Home Economic Student Clubs of Michigan held their annual convention last Friday and Saturday in Flint with the Durant Hotel as visors attended, representing most of graduated from the local High School in the seventy-eight affiliated clubs in the class of 1024 Challenge of 1024 Chal

Mrs. Strait, as Clarkston Home Economics Club advisor, attended the meet with thirteen local home economics students. Violet Coy, Pearl Olson, and Betty Chamberlain, were sent as official delegate and representatives, respectively. The remaining group included Mary Lindsey, Vivian O'Roark, Mary Gassick, Betty Cole, Bessie and Mary Williamson, Phyllis Beardsley, Harriet Beckman included trips on chartered ousses to the Lapeer State Hospital, the Buick Factory, and the McDonard Dairy. A dance and a fashion show also shone quite brightly in their schedule. Several interesting and inschedule. Several interesting and instructive talks were presented to the girls by national and state advisors and by Michigan State College girls. But we believe their favorite speaker was Marta Delante, honored guest of the convention from Sweden. She is studying at Michigan State College on an international Home Economics Scholarship. The girls fairly climbed over each other to get her signature and got her into a corner at the dance Friday evening to hear more about "her Sweden". She was fairly bombarded with questions which she answered in a mixture of English and Swedish, since she has been in our country only a month.

The Clarkston Club received many new ideas from suggestions made at the convention, and we are hoping to make this year's program even more successful than last year's.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO DEER HUNTERS

Timely Information and Advice as Season Approaches

Preparations are being made to detail approximately 25 conservation officers from the southern part of the state to the upper peninsula and the northern regions of the lower peninsula during the deer hunting season.

In addition to the customary asnt of officers from the southern districts, a number of fire wardens and towermen will also be placed on duty in the deer areas for the 15-day season. Similarly officers in the southern parts are being aided during the present duck season by 36 officers transferred temporarily from northern districts.

Don't be the cause of the first "C C. C. hunting accident" in Michigan is the appeal now going out to hunters from the conservation depart ment.

No accident due to hunting has ever occurred to a C. C. C. enrollee in this state up to this season. As in previous years, signs have again been erected in the vicinity of C. C. C. camps and work projects, warning hunters of their proximity.

Appreciation for the care exercised by hunters in past seasons is expressed by Robert Fechner, Civilian Conservation Corps director, in a request issued from his office in Washington, for hunters to refrain from shooting while within range of C. C. C. sites.

Although capable of sound, the whitetailed deer of Michigan is one of the most silent members of the deer family. The moose calls and the elk bugles, but the deer rarely gives

CHILDREN IN COURT

Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Thousands of small cities and vil lages continue to have high per-capita juvenile crime rates simply because they refuse to supervise and direct the recreational activities of their young men and women into harmless and healthful channels.

Boys enjoy the spirit that motivates the gang and cannot be housed in the back yard. There is little need to attempt to break up a group of youngsters for they invariably congregate in out of the way places. To deal out harsh punishment to a boy who insists on meeting his friends does not solve the problem but causes him to become hardened and bitter toward life. Unless such districts provide supervised recreation for their youth, they, will continue to provide Dillingers for the large cities to cope with.

STATE NOT BEHIND CHANGE OF SYSTEM

Has Nothing to Do With Method of Collecting Sales Tax

Change in the method of collecting the three per cent state sales tax was made by an agreement among certain merchants and was not originated by the present state administration, Draper Allen, sales tax director, pointed out Tuesday.

He said that the state is only in terested in collecting a levy of three per cent of the merchants' gross business and that the government has no control over the method used by the dealers to pass the cost along.

Merchants of the state recently agreed to start the collection upon purchases of 15 cents instead of the previous minimum of 17 cents.

"There seems to have been a effort by some merchants to create the impression that this administration had increased the sales tax rate, Allen said. "The only increase has been created by the merchants them selves.

"From the questions we have re ceived it appears that some retailers have also been misinformed about the bracket system. It should be distinctly understood that any merchant may continue to use the old system. "The state had no part in framing any bracket system and will have no part in enforcing any."

Attorney General Raymond W Starr has ruled that the state should take no part in the apparent contro-

Clarkston got numerous "breaks" in the game but failed to take ad vantage of them. In the first half, Holly fumbled five times, each time the ball being recovered by a Clarkston man. One of these fumbles was recovered on our own one yard line by C. Russell.

Holly scored on a pass in the third quarter and then completed a second they have shown during the past pass for the extra point. These were the only successful Holly passes during the game.

Those who showed up quite well on the field were Russell and Yost on offensive work and Clark on defensive work. In general, the line looked strong on defense but rather weak on offense and the back field rice versa.

Passes cannot be put up as the only reason for the Clarkston defeats, however. Two other vital elements enter into making a successful team. One is substitutes; the other a good supporting crowd. Cleaning Up of Premises Will Reduce Horde Next Year

Trash and rubbish and fields and gardens should be cleaned up now to Auto Insurance Co. A good reliable cut down numbers of at least 12 serious crop pests which otherwise will fatten up to "over-winter" and continue their damage in 1938.

Twelve listed by Ray Hutson, head of the entomology department at Michigan State College, include cutworms, flea beetles, corn borers, tarnished plant bugs, onion maggots, squash bugs, leafhoppers, plum curculie, many kinds of aphis, stalk borers, grapeberry moth and strawberry leaf roller.

Destroy all trash in and around cultivated gardens and fields and orchards, advises Professor Hutson. Best time to do the job is this fall. Best way to do it in his opinion is by cultivating the materials into the Modifications of these practices have been worked out for the control of the corn borer. Additional information about borer control can be obtained from the office of Karl D. Bailey, Pontiac, agricultural agent for Oakland county. Six of the 12 pests take lessons from or at least imitate the hibernating bear. Cutworms, flea beetles, tarnished plant bugs, squash bugs, aphis and grapeberry moths fatten themselves up and put on a supply of fat so that they will live better through the winter. They continue to do their feeding even after harvest. By cleaning up garden and field trash, their food supply is more limited.

HOLLY THEATRE

If he lived, this daring British secret agent sitting with the German high command in the uniform of a Prussian Lancer could strike a deadlier blow, than a million marching men! If he succeeded, it meant heartbreak; if he failed, the firing squad. Characterized by jolting realism that makes it the most suspenseful spy story ever screened, "Lancer Spy", Twentieth Century-Fox picture, opens Sunday at the Holly Theatre, with Dolores Del Rio, George Sanders and Peter Lorre featured.

The most extraordinary venture a courageous man ever faced, with one chance in a thousand that he would ever return, this untold spy story of the great war is brought to vivd life by the sensational performance of George Sanders, destined to skyrocket him to screen fame.

In a new romantic role, the tall

Guided more by jealousy of the new hero rather than by any real evidence. Sig. Rumann, head of the German counter-espionage organization, suspects Sanders of being a spy, and details the lovely Dolores Del Rio to discover the truth. Sanders almost slips, but fortunately realizes in time that she is a spy. Although she has no evidence, Miss Del Rio still suspects, but finds her loyalties shaken by her growing love for the reckless British hero.

Watching his opportunity carefully Sanders is finally able to secure the information for which he has taken such risks, but in doing so is forced to masquerade as a German general in order to avoid detection while preparing his escape. This ruse is discovered by Peter Lorre, and it looks for a moment as though the Britisher has failed...

Lorre; however, reveals himself as a Swiss spy, and offers to aid San ders' escape. Here the film reaches
