Londergan-Irish Rites Read Last Saturday

Young Couple Will Reside in Detroit

Of interest to their many friends in this community comes the announcement of the marriage of Miss Marion Londergan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Londergan of Detroit to Stanley Irish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Irish of Clarkston on Saturday, August 5th, in the Saints Church in Harrison, Mich.

The ceremony and ring service was read by Rev. George Bailey of Harrison.

Miss Londergan wore a travelling dress of green crepe with white accessories as did her sister, Miss Betty Londergan, her attendant.

Forrest Irish assisted his brother a best man.

A luncheon was served at the Church following the ceremony and was attended by the immediate families.

Mr. and Mrs. Irish then left to spend a week in Northern Michigan. Upon their return they will reside at 444 Peterboro Ave., Detroit, where both are employed.

Birthday Party Held Sunday

Mrs. Sarietta Bird of Detroit Was the Honored Guest

On Sunday a large group of relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Perry on the Dixie Highway and honored Mrs. Perry's daughter, Mrs. Sarietta Bird of Detroit who was celebrating her birthday.

There were thirty-three who enjoyed the delicious birthday dinner served at one o'clock. The table at which the honored guest was seated was centered with a large birthday cake flanked by bouquets of mixed flowers.

During the afternoon the group had a good time playing games, swimming and visiting. One of the most interesting and amusing games was a baseball game in which the men opposed the women.

Guests were present from Birmingham, Royal Oak, Detroit, Pontiac and Drayton Plains.

Mrs. Ronald Walter spent last week with her parents in Ypsilanti.

Loren D. Chesnut

Loren D. Chesnut, aged 57, died at Pontiac General Hospital on Thursday, August 3, at 1 p. m. His death was caused by cancer and complications.

It was about eight years ago that it was first evident that he had cancer. At that time he was operated on at the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. Since that time and until last August he enjoyed good health. Following an auto accident last August in which he injured his side, he was troubled with the former ailment. He underwent two major operations at Pontiac last December and also took x-ray and radium therapy treatments at a private hospital in Detroit. Since last December he needed special care several times each day, and his sister, Mrs. Lorabelle Maguire, under the direction of his physician took care of him.

A week before his death he was again taken seriously sick and returned to the Pontiac General Hospital, where another major operation was performed. Within two days following the operation he passed into a state of coma from which he did not rally.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Chesnut, of Davisburg, and was born at Andersonville where he attended school and where he attended and joined the Presbyterian Church.

For the past several years he has been engaged in the retailing of gasoline and oils in the city of Pontiac. He leaves his father and mother, of Davisburg; a twin sister, Mrs. Lorabelle Maguire, of Davisburg; a brother, Manley Chesnut, of Boston, Mass., and a large circle of relatives and friends. A brother, William J. Chesnut, formerly of Detroit, preceded him in death by four years.

The funeral service was held at the Davisburg Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon, August 6, at 2:30. The Rev. George Hill, pastor of the White Lake and Andersonville Presbyterian Churches, and the Rev. Ralph Brown, pastor of the Davisburg Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was made in the family lot at the Davisburg cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rodlan and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Varnum of Jonesville were Sunday guests of Mrs. Cora Skarritt. Mr. and Mrs. Rodlan are spending a few weeks at their summer home at Watkins Lake.

BIG EXPOSITION 2 DAYS NEXT WEEK

4-H Clubs Plan Many Interesting Features

Animals are being groomed, fruit jars polished, and final stitches taken in dresses and other articles of needlework on hundreds of Oakland County farms as the 4-H Club legion prepares for the biggest function of the Club year, the annual Exposition.

Scheduled for Pontiac, August 16, 17 and 18, this year's Exposition will present not only a larger display of Club work than last, but also new entertainment features and commercial displays emphasizing agriculture.

Karl D. Bailey, County Agricultural Agent, and Mrs. Lola T. Dudgeon, County Home Demonstration Agent, anticipate an increase in the approximately 200 animals displayed last year and a 30% increase in the canning and clothing exhibits. More than 500 members of summer 4-H Clubs will be represented.

Featuring the entertainment program, which will include band music each day, club demonstrations and other features, will be a home talent program patterned after the National Barn Dance. This program will be presented each evening in an outdoor arena seating 2000 persons.

The grounds of the Washington Junior High School located three blocks east of Telegraph on Menominee, or one block south of West Huron on Genesee, will provide the setting for the Exposition. There will be three main tents. One, 40 x 140 feet in size will house the dairy cattle. Another the same size will hold sheep, hogs, colts and poultry. The third will be given over to clothing and canning.

As in past years, there will be no charge for inspecting these exhibits. Judging will begin at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Frank Williamson will judge the dairy cattle and J. E. Brewster of the Michigan State College the other livestock. The clothing and canning exhibits will be judged by Miss Margaret Eckhardt, Wayne County 4-H Club Agent.

The 4-H Club demonstrations, a highlight of each Exposition program, will be held beginning at 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Arrangements have been made to house the visiting Club members in Washington Junior High School where meals will be served at cost to boys and girls, their parents and friends.

Last year, an estimated 30,000 persons visited the Exposition in Pontiac. With an expanded and more attractive program, it is anticipated this year's attendance will exceed that mark.

Seymour Lake Community to Celebrate Annual Homecoming

The Annual Homecoming at Seymour Lake will be held this year on Wednesday, August 16th. Following the dinner will be music and a brief address by Rev. W. Harold Pailthorp, the new minister of the Seymour Lake Methodist Church.

Various games, races and contests will be held for the younger people and children. The Homecoming this year is in charge of Mr. C. W. Case of Rochester, Michigan and the Secretary, Miss Gladys Sherwood.

HOLLY THEATRE

"Naughty but Nice", the new Warner Bros. comedy which opens Sunday at the Holly Theatre, is a hilariously satirical disclosure of some of the denizens of Tin Pan Alley, both the composers and the publishers.

Since it is about the industry, art or profession of supplying America and most of the rest of the world with popular music, it has a good deal of music as well as comedy in it. In fact, even in the face of the suspicions it may engender about the efforts of some writers of popular songs, two of the best of them, Harry Warren and Johnny Mercer, have supplied it with five new tunes which they are willing to bet will resist analysis by tune detectives.

Sharing almost equally in the acting and singing burden are Ann Sheridan, Dick Powell and Gale Page. As to Ann, she is not only given the honor of introducing three of the new songs, but she is given the best role of her career to date, a part with plenty of opportunity to display the very individual type of charm which led to her recent designation as the "Oomph" girl.

The comedy is mainly entrusted to as impressive a cast of actors and fun-makers as has ever been assembled in Hollywood, numbering such sure-fire favorites as Helen Broderick, Zasu Pitts, Allen Jenkins, Maxie Rosebloom, Ronald Reagan, Jerry Colonna and Luis Alberni. In addition, the National Jitterbug Champions, a crew of swing happy youngsters, do their stuff in a big dance scene.

With side excursions into the matter of tune plagiarism and the even more diverting matter of the jitterbug craze, the screen play, written by Richard Macaulay and Jerry Wald, tells how, without intending to do so, a professor of classical music becomes the nation's foremost composer of hot swing tunes.

Aug. 11th—Friday—The Clarkston Station School will hold the annual reunion at the school. A pot-luck dinner will be served at noon. Those attending will supply their own table service as well as food. In the afternoon a program and games will provide entertainment.

B. T. Beardslee Honored At Big Fish Lake

Last Sunday B. T. Beardslee was honored by the members of his family at a surprise birthday party at his cottage at Big Fish Lake.

Everyone will be glad to learn that L. J. Chamberlain is feeling much better and the last report was that he was able to walk about his room in the Goodrich Hospital for a little while this week.

Mrs. Ella McArthur and son Hugh of Chicago arrived at the Ogden home on Saturday. Mrs. Ogden then accompanied her sister and nephew to Rodney, Ontario, to visit at the home of another sister.

Mr. and Mrs. William Edgar were dinner guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Flumerfelt of Lake Orion. Mary Edgar returned home with her parents after enjoying a week with Nancy and John Flumerfelt.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Price and their son, Guy Jr., and daughter, Laura, left on Wednesday morning for their home in Beverly Hills, Calif. On their way they will stop for a day or two in Chicago and visit Mr. Price's brother, Dr. Frank Price.

The Gulick family held their reunion at the Ortonville State Park on Sunday. There were sixty-five present. A grand dinner was enjoyed and the crowd had a good time playing games and visiting. The weather was ideal. Guests were present from Detroit, Pontiac, Lansing, Owosso, Corunna, Bancroft, and Clarkston.

Mrs. E. S. Waterbury is in receipt of a card from Daisy D. Urch aboard the Swedish American Liner, Kingholm. Miss Urch, a former Clarkston girl, is enjoying a 60 day cruise in Atlantic waters. She expects to visit her sister, Mrs. M. Poole in Davisburg the latter part of August before returning to her duties as instructor in the Nursing College at Winona, Minn.

Township Hall Being Remodeled

Waterford

An automobile trip covering 7411 miles and taking them through 14 different states where they saw wonderful places and things of interest was recently made by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Duguid and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clark.

Leaving Waterford the last of June when summer was just getting under way the travelers noted the advance in the season on reaching Illinois, Iowa and Kansas. Michigan grain was still green while in the western states the farmers were busy harvesting their grain and they were employing the combine method, a machine that cuts off the heads of the grain, threshes it and sacks it right in the field and all in one operation.

Large herds of fine Hereford cattle impressed them as they drove through Kansas and Wyoming. In Wyoming, according to the Duguids, the day of the romantic singing cowboy seems to be passing as they saw only a few, but observed that most of the cattle were being driven by men in cars. Over the hills the cars went herding these animals. But the cowboy still retains his share of limelight when rodeo time rolls around.

"We missed seeing a rodeo," said Mrs. Duguid. "We were either too early or too late as we passed through the different towns, but we did enjoy what they call a booster parade. As we entered Cheyenne-Wells, Colorado, the third picturesque booster parade of the season was in progress. Young men in their cowboy regalia, sideburns and all, women in old fashioned costumes, sweeping skirts and old time hats tied under their chins, while the young girls wore pantalettes, all taking a part in the parade that preceded the rodeo that was scheduled for July 4th. After the parade some 20 cars formed a motorcade and drove 200 miles out through the surrounding country to advertise the coming rodeo.

Denver was the next stop of interest with a night spent at Colorado Springs, the nationally known health resort, near which stands the impressive Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun, a solid stone castle-like structure high upon a promontory of Cheyenne Mountain. It was finished and dedicated in 1937 and has captured the imagination and interest of the public as no other feature has for years. A perpetual light burns in the tower of the Shrine and this light can be seen for miles.

The colorful Garden of the Gods was enjoyed on the scenic drive of 7000 feet altitude, up through the Pike's Peak region, where the party saw snow on the peaks. Mrs. Duguid had samples of the red granite rock found in the Garden of the Gods to show us as well as bits of stone and sand from the painted desert, wood from the Petrified Forest of Arizona, dirt from the South Dakota Bad Lands and approximately 20 different varieties of cactus from the wastes of Arizona. But what particularly appealed to your scribe was a tiny life like bear carved from a bit of red wood from the red wood forests of California. The bear looks down from the piano in the Duguid living room.

Another unusual drive included in the itinerary of these Michigan travelers was the Raton Pass into Raton, New Mexico, a pass with an altitude of 7888 feet and consisting of one hair pin turn after another and a drive that had Mrs. Clark hanging onto the car door handles, laughingly reported her parents.

What do you think of the Grand Canyon was the question asked these sight-seers.

"That is something no one can describe. It's been tried for years," answered Mr. Duguid.

"We saw more beautiful sights on our trip," said Mrs. Duguid, "but nothing that compared to the Grand Canyon in immensity and grandeur."

A short stop to see Boulder Dam in Nevada and then on into the southern part of Nevada and the scorching sands of the Mojave Desert with its temperature standing at 128 degrees. After driving for hours and finding the heat almost unbearable the folks stopped at a filling station that stocked ice as well as gas and purchased 12 pounds of dry ice ($1.25) and the attendant at the station fitted the special made cardboard box containing the ice into one of the front windows of the car and had the folks close the front windows and ventilator. The air passing over the ice air-conditioned the car, after a fashion, and the temperature was lowered 15 degrees. The ice lasted four hours and by that time they were across the waste of hot sand.

They soon reached Oceanside, California and enjoyed their first view of the Pacific and its fresh cooling breeze was a decided contrast to the burning desert sand. In Oceanside the party called to see Mr. Duguid's half brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Knapp. Mrs. Knapp introduced them to the many, many fruits and flowers growing in her large yard, Geraniums growing so tall as to form hedges, lemons, oranges, avocados, almonds and many tropical fruits and flowers.

A short run across the border into the famous small Mexican town of Tijuana brought a disappointment to the tourists from Waterford as they found it a dirty untidy appearing place and the streets filled with native women and children peddling souvenirs to every stranger in sight.

"We were disappointed in Tijuana," said Mrs. Duguid, "but we saw something a bit farther on our route that more than made up for our disappointment. It was in the small town of San Juan Capistrano that we found it . . . the ancient and historical old Spanish mission that was partly destroyed during the earthquake of 1812. There were 40 killed at worship. Each year the flocks of swallows that nest in the towers of the mission migrate farther south and later return. During the spring of this year a radio station broadcasted, over a national hook-up, the return of the swallows to this old mission."

An amusing sight met the eyes of the travelers in Long Beach, California, where large pumps were pumping oil from the oil wells located right out in the ocean. Right up from the water the oil was being pumped.

A drive through Los Angeles disclosed the city's streets crooked and hard to traverse. On through Hollywood where Mr. Clark, who is a radio engineer for station WJR in Detroit visited the sister station to WJR which is located there. They drove down Sunset Boulevard and had a good view of some of the picture sets on the Fox and Warner Brothers studio lots. The famous Rose Bowl was visited too.

San Francisco, a city built on 7 hills, was the next stop where the foursome spent one day at the World's Fair and pronounced it just another fair, with the fair grounds and buildings beautiful, but the exhibits not as good as Chicago offered at her fair a few years ago. It was on July 4th that the folks visited the fair and who else should choose that day to be there too but Wrong Way Corrigan of flying fame. The witty little Irishman wore an Irish green shirt and he was making a talk to the crowd in the Aeronautics building.

A drive across the Golden Gate Bridge afforded a good view of Alcatraz Island and its prison buildings.

From San Francisco on to Reno and across the Truckee River into whose waters many of the divorcees throw their wedding rings. Across the Salt Flats between Reno and Salt Lake City came next. The salt covers the ground like snow and packs hard where in places tracks are made for automobile races.

One of the most interesting sights included in the entire trip was the huge Mormon Tabernacle at Salt Lake City, Utah. A building 150 by 250 by 80 feet with a seating capacity of 8000 and possessing the most sensitive acoustics of any building in the world. It is equipped with the largest and finest pipe organ in the world.

These Michigan sightseers stopped at Twin Falls, Utah, where they were the guests of Mr. Clark's uncle Rev. George Clark and there they saw the largest body of irrigated land in the world. With water from the Snake river, whose source originates in the Yellowstone National Park, 300 miles away, the 1,000,000 acres of sugar beets, wheat, beans and corn are watered.

The Yellowstone National Park held much of interest for the Duguids who have enjoyed extensive travel over different sections of the United States.

"The Yellowstone Canyon in the Yellowstone National Park was the prettiest thing we saw, in the way of scenery, on our entire trip," said Mrs. Duguid. "The coloring is something to rave about."

In entertaining us with stories of their trip Mr. Duguid had this to say about their visit to the National Park. "We entered the park by way of the southern entrance and spent the night at Old Faithful Inn. We got in before 6 o'clock and in time to see the geyser, Old Faithful, erupt. After dark we were entertained at the Campfire Nature Talk given by a Conservation Officer and is one of the attractions offered the park tourists. After the talk another officer led us all in group singing. By then it was time for Old Faithful to perform again and we had the opportunity of seeing the hot water from this old geyser shoot into the air under colored lights. Every 63 minutes the geyser performs and so far has never disappointed those watching for it. Just outside our window during the night an old bear visited the garbage can several times."

Arranging their itinerary so as to include a visit to the Rushmore National Memorial in the Black Hills of South Dakota they were very much disappointed on finding the road closed a few miles from the Memorial, due to recent forest fires, but they were rewarded after a fashion by seeing the freakish appearing Devil's Tower.

On being asked what state they enjoyed most they both agreed on Wyoming, saying that this state seemed to have more to offer in the way of variety. They particularly enjoyed seeing the animal life in that state. Large herds of elk, bison, antelope, buffalo and lots of bears.

The most elaborate tourist cabin was found in Ogden, Utah. A cabin with carpeted living room, overstuffed furniture, floor lamps, elaborate bedroom, modernly equipped kitchen and so on. "The cabins everywhere were wonderful, the best we have ever found on any of our trips. Through Utah, Nevada and California the cabins are often built in a circle and have a motor court for the cars and the cabins in that part of the world are called Motels," Mrs. Duguid informed us.

Hundreds of Michigan cars were seen on this trip and more Michigan cars were seen in Yellowstone Park than from any other state.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark are camera enthusiasts and they took advantage of many of the beautiful scenes on this trip and brought back some unusually splendid snapshots of mountains, water scenes and desert views that would put a professional to shame. They do their own developing and enlarging.

Memories of this trip will last thru the years and bring many happy moments to those so fortunate as to have the opportunity to see the many interesting and educational places and things that one encounters on a tour like this one taken by these Michigan people.

Dale Sutphen is visiting his uncle Russell Wilcox near Brown City. Dale will remain on his uncle's farm until the first of September.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Wood, of Pelton Road are the proud parents of a son, Robert Dymoke, born Friday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hoadley drove to Chatham, Ontario, the middle of the week for their daughter, Claudia, who has been the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. W. T. McEachran.

Mrs. Leonard Eakle who was recently painfully injured in an automobile accident is still confined to her bed. She is suffering with torn ligaments in her back.

Miss Virginia Hess of Birmingham, Alabama, who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Irving King, for the summer months is now visiting in the home of Mrs. Clarence Phillips of Clarkston.

Mrs. Earl Lamberton of Airport road who was stricken suddenly ill Saturday morning and was rushed to St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac is reported to be some better and will be moved to her home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Van Syckle have as their guest for the week Mrs. Grace M. Crosby of Melbourne, Florida, formerly of Andersonville, Michigan. Wednesday evening the Lyman Girst family was entertained at dinner in the Van Syckle home in honor of Mrs. Crosby.

... old and new

Pulling a rabbit out of a hat is no more remarkable than pulling a complete meal out of a semi-sealed oven—especially when the meal has practically cooked itself, without attention. Yet this is only one of the tricks being done every day by clever housewives in modern electric kitchens. Today's electric ranges make possible a mealtime magic that would have amazed our grandmothers who were obliged to cook meals on the crude stoves of 50 years ago. Today one merely snaps a switch and goes out for the afternoon while dinner cooks itself. Today's electric ranges are cool, clean, convenient . . . and electric cooking sets a new high in delicious flavor and healthfulness. See the new models on display at your electrical dealer's — or visit any Detroit Edison office.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

Waterford

The sixth annual reunion of the Waterford School was held in the Waterford school building Saturday afternoon with 75 present.

An interesting program followed the business meeting. The program was in charge of Sarah Voorhes Myers, Helen Spooner Mehlerberg and Arthur Walter.

Mrs. Percy King kindly gave your scribe the following account of the reunion:

"One of the most interesting persons present was 84 year old Elbert Hopkins of Big Rapids, who drove down especially for the reunion. He entertained all present with his touching reminiscence of the days when he was a young boy and attended the Waterford School, which at that time stood on the community lot.

"The person attending the reunion from the farthest point away was Maurice Sheridan from West Virginia, who is visiting in Pontiac and took advantage of the opportunity to see and talk with some of his old school mates.

"Everyone seemed so anxious to just visit with each other and this annual event serves to keep us in touch with friends and acquaintances of our younger days that we might otherwise fail to contact."

Homemade Jelly Wins Prize for Farmer!

LAST year Ervin Swinehart, of Excelsior, Wisconsin, received a premium from the Sawyer County Agricultural Fair for his homemade chokecherry jelly.

Mr. Swinehart, who farms 240 acres, admits that his hobby is helping children. As a school officer and 4-H Club leader, he believes that no leader can be a good leader without doing the work himself—and when it comes to lessons in jellymaking, this prize winner certainly knows what he's talking about.

Any man who wants to make a batch of homemade jellies would do well to use a champion recipe like this one. He'll have a perfect product every time—whether or not he enters it at the fair to compete for prizes like Mr. Swinehart's!

FRESH MINT JELLY

(Makes about 5 medium glasses) 1 cup spearmint leaves and stems, packed 3/4 cup sugar 1/2 cup apple vinegar 1 cup water Green coloring 1/2 bottle fruit pectin Wash spearmint. Do not remove the leaves from stems. Measure into 3-quart saucepan and press with wooden potato masher or glass. Measure sugar, vinegar and water into saucepan and mix with mint. Bring to a boil over hottest fire. While mixture is coming to a boil, add coloring to give desired shade. Use coloring which fruit acids do not fade. As soon as mixture boils, add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1/2 minute. Remove from fire and skim. To remove all trace of mint leaves, pour hot jelly through fine sieve into glasses. Paraffin hot jelly at once.

Here's why the people of Michigan choose

FORD V-8

The people of Michigan have always been smart automobile buyers. And here in the motor car state, automobile buyers prefer Fords.

But they have never exercised their judgment more soundly than in their choice of the 1939 Ford V-8.

They know this car has more than outward beauty. Under the enduring baked-enamel finish and the strength of streamlined steel, they know it is built with a sturdiness that will give years of dependable service.

They know its V-type 8-cylinder engine is unique among low-price cars. And they appreciate the smooth power and economy that engine gives them. They like the fact that the Ford is big, spacious and comfortable without being hard to park. They know the low delivered price of the Ford includes complete equipment that would cost them many extra dollars on most other cars.

THE ONLY CAR

near its price with ALL these quality features

- STYLE LEADERSHIP—The luxury car in the low-price field.
- V-TYPE 8-CYLINDER ENGINE—Eight cylinders give smoothness. Small cylinders give economy.
- HYDRAULIC BRAKES—Easy-acting—quick, straight stops.
- STABILIZED CHASSIS—No front-end bobbing or dipping. Level starts and stops, level ride.
- TRIPLE-CUSHIONED COMFORT—New flexible roll-edge seat cushions, soft transverse springs, double-acting hydraulic-shock absorbers.
- SCIENTIFIC SOUNDPROOFING—Noises hushed for quiet ride.
- LOW PRICES—Advertised prices include many items of desirable equipment.
