CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1938

NUMBER 25

Odds and Ends

What is so rare as April in February?

When this district has a thunder and lightning storm on Lincoln's birthday, we would say it was front page news. The thunder thundered; the lightning lightened; and the rain fell, as Justice Morley would say "in huge gobs." As this anniversary of Lincoln's birthday became history we were treated to a day in spring, clean, warm, not forgetting some showers and a little sunshine. We try to look for the best in everything—but it was hard to believe that spring was here. On Friday, when you read this—remember I said it was hard to believe.

Remember the PTA. G. Washington Swing, at the school Friday, tonight.

Spring, township, elections will soon be on deck. Much as we would like to inform you as to the list of candidates, we must disappoint you at this time. Our reason is, not that we were told the list in confidence, but a much more powerful one—we have not the mental faculty which enables one to deduce inferences, without facts.

War in the East! War in the west! Just how long will it be before this country becomes a catspaw for some foreign nation and starts the publicity machine to imbue the young men of the nation with the glory to be obtained by attaching a butcher knife to the end of a rifle and killing some other young man who knows no more why he is fighting than our youngster does. It's a great game—if Wall Street can play it—and Wall Street will. Do not write us down for pacifists. We say that a person who will not fight for his country is as bad as a traitor. But we object to chasing all over the world just to carry on a war for the benefit of the owners of munitions plants. Remember, future soldiers, it only took 18 years for the heavier tax payers, to pay the adjusted compensation.

Four new subscriptions last week or are you tired of hearing of our manner of reporting that the News is appreciated.

Now is a good time to cash in on our want ads. They do get results judging by the number repeated each week.

Please notice the new name of this column. Comment and Criticism seemed too formal and anyway, this is an independent paper so your idea may be, probably is, as good as mine. In the future we may comment but we doubt if we will criticize. Our only new year's resolution, still good, was not argue for anything we had no chance of changing nor anything that probably would not be changed in our time.

First Lecture Well Attended

Many consider a lecture something to be avoided as they are bored but those who attended the first of the series of Health Lectures at the school on Tuesday were more than pleased with results. Dr. Berneta Block had to talk fast to tell all the worthwhile facts she had to tell and the hour spent with her seemed like fifteen minutes because each one had to be alert to absorb the instructive information she was giving.

There was a splendid attendance and next Tuesday at 1:30 a larger crowd is expected. Dr. Block starts the lecture on time and is ready to leave at 2:30.

Modern medicine has shown much interest in the possible effect of the endocrine gland system upon our bodily functions. Some of these theories will be discussed by Dr. Block of the Michigan Department of Health when she lectures upon "Our Body and How it Functions" next Tuesday at 1:30 o'clock at the Clarkston School.

This will be the second meeting of the free weekly health classes for women which are being sponsored here by the P. T. A. with Mrs. Fred Kennedy as local chairman. Dr. Block's lecture will include an explanation of the various systems and organs of the body and their functions in relation to health. Outlines are provided for those attending and a popular discussion period will follow the regular lecture. The lecture will be illustrated by posters and slides. All women of this community are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Minnie Kath Passed Away Saturday

Funeral Service Was Held in Pontiac on Tuesday Afternoon

Although she was confined to her bed at her daughter's home for the past two years she was patient and always tried to be cheerful. She gained many warm friends and always was appreciative of any little courtesies that they extended her.

Rev. W. H. Aulenbach Will Leave Cranbrook

The Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach has accepted a call as rector of Christ Church and St. Michael's, Germantown, Philadelphia, and will assume his active duties there around the first of March, leaving Christ Church Cranbrook at that time. Christ Church and St. Michael's is one of Philadelphia's most active parishes with eleven hundred communicants, located in historic old Germantown, really a suburb of Philadelphia. In close proximity to the church are two or three of Philadelphia's oldest private schools, affording considerable opportunity for work among the young. The church itself, of traditional Gothic architecture, seats about six hundred fifty and its founding dates back back sixty or more years.

Mr. Aulenbach, especially during the last few years, has been in great demand as a public speaker throughout the state of Michigan and surrounding states, delivering addresses to high school and college groups, study clubs, parent-teacher associations, luncheon clubs, the Young People's Good Friday service in Detroit, etc. He has been a leader in young people's activities and has given many talks before such groups.

The operetta is under the direction of Mr. Willoughby and Mrs. Durand. KEEGO DEFEATS CLARKSTON 52-19

by Marie Tremper

Friday, February 11, Keego Harbor won an outstanding victory over Clarkston by a score of 52-19. In the first quarter of the game the score was tied at three different times but from then on Keego held the lead.

The first quarter ended 9-6 in favor of Keego. Excitement was great for Keego is an undefeated team and had scored 58 points at Milford the week before. The large Clarkston rooting section was beginning to think that Clarkston had a chance against Keego. During the second quarter the local lads held their own fairly well and at the halfway mark the score was only 19-10 in favor of Keego. But the second half told a different story. Although the home team put up a valiant fight and made Keego work for each point, they were completely outscored and the game ended with Clarkston at the little end of a 52-19 score. Still the spectators felt that they had their money's worth for the game as always interesting and exciting, even to the final moments. Donald Fournier of Keego was high point man for the game with a total of 16 points; Yost was high point man for Clarkston scoring 9 points.

INQUIRING REPORTER

Question: How does the Student Monitor System appeal to you?

Bettieann Comstock, Senior: "I think it is a very good idea and it would be much more successful if the students would cooperate with the monitors."

Dick Lowrie, Sophomore: "I think it's a good idea because the teachers don't have to do the work."

Leda Miller, Freshman: "It is an awful lot of fun if you like to boss the kids around."

Marion Chamberlain, Freshman: "I think it is more fun to have student management because I know that the students will cooperate with the monitors."

Arnold Mann, 8th Grade: "I think it is improving and the students obey the monitors well. It is more of a success than I thought it would be. It also leaves the teachers with more leisure time."

Miss Wellington: "I think it is a good idea but it will take some time to sell the idea to the students themselves. I think we must learn that not every student will make a good monitor."

Ruth Olson, Senior: "I think that the students are cooperating very well with the student monitors, and I think that the halls are more orderly."

Mary Gulick, Junior: "This would be a very good system if there were more cooperation by the students although I do think the cooperation is increasing."

George Beardslee, Junior: "I think that this monitor system is good but it should be enforced a little better."

Violet Coy, Member of the Student Council: "I think we need more support from you students because after all it is what you will make it and we do want it to be a success so please obey all monitors at all times and I am sure it will prove most successful."

Mr. Winn: "The purpose of this Student Monitor System is to encourage student responsibility and cooperation and to allow for the development of initiative which is most essential to success in any field."

FROM THE CLASSROOMS

by Evelyn Davies

Mr. Thayer

June Dunston, a post-graduate, has entered the shorthand and type classes.

Mr. Waters

The 9th Grade Biology has been making posters to show the various foodstuffs and their value.

Miss Wellington

The 8th Grade English class is wrestling with the principal parts of verbs.

The 7th Graders have been composing and telling original stories.

The 8th Grade science class is studying constellations and drawing star maps.

Mrs. Walter

The English Literature class enjoyed its study of Robert Burns for they sang the most noted of his songs. This week the class is beginning its study of the Romantic period. Since this period produced some of the greatest works in English poetry the study should be most interesting and profitable.

Although Lincoln's birthday came on Saturday this year it was observed in American history classes on either Friday or Monday. The Juniors listened to the story "The Perfect Tribute" which gives such a good picture of Abraham Lincoln.

The World History class has been making oral reports on the outstanding men of the eighteenth century.

TOURNAMENTS

The table tennis tournament came to a close Friday. The final games were played Friday at 4 o'clock in the gym. Donald Smith won the final from Bill Wilson for the Junior High championship and Charles Perry defeated Milton Fiske to win the Senior High championship.

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE

The Epworth League party held February 14 at Mrs. Edward's home proved a great success and a lot of fun. The prizes for best impersonations were won by Clinton Russell and Janet Stickney.

A group of Sophomore girls enjoyed skating at the rink at Lake Orion recently. The only unfortunate occurrence was that it rained too much.

The Senior and Sophomore girls seem to take longer than any other group in getting dressed after the noon basketball games.

June Dunston has returned to school to do some post graduate work. The seventh grade class has a new member, Robert Henry, who formerly attended school in Pontiac.

We hear that Mr. Waters prefers pink lemonade. Is this true?

Another fad has swept through school and as a consequence elephants, dogs, horses, lions, basketballs, men, pennies, etc. are seen dangling from bracelets and from the C. H. S. megaphones.

Flooded basements were quite the topic of conversation on Monday morning. We never thought that we would be anywhere near a flood section but here we are!

Each spring seems to bring its epidemics and since we have had some warm weather some people seemed to think it's spring so they let the chicken pox bug bite them. Any way Duane Morse, Stanley Perrin and Bill Skinner all have had or are having them or it as the case may be.

We see that the Waiman-Somercrainte romance is definitely off. Too bad!

Most of the students of good old C. H. S. are in a quandary dilemma, etc. because of this changing weather. The girls just can't seem to make up their minds whether to wear their spring or winter clothes.

It seems pupils are never hard to find unless it's on the days "Scholastics" are given out by students. On these days the right persons are harder to find than the proverbial "hen's-teeth".

If one sees a lot of lipstick tissues around the school it's because the Curtiss Candy representative called and distributed them.

The biggest news of the week is the "G. Washington Swing" on Friday night—it's a dance that no up and coming Clarkstonite can afford to miss. While speaking of the dance you might be interested in learning that Eva Robitaille won the poster contest and Bob Brown received honorable mention. Eva won an admission ticket and Bob a refreshment ticket for the dance.

Everyone is interested in the opera which is the first all-school activity of that kind to be presented in many a year—and those two underclass gals sang themselves right into the leading roles.

Ask Lawson "Who's going to win the mile in the interclass track meet this spring?" Or maybe you'd better not.

Arlene conducted the assembly last Friday most efficiently.

The seventh graders' Valentine party was a great success. Alita Boice, a ninth grader, who was waiting to take her brother Donald home, directed several interesting games. They dined upon an abundance of sandwiches and a shortage of jello and the remains of the feast were cleared away by a volunteer committee of boys. The climax of the party was reached when the valentine box was opened and the valentines were distributed.

The Sommers-Sommers combination is fun to watch in the basketball games between the Junior and Senior girls. By the way the Seniors won the last one by a 15-4 score. And (Continued on page four)

TELEPHONE ENEMY NO. 1

Rain, wind, a freezing temperature. Together, they produce the telephone's arch-enemy—a sleet storm.

At the first warning of this enemy's approach, your telephone company starts preparing for defense. Every department is notified. All stand ready. And soon crews of men in repair trucks are rushing to the point of attack.

Such emergencies as this dramatize the value of our association in the Bell System. For we can call upon all the System's resources... in manpower and equipment and experience... to restore and protect the service.

Emergencies, however, represent only one phase of the many-sided program that safeguards your telephone. Rigid inspection, indoors and out, goes on day after day. Thorough tests and check-ups are made constantly. Millions of dollars are spent every year for new and better, sturdier equipment.

To keep your telephone always ready for use... at any hour of the night or day... neither pains nor expense can be spared in combating the enemies of the service.

Change of Address May Cause Delay

Applicants for operators' licenses who have moved since making application are advised by the Department of State to inquire at their local postoffices if their licenses do not reach them within 20 days of application.

These licenses are sent as third class mail, which is forwarded only if addressees send proper postage, on notice by postal officials. Mail is thus sometimes held for as long as two weeks before being forwarded. In absence of any forwarding address, the licenses are ultimately returned to Lansing. Chauffeurs' licenses are sent first class, however.

In any event, applicants should notify their local police or sheriff's offices of their change in address, in conformity with the motor vehicle laws. Police will then notify the Department of State.

Organ Recital Sunday At Hartland Area

Many people are aware that the Hartland Music Hall boasts a fine three-manual Kilgen pipe organ which is said to be the finest of its type anywhere. Also many people of Hartland and surrounding territory have had the pleasure of hearing that organ in the regular fifteen minute preludes which have preceeded each one of the Vesper Concerts this year. This Sunday the people who avail themselves of the opportunity of attending the tenth concert of the Vesper Concert Series will hear Kenneth Osborne, Director of Music at Hope College, Holland, Michigan, who is one of the fine organists of our state. Mr. Osborne will use the Kilgen as a solo instrument for an entire recital, thus giving ample opportunity for us to discover the many varied tonal possibilities of the modern pipe organ. Please do not stay away because of the fact that it is an organ recital, for you will spend an hour and fifteen minutes hearing some of the most beautiful tonal effects that your ear will ever hear. One does not realize the unlimited possibilities of the modern pipe organ until you actually hear it in concert. There will be no organ prelude for this concert, since the organ is the solo instrument. However, the concert will begin promptly at 3:30 and will not last over an hour and fifteen minutes. We hope that readers of this article will be present this Sunday afternoon, February 20, and bring their friends along.

Soil-Saving Farmers Soon to Get Checks

Payments farmers will receive through the Agricultural Conservation Program for soil-building practices and depleting crop acreage adjustment will be calculated from farm summaries now being received at the State office.

According to Maurice A. Doan, chairman of the state committee, 40,000 of these summaries have been received. After payments have been determined participating farmers will receive an application for payment which when signed will be submitted for payment.

Payment checks have already been received in two counties, Kalkaska and Luce. The counties having a large acreage of cropland and a greater number of farms will probably require more time, but most of the payments should be made during the Spring.

Present indications are that the total number of co-operating farms will be about the same as in 1936. In that year about 64% of the crop acres and 50% of the farms in Michigan participated in the program.

Spring Inspection For Orchards and Nurseries

Lansing—A portion of the income of 5,200 Michigan farms, distributed through all but seven of the 83 counties of the state, is derived from nursery operations, according to the annual report of the Orchard and Nursery division of the Department of Agriculture as submitted to Commissioner John B. Strange by E. C. Mandenberg, division head. With interest in the orchard and nursery business greatly increased, the department is preparing for most active inspection season with start of spring planting, according to Commissioner Strange.

"Michigan ranks high in the number of raspberries grown," said Mandenberg in the report, "and our double inspection requirement of bramble plants has been one of the factors instrumental in maintaining this business in the top ranks of raspberry growing states of the United States."

"In our administration of the provisions of the Michigan Insect Pest and Plant Disease act we are assisting the producer and the distributor of nursery products and are also thereby safe-guarding the consumer of such products."

The report discloses that the nursery business is as diversified as is the entire agricultural industry of the state, the inspection covering every nursery operation from strawberry plants to large native trees.

HOLLY THEATRE

Carole Lombard is "the fall guy" of motion pictures. The golden-haired star, five-foot two inches tall, and weighing 112 pounds, has been picked for more shock-absorber parts than any other feminine screen personality. Her latest is in the David O. Selznick technicolor picture, "Nothing Sacred", to open on Sunday at the Holly Theatre, co-starring Fredric March.

There is one scene, a terrific knock-down, drag out battle in a hotel suite bedroom, in which Carole and Freddie swing punches, hit the floor, bounce into flower vases, sail across a bed, clinch, wrestle and shove to the point of exhaustion.

Fortunately for Carole, she had come to this postgraduate course in man-mauling from a film school of hard knocks, harking back to her start as a comedy actress, when she fell into everything from swimming pools to beds of cactus.

There was, for instance, the scene in "Love Before Breakfast", when she mauled around with Preston Foster, finally winding up with a black eye.

And remember "My Man Godfrey"? There was nothing gentle about the tussle in the shower, not to mention the gallons of water that spilled over Carole, fully dressed though she was.

Up to "Nothing Sacred," however, the prize of prizes was the scene in "We're Not Dressing," wherein Bing Crosby pursued Carole. The nimble-footed Lombard scampered as fast as she could, and proved too fast for Crosby. There was only one thing for Bing to do, so, in the most approved gridiron style he sailed off in a flying tackle. Carole landed with a thud, and with six strained vertebrae.

(Concluded from page three) while we are on the subject of basketball games will mention that the Freshmen boys trimmed the eighth graders by a 20-2 score.

Virgil Marlowe says his Pontiac takes to water like a duck. He had occasion to prove this early Sunday morning when returning home he found a portion of the road in Birmingham under more than three feet of water. With his second attempt he succeeded in going through the pond where half a dozen cars were already stalled. Virgil says it's a good way to wash your car for only the price of an oil change. What a plug for Pontiac!
