory to place such properties on tax sale in May of next year.

The "10 and 10 plan", says Mr. Gundry, helps those property-owners who cannot pay in full at this time, by permitting the payment of 10 per cent of taxes due up to and including 1935, and allows the balance to be paid on a 10 year plan. It is decidedly to the advantage of taxpayers to use this plan. Interest and penalties have been cancelled and the only added charge is a 2% collection fee on the amount paid.

In order to take advantage of the provisions of the law it is necessary that 1936 taxes be paid in full. County Treasurers are fully acquainted with the Act and are already receiving applications from many taxpayers who welcome this method of discharging their tax obligations and keeping their properties from the certainty of tax sale next May. It is very important, however, that arrangements be made before September 1st, after which no further relief can be granted.

New Stage, New Seats At Holly Theatre

The work of enlarging the Holly Theatre according to plans the proprietor, A. Krikorian, has been considering for some time, was begun Monday and will be completed in about two weeks. To make room for additional seats the stage will be set back in an addition to be built at the rear. The new stage will be larger than the old and will accommodate stage plays if desired. By this change, about eight feet will be added to the auditorium and the seating capacity of the theatre will then be 350.

Mr. Krikorian has ordered new seats, modern and comfortable, and these will replace two-thirds of the present seats. The old seats still to be used will be placed in the front rows.

The work has been arranged so that there will be no interruption of the nightly performances.

Detroit Edison Makes Changes

Changes in territory alignment have just been announced by the Sales Department of The Detroit Edison Company. These changes will in no way affect customers and are solely for betterment of operation and management.

A customer as always may conduct any type of Detroit Edison business at any office most convenient at the moment for the customer.

The territory served by The Detroit Edison Company has for several years been divided into areas called "Districts". These district areas grew slowly by accretion and tended toward unbalance as to size and shape. County lines seem now to be the best method of division and the districts are now being realigned.

The new districts and the changes in personnel are as follows:

Livingston District—E. L. Mills, District Agent.

Macomb District—G. W. Hargreaves, District Agent.

Monroe district, no change in area—W. J. Fitzgerald, District Agent.

North Oakland District, Oakland County north of Sylvan Lake—H. J. Keith, District Agent.

South Oakland District, includes all of Oakland County south of Pontiac, Highland, Elizabeth Lake and Auburn Heights—R. W. Bricker, District Agent.

Port Huron District, expanded to include all of St. Clair County—D. W. Hayes, District Agent.

Washtenaw District—R. R. Brown, District Agent, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor will continue to serve as main offices for this district. Mr. H. Silvester, formerly of Ann Arbor, enters the Detroit office organization.

Wayne District, exclusive of Detroit metropolitan area, now includes Plymouth, Northville, Belleville, and the territory adjacent thereto—E. J. German, District Agent.

HARMFUL WEED IS CAUSING FURORE

So much publicity has been given lately both through the press and by radio to a weed or plant known as "marijuana" that this office has been deluged by questions concerning it.

Authorities classify the weed as a member of the hemp family which has been an important product for centuries in Eastern countries, the stalks growing from 6 to 18 feet, the long smooth fiber making the best of rope while the seeds of smaller varieties are valuable as food for birds and the crushed seeds produce small quantities of oil valuable as a narcotic. At one time the crop in Kentucky and Missouri alone amounted to 30,000 tons but is now considerably less.

The Indian hemp is considered by botanists as a distinct variety long in use in Asia, Africa and South America, but the effect produced by uses of the drug in the Orient is much different from that on the races living in temperate zones, no doubt due to the substances contained in the weed as grown in different soils and temperatures.

There the effect is that of cheerfulness with a desire to sing and dance while in this country with individuals of different temperament the effects are very alarming, continued use inciting to acts of violence.

First introduced in this country by Mexican laborers who planted small patches in the beet fields for their own use, it has grown to such alarming proportions with ever increasing sales to young people in large cities that the government has determined to put a curb on its illicit production and distribution.

Last week the President signed a bill modeled somewhat along the same line as the Fire Arms Control Act. a part of which is as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person who shall not have paid the special tax and registered, as required by Section 2, to send, ship, carry, transport, or deliver any marijuana within any territory, the District of Columbia, or any insular possession, or from any state, territory, the District of Columbia, or any insular possession of the United States, or the Canal Zone; into any other state, territory, the District of Columbia, or insular possession of the United States."

Another obnoxious weed that is giving great concern in farming areas is the bind weed, a member of the morning glory family that is distributed from Nova Scotia to Florida and westward to the Rockies. Its preferred habitat is roadside hedges and moist thickets but it rapidly spreads to nearby fields.

A vigorous vine with pretty pink and white flowers, closely resembling the morning glory both in leaf and flower, it is a degenerate of the low-cut type, twisting, strangling and suffocating everything in its path and of such a rapid growth that it has been known to make a complete twist around a large stalk in less than two hours. It not only sets an abundance of seed but the roots bury many feet into the ground so that farmers in several states have become weary of endless efforts and abandoned entire farms to the pest.

It is known in different localities by different names but all belong to the same family and constant destruction of the weed along roadsides and waste places will at least prevent the propagation of seeds to be carried along in streams and ditches to found new colonies of this very undesirable family.

Needless to add that there is an abundance of it in this part of the country with its acres of low moist soil which it loves.

As the small town newspaper editor who becomes involved in a sensational, big city scoop, Brown has a role tailor-made to his inimitable style of comedy in this, his second David L. Loew production. While serving as a local correspondent for a big metropolitan daily, a gangster killing occurs virtually under his nose. He helps a rival reporter scoop him by personally flying the story and pictures of the crime to the competitive paper, believing he is taking a sick dog to a Chicago veterinary.
 Ridiculed by the big city newspapers, as well as by the natives of his home town, Brown decides to reinstate himself by running down a smuggling ring running perfume across the Canadian border by air. Before he can carry out his plans, he is pursued by angry citizens who believe he has embezzled their money in a radio beam company organized by Guy Kibbee, a Chicago confidence man with a record who has used him as a pawn.
 With the use of the projected radio beam, an invention of his buddy, Brown takes out after the smuggler's plane, engages in a thrilling air battle, walks out on the wings of his own plane and shoots down the enemy ship with a shotgun. He returns home a hero.

For Homemakers

Grouping furniture for usefulness such as for reading, sewing, or writing—makes the room inviting because it suggests what one may do when he enters, say extension specialists in home furnishing at Michigan State College.

The furniture should be grouped for a purpose, and separate pieces should not be left alone. Single pieces appear isolated and useless, as few persons sit down and do nothing. Desks are useless without a chair and a lamp, and so are tables unless they are near a person who is sewing, reading, or working on a hobby, say the extension specialists.

Activities of the various members of the family should be considered when one is planning the various furniture groups, suggest the home furnishings specialists. For instance, the living room may have one or more reading groups. These reading groups usually consist of two chairs turned toward each other with a table and a lamp between. Readily accessible bookshelves are necessary, of course. Low home-made shelves of simple construction often fit into the furniture arrangements better than the larger, more elaborate, ready-made type, say the specialists.

Besides the reading group, the homemaker should consider provisions for writing, sewing, rest, conversation, and perhaps a play corner for children.

Every livingroom needs a day bed, a couch, or aavenport to enable one to rest without having to use a regular bed. If there is no space in the living room, the day bed may be placed in the dining room, or even in a corner of the kitchen.

Provisions should be made so that two or three people may sit together to visit, without the inconvenience of first carrying chairs across the room. In addition to gaining an appearance of order and neatness, grouping the furniture gives the effect of added space.

Saturdays and Sundays take the lead in the number of accidents by automobiles. The week-end congestion of traffic, especially on highways and on crowded city streets, is responsible for this record. People are anxious to get out of the city on Saturday and in their hurry frequently forget the safe practices and common sense rules. In hurrying home on Sunday night, carelessness again overtakes them and as a result more accidents are reported.

"We are immensely pleased with its economy..."

OWNERS SAY:

"We are very enthusiastic in praise of our range . . . and immensely pleased with the economy of electric cooking. It hasn't cost as much as the way I used to cook."
 "We have many times recommended the electric range to our friends. You know it is not expensive. Why not advertise the fact?"

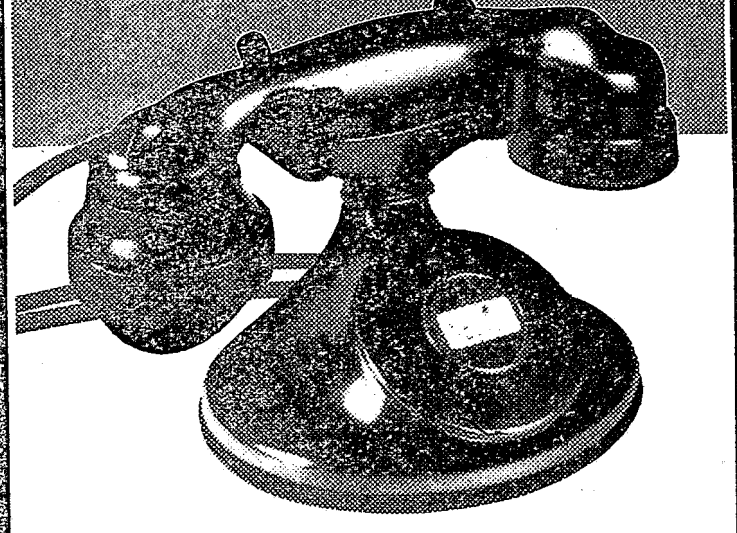

NINE AT-A-TIME
 Sandwich toasting at its easiest and best—helps make entertaining easy! This is only one of countless things you can do in your electric oven. A woman writes: "The oven is marvelous! Everyone remarks how lovely my roasts are. I wouldn't go back to my old stove under any conditions."

NO GUESSWORK

A housewife writes: "I can't say enough for the oven of my electric range. I never have baking failures, and the oven control ends all guesswork."
 Another says: "It is grand in every way. My cakes and biscuits are so much better and my roasts are nicer. I would never have anything but an electric stove."  (See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, electrical dealers and all Detroit Edison offices.)
