The annual meeting of the Bible Class of the Waterford Church was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Duguid on Tuesday evening with eighteen answering the Roll Call with a Bible verse containing either the word "Come" or "Declare". The meeting was opened with group songs and a prayer by Mrs. Forest Laney. In the absence of the president and also the vice president the meeting was condurted by Mrs. Henry Mehlberg. Plans were made to lived with her daughter for the past purchase letters for the bulletin board and Forest Laney was appointed to have charge. Election of officers took place with the following results: president, Forest Laney; vice president, Mrs. Henry Mehlberg; secretary, Mrs. Henri Buck; treasurer, Mrs. Otto Duguid; pianists, Charles Roehm and Mrs. Howard Burt. The new president appointed his social and refreshment committees to act for the next three months; social, Charles Roehm and Lyle McLaughlin; refreshment, Mrs. Buck, Mrs. John Miller and Mrs. McLaughlin. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller and the Roll Call will be answered with a Bible verse containing the word "Give". The lesson on the sixth chapter of the Book of Revelations was led by Henry Mehlberg. Dainty refreshments were served.

Last Saturday night thieves visited the Waterford district and after taking $15.00 in change from the cash register in the August Jacober store tried to rob the safe in the Waterford Post Office. It is believed the prowlers were frightened away before the damage was done to the safe. A small hole was found drilled in the safe's combination lock. Harold Kruger and his mother who operate the Kruger restaurant across the street from the Post Office noticed some suspicious looking characters. Harold saw one man who forced open the back door of the Jacober store and another man loitering in front of th Waterford Hotel who might have been an accomplice. Foolproof Grape Spreads

By BETTY BARCLAY

Today's column is dedicated to every woman who wants to celebrate grape season with a cupboardful of perfect spreads! For all you need to put the jell in jelly is a recipe that assures the correct balance of pectin, sugar, and acid.

Excellent examples of the new, foolproof directions are these for Concord grape jelly and butter. Not only do they turn out spreads with extra good flavor, but the half-minute boil means two-thirds more glasses into the bargain.

Be sure to follow directions exactly, as they were specially developed for this particular fruit:

Concord Grape Jelly and Butter

To prepare fruit, stem about 5 pounds fully ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add ½ cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 5 minutes. Separate juice from pulp by placing hot fruit in 2-quart sieve. For Jelly: Run enough juice through a double layer of cheesecloth held in a small sieve to obtain 4 cups of strained juice. For Butter: Rub grapes, from which juice has drained, through sieve to obtain 4½ cups pulp. Use the excess juice or water, if necessary, to fill up last

Concord Grape Jelly (Makes about 11 medium glasses)

4 cups juice
7½ cups sugar
½ bottle fruit pectin
Measure sugar and juice, prepared as above, into large saucepan

Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boll and boil hard 1/2

Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin at once.

Concord Grape Butter 41/2 cups pulp

7 cups sugar ½ bottle fruit pectin

Measure sugar and grape pulp, prepared as above, into large kettle.

Bring to a full rolling boll over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute.

Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Pour quickly.

Paraffin at once. Makes about 11 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Ripe Grape Conserve

There isn't space in my column to give the recipe for that extradelicious spread shown in the picture—but directions are included in Alice Blake's little cook-booklet, "Jelly Shelf Classics." She'll be glad to send you a free copy if you write her at the National Jellymaking Institute, Dept. G, 444 Madison Avenue, New York City.

HOLLY THEATRE

Heralded by advance preview reports as one of the season's most sprightly and original comedy romances, "Bachelor Mother" makes its local debut at the Holly Theatre with Ginger Rogers and David Niven in the stellar leads on Sunday.

Miss Rogers in the role of a department store sales girl displays her flair for comedy which she recently employed in "Vivacious Lady" and "Stage Door". Niven's characterization as an adamant store executive is a refreshing departure from his roles in "Wuthering Heights" and "Dawn Patrol".

A hilarious mix-up over a baby forms the axis about which "Bachelor Mother" revolves. Holding a temporary job in the store during the Christmas rush, Miss Rogers-on her lunch hour-finds an infant on the forcement. steps of a foundling home, and is instantly mistaken for the child's mother.

The more Ginger protests the more she is disbelieved, and the home authorities report the matter to the store executives. Niven, a vice-president and the son of the store's owner, investigates for himself and he, too, is convinced that Ginger is the mother. He immediately shifts her to the permanent staff and gives her a raise. This only infuriates Ginger who is at her wits' end to shift the care of the child to others.

Horrified, Niven lectures her, and under threat of dire consequences

Coburn, anxious that his son shall marry and settle down, is greatly interested in the report. He shadows Niven, and concludes that his report is true. The situation becomes even more hectic when both Miss Rogers and Niven learn that Coburn is planning to adopt the child as his grand-

What happens from here on is a series of mirth-packed complications, developing the film into one of the season's most entertaining offerings.

Safetygrams

Carelessness in driving is increasng on our highways. The figures for the first seven months of 1939 show an increase over those for 1938.

Are our law enforcement agencies becoming discouraged? We find police are very anxious to enforce the law, but in many cases we find a growing tendency on the part of our courts to become lenient and lax in enforcing the laws.

Educational agencies are trying their best to bring before the public the need of safe driving and instructions on how to do it. We must have law enforcement agencies and the courts to assist safety people in this work so that we will have a maximum of protection while we are driving or walking.

The newspapers have done a splendid job in calling this to the minds of their readers, and we urge that more stirring editorials be written in regard to the need for strict law en-
