Odds and Ends

Now we must wait a year for another musical comedy.

Maybe there is something to this story about the Republicans coming back . . . Waterford Township has a republican ticket this year after a lapse of a year or so.

Right now Ed. Whipple is selling something else besides Pontiac cars. For a reasonable amount, he will sell you a ticket to the Oakland County Sportsmen's Association annual banquet. Ed says you are missing something if you miss this. The banquet will be held the 24th.

Sunday, March the 12th, certainly gave proof that Spring was present . . . somewhere else, but certainly not here. The roads were covered with ice and the rain and sleet made one desire to stay indoors if at all possible.

I certainly dislike to brag about my ignorance but really . . . am I the only one that forgets that the bank and the barber shops are CLOSED Wednesday afternoons.

There are three ways of looking at the matter but we wonder if the named written in at the village election was to kid Howard, to have some fun with Mrs. Davies, or to maintain George Washington's reputation of being the only person to hold office by the vote of everyone. And at that we would wager that Joe Seeterlin or Floyd Andrews would like the same majority.

P. T. A. Sponsors Cooking Demonstration

Miss Bradley and Miss Buttolph of Consumers Power Prepare Many Tempting Dishes

On Wednesday evening a large crowd attended the cooking demonstration at the school, sponsored by the local P. T. A.

The Consumers Power Co. gave a very fine exhibition of up-to-date gas stoves and an electrolux refrigerator. Miss Bradley and Miss Buttolph, cooking experts, demonstrated how the stoves could be used to advantage by the busy housewives of today. They first presented a short skit showing how work was done in the kitchen of yesterday and how it is done with the modern appliances. They showed how food can be cooked better not only in regard to taste but in regard to health; how gas can be used more economically with the new stoves; how kitchens can be kept cleaner and made more attractive; how the housewife can be saved many steps and many disappointments. Many tempting dishes were prepared.

After the cooking was done L. C. Megee, the local representative for the Consumers Power, explained the advantages of the gas hot water heater. He had one on display and was able to show just how the tank was insulated and how economical it was to use. The modern way of heating a supply of water makes it easy for the housewife to have hot water at any hour at a low cost.

At the close of the evening the lucky tickets were drawn and the food that had been prepared was given away. Don Smith's ticket was drawn first and he got a chicken that had been baked uncovered and without water in one of the new gas ovens. Cliff Bennett got a lovely butter cake with seven minute icing; Arlene Williamson drew a sea-food salad; Mrs. F. J. Stein, a black cherry pie; William Vliet, a cottage cheese and pineapple salad decorated with head lettuce and peas colored green for St. Patrick's day; Mrs. Korolden a broiled meal of lamb chops, bananas and pineapple and Mary Williamson got six individual ginger breads and a jar of ginger bread mix to put in the ice-box and cook just when you want it.

The evening was profitable indeed and the group that attended certainly appreciated the work of the two young ladies from the Consumers Power and also the facts about the easy way to get hot water at a low cost brought to them by Mr. Megee.

M. S. C. CHOIR WILL SING IN CONCERT

Event Scheduled for Sunday at Hartland Music Hall

The Michigan State College A Cappella Choir, under the direction of William Kimmel, will give a concert at the Hartland Music Hall, Sunday, March 19, at 3:30 p. m.

The A Cappella Choir, although a comparatively new organization on the college campus, has very quickly become well known through its excellent ensemble and the authentic and beautiful renditions it gives of sacred music as well as works from modern composers. Three years ago William Kimmel, its present director, brought together a small number of singers for the purpose of performing such compositions as are impossible to perform with larger choirs or choruses. At present the Choir is composed of thirty-five active members who have been selected through individual competitive auditions. This selection is not always based upon a superior voice, but upon the capacity of the singer to subordinate himself to the ensemble effect and upon his natural musicianship.

The director, William Kimmel, received his education at North Central College in Illinois. He then entered the Eastman School of Music at the University of Rochester, where he made several appearances in their opera school. After holding a two-year graduate fellowship and receiving his master's degree in Musicology from the Eastman School, Mr. Kimmel was added to the theory division of the Music Department at Michigan State College. Besides his work in theory and with the A Cappella Choir, he was recently appointed director of the College Chorus and Men's Glee Club.

Village Election A Mild Affair

One Ticket Nominated; Candidates Won

With 35 votes cast, the candidates for Village offices were elected. While one would wonder if an election was worth while, we appreciate the opinion of one official to the effect that the elections are worth while because it recalls to the citizens the thought that there is a council.

Incidentally the comprehensive financial statement presented in last week's News was appreciated by the voters if the remarks to us concerning it are true.

The Gypsy Rover Draws Good Crowd

C. S. Music Department Presents Musical Comedy

Lost Friday evening the music department of the Clarkston Schools under direction of Orlo J. Willoughby presented its second annual musical comedy to a good attendance despite the weather and sickness that is prevalent.

Charlotte Sue Miller as Lady Constance, the feminine lead, gave a pleasing performance and was ably supported by Jackie Parrish as Meg and Marian Chamberlain as Zara. June Taylor as Nina deserves mention for her work.

Tom Boothby as Lord Craven was well cast and perhaps "stole" the show or at least those scenes in which he appeared. Milton Fiske as Marto and Richard Tee as Sinfo lived up to their reputations as good actors while Eugene Hubbard, Oliver Johnson, William Rexford, Junior Bird and Kenneth Milleur proved that they had been selected because they could act. The leading male lead was taken by LaVerne Webber, who sang and acted well. Perhaps because we like to see the children sing and act, we especially liked the part in which LaVerne told the fairy story and sang with the little ones.

Mrs. Warren Strait who had charge of the costumes and make-up may be sure that her duties were well performed while the stage managers Glenn Batten and Gordon Suchy were efficient.

A musical performance always depends upon the pianist for their cues and the work of Betty Ash proved that she was equal to the task.

The young musicians who played during intermission were greatly appreciated. James Young played the electric Hawaiian guitar, Elaine Waterbury played a Spanish guitar and Bernice Budrow played a Hawaiian guitar.

Gifts were presented to Orlo J. Willoughby and Mrs. Strait by the cast.

Waterford School News

On Tuesday, March 7, when the last basketball games were played, the Waterford first team girls had their second victory of the season. They defeated Drayton, the score being 12 to 9. The game was very close however and both teams played well. The boys' first team was not so fortunate for they were defeated by Drayton. We all look forward to having better basketball teams next year.

On Friday of last week the district P. T. A. meeting was held at the Waterford church. During the lunch hour when dinner was being served, the school orchestra played various selections. Later, Norman Parmenter, a fourth grader, sang "God Bless America".

The grade spelling bees in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades were held last Friday. The winners were: Max Burt, fifth grade; Myra Katherine Rowley, sixth grade; Ann Zander, seventh grade; and Pauline Prator, eighth grade. The last ten standing in each grade will compete for the school championship later in the month.

There was a hot lunch at the school last Wednesday. Hamburgs, hot dogs, pie, cup cakes, and cocoa were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the church.

The declamations were given this week, but the winners have not as yet been determined.

The school show on March 22 will be "Headline Crasher". The two shorts that will accompany it are "Mickey's Clever Tricks" and "Mild Cargo".

The girl scouts are now beginning their annual cookie selling campaign. The money from this will go to help support Camp Sherwood, the Oakland county girl scout camp. This year the cookies will be vanilla and chocolate, and shaped in the girl scout trefoil design. There will be two dozen in a box and will sell at 25 cents a box.

Farmers Will Meet To Study Irrigation

Farmers in Oakland County interested in adapting irrigation methods to their crop areas are invited for the first time to attend the annual one-day Irrigation Conference sponsored by the agricultural extension service of Michigan State College.

Date for the event is Friday, March 17, room 401 Agricultural Hall.
"Michigan might as well expect that midsummer usually will be too dry for maximum crop production," says George Amundson, agricultural engineer on the college staff.
For five years a program has been held annually for manufacturers and equipment dealers interested in irrigation of farm fields. This year farmers are invited and four are to appear on the program.

For work in orchards, visitors will hear of the experiences of Frank McDermid, Battle Creek. F. J. Thar, Coloma, will relate how he uses equipment and what results he obtains in irrigating large acreages of strawberries.

Potatoes and other field crops also are being irrigated on small and large scale in Michigan. Ashley Berridge, superintendent of the college Lake City experiment station, has been invited to describe methods and results of work in potato fields. Another potato grower invited is Herbert Moore, Greenville.

Bread Makes You Fat? Nonsense, Says Science

Neither bread nor cakes, pies, potatoes, milk or candy make you fat because it all depends on what and how much you eat with them, is the contention in an exceptionally interesting article revealing many facts you probably never heard about "The Staff of Life" in The American Weekly, the great weekly magazine with the March 19 issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.

Falling Down on Promises

"Some folks," said Uncle Eben, "kin fall down on deir promises in a way dat makes you apologize foh puttin' 'em to de trouble of explainin'."

GENERAL LIBRARY BUILDING—ERECTED 1917-1920

Libraries of the University of Michigan contain over 1,000,000 volumes, not including unbound pamphlets, maps and uncataloged materials. The General Library, shown above, is an administrative center for the sixteen collegiate and departmental libraries which serve specialized groups of the students and faculties of the University. The staff of the libraries number 137, most of whom have been specially trained for their work in library schools. They serve between 7,000 and 7,500 readers per day during the academic year. Passing the million mark in number of volumes this year, the Michigan libraries retain their place among the great university libraries in the country. They stand in sixth place in number of volumes, behind only Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Chicago and Illinois.

SHEER CIRCLES

HAND-MADE household accessories give to the home an air of distinction that no machine can duplicate. Witness the heirloom pieces made by our great grandmothers and handed down from generation to generation—still the prize possessions and display pieces of the modern homemaker. There is a graceful luncheon set that could be made only by hand. Lacy circles of frostlike tracings make it sheer and fragile-looking against a dark, gleaming table. Actually it is sturdy and will wear long and well. Crochet it of mercerized crochet cotton—it is simple to make, and requires only 19 balls of thread.

Directions for making the above may be obtained by sending this clipping and a stamped self-addressed envelope to The Clarkston News, Clarkston, Mich.

OR

UNITED EFFORT

SUPPOSE the Michigan Bell Telephone Company maintained its own separate research laboratory in which to develop improvements in telephone service. And suppose each of the other 23 telephone companies of the Bell System did the same.

All these laboratories probably would be trying to solve the same problems; this would be wasteful duplication of effort and expense which would increase the cost of your telephone service.

In the Bell System, Bell Telephone Laboratories does the research work for all. Each company pays only a fraction of the cost, but gets full benefit of a research program that no one company could afford to maintain.

This economy is one of the advantages of our membership in the Bell System. It is an important reason why all America, including you in Michigan, enjoys the best, most reasonably priced telephone service in the world.

GRADE NEWS

Kindergarten and First Grade—Miss Wade

We have enjoyed our little puppet theater. It is made of an orange crate, painted bright blue, and has yellow curtains. Our stage setting is for the story of "The Three Billy Goats Gruff". Each boy and girl made the three goats and the ugly old troll, so that they could enjoy the story at home with their brothers and sisters. We are planning to make the characters, and play our favorite stories in our new first grade readers.

Monday morning we went into Mrs. Beardslee's room. Both reading groups in the first grade, the "Little Bunnies" and the "Little Kittens" read stories to the boys and girls. Ruby Powell read riddles from her book "Who am I". Mrs. Beardslee's boys and girls guessed every riddle. Then we sang "The Chickadee", a song telling us that spring will soon be here.

The part of our visit that we enjoyed most was sitting in the large windmill that the third and fourth grade boys and girls made as part of their Holland Project. It is a very well built windmill with arms that go round and round.

We are glad to have a new boy, Robert Wolfe, in our room. Mrs. Beardslee's Room—3rd and 4th Grade

The third grade reading class is enjoying "Hans and Hilda of Holland" by Laura Rountrie Smith. We plan to dramatize some of the stories.

The fourth grade reading class is working on the unit "Friends in Feather and Fur" from "Magic Hours of the Work Play Series".

We hope to have Miss Wade and the Kindergarten children pay us another visit when our Dutch sand table scene is completed.

Bobby Denham brought a lovely book for the boys and girls to enjoy, "Children of Foreign Lands" by Elizabeth F. McClady. Judy Beano also brought a very popular book concerning the Dutch—"Hans Brinker" or "The Silver Skates" by Mary Dodge.

First and Second Grades—Mrs. Dunham

Mary Lee Valberding is a new second grader who enrolled with us Monday morning. Mary Lee comes from the Birmingham Schools. We are glad to welcome her to our room.

The second grade are very enthused over their new reading books and workbooks.

We are having some close competition in our number classes with our new "ring toss game". We take turns tossing three fruit jar rubbers at a board containing numbered hooks. A score is made for each hook we "ring".

Miss McLaran—

The winner in the fifth grade for the News Spelling Contest was Jack Taylor. Marion Sloat was second and Joyce Lawson was third. The rest of those on the team are Betty Powell, Franklin Blaine, Walter LaPlante, Virginia Day, Earl Ganther, Lillian Morton, Mary Zegelein, Audrey Wiechert and Frances Molter are alternates.

Mrs. Vliet—

The 6th grade spell down was won by Phyllis Tremper. She will receive a dictionary from the Detroit News and lead our class team in the school spell-down. Runners-up were Raymond Smith, Tom Waid, Sarah Collins, Everett Grubb, Donna Opendhoff, Sylvia Ranbarger, Inez Crawford, Jack Craven, Mary Drake, John Ronk, and Alberta Chase. These children will take part in the school spell down on March 31st.

Adrienne Volberding has entered the sixth grade, coming from the Adams school, Birmingham.

We have just received 30 new books from the State Library. Several are new and all look very interesting.

CLASS ROOM NEWS

Miss Wellington

We're off on another Detroit News Spelling contest! This year it promises to be a real fight for the school championship. The first surprise came when Edna Bain defeated Wilbur Adams for the seventh grade championship. Wilbur has twice been grade champion, but he absent-mindedly spelled "encouraging" without an "a". Edna and Wilbur will offer the eighth grade formidable competition for the school medal, and they are supported by a team which we wouldn't be too surprised to see furnish the "dark horse" of the school meet March 31. This team includes Evelyn Day, Orville Devaney, Ralph Hagen, June Rockwell, Carl Marlowe, William Radoye, Junior Ross, and Eldon Rouse, with Don Steiner and

Frank Lovejoy as alternates.

Richard Lawson spelled carefully but confidently to defeat Inez Miller on the word "green". Neither of these youngsters is going to give up easily and they are supported by a team composed of two ex-grade champions, Doris Baird and Stanley Perrin. The other members of the team are Barbara Andrews, Marjorie Lindsey, Louise Shaughnessy, Dorothy Pacer, Edward Ross, and Norma Davison with Ann Russell and Richard Shaughnessy, any one of them capable of winning the medal. However, we are not forgetting that there are two fine teams on the other side of the building who may upset our carefully laid plans, since fifth and sixth graders have won school and district meets before.

Miss Cohen

In Public Speaking the classes are learning how to speak before the three types of audiences—friendly, indifferent, and hostile. The students are also learning how to outline their speeches rather than write out the whole speech.

In Latin 1 the class has just read the story of Mettus Curtius, an ancient Roman hero.

In English 9 the class is reading Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar".

English 10 class is reading George Eliot's "Silas Marner". Each student is preparing a newspaper, such as might have appeared at that time, around the early part of the 19th century.

Mr. Waters—

Physics

The 11th and 12th grade Physics class has just begun the study of electricity, how it is generated chemically by means of magnetos and dynamos and how it is used in heating, lighting, and motors.

Biology 9

This class has been working on a group project concerning the study of patent medicines, alcohol, tobacco and food adulterations.

What about law enforcement on our streets and highways? Do the drunks in your community get by with a small fine, and are they allowed to go back on the roads and repeat their offense? It behooves every citizen who travels on our highways and who obeys the traffic laws to investigate this. Fixing tickets is as bad a violation of decency and courtesy as the crime itself. Spineless enforcement, usually diluted with politics, can never reduce highway accidents. It's bad enough for motorists to wink at the law, but when the law winks right back, the people in a community are not safe on the highway. Check up on this point and remember—"It's Smart to Drive Carefully".

While the Legislature is arguing about reducing the high interest rates being charged by some loan companies, the banks are going right along with their $6.00 per $100.00 charge and making a lot of friends.
