CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1938

NUMBER 5

Odds and Ends

There are probably 130 million people in the United States. Presumably 100 million are interested in and listening to reports of the Crisis in Europe. Of those who listen—and talk about the matter afterwards—let's say each one spent one hour in the last week, or 100 million hours, or 41,650 days of 24 hours each, or over 114 years. And now four men are (at this writing) trying to settle difficulties without even suggesting that the 114 years the Americans have spent discussing the matter are even worth an invitation to sit at the discussion table. Perhaps our time could have been as profitably spent if we had watched the workmen paving the streets, not to mention doing a little work ourselves.

One excuse is as good as another to shear "sheep". For the last few days stocks on the New York exchange have been dropping because of the "Crisis". In other words "Wall Street" has got the stocks down to level where they can be sold again at a good profit. Now all "Wall Street" has to do is to wait a little for a new crop of wool and another "crisis".

Another month and we will have our 1939 model autos and 1939 and 40 crop of office holders. We can get along without the loud mouthed promises of the candidates but the musical radio entertainment that ushers in the new cars generally means at least temporary prosperity. Because we receive that which will do us the most good as we need it, we get the prosperity every year, while the major politicians do not bother us only every two or four years.

Please do not tell this to anyone, it might get out that some people do not want to work. However we do know of a man who tried his best to get a man to work for him—and he tried for two days. The result was the old arithmetic problem in reverse: "If it takes two men one day to do a job it will take one man two days"—and it did.

Two new subscriptions last week. We would also like to report an increased sale on stands but maybe last week's spurt of ten copies was just for the week. Don't worry. We will let you know if the stand sales keep up. Like any other product a newspaper likes to supply the demand and then increase the demand. And the only way a newspaper can increase its demand is to serve well.

Membership Increased at Last Sunday's Service

The first group of members to join the Clarkston Methodist Church since the coming of Rev. Large was taken into full membership last Sunday at a special service. This group will be the first to reply to the Membership Roll-Call, to be made Sunday, Oct. 10. On this Sunday Rev. Large will call the roll of the church, according to the years. The member who has been the member for the most years will be recognized in the annual service. The officers and teachers of the Church School will be installed by Rev. Large.

Death Claims Albert E. Barnhart

Funeral Was Held on Monday Afternoon

Sadness visited the home of A. E. Barnhart of Drayton Plains last Friday afternoon when death claimed Mr. Barnhart who had been in poor health for several months.

Mr. Barnhart was born in Novi, August 29, 1876, the only son of Orin and Mary Emery Barnhart. He attended school in Northville and Detroit. On March 22, 1899 he married Grace Richmond of Drayton Plains and to this union there were four children. After spending some time in Detroit and Northville they moved to Pontiac and from there to Drayton Plains. Mr. Barnhart had been in the real estate business since 1924 specializing in small farms. Up until about a year ago when Mr. Barnhart's health started to fail he was very active in church and civic affairs. He was one of the ten charter members of the Community United Presbyterian Church and had been a member of the Drayton Plains Men's Club.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Grace Barnhart, two sons, Osmon of Lansing and Ollie of Lapeer; one daughter, Mrs. Ernestine Williams of Drayton Plains and one granddaughter of Lansing.

The funeral service was held at the Community Presbyterian Church on Monday afternoon with Rev. C. J. Sutton and Rev. Creswell officiating. During the service the church choir sang "In the Sweet Bye and Bye" and "The City Four Square". Those who carried Mr. Barnhart to his last resting place were Floyd L. Wilson, Roy Dancy, Harold Detweiler, A. T. Stewart, I. M. Beattie, and William Pelton.

The body lay in state at the Church from one o'clock until three o'clock on Monday afternoon and the beautiful flowers that blanketed the casket and filled the front of the church bespoke the high esteem with which the Barnhart family was held in the community and elsewhere. Burial was in the Drayton Plains cemetery.

MORE SCHOOL SPIRIT

by Carmen J. Clark

School Spirit—This is the one thing that any one school cannot have too much of, and it is up to us as individual students and as a High School group to give our school loyal support. Whether it be on the football field, the basket ball floor, baseball diamond, or in track, we must remember that our boys are all trying their best to defend the name of Clarkston High. So by our pledges, cheering, and congratulations, even when they didn't do as well as they are able, we should make our boys think that there is a strong wall of support behind them—something to rely upon—that thing called School Spirit.

But what about cheering and its strong rival, booing? When you begin to cheer the boys, they all feel that you really want them to win and they are encouraged to do their best in spite of the fact that the team's fortune is at ebb tide. Certainly booing is not showing good spirit. If you boo members of the team because you don't like the way a person throws a ball, why not go out to the next practice and tell the Coach that you would like to join the team and show them just how it is done. We might find a star player in you. If you fail, you will find out that maybe you had better be less critical, because you probably couldn't do it as well yourself! Also, when you boo the other team you are really indirectly booing our boys, because when we go to that school they are sure to boo us.

Now that football season has begun I, as a member of the staff of this paper, would like to see a great number of parents and students present at the game. Football really isn't such a murderous sport. The boys learn to be good sports and also it is physically helpful to them. And the one thing for which a person should be recognized for is his good sportsmanship. Are you helping the boys by pulling with them, or are you on the other end of the rope?

Regarding Excuses This Year

  - C. For appearing in public on schedule programs.
  - D. For inclement weather, within limits.
  - E. Funerals—deaths.
- All of above mentioned excuses must be accompanied by a written excuse from home.
- The following will be unexcused absences:
- A. Absences for haircuts.

  - E. Decorating for parties.
  - F. Resting before plays, operettas, etc.
  - G. Oversleeping.
- Students will be excused at 3:15 P. M. for football games only by bringing a written excuse from home. However, should any disputes come up, Mr. Waters will be called upon to decide definitely.

In the 3rd quarter Log Cabin tied the score, gaining seven points in much the same manner as did Clarkston. In the last quarter neither scored.

O. E. S. News

Important Plans to Be Discussed on Monday Evening

On Monday evening the local O. E. S. Chapter will hold the regular meeting at the Temple. As there are very important questions to be discussed the members are urged to attend. The next few weeks are going to be busy ones for the O. E. S. members as well as the officers so it is necessary to have your opinion when plans are made.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Frank Petty, Mrs. John Mann and Mrs. Rie Sanderson of Pontiac attended a very lovely affair in Royal Oak. The Royal Oak Chapter held a reception at 6:00 o'clock for Mrs. Florence Ryckman of Detroit, the Associate Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Michigan. At 6:30 the group was ushered to the dining-room where they enjoyed a banquet. In the evening the initiatory was exemplified in a very impressive manner. A corps of officers from the Clawson Chapter assisted. The floor work was beautiful, about sixty women being on the floor at one time. Two candidates were initiated in the afternoon and seven in the evening.

Nature Chats

By Mona L. Hungerford
 Mallard Ducks

This is the season when wild ducks are migrating. The Mallard is the most common species and is best known, being the ancestor of the domesticated duck. The many lakes in the vicinity of Clarkston and Orion give the hunter an opportunity to perhaps bag a few.

The Mallard duck, especially the male, is beautiful. His head and neck are glossy green with white ring like collar. Lower on the breast is chestnut color. Also on the breast is a grayish white marked with black lines. His back is dark grayish brown, shading to black on the lower back and tail. The bill is greenish yellow.

The Mallard seems to be always active, going through many water stunts. Their life is a continual watch for water rats, large pike that eat the young, and duck hawks.

At the William Scripps estate a wild life sanctuary there have been ducks. Even until late in the season, long after the hunting season is over, Mallards, teal and canvas backs can be seen in the lakes in large numbers. Hunters should respect the laws regulating this sanctuary as the study of the wild life that this sanctuary affords is an education to our posterity and will be a means of pleasure in the future, not only to the hunter but to the nature student as well.

Long Head? You Are Friendly
 If your head is long from the front (the eyebrows) to the back, you are friendly, far-sighted, and capable of keen concentration, according to a psychologist in Pearson's London Weekly. Your friends usually consider you a dreamer and an idealist. Your weakest point lies in the fact that you waste time, energy, and sympathy on people who use you for their own ends. You possess the ability to handle crowds, and would be successful and happy at work which requires personality and far-sightedness; the stage and entertainment generally, music, authorship, and the arts. Your social contacts should be with people like yourself. You would find it worth your while to spend more time studying people, because you can become a marvelous judge of character.

Sitka, Old Trading Post
 Sitka originally was called Old Sitka, or Fort Archangel Gabriel, and its site was six miles from the present one. It was established as an administrative and trading post by Russians in May, 1799, but three years later the Thlinket Indians captured it. It was recaptured by the Russians in 1804, transferred to its present site, and renamed Sitka, or New Archangel. From 1804 until 1867, Sitka flourished as the chief trading center of Alaska and as the seat of Russian government in North America. In 1867, when the United States purchased the territory, it was at Sitka that formal transfer of the domain took place.

The Hilltopper

month three members of the committee will be removed by popular vote and the class will then elect three more students to replace them.

The Literature Class has been slow in getting started because our text books did not arrive until late. However, we are now beginning our work. Last week many of our members found out that poetry has a definite metric scheme and that we have to scan poetry and find out the scheme. This proved hard for many even though this is supposed to be an age of rhythm.

Our history classes have been doing rather routine work. The Juniors enjoyed making cartoons and pictures of the Colonial Period. The Sophomores have begun their unit of Greek History. They hope to gain an appreciation of the spirit and the ideals that set the Greek nation apart.

In the eighth grade class the students have enjoyed their Scholastic discussions. They are studying Colonial America.

Grade News

by Eugene Hubbard

Mrs. Beardslee's Room

The third grade Arithmetic class is learning to work two-place addition. The fourth grade Arithmetic class is learning to solve short division by the long division method.

The new Spelling, Language, and Reading workbooks are here for both grades.

Our boys and girls are enjoying seasonal songs, stories and poems. They have also told of many interesting things they did during the summer vacation.

Miss Hoek, the Oakland County school nurse inspected our group early this month.

Miss McLaren's Room

The fourth and fifth grades are making movies in our room. The fifth grade boys have made a blue theatre. The girls have made red curtains. The name of the first show made by the fifth grade is "The Pony Express".

The fourth grade is making "Our Journey to Belgium Congo". We expect to invite another room to see our movies.

Mrs. Vliet's Room

New pupils in the sixth grade are Donna Opdenkoff and Raymond Smith.

A text book subject new to the sixth grade is history of early man. Keith Kerolden has fashioned an ax and shovel in the Caveman manner. Many arrow heads have been exhibited. Several boys and girls have made black board sketches picturing the activities of the Cave man.

The class is enjoying thirty new books of fiction and adventure, loaned to us for three months from the State Library at Lansing.

Miss Wellington's Room

Our eighth grade English class opens its series of debates on Tuesday. Great is the excitement over the probable verdicts.

Wilbur Adams taught our Scholastic class so ably last Friday that Eldon Rouse has volunteered to try his hand at pedagogy.

Library News

by Betty Taylor

Mrs. Walter is in charge of the library this year. A class has been started to teach pupils who have not had any experience in library work how a library should be run. The new librarians will begin work soon.

The library has been given a thorough going over. Books have been put in proper order and the library has been cleaned. Certain rules have been made for the librarians to follow.

Home Economics Club Holds First Meeting

by Jackie Parrish

The first meeting of the Home Economics Club was held Friday, the 23 at 3:15. Betty Jean Clark, President was in charge of the meeting. She was elected as the club delegate to Traverse City Home Economics Convention.

The Club also discussed ways of earning money to send the delegate and also how to attract more members. The club very cordially welcomes any 9th, 10th, 11th, or 12th grade girl who is interested in joining.

FEATURES

To the Seniors:

Be sure to wear your best "bib and tucker" Monday, October 3. You are going to have to watch the birdie—so be prepared!

By the way—the Juniors have chosen their new class rings and each and every Junior is more than enthusiastic.

Someone is growing a mustache. It wouldn't be a dignified gentleman in the Junior Class, would it, Tom?

I wonder why Mr. Willoughby had to change the words to one of the songs in the Boys Chorus the other day. Ask "Evey" Jencks, she'll tell you. (It is "g" sharp or "g" natural?)

By the way, we had a new, young, and pretty teacher for Book Keeping Class last Friday. The new member of the faculty was Arlene McCann.

"Don't be so lazy" a familiar saying in Public Speaking Class. (Isn't it, Tom?)

We have a good example of brotherly and sisterly love in Junior Home Room. Haven't we Beverly and Owen?

Jackie visited her Home Town yesterday.

Wonder what the attraction was?

Evenly Davies' explanation for the pin she is sporting is that it arouses curiosity. (That's a good explanation, Evelyn, but we know a better one.)

Wanted!! A trip for the Seniors!!! If Perry didn't know how to count before—he certainly knows how now. The League has put him to work.

Irene Walz has let it be known that she is a distant relative of Henry Ford—Rattle, Rattle, Rattle.

Who's "Larry" that Arlene talks so much about? Ask her!!

Oliver Johnson keeps Civics and American Lit class "Rolling" with his bright remarks.

Mr. Thayer's favorite song is "Small Fry"—Anyway he sings it a lot—Maybe simply to entertain the Seniors.

A number of the kids around school are waiting patiently for Tom Boothby's party. From general reports it's going to be "quite the quite".

Mary Gulick's current heart throb is none other than "Ken Murray" in person. Not the radio star but we think that he shines quite brightly in Mary's Eyes. Wonder if he has anything to do with the disappearance of her class ring or the appearance of the pin she wears on her lapel. Maybe she worked at Chessman's for more reasons than one!!!

Dan Addis escorted those two gals about town—Muriel and Julia after League. What will Roy Spencer say??

Tall Tales

As told to: ELMO FRANK E. and SCOTT HAGAN WATSON

Blondy by a Tongue!

WAY back in 1892—said the Old turman—I owned a beautiful a racing mare as ever was foaled. Her name was Blondy because of her color.

My other possession was a farm in the Blue Grass country on which was hung a "plaster" of $15,000.

Bad luck cut between me and the purses although Nigger Jim, my trainer, would get her cream-colored body in the pink before every race.

We taught Blondy a lot of tricks, between losing races. One was to make a face. Nigger Jim or I would hold an apple or carrot so she had to stretch her neck and put out her tongue for it. And she got so she would do this whenever we told her "make a face."

We entered the mare in a claiming race at Churchill Downs the spring of '92. It was May 15, to be exact. The mortgage on the farm was due May 16. Nigger Jim had Blondy in great form for the 1 1/4 mile race. But the bookies were laying 20 to 1 against our nag. I managed to scare up exactly one thousand berries and placed the whole roll at 20 to 1. It was win the race or lose the farm.

The horses were away evenly but 100 yards from the start Blondy stumbled and lost stride. We groaned but heartened as she winged away, regaining lost ground at every jump. Then a horse cut in front of her. It was Dixie Dude, and she had to be pulled.

Down the back stretch and around the turn they came. Blondy was moving up on the outside. When they hit the stretch she and Dixie Dude were running head and head.

It looked like a certain dead heat but at the last jump or two Nigger Jim, hanging on the rail, yelled "Make a face, Yo' Blondy! Make a face!" Thank God! Blondy heard, straightened her neck, shot out her tongue across the finish line and won the race.

BIG LAKE SCENE OF A UNIQUE PROJECT

No Commercial Aspect in Venture Conducted by Dr. Rupp

By Ralph W. Brown

It was something over forty years ago that J. R. Rupp was born down in northern Ohio, where the tall corn really grows tall and where the Mennonites wore beards that were beards. The parents were Mennonites and close followers of the lowly and humble Nazarene. As a boy he toiled as countless other lads, have toiled with cows and horses and tools.

But something within stirred this boy to leave the soil and go to Chicago and attend college and university, so his dad loaned him $2,000.00 at 7% compound interest and some years later he left Northwestern University with M. S., M. D. attached to his name. He had attended a few of the wonderful summer sessions of the Y. M. C. A. at Lake Geneva and came under the powerful influence of John R. Mott and Robert Spear and decided that he would go as a medical missionary to China. However there was the $2,000.00 debt to be paid to his father who needed the money and ten years went by before that debt could be paid and then it seemed wise because of age and other reasons to stay in America. But the deep teachings of the Mennonites led him to find the needy places in America, spots blacker than Africa and more yellow than China. And the motive to serve his day and age has led him to seek through many enterprises to help his fellow men.

His ranch on Big Lake is an enterprise of this kind, an attempt at service and healing and the doing of good and the adding of pleasure to living. This ranch consists of great hills and deep valleys, some of the land is heavily wooded and some of it is cleared. From the tops of some of those hills one gets a vision of far off places with vast valleys between, with cedar swamps, cleared farms, buildings, orchards and villages. Trails wind away through the trees and just now when the leaves are turning it is a place of glorious sights. If it is the wish of Dr. Rupp that those hills and woods making such lovely scenery should be used by the largest possible number of people for pleasure.

On the ranch at the present time are five saddle horses and a pony. These Dr. Rupp would like to make available to all who would enjoy riding over the woodland trails. His own words on this phase are:

"We believe this enterprise should be put across as every American enterprise should be put across if it deserves the right to exist. For this reason all the privileges and rides are available to call comers at whatever price they are able to pay.

"All rides are to be free to all professional people which in this sense includes Ministers, Doctors, Lawyers, Nurses and Teachers. All others may pay what they can and this may be in money or in service."

The woods and the trails are in the process of being improved and there is ample work for those who have ears to hear and eyes to see the motive back of this enterprise.

The horses are quite busy on Saturdays and Sundays, but on other days of the week arrangements can be made so that those desiring rides can be accommodated. Each party that goes out will be chaperoned by a competent and trustworthy person.

Inasmuch as Dr. Rupp is busily engaged in his medical duties in Detroit, those desiring rides should make appointments by calling the ranch Clarkston 20-F21 or by seeing Rev. Ralph Brown at Davisburg.

Say you saw the adv. in The Clarkston News.

Now that schools are again in session, a few words of warning to parents are timely.

Teach your children to be extremely careful on their way to school, teach them to cross streets only at intersections, and then only after they have looked to left and right. If it is necessary for your children to walk on the highways, instruct them to walk on the left hand side and to step off the road if necessary. Remind them daily!

School patrols stationed at busy intersections near schools have made crossing streets easier and safer for our children. Yet accidents happen not only where traffic is heavy, but also where traffic is light.

Urge your children to use good judgment on their trips to and from school.

All matters handled thru the Probate Court require a certain amount of legal publication in one of the county papers. Foreclosing a mortgage entails publication of the foreclosure notice in a county paper.

Either the probate court officers or your attorney will have your legal publication carried in The Clarkston News if you request it.

We solicit the privilege of carrying such legal publications. This form of advertising is valuable to us. When you support us in this way we are able to give you a better paper week by week.

HOLLY THEATRE

Edward G. Robinson comes to the screen of the Holly Theatre next Tuesday in what he has described as the most fascinating role of his career—the truly extraordinary title character of "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," a bizarre crime film with hilarious undertones of comedy based by Warner Bros. on the London and New York stage hit of the same name.

It is the tale of a distinguished neurological surgeon who embarks upon a career of crime in order, so he says, to study the mental and physical reactions during those moments when they are perpetrating their crimes.

He becomes as successful a criminal in the course of his allegedly scientific dual existence as he is a surgeon. In fact, his facile brain soon enables him to become the leader of a big time band of robbers previously dominated by Humphrey Bogart and for whom Claire Trevor is the stylishly garbed "fence".

Leading his band in one big robbery after another, the doctor seems to manifest a strange zest for his illegal enterprises until he is suddenly brought up short by arrest for the murder of Bogart, who had threatened blackmail.

Placed on trial for his life, the doctor escapes the penalty for the murder he has undoubtedly committed by a shrewd manipulation of the psychology of the jurors. It is one of the strangest denouements ever related in any film, but convincing nevertheless and highly amusing.

Other members of the impressive cast, besides those already mentioned, include Gale Page, Allen Jenkins, Donald Crisp, Henry O'Neill, John
