CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1938

Odds and Ends

Now that Clarkston has secured new streets, the News is informed that it is possible to secure a water system, through present plans of the federal government. The United States will give 45% of the cost and loan the balance for fifty years without interest. When one considers that a water system, and it is presumed that Clarkston will have one sooner or later, would cost say fifty thousand and if the Village had to bond the interest would add half again as much, a grant at this time and a loan without interest, would reduce the cost of the system to about what interest alone would cost later. Just a thought, dear friends, with the understanding we will be glad to hear your reactions.

Monday is the birthday of the United States. The bank will be closed. The post office will be open from 11:00 to 12:30. It is against the law to shoot fire-crackers, but if you must break the law, please be careful.

This week-end presents another wonderful vacation for resorters. Traffic may be a little heavier and we must perhaps drive with a little more caution.

Waterford votes this week on an amendment to increase their tax limit with the result that if a bond issue, voted upon at the same time, passes, it will be able to add room to its school. Inasmuch as crowded conditions have made half day sessions a necessity the past year, it is presumed that the amendment and bond issue will carry.

Be Careful When Signing Petitions

With candidate petitions beginning to appear for the September primaries, Secretary of State Leon D. Case calls attention to provisions of the state law covering the same. It is unlawful for any voter to sign more than one nominating petition for the same office except where there are two or more persons to be elected to the same office. Violation of this provision of the law is classed as a misdemeanor. No voter in Michigan can lawfully sign nominating petitions for more than one candidate for Governor. Many instances of this violation have been noted on petitions signed in the past. Duplicate signatures are eliminated as petitions are checked.

Swimming Class Has Fine Start

Adults Are Urged to Take Advantage of Free Instructions

Last Tuesday at 12:30 a fine group met at Deer Lake to begin swimming lessons. Miss Dorothea Lawrence, the instructor, was pleased with the number present and encouraged the beginners. The adults in the district are urged to take advantage of this fine opportunity to get free instructions from one who is so capable. Small children are very apt to learn to swim without definite instructions but with the adults fear and the lack of agility seems to be a great drawback and so the helpful guidance of a competent instructor is very necessary. Miss Lawrence is extremely patient and loves her work and so makes the hour and a half a real pleasure for everybody.

The cold weather over the last week-end perhaps kept a great many from attending the class on Tuesday but everyone who has any desire to swim is asked to make an effort to be at the beach at Deer Lake next Tuesday at 12:30.

Five Percent Decrease in Welfare Cases

Telegraphic reports for 104 urban areas show a decrease of 5% in the number of cases receiving general relief from public funds, and 8% in the amount of obligations incurred from April to May, according to figures made public by Walter B. Redman, Pontiac manager of the Old-age Insurance Bureau of the Social Security Board. Decreases in the number of cases were reported for about three fourths of the 104 cities, while increases of as much as 1% were shown for 23 cities. Decreases of from 10% to 20% were reported for a group of 50 cities. The Michigan cities averaged a 11% decrease.

On the Learned Subject of Fishing

There is no known way to make fish bite but there is information on the subject that might prove helpful. Grass or great northern pike should be biting best on frogs or large minnows, plugs or spoon baits. Add spinners to the list for wall-eyed pike.

This information is not based on any fool-proof recipe for good fishing—because there isn't any such—but upon what is known about the habits of certain species of fish, as to habitat and feed.

Recommended for large and small mouth black bass are plugs, flies, spoons, worms, frogs, minnows and crawfish. Worms and minnows will continue to tempt perch—it is hoped—and in addition to these it is suggested that bluegills show an interest in grasshoppers and artificial flies.

But there is no use inquiring about the best places to fish. The technical men say they do not know.

SAFETYGRAMS

NO FATALITIES OVER HOLIDAY WEEK END.

Wouldn't you like to see that headline in your local paper on July 5th? Of course you would. Well, it's up to every one of us to do our part to make it possible.

A careful check to see that your car is in perfect mechanical condition before starting on that trip, extra caution and less speed on the road, adherence to all traffic laws—these are some of the precautions we must observe if we want a holiday week end free from motor vehicle accidents.

There are also other hazards we must consider. Fireworks. Urge the children to be extremely careful when handling them. Swimming. Take extra precautions—don't take unnecessary chances in the water. Boating. Exercise the greatest care while you are in a canoe, rowboat, or other vessel.

HOLLY THEATRE

Robin Hood! How strange the fascination, how thrilling the sound of these two words—the legendary name of a hunted outlaw—loved by thousands of Englishmen.

Well may it thrill, for "The Adventures of Robin Hood," a Warner Bros. film in Technicolor, starring Errol Flynn is coming to the Holly Theatre on Sunday.

Rich in lore is the story of how a Saxon noble, Sir Robin of Locksley, the ablest archer in all England, gathered a band of stalwarts around him to harass the cruel Norman knights. How the outlawed Robin Hood plundered the rich and fed the poor has been sung and re-sung in ballads and has come down through the centuries—an incomparably fascinating story.

With this wealth of material did two Warner Bros. writers sit down to fashion the script, the picturization of which is due to reach the Holly Theatre screen so soon.

"Constant readers" all over the world are probably going to take their pens in hand to launch loud and lusty complaints to newspaper editors when they get a glimpse of the line, "Original story by Norman Reilly Raine and Seton I. Miller," which will flash on the screen among the credits for "The Adventures of Robin Hood."

Messrs. Raine and Miller, when assigned to do the screen play on Robin Hood, discovered a great wealth of material through which they waded with mounting enthusiasm. After digesting several dozen different versions of the popular legend, still popular after eight centuries, they went back to the original sources—old ballads, and legends, some of them printed in the archaic English of Chaucer's day.

Having done this, they tessed away all the notes they had made and wrote a skeleton story of the particular incidents of Robin Hood they remembered from their boyhood days.

The picture contains no end of battling with bows and arrows, quarter staffs, pikes and broadswords and has a particularly thrilling duel between Robin Hood and Sir Guy. Immense scenic sets were built for "The Adventures of Robin Hood" described as the most elaborate film of the year. It is accompanied by a superb musical score, composed by Erich Wolfgang Korngold.

STAMPS

In connection with the Allegheny County sesquicentennial celebration this fall, Pittsburgh will ask for a special stamp for the occasion. A drawing of Pittsburgh's famous "Golden Triangle" with the Allegheny River on the left and the Monongahela on the right has been submitted to the authorities in Washington.

The Philatelic Society of Pittsburgh will use this design for souvenir poster stamps printed in sheets of four. Oct. 8-9 is the date set for the celebration.

With new stamps being printed at the rate of five and six a month, collectors are having a hard time keeping up with all the new issues. It is not so bad when the ante is 1-2-3-4 and 5 cents but how about it when they add a cipher and still on up to $5.00.

James Madison 4 cent is scheduled for July 1 and the Post Office Department expect to have the entire series completed before September. This will include the Northwest Territory Stamp to be on sale July 15 and the Iowa Centennial for August 24.

Mention was made in this column some time ago of the Mexican Amelia Earhart stamps, autographed by the lost flyer on her goodwill trip to Mexico City several years ago.

The noted flyer reserved a cover for herself with a block of four also autographed by herself. Gimbel's Stamp Department announces the sale of this cover to Milton P. Bowman at a price well into the thousands.

The Masonic Stamp Club of New York has already petitioned for a special commemorative for April 30, 1939, marking 150 years since George Washington was inaugurated as first President of the United States. The design features Washington taking the oath of office on the balcony of the old Federal Building.

France has issued an unusual stamp in connection with the tercentenary celebration of Champagne county where the process of making champagne is supposed to have originated. The stamp in blue, issued Tuesday, June 28, pictures a French girl wearing the traditional ceremonial costume of that section of the country, holding a lot of flute of the bubbling wine. The huge lace bonnet framing a pretty face makes a very attractive stamp.

Coming Events

July 2nd—Saturday evening starting at 5:00 o'clock a supper will be served at the Clarkston M. E. Church.

July 6th—Wednesday afternoon the Ladies' Aid of the Clarkston M. E. Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Rose Teggerdine. Mrs. George King, Mrs. Roy Spencer and Mrs. Josephine Smith will be the assisting hostesses.

July 15th—Friday evening the local O. E. S. Chapter will sponsor a dinner at the Temple at 6:00 o'clock. The public is invited.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Picnic

To Be Held at Cass Lake Park on July 10

At the Legion Auxiliary meeting held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Collins last week a picnic was planned for the Auxiliary members and their husbands and families and the Junior Group. The event will take place on Sunday, July 10th, at the Cass Lake Park. Those attending will supply their own table service, sandwiches, one hot dish and whatever they prefer to drink. The good time will start in the forenoon and some have planned to be at the Park early.

Independence Day Today and Yesterday

Fourth of July or Independence Day was first observed as a holiday three years after the close of the Revolution in 1786 so the knowledge that the Star Spangled Banner was designated as the national anthem as late as March 3, 1931, will surprise some. The Star Spangled Banner has been regarded as the national anthem since 1814 though it was not made legally so until 1931.

Fourth of July recalls memorable days in the history of the United States, the making of the first American flag by Betsy Ross; Patrick Henry, the orator of the Revolution; the Spirit of '76, and all that pertains to that period in our country's history.

There is still history to be made and a glance at the early years of our country will do much to strengthen the national character.

When we observe the day with displays of fireworks and appropriate programs let's remember that we are observing Independence Day.

Drive on to Eradicate Marihuana Weed

The Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police issues a timely warning this week to every citizen in the state as well as all local police officers to be on the lookout for Marihuana, the drug weed which thrives in Michigan's climate.

Oscar G. Olander, Commissioner of the State Police, states that State troopers will give their full support in the drive against Marihuana.

This dangerous drug weed is smoked in cigarettes by countless persons, some of them boys and girls of high school age who are led on paths of degradation by it and who often degenerate into hopeless drug addicts.

Everyone should be able to recognize the plant. Growing wild, Marihuana reaches a height of about 3 feet to 6 feet. Cultivated, it will grow from 10 to 16 feet. Leaves, of course, may be larger or smaller, depending on the relative size of the plant itself. There may be three, five, seven, nine, eleven or even thirteen leaf segments to each stem. These are always the same in appearance, slender and tapering with an unmistakable saw-tooth edge. Color of the leaf is a dark green.

Smoking Marihuana causes varying reactions in different individuals but in all cases it causes moral decay and character degeneration. And if a user mixes drinking with his "thrill smoke" he often becomes a cold-blooded killer. The mixture of alcohol and Marihuana numbs every sense of decency and bloats the ego of the individual to a point where he will strike down with maniacal brutality anyone in his crazed pathway.

Everyone can aid authorities during the next few weeks by being on the lookout for this weed. Sunday drivers and country hikers can easily recognize it through comparison with the accompanying Marihuana leaf illustration. Farmers, too, should be on the alert for this weed.

If you think you have seen a Marihuana plant notify your local police chief or report it to the nearest State Police post.

If Marihuana is to be stamped out in Michigan every man, woman and child reading this must resolve to aid the police in their drive to protect Michigan boys and girls from the demoralizing effects of this drug!

Bulletins bearing an illustration of the Marihuana leaf and description of the plant have been prepared by the Michigan Police Journal, official organ of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police.

These bulletins will be distributed to all schools, churches and libraries by the police chiefs throughout the state and copies for club, group or personal use may be secured from your local police chief.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock in the presence of 40 guests when Miss Andrus Quinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Quinn of 6590 Mountain View became the bride of William O. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil D. Baker of Pontiac. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Howard Jewell of Waterford. The bride was lovely in a gown of white chiffon with finger-tip veil. She carried white roses, orchids and baby breath. The bride was attended by Miss Marjorie Wakeford of Keego Harbor who was gowned in pink chiffon and wore a corsage of pink roses and delphiniums and Miss Francis Bruce of Pontiac who wore blue marquisette with a corsage of pink roses, baby breath and delphiniums. Lester Ohngren of Pontiac assisted Mr. Baker. Roy Hollenbeck of Pontiac acted as usher. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Baker then left on a short wedding trip. On their return they will be at home at 6590 Mountain View, Pontiac.

Miss Hazel Kniffen of Hazel Park will spend the summer in Waterford. Ruth and Patty Wood are ill at their home with measles.

August Jacober went to Cummins, Mich., on Sunday and Mrs. Jacober and son Jack who have been spending the last two weeks at their cottage there returned home with him.

The friends of William King of Springfield will be sorry to hear that he has been very ill with an infection in his hand. He spent several days of last week in the Henry Ford Hospital.

Waterford School closed its doors for the summer on Friday. The teachers left for their homes and some will attend summer school. Lester Ross who will teach in the Cass City school, beginning in the fall, took with him the best wishes of all of his Waterford friends. Mrs. Emma Hahn left for Petoskey, she will attend summer school at Bay View. Miss Mildred Klemens went to her home in Detroit and will attend summer school at Wayne. Mrs. Elizabeth Shoupe will attend summer school at Ypsilanti.

The reckless drivers seem to have visited Waterford many times during the last few weeks. Early Sunday morning the Mehler family were awakened by a loud noise. Upon investigation they found that a car had left the road and struck an oak tree close by and then crossed a small ditch alongside of the highway and continued across the front yard finally stopping in front of the Emery Smith home. By this time the driver must have decided to stick to the highway because the car went on its way.

The committees have been appointed for the ice-cream social to be held at the Church on the evening of July 9th. The committee on arrangements will be Mrs. Louis Dorman, Mrs. James Sutes, Mrs. Ainsworth Wyckoff, and Mrs. Otto Duguid. AN ELECTRIC RANGE GIVES YOU 6 things more..

look for this extra value!

Women say, "There are six definite advantages in my electric range:

"(1) CLEANLINESS — My electric range cooks with pure heat from a glowing wire—heat as clean as sunlight. My kitchen walls and curtains stay fresh for a much longer period of time, with less frequent redecorating, and cooking utensils remain bright and shiny after long use.

"(2) COMFORTABLE COOKING—My electric range will not raise the kitchen temperature even one degree, no matter how warm the weather. It is a boon during the hot summer months.

"(3) BETTER FLAVOR—Electric cooking has a deliciously different flavor—a natural flavor in foods. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices.

"(4) WATERLESS COOKING — The waterless cooking method seals in precious minerals and important food values. No longer need I boil vegetables in large quantities of water, and then pour this flavor-laden and mineral-laden water down the sink, after the cooking is finished. I do not waste the very things I pay for.

"(5) MORE LEISURE — My electric range is time-saving... it gives me extra hours of freedom away from the kitchen. I can put an entire meal in the oven and go out for the afternoon. When I come home my dinner is waiting, perfectly cooked—piping hot and ready for the table.

"(6) MODERN COOKING—This modern cooking method is fast, simple, safe—and convenient. I snap the switch and start to cook. Thanks to the accurate oven heat control, I can achieve the same perfect baking results time after time, without guesswork."

Stop in at your dealer's and have him show you these superior features—and many others — of the new 1938-model electric ranges. He will be glad to answer your questions and explain in detail the advantages of electric cooking.

See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, electrical dealers or at your Detroit Edison office.

Nature Chats

By Mona L. Hungerford

A great many of our native birds have been named from their calls and songs. The phoebe, warblers, killdeers, chickadees, catbirds, chats, bobolinks, bob-whites, pewees and whippoorwills have derived their names in this way. It is the opinion of bird students that our early pioneers who were men of the woods and fields perhaps named our feathered friends from their songs and calls. Our early American stories, poems and literature have many examples of bird study denoting that the settlers were very much interested in bird life.

Whippoorwill
Antrostomus Vociferus

The whippoorwill is a common bird throughout Michigan in regions where the woodlands have not been entirely removed. It can be heard in the farming districts and pasture fields but it is not a bird of the towns and cities.

The whippoorwill arrives late in the spring and leaves for the south before the first frost in the fall. Our pioneer fathers have a tradition that no frost appeared after the bird came in the spring. The whippoorwill will not build a nest but lays its eggs on dead leaves on the ground. The eggs are white spotted with lilac and brown. If disturbed she carries the eggs in her mouth to a new place. The whippoorwill's food is taken on the wing and consists of harmful insects.

The whippoorwill because of its plaintive note gives one a sudden fright and superstitious people attribute to it an evil omen or evil influence. It is however a harmless bird flying low and catching hundreds of insects with its large mouth.

The whippoorwill has been confused with the nighthawk. The nighthawk has a white patch on the wings and the whippoorwill is minus this patch. The nighthawk we see and we hear the whippoorwill. The nighthawk flies high and the whippoorwill flies low and the nighthawk is a larger bird.

Do Flies Shun Blue?

WHETHER or not flies—house, horse, or blue-bottle—have any artistic sense can be of little interest to anyone but the flies. However, the observation that flies appear to dislike and even to shun rooms painted blue is of immediate personal interest to everyone who has ever had to share his ice cream with Musca domestica, the common housefly. Although the literature on the life and habits of flies sheds little light on the subject, there appears to be a well founded belief in many countries that flies are unhappy in the presence of blue, particularly a medium of "imperfect" blue.

While traveling in France, G. B. J. Athos, an English architect, found that the walls of most of the hospitals and clinics there are painted blue for the purpose of discouraging flies. Both architects and physicians in France supported the theory that a light blue is disliked by flies and is an effective method of keeping the insects out of sick-rooms. Pursuing the subject further, Mr. Athos found that abattoirs and factories built in Denmark by a distinguished Dutch engineer had bright blue interiors for the same purpose, a practice which the engineer had found successful in the kitchen of his own house.

A Frenchman some years ago conducted experiments on the color preference of flies, using the box, the walls of which were covered with squares of paper of various colors. Observations were carried on over a considerable period of time, and the box was turned in different positions in order to avoid error from other causes. After several days, a count of the flies in the box showed that 18 of the insects had chosen to rest on a clear green paper. The next largest number had chosen rose for their resting place, with clear yellow, azure, and clear red following in that order. Only one fly was found on the ultramarine blue.

As a result of his inquiries the English architect found that bright blue walls and ceilings have been found effective for keeping flies away in a number of English homes. One shrewd Englishman, suspecting that most flies enter the house via the kitchen, painted the walls and ceiling of that room powder blue, and found that this color barrier kept the rest of the house free of the flying pests. This practice is common in some South American countries and in parts of the West Indies where, in many instances, fly screens are not considered necessary when blue is used as a decoration.—Technology Review.

"Spring Overturn"
In Oakland's
Deep Lakes

Lansing—June magic, so the poets say, explains many a strange departure from the normal in the behavior of humans. But it is the technical men, rather than the poets, who explain why many a deep-water Michigan lake is preparing to stand on its head under the waning influence of the month.

The end of June usually witnesses what technical men of the Michigan department of Conservation refer to as the "spring overturn" in the state's deep-water lakes.

Several weeks of rising temperatures bring about the condition in deep-water lakes known as "thermal stratification". During spring and summer months surface waters of lakes continue to absorb heat from the sun and, becoming light as a consequence, float on the lower layers of water which remain colder. The coldest, lowest layer of water in lakes 40 or more feet in depth is non-circulating. Above this, and separating the coldest, deepest layer from the sun-warmed water of the surface, is a "transitional" layer, the thermocline.

The surface waters, frozen during the last winter, are lighter than the layers beneath. When the sun has warmed them to the point of maximum density for water—39 degrees Fahrenheit—they are in balance with the lowest layer and the "spring overturn" occurs, the whole lake becoming almost uniform in temperature and water currents being free to circulate from top to bottom.

The process is repeated at the time of the "winter overturn" when lowered temperatures cool surface waters to the 39-degree point, again establishing a balance between the "layers" of water in the lake.

Lighthouse Service officials say that perhaps no fleet in the world is more dependent on aids to navigation than Great Lakes freighters that steer through dredged channels and dense traffic along the Detroit River.

Why the Fastidious Ask for Michigan Cherries

Interior view of state's traveling laboratory, showing A. M. Bacot, Department of Agriculture chemist, preparing cherries for Howard test to determine if infected with cherry fruit flies. Michigan cherries boast reputation of being the cleanest in the nation.

Lansing—The nation's only traveling laboratory devoted solely to the protection of quality of fruit crops started today upon a tour that will keep it in the field until late-fall, according to the announcement today by John B. Strange, commissioner of Department of Agriculture, in announcing its itinerary during the cherry season. The laboratory started cherry fruit fly inspections in Grand Rapids last week and will be used in 10 locations before the close of the season. Upon completion of the cherry fruit fly control, the laboratory will be equipped for spray residue work in connection with the apple crop. The laboratory is used to assure growers that their products will meet federal requirements in inter-state commerce in regards to pure food laws.
