THE TENTH GRADE TRIP TO ANN ARBOR

On Friday, April 29, shortly after 9 o'clock the Tenth Grade, accompanied by Mrs. McVittie and Mr. Burt, piled into three cars and started for Ann Arbor, a trip of approximately 50 miles. We were to visit the University of Michigan Campus and be entertained by the varied program planned for the day.

The trip over was uneventful. We arrived at Ann Arbor about 10:30 and after finding places near each other to park, we went to Haven Hall to register. This is a cement building with interior work done in wood in a manner that lets one know it isn't modern. Haven Hall provides quarters for history and journalism at present.

From Haven Hall we hastened over to Hill Auditorium for the Honors Convocation Address delivered by Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth. The Hill Auditorium is a large modern building capable of seating nearly 5,000 people. In front of the entrance is a large piazza and a row of massive columns acts as a facade for the building.

We ate our lunch in Haven Hall and afterwards wandered about, amusing ourselves as best we could, looking over the vacant classrooms of the building.

About 1:45 P. M. we started on a tour of the campus from the front of Haven Hall with a vassity debater as a guide. The first thing he took us to see was the Baird Carillon in the Burton Memorial Tower, which is a large modern brick tower 200 feet high. It houses 53 bells and a huge four-faced clock near the top; on the many floors are classrooms and offices for music students and professors.

Next in line was the Michigan League, a very large, red, brick building approached by a circle drive and surrounded by large well-kept lawns and trees. It is for the women of the University and so is furnished with heavy rugs, over-stuffed chairs, has lounge rooms, a large dining room, as well as a theater.

The Michigan Union, our next stop, is another red brick building; this is exclusively for the men. It provides a place for recreation such as pool and tennis; has rooms for meeting places, lounging and eating, the latter in a large beautifully decorated ball room.

We also saw the University Library which is known for its very good system of indirect lighting. After climbing marble stairs we came into a large study room which was the only room we were permitted to see. In this room were several rows of tables; but the parts that attract attention are the large painted murals on the end walls of this room.

The Law Quadrangle is the largest set of buildings on the campus and is the most artistically designed. The Legal Research Building which we entered has a very high ceiling and the walls are highly decorated. The law students who attend this school have their own dormitories and eat in a large chapel-like dining hall in the Quadrangle.

The last place the guide took us was the field house of Ferry Field.

It is a mammoth red brick building for sports. In it are tennis courts, and a swimming pool for men, and behind it are the baseball diamond and track for foot racing.

About 4 o'clock we went into the ball park and sat shivering in the stands waiting for the game to start between Michigan and Purdue. We were so cold and hungry that we left during the seventh inning for the cafeteria in the Michigan League. Arriving there we found a long line ahead of us, so we ate at a restaurant instead.

When we had eaten and had rested awhile, we walked around the block to the Hill Auditorium where the University Band was to give a concert at 7:30 o'clock.

The band entered behind us, went down the aisle, mounted the steps to the stage, and seated themselves in a solid semicircle. The members were dressed in dark blue uniforms with a gold Sam Browne belt for decoration. They made a very striking picture with their silver and gold instruments. They played several pieces, the outstanding parts being a cornet trio and an arrangement of "Bells of St. Mary's" played by five violinists accompanied by the band.

About 8:15 o'clock the debating teams, with three on each side from Flint Central High School, affirmative, and Big Rapids High School, negative, came on the stage and sat behind their respective red, white and blue paper-covered tables at the extreme ends of the stage. Each one was introduced by Arthur Secor, manager of the Michigan High School Forensic Association, as they were about to speak in their eight minute constructive speeches and again in their four minute rebuttal speeches. The subject for debate was: Resolved: That the several states should adopt a unicameral form of legislation. After similar loving cups were given each side, it was announced that the Big Rapids team had won the debate.

I, myself, think it was well worth while going to Ann Arbor as it was interesting to all of us and increased our knowledge of the famous University of Michigan.

Hilltopper

(Concluded from page one) ton scored 9 runs to 2 for Clarkston. All of the Farmington men but Dwyer scored a run. Hunt scored 2 runs. On the Clarkston side Walker and F. Russell got the only 2 hits and Walker and Yost scored the runs. C. Russell pitched the first part of the game and was relieved by Webster in the sixth inning. The local pitchers allowed but 3 hits, walked 3, and struck out 8 men. They had poor support however with 7 errors charged to the team.

Our Geography class made Jig-Saw Puzzle Maps of Africa last week. These were so well done that we are going to make the same kind of maps of Europe. The countries of Europe will be cut out of colored paper and fitted together just as a Jig-Saw Puzzle is fitted together.

Last week for our activity periods we worked crossword puzzles. When these puzzles were complete we had learned six new three-letter words.

To-day each member of the Reading Class portrayed a scene for an imaginary moving picture. The rest of the class guessed from the acting what the scene portrayed. We think we have some future Barrymores and Garbos in our group.

Our History stories have taken us through the years of the discovery of America, the Spanish conquest of America, and the English settlement of America. Now we are much interested in the methods by which our forefathers settled and developed our country.

We have only two pupils, Margaret Shiff and Viola Frick, absent because of measles.

Gas did exceptionally well in the track meet the other night. Could it be Carmen's cross that he wore around his neck copying the custom of the knights of merry old England in their tournaments was responsible for his success.

Flash!! New romance. Evy Jencks and Jim Young.

We wondered why we didn't see that blue and red Plymouth, with Marie Tremper and Francis seated inside, running around on Sunday. We found out that it was in Holland, Michigan.

One of our "saucy little redheads" has been walking around with Eugene Hubbard during noon hours. Tsh Tsh!

That young Mann and Bernice Smith were seen holding hands in the hall one day! Can she dance, Arnold? These track meets certainly do draw the C. H. S. girls. It's too bad there isn't a "Josephine" among us.

There seems to be a fad for pig tails among the seventh graders.

Girls, notice! That much heard of Mexican will be coming to League with the Pontiac church next Sunday. Oh Goody!

Oh dear, what next? All these little boys like Charles Perry getting home from a track meet at the late hour of 8:30. And in the meantime . . . ?!

Could all the track boys get their energy for the track meet from the Nestles chocolate bars they didn't have—we wonder?

While on the track theme we might pause to state that King's opponent in the half mile in Grand Blanc ran with his sweat pants on and was not even a bit tired after the race. And we mustn't forget to remind you of the Regional track meet at Ypsi on Saturday.

The Sophomore class party was really quite an affair. It was original, entertaining and clever. We're in favor of more "farmer" parties.

To go or not to go—that was the question on Wednesday morning when the rain drizzled down on the Seniors in their skip day finery.

E. J. Lederle, county school commissioner, visited school recently. Juniors who were enrolled in classes in which Seniors are in the majority got a breathing spell on Wednesday.

Measles—measles—and more measles! Though the lower grades have the majority of cases, there are measles cases scattered through school.

Last Friday, May 13th, the 10th grade class sponsored a farm party which was held in the High School gymnasium. The gymnasium was transformed into a barn, with a hay-mow, potato crates, milk stools and stables. Several signs placed around the gymnasium, included "No Smoking", "Beware of the Bull", "Do not Disturb the Chickens", "Private", "Keep Out" and, in large letters across the room, the inscription "Sophomore Farm".

Many farm games were played such as: "Farmer in the Dell", "Hog Calling", and "Corn Shelling". A program by the sophomores was interesting and amusing, especially because Mr. Waters helped with the entertainment. After the games, refreshments consisting of home made ice cream, cake and cookies were served.

The party adjourned after a period of dancing to radio and piano music. The pianist was one of the guests, James Badgero. The musical high light of the evening was given by Junior Bird, a member of the class, who favored the party with some western songs.

Watch next week's paper for an account of the Seniors' Skip Day.

On Tuesday evening Beattie Bros. entertained a group at a chicken dinner at the Miles Hotel in Ortonville. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Beattie of Williams Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Adams of Pontiac, Dr. Meyers of Flint and all of their employees and families besides several relatives of the Beattie family. It was a happy occasion for Mrs. Ida Beattie as she was celebrating her birthday. Little individual birthday cakes with the usual candle marked each place. After the dinner a delightful program was enjoyed.

What County's Sawmills Produce in a Year

Oakland county's 10 sawmills produce about 733,000 board feet of lumber per year, it is revealed in a survey of Lower Michigan's timber industry recently completed by Prof. Willett F. Ramsdell, of the University of Michigan's School of Forestry and Conservation.

The mills of the county employed 34 men for a total of 984 man days for the year 1935, which was covered by the study, according to Professor Ramsdell. The production for that year, he found, was approximately 110 per cent of the county's average for a recent five year period.

The total commercial cut of wood products for the County, not including fuel wood, but including all other round products such as posts and poles, was equivalent to 809,000 board feet.

Red oak led the list of species produced by Oakland county with a total of 211,000 board feet. It was followed by elm, with 199,000 board feet, and white oak, with 98,000 board feet.

County Agr. Agent Advises Dairy Men

A proved dairy sire is one which should be kept in the community in order to improve the productive ability of our dairy cattle. One of the projects sponsored by the U. S. D. A. through local dairy herd improvement associations is that of proving a sire. A sire is proved when records of the daughters of the herd sire show increases over the production records of their dams.

The Extension service makes available from time to time the names of owners of proved sires. All dairymen interested in obtaining proved sires at reasonable prices can obtain the list of owners from the Extension Office, Box 173, Pontiac. Once each month this list is made up by the Dairy Department of the Michigan State College.

The first two proved sires offered for sale in Oakland County are owned by Dr. L. F. Cobb, of Goodrich, and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, of Rochester. These animals belong to the Guernsey breed.

HOLLY THEATRE

New York must be a constant source of amazement to visitors.

When they're not drilling new subways through its rock foundation they are tearing down elevated railway, building water supply tubes, adding express auto highways to the shore line, or just plain putting up skyscrapers.

This constant state of disarray gave rise some time ago to one of the city's funniest legends. The American Legion had held its memorable convention in the big town and the sophisticated metropolis was flabbergasted.

Legionnaires had taken over the control of traffic; they brought in all manner of trick gadgets to astonish the bored New Yorkers out of seven year's growth; they sat in rocking chairs in the middle of Broadway; they amazed the press—and columns were devoted to their hilarious antics.

The veterans hadn't forgotten a trick after 20 years, but they drew the line at rough house. Theirs was good-natured fun; and so it was a good-natured New York which howled with glee when a group of Legionnaires stood at the brink of a gaping subway hole in the wee hours one morning and vociferously explained to a smiling policeman:

"Officer, honest to crackers, we never done it. That hole was here when we came around the corner!"

And 20th Century-Fox's boisterous laugh riot, "Battle of Broadway", which appears at the Holly Theatre Sunday and Monday, May 22-23, bases a big proportion of its fun on the events which took the gay white way by the ears when the Legion hit town.

In the capable hands of Victor McLaglen and Brian Donlevy, both honest-to-gosh war veterans, the story of their efforts to rescue a brother veteran's son from the wiles of Louise Hovick, a New York showgirl charmer, is full of plenty of love interest for the women—and heaps of hell-for-leather gusto for the Class of 1917-18.
