Rev. Wallace Jacobus Passed Away Saturday

Services Were Held in Vassar on Wednesday Afternoon

Many in this area were saddened on Saturday afternoon when news reached them of the death of Rev. J. Wallace Jacobus of Vassar, Mich.

Rev. Jacobus, aged 63 years, passed away in the Ford Hospital in Detroit the result of pneumonia which followed two operations.

Prior to going to Vassar where he had been Pastor of the Baptist Church for the past eighteen years he served as Pastor in the Clarkston and Waterford Baptist Churches for six years and made his home in Waterford. During those six years he became well known and well loved. He was always wanting to help with anything worth while in either community. Many times he gave the address at Lake View cemetery on Memorial Day and even after he had moved to Vassar he returned for the occasion. Each year for the past twelve years a group from Waterford and vicinity has gone to Vassar on the third Sunday in June and spent the day with the Jacobus family.

He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. Leon Burton Meader of Maine and Miss Jean Jacobus, a medical missionary student at Wheaton College.

The funeral service was held in Vassar on Wednesday afternoon with interment in the Vassar cemetery. Several from Waterford and Clarkston attended the services.

HOLLY THEATRE

Barbara Stanwyck and Joel McCrea are co-starring in the romantic leads of "Union Pacific", Cecil B. DeMille's grand-scale interpretation of the building of America's first transcontinental railroad.

Although the popular Miss Stanwyck has played roles as varied as Middle Western farm-woman, New England factory wench and Park Avenue debutante, her Mollie Monahan in "Union Pacific", which will show Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Holly Theatre, marks something totally new in the Stanwyck repertoire. She is a daring, warm-hearted, fiery girl of the West, the daughter of the "U. P.'s" first engineer, the postmistress of "end of track" and little sister of the husky railroad-builders. She is equally at home outwitting Western sharpshooters, comforting the homesick Irish laborers, battling Indians on the warpath or engaging in high-powered romance.

Mollie's romantic interest in "Union Pacific" is one Jeff Butler (played by the handsome McCrea), a brave and reckless trouble-shooter whom the Washington government has assigned to help keep order along the right-of-way. The two meet at "end of track", the gaudy, brawling settlement that moves ever westward with the railroad, and their romance moves as swiftly forward as the phenomenal railroad itself.

When the irresponsible Dick Allen (Robert Preston) goes so far as to help rob a pay train, upon which the "U. P." vitally depends, the good-hearted Mollie marries him to save him from the law. But before the railroad is finished Dick's own crimes remove him from the scene, leaving the track to romance clear for Jeff.

The Western breathes new life with every note of Nelson Eddy's songs in "Let Freedom Ring", the Holly Theatre's offering for Sunday and Monday. The picture presents a happy combination in blending the romantic action drama of pioneer days with music which fits the setting.

Despite the competition of such assured scene-stealers as Virginia Bruce, Victor McLaglen, Lionel Barrymore, Edward Arnold, Guy Kibbee and Charles Butterworth, with whom he is teamed in the leads, Eddy emerges preeminent as the young Harvard law graduate who is expected to champion the embattled farmers against the encroachments of a ruthless railroad gang. Barrymore as his father, Miss Bruce as Eddy's sweetheart, Arnold as the villainous railroad boss and McLaglen as his foreman, all play their roles to the hilt.

The variety of musical selections heard in "Let Freedom Ring" include such well known and beloved songs as "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling", "Love's Serenade", "Home, Sweet Home", "I've Been Working on the Railroad", and "My Country 'Tis of Thee." Then there are two new numbers especially written for the picture, "Dusty Road" and "Where Else But Here", and also an engaging comedy song, "Pat, Sez He".

Mrs. Ivy Bird and family of Ypsilanti called at the Fred Stewart home on Memorial Day.

Memorial Services Held on Tuesday

Parade Led by Clarkston School Band

Memorial services were held Tuesday at Lake View Cemetery through the cooperation of the American Legion, the High School Band, the two churches and a local civic group.

The parade to the cemetery was led by the Band in its first public marching appearance. Following the band came the American Legion, Boy Scouts and a number of citizens in automobiles.

The address at the cemetery was delivered by Rev. Walter Ballagh of the Clarkston Baptist Church.

This is the first year for some time that the American Legion has cooperated and much praise is due the Commander, Ben Comstock for his untiring efforts to have the Legion represented this year.

There were also many complimentary remarks about the school band. Clarkston and the school should be proud of such an organization.

The Club decided to join the "Book of the Month Club" and a selection of very good books was made. The books may be for rent to non members later in the year. To climax a very profitable year the Club decided to have a "Farewell Party" and plans were made accordingly. A dinner and a show will constitute the evening's entertainment on the evening of June 20th.

For Homemakers

Digging in the dirt is a natural inclination exhibited by children. That desire easily can be turned to a bit of useful education, suggests Catherine Miller, director of the nursery school at Michigan State College.

It takes some supervision but the easiest way out is to assign a portion of the family garden for use of the small child.

What ought to go into that portion? Miss Miller suggests some easily grown flowers such as nasturtiums. Lettuce and carrots are two vegetables not too hard to produce. They also are ideal in that it will enhance a child's appetite for vegetables to be able to go out into a garden and find vegetables ready for the table.

Gardens also lend themselves to offering an education about nature. How seeds germinate and grow into plants and how water and plant food nourish these garden plants are valuable lessons in nature.

For the small child a small sized set of tools helps create and maintain interest, Miss Miller suggests. Development of responsibility and initiative are two products that can be brought out by a little parental cooperation.

Special Service to Honor Children in Clarkston Methodist Church, June Fourth

Sermon for Children Will Be Preached by Rev. D. S. Large

The annual service in recognition of Children's Day has been planned by Rev. Dwight Large for Sunday, June 4th, in which most of the service will be conducted by the various children's groups of the Methodist Church School. In this Sunday, the session of the Church School and the usual Morning Worship Service will be combined, so that the joint-service will be held at 10:30.

In addition to special music, the classes taught by Mrs. Warren Strait, Mrs. Phyllis Mansfield, Muriel Boyns and Mr. William Mansfield will take part in the service. A short dramatization, directed by Rev. Large, will be presented by 15 children and young people. In place of the usual sermon, a special message for the children will be given by the pastor.

The service has been an annual event in the church for many years, and the recognition of the various children's classes interests many parents and adults who support the religious educational program of the church.

The Willing Workers Circle met on Wednesday evening, May 24th, in the Church parlors with 26 members and 3 visitors present. The visitors were Mrs. Retta Griffen, Mrs. Kenneth Clark and Mrs. Lloyd Sanders. The president, Mrs. Earl Schwalm, opened business meeting conducted by the with the repeating of the Lord's Prayer in unison. Plans were completed for the chop suey supper to be served in the Church parlors on Friday evening, June 9th. Committees were named and will be announced next week. The group welcomed Mrs. Gertrude Mortimer back again after an absence of months due to a serious illness. Mrs. Clara Wiles and Mrs. Earl Wilcox were hostesses on this occasion. Games were enjoyed during the social hour with Mrs. Cora Portt, Mrs. Deo Bunker, Mrs. Otto Duguid, Mrs. Lovell Spalding and Mrs. Clara Quinn winning prizes. Spring flowers were used as table decorations. A delicious salad course accompanied by hot biscuits and date muffins was served. The next meeting of the Circle will be held on the evening of June 9th at the home of Mrs. Emaline Hurd with Mrs. Hurd and Mrs. Elizabeth Britton as hostesses.

Among the interesting and amusing incidents related by different ones who spent the winter in Florida comes this one from Mrs. George King of the Dixie Highway. Mr. and Mrs. King entered a hotel in Eustis, Fla., and registered from Waterford. The hotel proprietor looked at the register and said, "Waterford, where is Waterford?" "Thirty miles from Flint and twenty-five miles from Detroit on the Dixie Highway—M-10—and I sell cider," answered Mrs. King. A smile spread over the proprietors' face as he said, "Yes, and I bought cider from you years ago while making a trip to Northern Michigan."

About 300 attended the May P. T. A. meeting on Thursday evening. The meeting was the last for the year and was observed as "Children's Night" and the program was composed of the numbers by the school children. The meeting was opened by singing "America" which was followed by a salute to the flag. A passage of Scripture was read by Katherine Roehm and the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. The school orchestra played several numbers and the Rhythm Band was given a great ovation. Both orchestras are under the able direction of Miss Margaret Pelican, the primary teacher, who deserves much praise for her efforts in teaching these young folks. Their performances are splendid and this means patience, perseverance and ability on the part of the instructor. The 3rd and 4th grades gave some very interesting and worthwhile health rules, while the 5th and 6th grades gave a list of safety hints and first aid instruction that were well worth remembering. This work is under the direction of Mrs. Fern Ludwick assisted by the popular Miss Hummel, county nurse, who was present at this meeting who was given recognition by Mr. Burt who introduced her to the audience and spoke of her close cooperation with the school in health projects and how much the school appreciated her aid. A very short business meeting was held conducted by Mrs. Clifford Wood, the retiring president. A collection was taken and this was followed by a folk dance by the primary pupils. The newly organized Glee Club gave two very pleasing numbers, "To a Marching Tune" and "Memories" from the Merry Widow Waltz. Miss Pelican directs the Glee Club. Robert Mehlberg, a senior, announced the program. Ice-cream and wafers were served the children in the auditorium and ice-cream, wafers and coffee were served the adults in the basement. Mrs. Earl Wilcox was chairman of the social hour committee with Mrs. J. C. Myers, Mrs. Edd Lamberton, Mrs. Archie Weil and Mrs. James C. Sutton assisting.

One of the prettiest affairs of the season was the Birthday Party given by the Ladies' Auxiliary in the Church parlors last Friday evening. The seasons of the year were represented in the table decorations. Attractive color schemes, place cards and beautifully decorated cakes all went to make the lovely tables a joy to all who attended. A two-course dinner was served followed by a musical program consisting of numbers by the Waterford School orchestra with Miss Margaret Pelican directing. Miss Davis played a lovely piano solo and Mrs. Donald Logheed favored the group with a vocal solo. Lots of fun was injected into the evening's entertainment in the form of a Professor Quiz program. Miss Margaret Pelican and Henry Mehlberg won the awards in the contest. The members of the Auxiliary deserve much credit for their untiring efforts toward making this affair a success. The committees were—program, Mrs. Lovell Spalding and Mrs. Albert Dryden; tables, Spring, Mrs. Henry Mehlberg and Mrs. Clifford Ferris; summer, Mrs. Emaline Hurd and Mrs. Elizabeth Britten; fall, Mrs. John Gillespie and Mrs. Henri Buck; winter, Mrs. Forrest Laney and Mrs. Cora Portt.

Archie Weil is suffering with a sore eye after having lime spilled in it. Rev. Howard Jewell and mother, Mrs. Eli Lennox called on relatives in Detroit on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Duguid and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. McLaughlin and children spent the week-end in West Unity, Ohio.

Mrs. Glenn-Campbell entertained Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Annis and children of Grand Rapids Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Emery Smith was pleasantly remembered on his 33rd birthday, May 23rd, with a card shower from some of his many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson of Royal Oak spent the week-end at their summer home on Williams Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Buck were visitors on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Buck's sister, Mrs. Earl Kniffen, of Hazel Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schultz and daughter, Mrs. Edgar Kalthoof and grandson, Edgar Kalthoof, of East Detroit, visited at the Al Mertens home recently.

Among those calling at the Jacobus home in Vassar to pay respects to the grief stricken family were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mehlberg and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Helman.

Mrs. Russell Maybee accompanied by Mrs. I. M. Lewis of Drayton Plains attended the State Parent-Teachers Association at Sault Ste. Marie last week.

Little Billy Schultz, 5 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz, of Pontiac, is being cared for by his aunt, Mrs. Frank Schultz at her home in Maceday Gardens, while his mother is confined in the hospital with inflammatory rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Sutphen and son, Dale, and Mrs. Gertrude Coffron and Mr. L. D. Coffron of Clarkston, were callers in North Branch and Brown City on Memorial Day.

Another dance sponsored by the "Music Mothers" of the school will be held Friday evening, June 2nd at the Williams Lake Country Club. The proceeds will go to purchase an extra instrument for the school orchestra. A cello was secured with the money derived from the last dance.

Despite the week-end holiday which always means a drop in Sunday School attendance there were 103 present last Sunday. The Children's Day program will be presented on Sunday evening, June 4th.

Mrs. Mae Ritchey and Mrs. Fred Marshall who resided for years in Maceday Gardens visited their old-time neighbor, Mrs. Deo Bunker, on Thursday and attended the "Children Night" P. T. A. program at the school in the evening.

Mrs. Edwin Campbell entertained several members of her family at a Sunday dinner at her home on Airport Road. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Annis and children of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. John Beattie and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Van Wilt and children and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Campbell and son.

Mrs. Lloyd Gidley recently returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Albert Davis, of Montreal. While there Mrs. Gidley had a reserved seat to see the parade when King George and Queen Elizabeth passed through the City. Mrs. Gidley says 2,000,000 people gathered in Montreal and in some places stood five blocks deep to catch a glimpse of the Royal Couple.

She says the Queen is very beautiful, much lovelier than her pictures show. Both have an appealing and pleasing manner which won for them a warm place in the hearts of all who saw them.

A number of flower lovers drove recently to White Chapel Memorial Park to see the many beds of beautiful tulips. All these tulip bulbs were imported from European Holland and most every color that pleases the eye can be found among these brilliant hued flowers. It is a lovely sight well worth going miles to see. J. Howard Wendorph, manager of the Park, has among his flowers several tulip stalks bearing six blooms.

Poultry Breeders May Secure New Bulletin

Poultry offers pocketbook angles that affect nearly every rural family in the state. Production of eggs and meat from poultry keeps many a farm household in Oakland county equipped with cash for some of the current expenses.

One of the most recent aids for economy in feeding and production of eggs is a new bulletin now made available through Michigan State College. It is Extension Bulletin 51, "Feeding for Egg Production". Copies may be obtained through the county agricultural agent's office or by writing the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

J. A. Davidson, the author, admits the bulletin is not a complete text on poultry nutrition, claiming it is designed for but one phase of poultry, feeding for eggs.

Readers will find portions devoted to proteins, carbohydrates, fats, water, minerals and vitamins.

Davidson offers hints on sources of these feeding elements and their use by the hen. Feeding for egg quality and feeding for hatchability also are discussed. Formulas for mashers are offered.

 JUNIOR AND SENIOR BANQUET
 The long awaited gala event has come and gone and everyone is wondering what next year's class will have in store for us. The Banquet was enjoyed with much Feasting and Frivolity! The gym was a spectacle to behold with all the markings of a summer garden!
 The crowning event of the evening was Tom Boothby's discarded shoe. How it happened? Well, Tom believes in taking off his shoes in public places and of course something had to happen when Mrs. Walter found out this news. So she politely started the shoe on its round—around the table and where it ended nobody short, Tom, after many futile attempts, but to make a long story short, to obtain his shoe finally was aided by Mrs. Edgar and we could start our program. By the way, maybe that was Tom's way of taking up a collection because when he recovered it it was filled with dainty morsels of vegetables and bread.
 The Banquet program was opened by Evelyn Davies. "Welcome to the Senior Class" and Mutt Beemer, the President of the Senior Class, responded. The presentation of the medals was greeted with great enthusiasm and everyone was waiting to see who would get the Valedictory award, of course we didn't have the slightest idea who it would be. But so as not to keep you in suspense, it was Arlene McCann with an all "A" record. The Salutatory award of course went to Iva May Sommers and the awards were given by our superintendent, Mr. Winn. Mr. Waters awarded the medal of citizenship to a very worthy, Tink Grate, or Kenneth Grate to you. Evelyn Jencks was given the Dramatic medal for her acting ability in both the Junior and Senior plays. Mrs. Walter awarded this medal with much confidence in what Evelyn has done. Milton Fiske and George Beardslee received awards for their musical achievement from Mr. Willoughby. A new award was given this year, the activities award, for an all around good student, and Mrs. Strait gave this medal to Mary Jane Guick. And last but not least came the Athletic awards. These were presented to Howard Boyns, Art Clark and Dick Tee by Mr. Thayer.

 The program concluded with a Professor Quiz program conducted by Tom Boothby. Five Seniors and Five Juniors were chosen to compete on this program. The Seniors were, Evelyn Jencks, Susie Lowrie, George Beardslee, Ernest Hazlett, LaVerne Webber and the Juniors were, Eugene Hubbard, Vivian Dean, Frank Russell, Jeanette Vliet, and Irene Walz. Each person was asked three questions. Then their score was added up and Irene Walz, a Junior, won the prize for the girls, while Frank Russell and Ernest Hazlett tied for the boys' prize. This concluded our program for the evening and dancing followed immediately. We wish to thank the mothers who worked to make the Banquet a success.
GRADE NEWS
 Mrs. Beardslee's Room:
 We are delighted with the new books which the P. T. A. has made possible for us to have. Our selections are "Stories of the Old Testament" by Maud and Misha Petersham, tales of Moses, Joseph, Ruth and David, charmingly retold. The Petershams traveled to the Bible lands to see how they could best reproduce in their pictures the way their people must have looked in their surroundings. The illustrations are beautifully colored.

What is it that needs painting to restore its beauty and brightness? A wall... a floor... a table and chair... the stove... or the baby's go-cart? With Pontiac Varnish Company paint, you can brighten up home furnishings and your home itself. In our line, you will find the right kind of paint for every painting job.

USE THE RIGHT PAINT FOR EACH JOB

On some wall surfaces, flat paints are desirable. Others, such as kitchens and bathrooms where walls are exposed to steam and cooking vapors, require gloss or semi-gloss finishes that they may be easily cleaned. Floors need paint and varnish that will resist hard usage. Table surfaces often are exposed to heat and liquids and they need special protection. For each of these jobs, there is a Pontiac Varnish Company paint product.

These paints will give the maximum in durability. They will hold their colors longer and will not need repainting so often. They are easier to apply and give better coverage per gallon. The Mounted Indian Warrior on every can of paint made by the Pontiac Varnish Company is the symbol of paint quality.

Pointers on Painting

By Vaughn S. Garrison, Manager, Pontiac Varnish Company Paint Store, Pontiac, Michigan

In painting interior walls use a good paint and employ the services of a reliable painter. Painted walls are now very popular. One reason for this, undoubtedly, is that the home owner can secure new and beautiful effects whenever he wants them with very little effort. New walls, when thoroughly dry, are given a coat of Pigmented Sealer before they are painted. Old painted walls that are fairly clean need only be wiped off with a cloth. Painted walls that have been subjected to smoke or steam, as in kitchens and bathrooms, should be washed with water containing a milk cleaner or linseed oil soap. Old kalsomine must be removed before painting. This is done with warm water and a large sponge. Usually water paint is put on over a glue sizing which washes off with the paint, so such walls must be treated like new walls and, when dry, given a preliminary coat of Pigmented Sealer. It is not advisable to paint over old wall paper. Remove the paper by soaking it with warm water and peeling and scraping the paper off. Give such walls a first coat of Pigmented Sealer. Cracks and holes in walls should be repaired before painting. Fill small cracks and holes with a mixture of patching plaster and the paint that is later to be used to paint the wall. Large cracks and holes are first cut back with a screw driver or similar tool so that they are larger at the bottom than at the top, and then filled with patching plaster mixed with water as directed on the package. Make the surface as level as possible and, if necessary, smooth off later with sandpaper. When dry, patches are covered with Pigmented Sealer before painting. Basement walls can be painted if they keep dry, but if they become damp in wet weather, no finish will adhere to them. The proper treatment in such cases is external waterproofing, which, of course, is difficult to apply to walls underground.

Recently, a man wrote in and asked me whether all automobile drivers were bad drivers. We must remember that there are millions of good drivers compared to thousands of reckless ones. Approximately 25 per cent of the driving public is responsible for all of the automobile accidents and the accompanying grief and suffering which is reported annually. Seventy-five per cent of the driving public does not have accidents. However, it is necessary for the 75 per cent that does not have accidents to be constantly alert because the constituents of the 25 per cent that does report accidents is not permanent. In other words, the possibility of an accident is passed around frequently; and therefore, good drivers must be constantly alert in order to remain good drivers, and bad drivers ought to change their habits immediately. IT'S SMART TO DRIVE CAREFULLY!

Gypsum in Plenty

The largest gypsum deposits in the world are located in Alabaster, Michigan. Scientists estimate that if no other sources of gypsum were available, the Wolverine State could supply enough to take care of all the plaster needed by the U. S. building industry for the next 200 years.

HOW TO PRODUCE BETTER POTATOES

Fifteen million dollars is not a drop in the bucket of any state's income, so Michigan is learning to take pride in its potato crop, which is the most important cash crop in the state. In the last 10 years the annual average Wolverine crop has been worth $15,027,600. In 1938 Michigan farmers produced 30,000,000 bushels to rank second in the nation. Extension work of Michigan State College and experimentation by staff members in the agricultural division has played a part in developing suitable varieties, fertilizer practices, cultural methods, storage, grading and marketing systems. To expand upon this service to the state's potato growers, a new bulletin has been made available at the college. It is "Better Potatoes for Michigan," Extension Bulletin 49, prepared by H. C. Moore of the farm crops department.

The bulletin treats of varieties for best adaptation to soils and climate found in Michigan, seedbed preparation, soil requirements, use of commercial fertilizers and manure, seed treating and green sprouting before planting. Illustrations depict these and other phases of successful methods and most efficient equipment. This bulletin can be obtained by writing the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing. Other available potato bulletins include Extension Bulletin 162, "Michigan Potato Diseases and Their Control," and Special Bulletin 271, "The Katahdin Potato in Michigan," 234 "Spraying and Dusting Potatoes in Michigan," 245 "Tests Show Better Ways to Grow Michigan Potatoes," 288 "Marketing Potatoes in Michigan," and 267 "An Economic Study of the Potato Enterprise in Michigan."

Varied Resources

The variety of Michigan's natural resources, aside from its rich agricultural lands, is shown by the ranking of the state in the production of natural products. Michigan ranks first in salt production, second in iron and gypsum, third in copper, cement and limestone, fifth in sand and granite, eighth in petroleum and eighth in the value of all mineral products. Monroe County, alone, produces enough glass sand to supply the continent.

4515 miles of this to win! The finish of the South American Grand Prize Road Race Classic. Ford-built cars have won the two most important road contests held so far in 1939.

If YOU like facts instead of claims, you'll be glad to know that the question of which low-price car is fastest has been answered—not in words but on the road.

At Daytona Beach in March a Ford-built Mercury 8 took first place in the grueling 150-mile stock car race. All prize-winning places were taken by Ford-built cars. A clean-cut triumph for the Ford V-8 engine.

In April the South American Grand Prize Race was run—twice across the Andes—4515 heart-breaking miles! All leading American low-price cars were among the 69 starters. The race was won by a Ford V-8. And 10 of 28 cars to finish were Fords!

There's just one way to know the smooth, quick power of a Ford V-8. That's to get behind the wheel. Come in and drive the new Ford.
