Horse-Stealing Penalty

In March of 1796, a white man at Cincinnati was convicted of stealing a horse from an Indian. He was ordered to return the horse, pay a punitive fine of $1 to the Indian, receive 39 lashes on his bare back and walk through the village bearing this sign: "I stole a horse from the Indians."

The Good Will Club met on Friday at the home of the president, Mrs. H. B. Mehler. The hostess served a one o'clock luncheon at a long table with appointments for ten. The table centerpiece was a large basket of fruit. After the luncheon a short business meeting was held at which time plans were started for a Christmas Party for the members and their husbands to be held at Rotunda Inn on Dec. 16th. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Percy Hunt, with Mrs. Lyman Girst assisting. Plans were also made for the Good Will Christmas cheer. The November program was in charge of Mrs. Henri Buck. Roll Call was answered with a Thanksgiving verse. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Henri-Buck.

Mrs. E. D. Spooner entertained the Home Extension Group at her home last Wednesday. There was a fine attendance. Mrs. Arthur Walter and Mrs. James Stites gave the lesson on "Antique Furniture and Refinishing Furniture". The next meeting will be held on Jan. 19th in the Church parlors with Mrs. William Chase as hostess. Those who enjoyed the potluck luncheon and the program were Mrs. Bessie Owen, Mrs. Oscar Virgin, Mrs. Lyman Girst, Mrs. Henri Buck, Mrs. William Chase, Mrs. Arthur Walter, Mrs. Glenn Terry, Mrs. Floyd Fullerton, Mrs. E. D. Spooner, Mrs. James Stites, Mrs. Beatrice Stevens, Mrs. Henry Mehler and Mrs. A. Wyckoff.

Mrs. Lulu Leggee will leave this week to spend the winter in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Henri Buck attended the football game in Lansing on Saturday.

Mrs. Emeline Hurd of Hatfield, Drive spent the past week at the home of her son in Highland Park.

Byron Howland left on Monday morning for Eustis, Fla., where he will remain until Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burt and Howard Jr. spent the week-end in the north on a hunting trip.

William Jacober, Leonard Eakle and son Leonard Jr. were among those who spent the past week in the north hunting.

Mrs. George Kimball Jr., of Waterford, has been confined to her home for the past two weeks with a severe cold.

Mrs. E. D. Spooner went to Pontiac on Thursday and attended the "In-Gathering" at the Central Methodist Church where a very fine program was enjoyed.

Mrs. J. R. Blakeslee entertained the Clarkston Literary Club at her home on Tuesday afternoon of last week. Mrs. E. D. Spooner was a guest. She accompanied her niece, Mrs. Forrest Jones of Clarkston, who is a member.

A potluck luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. The Roll Call will be answered with fruit or vegetables for the Christmas baskets. Plans will be discussed for the Penny Supper on Dec. 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Buck and daughters, June Ellen and Mary Louise, were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Poland Jr., of Detroit. Mary Louise remained for the week-end and Mr. and Mrs. Poland accompanied her home on Sunday and spent the day with the Buck family.

Officials Were Land Owners
Legislators and other officials of the Northwest Territory were required to be owners of specified amounts of land—the governor to own 1,000 acres, the secretary and judges, 500 acres each, members of the legislative council, 500 acres, and members of the house of representatives 200 acres.

Slippery roads, icy windshields, more hours of darkness—these are the hazards motorists must contend with for the next several months.

What have you done to prepare for driving under such adverse weather conditions? Is your windshield in good condition? Are your brakes good?

Regardless of how mechanically perfect your car is, if you do not change your driving habits, the possibility of your having an accident is great. Good brakes won't be of much help on a stretch of icy pavement if you are traveling fast and are required to make a sudden stop. You apply the brakes, but the car merely slides along. Control your speed; approach intersections, stop signs and traffic signals with caution.

Winter driving requires much more alertness, less speed, and good common sense.

Drayton Plains

One happy hunter from Drayton Plains is Mrs. G. W. Graves who went north for the opening of the season and about six minutes after she had stationed herself and hoped that she would at least see a deer her charice came and she shot a ten point buck weighing 180 lbs. This all happened at 7:05 a. m. on the opening morning in Isoco County between Rollways and Hale. She and her party returned home on Friday afternoon.

The Drayton Home Extension Group held a meeting at the Church last Wednesday. There were 24 present. Mrs. I. M. Lewis and Mrs. Charles Williams were the instructors. The lessons were exceptionally interesting. One lesson was on "Refinishing Furniture" and the other was on Christmas wrapping, table centerpieces, hand made cards and gifts. A delicious cooperative dinner was served at noon.

Mrs. Ruth Howard of Curwood Avenue was injured Saturday noon when the door of her husband's car opened suddenly and she was hurled to the pavement. The accident happened on Woodward Avenue south of Birmingham. Mrs. Howard was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment. She suffered a cut over the eye, a sprained ankle and a few bruises.

Notice of Interest to Social Security Workers

Persons who apply for social security account numbers by mail must attach regular first class postage to their letters, according to Walter B. Redman, Manager of the Pontiac social security office.

"Recently Postmaster Allan has received numerous social security applications sent to him without postage," Mr. Redman said today.

"Postage must be paid on all these applications, whether they are addressed to our office, as should be the case, or whether they are directed to the postmaster. Our office issues account numbers for Macomb and Oakland counties. Postmasters have the application blanks which individuals use in obtaining account numbers, but our office issues the numbers, both originals and duplicates to replace those account number cards which have been lost or destroyed."

FIRE LOSSES MAY BE MUCH REDUCED

Keen eyes, used to spot dangers in rural homes, can practically eliminate fire hazards which threaten lives and property each winter in Oakland county, it is pointed out by County Agricultural Agent Karl D. Bailey.

Eight causes of fires are held responsible for 85 per cent of the fire losses in farm dwellings. Each of them is easy to correct.

Some of the suggestions outlined by C. H. Jefferson, agricultural engineer at Michigan State College, indicate how simple it is to cut down the possibility of a serious blaze in a farm home.

In the living room the danger spots call for a fireplace screen, metal ash trays for smokers, metal wastebasket, grounded radio antenna.

Kitchens are danger spots. Kerosene or gasoline should not be used for starting stove or range fires. Matches need to be kept out of the reach of children. Chimneys should be supported on non-combustible foundations and stoves should not have wooden wainscoting behind them. Even curtains should be corralled to keep them away from heat or flame.

Bedrooms need inspection to see if electrical appliances are being used properly and safely. Cigarettes and matches, again offer danger.

Basements and attics remain rubbish should not accumulate, chimneys should not leak nor have material stacked nearby. Chimneys should be cleaned mechanically instead of with salt or other chemical. Roofs should be fireproof if possible.

Crickets and Locusts

A cricket does his chirping by rubbing his wings together. There's a large cricket in Africa which amplifies his chirping by digging burrows in the earth. It chirps into these, and can be heard for nearly a mile. Even more strange, says the Washington Post, is the "flying geosebery" locust, which beats its own drum. The drum is its abdomen which is almost hollow; by tapping it with a leg, the insect makes itself heard. Some beetles "talk" in a sort of telegraphic code. With the tip of their bodies they rap very quickly on the surface under them, producing a distinct tapping.

Different members of the class are carving furniture and some are even dressing dolls in the old Roman garb.

"Growing Pains" to be presented next week

The Senior class of Clarkston High School under the direction of Mrs. Walter will present the annual Senior Play in the school auditorium at 8:00 o'clock on Friday, December 2. The play will be "Growing Pains" by Aurania Rouveral. It is a three act comedy with the setting in the McIntyre residence in a university town of Northern California. The play gives both a new and old-fashioned slant on unsophisticated youth as it flutters uncertainly on the wings of sixteen. George and Terry McIntyre are the problem children of the play. Their father is a stolid university professor who is all in favor of laying down the law. Their mother is more soft hearted. They give a party but Prudence, an up-to-date siren, captures Terry's boy-friend's attention, and every other Romeo vies for her attention. George finally gets a dance with her—only to be sent for ice-cream just before the dance is to start. You will have to come to see all that happens in this entertaining play. It will give anyone who witnesses it a fuller understanding of youth and its problems. This will be a Senior Play long remembered by the community. Come and see "Growing Pains" and you will be entertained as never before. Don't forget the date! Friday, December 2 at 8:00 in the C. H. S. auditorium.

Features Column

The Senior play cast is to have a dinner between rehearsals next week. With all the gauding in the play we wonder if it will be one of these "Dine and Dance" affairs.

The Seniors are planning on the biggest crowd ever to witness a school play. The reason? It's a play with a large cast and everyone in it is out pushing the ticket sale. The gang in the hall is becoming more interested each day as it watches rehearsals. What with the dancing, the punch, the formals, the cops, and all it will be an event that no Clarkston resident can afford to miss.

Coeds Put Score On Up Hairdress

Whether to put the hair up and be dignified or to let it down and be yourself is the most discussed and the most written about question of today's women.

So Winifred Washburn, instructor in textiles and clothing, asked a number of Michigan State coeds what stand they would take on the subject. The upward sweeping hairline was definitely swept out of the classroom by the great majority of home economics students. Why? Because the high coiffure demands more care and attention than the busy college sport who is rushing from class to sports to teas has time to give it. Therefore it is abandoned for the more easily combed, natural hairdress.

One of the best arguments against the sculptured hairline on campus is that the piled up curls are out of place with the general dress-room ensemble which consists mainly of sweaters, skirts, flat-headed shoes and minkie socks. The very modern costume is expressive of the American girl's individuality and a coiffure reminiscent of a period when woman loved to put out freedom do not mix.

But when evening comes, then the college girl rounds about faces. When the smart young lady has a date she aims to look very becoming and appealingly elegant. She gives the Edwardian hairdress a place in the modern set-up after all, but with reservation.

Only girls with oval or heart-shaped faces and girls with delicate features should wear it. For hair pulled up away from the face emphasizes the line of the jaw and sharp or coarse features. The dress and accessories must be in keeping with this hairdress or the effect is grotesque rather than charming.

How Thanksgiving Was Made National Holiday

Because Sarah Josepha Hale Believed America Should Celebrate the Bounty of Peace as Well as Memories of Strife

Thanksgiving, praise and prayer. The following year he again set the day but this time he named the fourth Thursday in November as the day favored by Mrs. Hale. President Johnson changed the date to the first Thursday in December but the following year it was again set at the fourth Thursday in November with national consent and approval.

Originally the day began with prayer and expressions of gratitude but family reunions became the order of the day and have been so ever since.

Although Governor Bradford of Massachusetts, back in 1621, proclaimed December 13 as a day of thanksgiving and the following years saw many such days, yet few of us today give thought to the years of untiring toil and sacrifice made by one far-seeing woman who visioned a nation of homes uniting together in a feast of joy and thanksgiving. Even as late as 1634 these thanksgiving days in the New England colonies were on the occasion of the arrival of a ship with much needed supplies or a happy harvest. In 1777 Washington set aside December 18 as a day of Thanksgiving for the Continental army and again in May 7, 1778.

In 1789, upon the motion of both houses in Congress, Washington proclaimed November 26 as a day of thanksgiving in all the states, the first nationwide observance.

From that time on there were special proclamations but usually left to the governors of the various states and frequently forgotten. Then in 1828 Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, a native of New Hampshire and descendant of one of the Pilgrim families, died all womanly traditions and accepted a position as editor of Godey's Ladies' Book, the foremost publication of the day. For years she had dreamed a national Thanksgiving day and had written letters and letters to Presidents and Governors pleading with them to designate one day of the year to Thanksgiving. Here was her chance to plea her cause with the public and although written nearly a century ago her words might well be repeated every year in proclamation.

"It reunites families and friends. It awakens kindly and generous sentiments. It promotes peace and good will among our mixed population. It gives a festival for the homes of all and to the hopeless it brings one day in the year of gladness and plenty. It awakens the charitable feeling which it arouses toward the poor, the suffering and the helpless. Thanksgiving Day has a value beyond all expression."

In an old volume of Godey's, Mrs. Hale appealed to the various states: "Thursday, November 25th, will, we trust, be appointed as the day, by each and every governor who holds sway in this wide sisterhood of states and territories. What a grand spectacle to the world, it will be! Nearly 25 million of people sitting down, at it were, together to a feast of joy, and thankfulness, and none pining in hunger throughout our Republic!"

Then came the Civil War and even the states that had observed the day lagged in the face of dire need. Following the Battle of Gettysburg she wrote to President Lincoln, begging him in eloquent terms to set aside a day of thanks. She enclosed a copy of Washington's proclamation of 1789. The President promptly set aside August 6 as a day of national

Because no congressional enactment had been passed, Mrs. Hale still felt there was much more to be done and, through the publication she still edited, called on the women of the country to support her cause.

She wrote: "We have patriotic and political holidays but no day of remembrance for the gifts of harvest and peace. We make an appeal on behalf of the women of America, who see on Thanksgiving Day their sons and daughters reunited in the home. Shouldn't the women have at least one festival in whose rejoicings they can fully participate?"

Later, just before she resigned after 40 years of work, she wrote again: "Let us feel that our great Home Festival is no longer an anniversary whose celebration depends on the state governments or even the inclinations of the chief executive. Let us have the day Washington consecrated by his selection set apart forever as a season of Thanksgiving for the mercies and blessings of the year."

A Novel for the Whole Family!

Be sure to read in The American Weekly with The Detroit Sunday Times "For Richer—Or For Poorer?" Thelma Strabel's absorbing novel of the fast-living, fast-moving smart set of Miami's millionaire winter colony, a singularly appealing story of the love of a girl with high ideals, eager to make any sacrifice for the man who has asked her to marry him. You can start reading it this Sunday.

Chevrolet Takes Big Strides Ahead for 1939

New Aero-stream styled bodies combine with major mechanical improvements to provide new beauty, safety, comfort and operating ease, in the 1939 Chevrolets, presented October 22, and featured at the big auto shows this month. The new models are offered on two chassis, the Master De-Luxe and the Master 85, both of which are powered with Chevrolet's famous six-cylinder valve-in-head engine. A new vacuum gear shift mechanism with steering column control, optional on all models at small extra cost, does 80 per cent of the work of shifting gears. The Master De-Luxe series features a new riding system, in which a brand new Chevrolet Knee-Action mechanism is scientifically co-ordinated with new ride stabilizer and double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers to furnish a smooth, soft ride. Central picture is the new Master De-Luxe Sport Sedan. Upper right: front end view of the 1939 car; Upper left: Master De-Luxe front suspension unit, complete; Lower left: accessibility and finger-tip ease of operation are two major features of Chevrolet's vacuum gear shift with steering column control; Lower right: As the handbrake on all models is re-located under the cover, front compartment floor is cleared in cars with vacuum gear shift.

New Model City To Be Shown at New York Fair

NEW YORK (Special)—A magic carpet ride through space two miles above "Democracy," the perfectly integrated garden city of tomorrow, will feature the central theme exhibit of the New York-World's Fair which opens April 30, 1939.

The exhibit, created by Henry Dreyfuss, industrial designer, will be dramatic in form. It will reach a stirring climax when, out of the distant skies above the floating audience, will troupe marching legions of workers, symbolizing the interdependence of man in modern civilization.

Nearer and nearer they will tramp, until the whole arch of heaven is filled with towering figures, arms up-raised, singing the song of tomorrow. As the final strains of this marching air die away, great streamers of colored light shoot forth from the zenith, drenching the sky from horizon to horizon in all the hues of the rainbow.

When S. C. Ratified Constitution
 The federal Constitution was ratified at Charleston, S. C., by a convention of delegates meeting from May 12 to 24, 1788, by a vote of 149 to 73. This convention was called by the legislature.

She Tackles Taxes

Margaret Brown, pretty economics co-ed, goes to the Chicago headquarters of the National Consumers Tax Commission to learn how indirect taxes on all commodities penalize the consumer. Donning gridiron gear, she charges into the pile of taxes hidden in the cost of a football—finds 103 of them inflate the retail price by almost ten per cent. Now she knows why thousands of NCTC women throughout the country are tackling all such levies which throw the public for a loss.

Here are some recipes that will prove pleasing to your holiday guests—and also to the members of your own family. Try them and you will file them in your "special" file:

Orange Toast
 (Serves 6)
 1/4 cup orange juice
 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
 1/4 cup sugar
 6 slices buttered toast
 Mix orange juice, rind and sugar. Spread on hot buttered toast and put in hot oven or under broiler to brown.

Egg Noodles with Veal Cutlets
 Egg noodles, like other forms of macaroni products may be served in economical "meat-and-wheat" combinations which have all the flavor of meat with only a small portion of meat. As a delightful change, try genuine egg noodles with veal cutlets.

1/2 lb. egg noodles
 2 cups milk
 1/2 cup flour
 1 cup bread crumbs
 6 veal cutlets
 1/2 cup butter
 1 egg
 pepper and salt

Sprinkle veal cutlets with flour, salt and pepper; dip into well-beaten egg and roll in bread crumbs. Fry in butter till well done. Remove cutlets to a platter and keep hot. Add remaining butter to pan; add flour and stir till smooth. Season with salt and pepper and then add milk. Cook till well blended. Boil egg noodles in salted water until tender. Drain and heap over the cutlets. Pour sauce over all and serve hot. (6 to 8 servings).

Note: Spaghetti, macaroni, vermicelli or other shapes of macaroni products may be substituted for the egg noodles in this recipe.

Broccoli Potatoes
 Wash broccoli thoroughly and let stand in cold water 15-20 minutes.

Cook, uncovered in a large quantity of boiling salted water 20-25 minutes or until tender. Serve with browned buttered crumbs, using 1 cup coarse soft bread crumbs browned in 3 tablespoons melted butter.

Country Salad
 On each individual salad plate, arrange three cup-shaped lettuce leaves. Fill 1 leaf with cooked, dried Limas mixed with mayonnaise dressing; fill the second leaf with diced cooked beets, mixed with French dressing or vinegar, pepper and salt; fill the third leaf with potato salad to which has been added finely chopped sour pickles. Garnish with radishes and olives.

Vanilla Rennet-Custard with Maraschino Cherries
 1 package vanilla rennet powder
 1 pint milk
 1/2 cup whipping cream
 1/4 cup sugar
 sliced maraschino cherries
 Make rennet-custard according to directions on package. Then chill in refrigerator. When ready to serve, whip the cream, adding sugar and mixing well. Squeeze through a pastry tube and decorate top of each rennet-custard. Garnish with sliced cherries.

Magic Cranberry Cream Pie
 1 1/2 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 1 cup cranberry pulp, drained
 2 eggs, separated
 baked pie shell

Blend together sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, cranberry pulp and egg yolks. Pour into baked pie shell (9 inch). Cover with meringue made by heating egg whites until stiff and adding sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 minutes or until brown. Or omit meringue and garnish with whipped cream. Chill before serving.

Many Aliases For Rabbit Fur

Rabbit fur has as many aliases as an internationally known criminal, says Margaret Partlow, instructor in clothing and textiles at Michigan State College.

Coats of rabbit fur carry such labels as French Beaver, French Seal, Siberian Seal, Northern Seal and others that may range below the price of $150 to $200 for those named above.

Rabbit can be dyed, plucked or sheared to resemble almost any short-haired fur. Brush dyeing colors only the surface but the fur can be dyed down to the leather by dip dyeing.

During a shearing process the ends of the long guard hairs which protect the soft under fur are cut off. If these guard hairs are too coarse to mingle with the softer fur they can be removed entirely by plucking. On expensive furs this is done by hand as with Alaska sealskin. On inexpensive furs a machine is used to blow aside the under fur while the guard hairs are being cut out.

Through these methods rabbit can imitate squirrel, leopard, seal, ermine, chinchilla or beaver. The true name, rabbit, is stated with the trade name in most stores.

Durability of rabbit is not high because of the softness of the hair, says Miss Partlow. Yet she reports that a good rabbit coat purchased from a reputable merchant will wear better than a cheaper grade coat from a more expensive fur.

Ship Thrilled New York

A century ago, when the "Great Western," one of the first steamers to cross the Atlantic, docked in New York, the whole town went to see what for that day was a "stupendous" ship, 234 feet in length and 1,604 tons registry. The "Great Western" made the crossing in 12 days, 18 hours.
