COMMENT AND CRITICISM

I suppose this morning you grabbed a couple slices of toast and a cup of coffee and called it breakfast. And just in case you are longing for the return of prosperity think of this. Counting 4 to a family there are 30,000,000 families in the U. S. If each family spent 10c. extra for their breakfast and took time to eat the extra food, the extra time given to digestion would make you feel better throughout the day and $3,000,000 would go into circulation each day.

Every now and then we are requested to omit some item of news which is all right with us as we have no desire to pry into anybody's business. Then we listen to some radio program wherein the high priced radio star brags about her father who is a horse-thief, her mother who is a shoplifter and a brother who is resting in some jail. There is another so-called star who loves to tell about the time his father wore shoes for the first time. Sometimes I am inclined to forsake this modern writing machine and search into the doings of my forefathers and see what I can find. A good horse thief as an uncle should arouse a little interest. Perhaps a counterfeiter would spot a radio program. A bank robber should be good for motion pictures. Anyway it is worth thinking about even if I continue to go to Sunday School and tell all kiddies that they should be good little boys and girls.

The height of something or other, is staging a sit down the week before Thanksgiving. The same technique will make Merry Christmas just plain Dec. 25th.

Pontiac Girl Wins In Canning Contest

Ila Porritt, of Pontiac, has been awarded a handsome gold medal for the record she submitted in the National 4-H Canning Contest. The award is made by the National Committee on 4-H Work in Chicago on approval of the County Agent and State Club Leader who designated the girl 1937 canning champion of Oakland county. The medal is shield shaped nearly one inch deep on which is embossed a horn of plenty, laurel branch and 4-leaf clover. It is provided by the Kerr Glass Corporation to promote better living, together with trips for state winners to the forthcoming National 4-H Club Congress and $1,000.00 in college scholarships for sectional and national winners.

Clarkston Locals

Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk will have as her guests at Thanksgiving dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Emmert Brandt and family of Flint and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Oakes and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hammond of Drayton Plains.

The deer hunters from Clarkston who were lucky enough to get their deer this year are too numerous to mention. Some who have gone hunting every year for the past ten or fifteen years and were forced to return home empty-handed were happy this year when they bagged their buck a few hours after the season had opened.

Christmas Seals

Buy and Use Them

The thirty-first annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals will commence Thanksgiving Day. Thousands all over Michigan will be asked this week to contribute as generously as possible that the fight against the White Plague may be carried on in 1938 with vigor undiminished. There is no known way for citizens to buy a larger dollar's worth of health service than can be had for buying tuberculosis Christmas seals. They serve humankind in honesty and untrammelled freedom. In them the American people have created an institution nearest to the ideal of American democracy.

Senior Play Is Grand Success

School Orchestra Is Presented in Several Numbers

Once again the Senior play is history. Again the director, the students, the parents and all who helped make the play a success is proud of every member of the cast. "Romance in a Boarding House" drew a very large crowd last Friday night.

The school orchestra directed by Orlo Willoughby opened the program by rendering three very pretty numbers. This was the first time the entire orchestra had been presented this season and it is to be congratulated. At eight o'clock the curtains parted and here was the living room of the Gibson boarding house and another Senior Play had started. The members of the cast were well selected and each was quite at home on the stage. Betty Chamberlain as the little old lady, Chet Adams as the husband of the boarding house mistress and Bettieann Comstock as the spinster furnished laughs from start to finish.

It seems that each year the senior class can boast of a number of splendid actors and this year is no exception. A great deal of credit is due the director, Mrs. Durand, and her assistants. When you consider that on October 29 the Senior Class announced that they had selected their play and chosen the cast and in three weeks were presenting it then you must realize the amount of work and worry that has kept everyone unusually busy for that time.

The specialty numbers that were presented between acts were greatly appreciated especially as the participants were all Clarkston school students.

At the close of the play gifts of appreciation were presented to Mrs. Durand, the director, and to Miss Betty Elzinga and Mrs. Warren Strait who assisted.

Native of Clarkston Expires in Seattle

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Allie Taylor Bonney, aged 56 years, last Thursday at her home in Seattle.

Many in and around Clarkston will remember Mrs. Bonney as Allie Taylor, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin J. Taylor, who lived on a farm north of town for a number of years before retiring and coming to Clarkston where he built the house on Main Street now known as the John Mann house. Mrs. Bonney was a graduate of the Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti and taught school in one of the schools in this district.

She is survived by her husband, Heber, three children and a sister, Mrs. Clara Farnum.

Meeting of Interest to Oakland Farmers

A meeting of interest to many farmers in Oakland County will be the annual meeting of the Pontiac Production Credit Association to be held on Friday, December 3, in the Armory on Water Street, Pontiac.

In connection with the association's meeting, the County Extension Service and the State Department of Agriculture are cooperating in setting up a demonstration showing the market grades of potatoes.

These three organizations extend an invitation to all potato growers in the county, as well as potato truckers and others, interested in learning about the new commercial grades which were established by State Law this year, to attend. The potato grading demonstration starts at 10:00 in the morning and the annual meeting of the association at 1:00 p. m.

A lunch is to be served to farmers staying over for the Production Credit Meeting in the afternoon.

Clarkston Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Duncan, Audrey and Donald LaLone and Richard Bird of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brogman and daughter, Beverly of Drayton Plains spent Sunday at the Allen Secord home.

Guests at the Durand Ogden home on Thanksgiving Day will be J. D. Ogden and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Ogden of Clarkston, Miss Alice Bandson of Detroit and Mrs. Anna Bird of Pontiac.

Child Study Club Met Last Thursday

Mrs. Leo Finzel Was Hostess

The Clarkston Child Study Club met on Thursday evening of last week at the home of Mrs. Leo Finzel. Ten members answered Roll Call with "Things we are thankful for". There were two guests, Mrs. Whitty of Moon Valley Subdivision and Mrs. Schelp of Holly.

At the business meeting Christmas plans were discussed but nothing definite was decided upon. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Alander on Dec. 2nd.

After the business meeting a paper on "Don'ts" was given by Mrs. Finzel. Mrs. Edward Fuller read an article on "Things to be Thankful For". Mrs. Schelp, president of the Holly club, gave an interesting account of the convention in Cadillac.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Christmas Committee is already hard at work upon their program, which will be presented the week preceding Christmas. The Christmas Cantata, "A Carol from the Skies" is already well under way, and plans are being made for its presentation on Dec. 19th.

Special music at all services will be furnished by the Choir. Messages for the day will be: "Religion That Is Expressive"; "John's Vision of the Son of Man".

A large delegation of young people and leaders will attend the Institute at the First Church, Detroit, on Friday evening. Please be at the parsonage at 6:15.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held with Mrs. Sutton at the manse, on next Wednesday afternoon.

Young People to Broadcast Over WMPC

On Sunday, November 28th a group of young people of the Sashabaw Plains Church will present a short program over WMPC radio station at Lapeer, Mich., from 5:00 until 5:30 p. m.

This program is being sponsored by the Michigan Baraca-Philathea Union and will be directed by Rev. Jack Maher who is the Pastor of the Sashabaw Church.

Everyone is invited to listen to this program.

Little Jimmie Hubbard Is Five Years Old

On Monday afternoon Mrs. James Alfred Hubbard entertained a number of little folk honoring her son, Jimmie, who was celebrating his fifth birthday.

At 2:00 o'clock the fun began. The children enjoyed playing out-of-doors as well as in-doors. They played many games and were amused with many of Jimmie's toys. In fact when four o'clock came they were not quite ready to go home. However they all had a wonderful time and enjoyed a birthday supper served at a table covered with a table-cloth appropriate for Thanksgiving. The table napkins and favors corresponded. A lovely birthday cake and candles made the table more attractive.

Jimmie received many pretty gifts, and the best wishes of his little friends.

The list of guests included Jimmie Huttenlocher, Dave Hubbard, Mary Kay Winn, Billy Kanold, Chuckie Robertson all of Clarkston and Barbara Barker of Pontiac.

New Regulations In Issuing Licenses

Two changes in procedure of issuing operators' and chauffeurs' licenses have been ordered by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State.

In cases where applications for operators' licenses are received in Lansing from local examining officers too late to permit return of the license within the 20 day temporary permit period provided by law, postcards advising applicants of this fact will be sent to them. The date any such application was received at the Department of State will be noted on the card. This move is one to forestall queries from applicants as to their applications after the 20 day period has expired. Case expects to demonstrate that the delay in issuing occurs before the application reaches his department.

Chauffeurs' licenses and badges for 1938 will be placed on sale Dec. 1, saving applicants applying that month the $1 fee for a 1937 license and badge for the remainder of the year. The full-year fee is $2. There are in excess of 4,000 more chauffeurs registered at present than at the corresponding time last year, it was explained. The Dec. 1 deadline will eliminate delays; badges must be secured by Jan. 1, each year. Previously, badges and licenses were placed on sale Dec. 15, or later.

Clarkston Locals

James Badgero and Miss AFA Moore of Owosso went to Detroit on Wednesday night and attended a Sorority party at the Book Cadillac.

The Adult Bible class of the Methodist Church enjoyed a pot-luck supper in the Ortonville Park community house last Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance and the semi-picnic outing in November proved to be a pleasing and agreeable innovation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nelsey will entertain at Thanksgiving dinner. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Granger and family of Goodrich; Mrs. Lunette Fuller and son, Allan, and Mr. and Mrs. Clare Fuller and family of Oxford and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edgar and family of Ferndale.

Among those who have spent and are spending some time in the north hunting are Pat Flynn, Ben Comstock, Ed. Whipple, Glenn Jones, George Miller, Jack Chisholm, Fred Kennedy, Thomas Marmon, James Baucier, Dr. Raymond Miller, C. C. Miller, Drexel Beucier, Albert Ekstrom, Elroy Scott, Frank Howland, William Bellitz, Louis Chamberlain, Ward Dunston, Bradley Miller, Walter Barrows, Clair Hopkins and Earl Terry.

County Soils-Election Meetings Announced

Ballot to Be Conducted in Each Community

To Meet at Clarkston Town Hall at 10:00 A. M. Dec. 7th

Chairman Robert McCrory announces that the county soil conservation committee has set the dates for the community elections in Oakland County. The farmers in each community will elect the community committee, which consists of a chairman, vice-chairman, third member and alternate member. The chairman of the committee will be a member of the county board of directors. The schedule of meetings is as follows:

Tuesday, December 7—

Orion Town Hall and Clarkston Town Hall at 10 a. m.

Goodison Town Hall and Brandon Town Hall at 2 p. m.

Addison Town Hall and Oxford Town Hall at 8 p. m.

Thursday, December 9—

Commerce Town Hall and West Bloomfield Town Hall at 10 a. m.

Milford High School and Farmington Town Hall at 2 p. m.

Lyon Town Hall and Novi Town Hall at 8 p. m.

Friday, December 10—

Rochester Town Hall at 10 a. m.

Board of Commerce Building, Pontiac, at 2 p. m.

Troy Town Hall at 8 p. m.

On this committee will rest much of the responsibility of setting farm bases or goals. They will also be depended upon for the accurate reporting of the payment performances for the farmers in the communities. In this farmer operated program a heavy responsibility rests on the farmers in this election. This responsibility can only be met by having as many farmers as possible taking part in the balloting.

In addition to the voting at the community election meetings, a member of the county committee will explain the background and purposes of the farm program, using illustrations.

Waterford

The Home Extension Club of Waterford will have its second lesson on November 30 at the home of Mrs. George Whitfield. This will be an all day meeting starting at 10:00 a. m.

The Good Will Club was entertained on Friday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Henry Mehlberg. The hostess served a one o'clock two course luncheon at a long table with Thanksgiving appointments.

The Waterford P. T. A. will meet in the school auditorium on Thursday evening, December 2. This will be a combined meeting for November and December.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Church will have their December meeting at the church on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 2nd. A one o'clock cooperative luncheon will be served by the following hostesses; Mrs. Arthur Babbs, Mrs. E. Britton and Mrs. L. Dorman.

P. L. McLaughlin spent the week-end in the north trying to get a deer but he is listed among the unlucky ones. Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Spooner of Barnes Subdivision had as their guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Davis of Pontiac.

Charles Harris of Lansing spent the week-end at his home here.

Miss Grace McVittie, who is attending school in Saginaw, spent the week-end at her home here.

Mrs. Elma Reid and son James were Sunday evening dinner guests of the H. B. Mehlbergs.

Rev. Howard Jewell has made plans for a trip to Kentucky and Georgia and he may possibly go to Florida before returning to his home.

Lyman Girst and son, Lyman Jr., and L. V. VanSyckle have returned from a hunting trip in the north. No one in the party had any luck.

Ferris King and William Jacober left early Sunday morning for Cummins, where they were to be joined by Meade King. They expect to enjoy a few days hunting.

Mrs. Edna Hammond returned to her home in Dayton, Ohio, on Sunday, after spending the past week with her sister, Mrs. Leonard Eakle, who is ill.

Mrs. C. Dailey returned to her home at Meceday Lake after spending several days in New York where she attended the wedding of one of her relatives.

Mrs. J. Bozek and son, John, have returned to their home here after spending the past week in New York. They attended the funeral of Mrs. Bozek's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy King are recovering from bruises and shock received over two weeks ago when they were involved in an automobile accident in which their car was completely demolished.

Donald Chamberlain, son of Cleve Chamberlain of Davisburg, is another hunter who had beginner's luck. He went on his first hunting trip with his father and brought home—not the bacon but the buck.

Mr. and Mrs. August Jacober have returned to their home after spending the week at their cottage near Cummins, Mich. Mr. Jacober enjoyed hunting.

School closed Wednesday and will not convene until Monday on account of Thanksgiving. Many have planned hunting trips, others will spend a few days in the city while many others have planned to enjoy a vacation at home.

The friends of Mrs. John Meyers will be sorry to learn that she has been ill at her home on Andersonville Road. Mrs. Leonard Eakle is also confined to her home by sickness.

Mrs. Clifford Wood called a meeting of the P. T. A. officers and the members of the program committee at the school on Tuesday evening. The results of the meeting will be announced later.

Mrs. Etta Campbell of Airport Road has as her guests her daughter, Mrs. C. Annis and son of Grand Rapids and Mrs. William Huntoon of Drayton Plains.

Meade King of Maple Street went on his first hunting trip the latter part of the week and the first morning in the woods he shot a buck. Was he happy? He is spending this week at Cummins with others from Waterford.

Mrs. E. D. Spooner attended the Fall Festival at the Pontiac Central M. E. Church last Thursday afternoon. This affair was given in place of the usual December bazaar. The results were very gratifying and a great deal of work was eliminated.

The one hour Sunday evening sing at the Waterford Church will be in charge of Mrs. Lovell Spalding. The program starts at 7:00 o'clock. There are always special numbers. Everyone is invited to attend. The free-will offering is for the general treasury of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Waterford School News

Primary Grade and First Grade: We are putting the windows in our house now and they are going to look very nice. We expect to put our roof on this week.

We hand some free hand turkeys drawn to decorate our rooms last week.

Our curtains are up and we are very proud of them. We enjoyed finding the pretty things we had each colored on them.

The Pilgrim border—we have in the back of our room tells the long story of the pilgrims.

We are going to take our Thanksgiving writing books home this week as we will have them finished.

Second Grade: The following children in the second grade have been ill: Carol Stone, Frances Dailey, Donald Anderson.

Sixth Grade: The sixth grade is reading George Pierrot's World Letters in connection with their study of European countries. The letters are being written as George Pierrot travels through Europe.

High School News: As a feature of Book Week, the high school English classes made posters representing books they had read recently. Mrs. West, the art teacher, acted as critic and judged these posters, giving first place to Olive Pine, second to Alene Coryell, third to Taka-O Kajima.

Pupils of the tenth grade wrote essays regarding their personal experiences with books. Of these, John Bozek received first place, while Eileen See, Taka-O Kajima and Berniece Tallenger deserve honorable mention for exceptionally good work.

The ninth grade decided to take the following list of books, if they were to be stranded on a deserted island for ten years:

- 1. Bible, 2. Dietitany, 3. Medical Book, 4. Cook Book, 5. Encyclopedia, 6. Scout Manual, 7. Atlas and Geography, 8. General Science Book, 9. Hobby or Professional Book, 10. Good fiction book

Charles Thorton made a valuable contribution to Book Week by compiling a list of over 150 of the present day authors together with one literary work of each.

Girl Scout News: The younger troop of Girl Scouts followed a trail set by June Harris, the lieutenant and Jean Girst and Claudia Hoadley, their patrol leaders.

Danger of extinction facing America's wildlife will be emphasized during the first National Wildlife Restoration Week, announced to start March 20th. These pictures show:

(1) Hundreds of thousands of animals perished in Midwest drought. (2) Bear cub, Jordan, Director, National Wildlife Restoration Week. (3) Scene in Erskine Lakes Preserve, New Jersey. (4) A fine fellow, this deer. (5)

Mobilization of millions of Americans under the banner of wildlife restoration has begun, and their unity of interests will be demonstrated in the first National Wildlife Restoration Week, which has been set to start March 20th.

Program Has Wide Appeal: Every man, woman and child who loves an animal, a bird, a tree, a flower or a stream will be found in the ranks of this dramatic movement to bring out the peril that is facing the great outdoors.

The wistful old man, who scatters bread crumbs to the birds on a wintry morning in New York's last refuge for wildlife—Central Park—will enlist in this legion of nature lovers.

So, too, will the hunter from farmland or metropolis who has gone into the woods and discovered the forests had been desolated, the game driven away.

Women Will Give Support: Members of the women's and garden clubs, ardent devotees of wildlife who have banded to save the rich foliage of the countryside, will be found taking an active interest.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs, the Izaak Walton

League and hunting and fishing clubs all have pledged their support.

The youth of America will not neglect its share, for upon the school children, the Boy and Girl Scouts, and the 4-H clubs rests a great measure of the responsibility of preserving wildlife for future generations.

The strength of the American Legion—composed of the heroes of 1917-18—was thrown firmly behind wildlife restoration and this new program at its great National Convention held in New York.

Behind the mobilization of all wildlife forces for National Wildlife Week is Frederick F. Jordan, conservationist and economist who originated the plan for the observance and who is directing the campaign from National headquarters, 400 Madison Avenue, in New York City. His appointment as Director of Wildlife Week was announced recently by Jay N. (Ding) Darling, president of the General Wildlife Federation.

Calls for Volunteers: In an appeal to wildlife lovers, Mr. Jordan said: "We need volunteers, badly. We need women and men who will take up arms for this cause that has so long been neglected. We must fight against stream pollution, forest destruction, dust bowls, erosion and those other natural elements which are killing off our wildlife."

To accomplish these aims, wildlife lovers must show their strength, their unity during Wildlife Week.

Now that the Senior Play is over, attention is turned to basketball. The boys have already started practicing in preparation for the first game.

FROM THE CLASSROOMS

The eighth and eleventh grade pupils of the American History classes have been studying events and causes of the War of 1812.

The Civics class has been studying about the state legislature, state constitution, party platforms, and how Michigan is divided into districts.

The Home Economics classes are making plans for things to make for Christmas. Some classes are sewing and others are cooking to prepare their gifts according to the work done in class.

A craft club has been organized for the 8th period every day so that any girls may belong to it. The girls learn to make many types of things suitable for gifts for different persons.

The members of our Sophomore English class are enjoying the two or three days' assignment on short story reviews. Our interest in several stories has been aroused by the vivid accounts we've heard.

Thanksgiving poems, recitations and speeches comprised the assignment for the Public Speaking classes last Wednesday.

We have just completed a large scene of the "First Thanksgiving". The students cut out Pilgrims, Indians, trees, the Mayflower, cabins, etc., and arranged them on a large sheet of paper to form the pictures.

The students have made a Health Chart. Each student is inspected each morning and given a gold star if his hands and face are clean, his hair combed, his teeth brushed and his clothes generally neat.

We have a Turkey border and a November calendar on our blackboard.

We made a large map of Africa on which we placed symbols of the industries carried on extensively on that continent.

The students are writing original Thanksgiving poems and stories for Phyllis Walter (7th Grade): "I liked the Senior Play because it had plenty of humor and I liked the players."

"I liked it, especially the part where Dan carried Chet Adams."

"Sure, it was good because they had their parts learned and acted well, also the dancing was real good."

"I thought it was swell because they had to do some real acting and they did it well."

"Sure, I liked the way they talked and the players."

"I certainly did, I'm a Senior."

"Yes, I liked it. I liked the first act the best. I also liked the dances."

"My favorite subject is Hygiene because I would like to be a nurse."

"My favorite subject is History because I like the study of historical men and events."

"My favorite subject is Algebra because it is very easy and I like mathematics."

"My favorite subject is Commercial Geography because I like to learn about the country and its products, manufactures, etc."

"Public Speaking is my favorite subject because it was needed and I have improved speaking before classes. It does me much good."

"My favorite is Literature because it does me good and I enjoy poetry."

"I liked the Senior Play because it

FEATURES

The Chemistry class seems to be having trouble comprehending how 2 and 1 can equal 2 or how 3 and 1 can equal 2. It all has to do with the atomic and molecular theories, though, it's no new mathematical principle.

Chuck Perry seems to have obtained the "moniker" of "Charlie McCarthy", suggested by his part in the senior play.

Chet, Carmen, King, and several others went to Porters after the play, and their appetites were amazing. We heard Carmen ate 5 hamburgers, (she says it was 3) and King topped it with 6 and a hot chocolate. We'll bet they all had plenty of "food for thought" that night.

We understand that students aren't being so careless about having test books laying around since Mrs. Walter has inaugurated her new system.

Since the Camera Club has started, you see more people snapping pictures around school. Some of them are surprisingly handy at it, too.

In case you're interested, the seniors took in $75.70 on their play. Not quite so much as last year, but good considering the circumstances.

It's rumored that Clint Russell will be back to school soon—he's sure welcome, anytime.

Wainman and Soncrainte are seen together all the time now. We feel that the teachers help the romance along for they sit next to each other in History, Type, and Home Room.

Mr. Thayer, at last, seems to have located a different house in Clarkston. He will join the faculty group in the school subdivision.

From a rather reliable source, we understand that all sorts of intramural activities are just around the corner. Some of the suggestions are, Basketball, Ping Pong, Volley Ball, and Shuffle Board. With snow on the ground it won't be long before those checker wizards loosen up and start shoving those buttons around.

See you Monday—you should have recuperated from the effects of too much turkey by then.

Frank R., Dick L., and Ralph W. enjoyed the parade in Pontiac Armistice day. The drum-major (young and attractive) interested them to no little extent. P. S. Session room seats grow hard after six hours are spent in there after school nights.

Julia had a great deal of fun roller skating Friday night as King couldn't skate with anyone 'cause he didn't know how but Julia did!!!

Why did Harriett blush in the Session Room the other day? It wasn't

NOTICE OF ELIMINATION OF STATUTORY DOUBLE LIABILITY WITH RESPECT TO COMMON STOCK OF THE CLARKSTON STATE BANK.

(Public Act No. 341, Acts 1937; Senate Enrolled Act No. 67, Senate Bill No. 10.)

THE CLARKSTON STATE BANK, a Michigan corporation, has the honor to advise the shareholders of every bank shall be individually liable, equally and ratably, and not one for another, to the amount of their stock at the par value thereof, in addition to the said stock, but persons holding stock as executors, administrators, guardians, or trustees, and persons holding stock as collateral security, shall not be personally liable therefor, but the assets and funds in their hands constituting the trust shall be liable to the same extent as the testator, intestate, ward, or person for whom such trust funds would be if living or competent to act; and the person pledging such stock shall be liable to the shareholder and liable under this section. Such liability may be enforced in a suit at law or in equity by any such bank in process of liquidation, or by any other officer succeeding to the legal rights of said bank; provided that the additional liability imposed by this section in any bank organized and existing under or governed by the provisions of this act shall not apply to shares of stock issued by any such bank after July twenty-one, nineteen hundred and thirty-five. Such liability shall be deemed to have ceased as to all deposits made in and as to all who become creditors of such bank on or after June four, nineteen hundred and thirty-five, by any one who became a depositor or creditor of such bank prior to June four, nineteen hundred and thirty-five, as respects such depositor or creditor, unless such depositor or creditor, within an express written dissent to the change in the shareholder's liability as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the bank to place a copy of this section in a conspicuous place in such bank at least thirty days prior to July one, nineteen hundred and thirty-seven, and to publish one each week for a period of three weeks immediately preceding July one, nineteen hundred and thirty-seven, a copy of this section of the law, and publication as and when provided, the termination of such additional liability may thereafter be accomplished as of a date sixty days subsequent to notice in the manner provided herein.

HOLLY THEATRE

The title of Bobby Breen's latest musical starring vehicle is expressive of the attitude of everyone toward life and its problems. "Make a Wish", coming Sunday and Monday to the Holly Theatre, expresses the universal habit of hoping for the future.

Early in the story the youngster is seen enjoying a happy vacation at a summer boys' camp, and here he strikes up a close friendship with Basil Rathbone, a composer whose great regret is that he has missed his own boyhood. He had just written a song bearing the intriguing title, and soon both the man and the boy find themselves fostering a devout wish which principally concerns Bobby's beautiful young mother, Marion Claire. Eventually she also fosters a hope, but for a time it seems that all the wishing in the world will not be sufficient to solve the problems confronting the trio.

The picture is featured by the silver voice of Bobby, who sings several songs by the noted Viennese composer, Oscar Straus.

"Make a Wish" was directed by Kurt Neumann. Among the featured players are Henry Armetta, Ralph Forbes, Leon Errol and Herbert Rawlinson. It is a Principal Production released through RKO Radio.

4-H MEMBERS WILL MEET IN CHICAGO

National Congress to be Feature of Live Stock Exposition

A big feature of the 38th International Live Stock Exposition, to be held at the Chicago Stock Yards November 27 to December 4, will be the National 4-H Club Congress.

It will be held for the 16th time in connection with the exposition. Approximately 1200 boys and girls from the farms of nearly every state in the Union will attend this year. They will be the pick of the million members now active in 4-H Club work throughout the country.

It will be a gathering of state and district champion farm youths who will be given free trips to the stock show and congress to compete for national honors. A series of banquets, educational tours, and entertainment programs has been arranged for their stay here this year.

Among the important awards which will be made during the week are the Roosevelt trophies, presented in the name of the President to the boy and girl who have made the most outstanding achievement in Club work during the past year. A national health contest, in which winners will be selected from among state health champions, is another feature.

Stock, meat, and grain judging contests and the exhibition of beeves, lambs, and pigs of their own raising are other events in which farm youths will figure prominently in the exposition's opening week-end programs. State champion stock judging teams from many states will compete here as a pre-opening event on Friday, November 26. College scholarships will be awarded to the winners.

A junior live stock feeding contest will be held on the following day in which farm boys and girls between the ages of ten and twenty will exhibit hundreds of prize animals that have won high honors in county and state shows held earlier in the season. Entries for this year's contest have been received from ten states.

A stock judging contest for agricultural college students will also be held on the opening day of the show. Student teams from over 20 states are now being drilled in stock judging skill for this competition which has been a feature of the exposition since the first show in 1900.

CHANCE TO LEARN HOW TO CURE MEAT

Address Your Inquiry to K. D. Bailey, County Ag. Agent

With average meat consumption in the country set at 150 pounds per person each year, rural families of four persons in Oakland county, if they are to consume their share of this valuable product so necessary for maximum health and energy, should provide approximately 600 pounds for the coming year.

Numerous ways of dressing and preserving meat may be obtained by inquiry in the office of county agricultural agent Karl D. Bailey.

According to George A. Brown, of the animal husbandry department of Michigan State College, the average per capita consumption of meat consists of approximately 70 pounds of beef, 60 pounds of pork, 10 pounds of veal and 6 pounds of lamb. Each one of these meats, he says, may be

Michigan Producers Warned to "Wake Up" by Strange

Lansing—With Michigan's indicated awakening to the need of retaining home markets and regaining her foreign outlets for her farm produce, other surplus producing states throughout the nation are making every effort to thoroughly entrench themselves here, according to Commissioner John B. Strange, of the Department of Agriculture, today.

"Michigan producers must wake up because Michigan markets are being taken away from them and in some instances it is going to be difficult to regain these markets. Michigan producers must fight back at these invaders with every available weapon to retain Michigan's natural markets," declared Commissioner Strange.

Adoption of strict grading laws, acceptance of federal-state inspection service, have caused outstate producers to realize that Michigan is seriously attempting to retain and regain markets that have been lost because of inferior quality, according to Commissioner Strange.

"The state departments, however," declared Commissioner Strange, "are able to go only so far. The farmers and producers of this state must help themselves. The state cannot tell the producers the type of packages to use, but loss of markets should indicate to the farmers that the days of slipshod methods of packaging produce are past, that if Michigan produce is to compete, Michigan produce must be presented in attractive packages."

For Homemakers

If the family likes Mother's cooking then the old standbys are the best for that Thanksgiving meal.

That's the advice of Miss Marian Dixon, instructor in foods at Michigan State College. "The very word 'Thanksgiving,'" Miss Dixon observes, "connotes visions of Mother's kitchen and we can practically see ourselves settled comfortably around the family dining table."

"Women who have cooked Thanksgiving dinners for years may have a menu which they always have used and which spells success as far as members of their families are concerned. Their families might consider it mutiny if the menu were to be changed."

For those whose families are used to variety and surprises, however, Miss Dixon has prepared suggested menus.

One would start with grapefruit juice. The main course would see roast capon for the centerpiece, mashed potatoes, green beans and broiled parsnips. Cinnamon apple salad, melba toast and cranberry ice and brownies and beverage would complete this meal.

Another menu using the familiar turkey would start off with tomato juice. Other items would be the dressing, baked onions and squash souffle, apple pickles and celery, cranberry and orange salad, a thin piece of pumpkin pie and beverage.

The state cannot tell the producers the type of packages to use, but loss of markets should indicate to the farmers that the days of slipshod methods of packaging produce are past, that if Michigan produce is to compete, Michigan produce must be presented in attractive packages."

"At the Detroit Union Produce Terminal, Michigan apples in old crates with newspaper linings are being offered in competition with Washington and Oregon apples in new packages, and the apples individually wrapped. Undoubtedly the Michigan apples have a better flavor than the outstate apples but it is not difficult to understand, under the circumstances, how outstate apples are being sold in preference to the better quality Michigan apples."

"It is true that the price of apples is low, that linings and crates cost money but these outstate producers find it profitable to package their products and ship thousands of miles. Packages are creating a demand that is bringing premium prices."

"What applies to apples applies to potatoes in these markets. The state of Maine, always boasting better graded potatoes in seeking Michigan markets, is waging a real battle to retain Michigan markets through advertisements and by packaging their product in vari-colored 15-lb. bags, especially attractive to housewives. With Michigan potatoes now equally as well graded, Maine potatoes retain but one advantage—better appearance. This is offset by the better cooking and eating qualities of Michigan spuds, giving Michigan producers the advantage of lower freight rates over Maine producers."

ance. This is offset by the better cooking and eating qualities of Michigan spuds, giving Michigan producers the advantage of lower freight rates over Maine producers."

Packages are turning the trick in this instance, with the 15-lb. packages bringing 25 cents, Michigan potatoes in 100-lb. burlap bags being quoted at $1.05 at the market.

"It is necessary," Commissioner Strange concluded, "that Michigan farmers help themselves. They must battle for these markets or see them lost with outstate produce bringing high prices with their own merchandise being sold at reduced prices. It is necessary that producers take advantage of every opportunity to not only hold present markets, but to regain those lost during the past decade."

NOW IS THE TIME to buy a reliable used car
for dependable winter driving

THE popularity of the new 1938 Chevrolet has made it necessary to take in an unusually large number of late model used cars. We have made substantial reductions in the prices on these cars in order to make room for an increasing number of trade-ins on more new Chevrolets.

This is your opportunity to prepare yourself for winter with a car that is properly conditioned for winter driving. You save the cost of winter conditioning and further depreciation on your old car by trading it in on one of these dependable used cars now. Take advantage of this money-saving opportunity.
