The Volunteer Service Committee of the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross is now increasing its Production Service in order to provide relief for War victims in Europe, according to Mrs. H. H. Robinson and Mrs. F. S. Strong, Jr., Chairman and Vice Chairman of Volunteer Service.

At a meeting held yesterday at the Birmingham Community House, Mrs. O. W. Kay of Pleasant Ridge, County Chairman of Production, discussed with her committee immediate plans for knitting and the making of hospital and refugee garments. All work except knitting will be done in workrooms which will be established in Pontiac, under the direction of Mrs. L. W. Gately; at Christ Church in charge of Mrs. Sheldon Noble; in Birmingham under the direction of Miss Loretta Porritt and in southern Oakland County the workroom will be in charge of Mrs. J. T. Libbey. In the northeastern section of the county activities will be in charge of Mrs. Kelsey Laque of Orion and the northwestern section, Mrs. Joe Haas and Mrs. Henry Seeley of Holly will direct activities.

The entire production program in Oakland County is in keeping with the policy of the American National Red Cross which in response to a request from the International Red Cross which is immediately sending assistance to Poland. It is expected that France and England through the International Red Cross will outline their needs within the near future. It is expected that needs in the war-stricken areas will be great. The American National Red Cross has already set up an emergency fund of $50,000 to assist the Polish Red Cross, in immediate medical problems.

It is noted that in 1914 the American Red Cross had a membership of 16,000 and 105 Chapters, while today the organization embraces the membership of nearly six million men and women and have approximately 10,000 Chapters and Branches.

HOLLY THEATRE

Stellar names, high in Hollywood's acting ranks, features the new Warner Bros. picture, "The Angels Wash Their Faces", which opens at the Holly Theatre on Sunday. Featured in the production, which tells the story of a group of tenement slum youngsters, are Ann Sheridan, the Dead End Kids, Ronald Reagan, Bonita Granville, Frankie Thomas, Henry O'Neill, Eduardo Ciannelli and others.

Heading this imposing cast is Ann Sheridan, called currently the "most widely publicized actress in the world" by a national picture magazine in a recent issue. "The Angels Wash Their Faces" provides Miss Sheridan with her first sympathetic role, that of a social worker.

The Dead End Kids depart from the type role with which they have been identified and appear this time on the side of good citizenship. Slightly reformed but still tough and aggressive, Billy Halop as "Boys Week" mayor and his "cabinet" of Dead Enders cooperate with the authorities in bringing to justice a group of adult criminals.

Playing the male lead is the handsome Ronald Reagan as the deputy district attorney who aids the Dead End Kids in their efforts and with Ann Sheridan furnishes the romantic interest. Eduardo Ciannelli, famed for his gangster portrayals in "Marked Woman" and "Winter Set", is the convincing leader of the arson ring which fires tenements to collect the insurance.

Bonita Granville and Frankie Thomas, stars in their own right for their performances in the Nancy Drew adventure series, also appear in the picture. Jackie Searl is another juvenile who is importantly cast.

Why War?

The German subs that roam the sea Harass the British admiralty. The German troops encounter Poles, Their airplane bombs take heavy tolls.

And China's war still undeclared, No hardships on her people spared. Africa and Italy clashed, And Italy a kingdom smashed. While Spain went thru internal strife And sacrificed her cream of life. The Jews and Arabs fight today, In Jesus' home that they might stay. Now what is all this fuss about? I must admit I can't find out.

What matters it where boundaries lie As long as men don't have to die! The countries yet which are intact Gainful employment still they lack. They cannot feed the folks they rule, It seems to me they play the fool To try to push their boundaries o'er And take on, Oh, so many more, Who must be clothed and must be fed—

The best of all it's manhood dead. —R. C. B.

Fire Prevention Thoughts

Lake residents know that many thousand lives are sacrificed and millions of dollars of property are lost each year by the dreadful ravages of fire. Upon investigation we learn of countless reasons for the cause of these disasters. Among the many reasons we find one that takes its toll of life and property, especially in the rural districts, and that is starting a fire with kerosene.

This is a very dangerous habit at any time and should never be used for such a purpose. Above all, one should never pour kerosene over hot coals. Fires we sometimes think are out cause the most damage. Never throw kerosene on a small blaze with an open can, with the intention of hurrying it up, as the flames instantly follow the line of kerosene spilled in the attempt and may cause serious damage.

Never pour kerosene on a fire with a closed container as the flames may instantly reach the can and cause more serious damage by explosion.

Any method used in starting fires with kerosene is dangerous. With the many new appliances that modern science has developed, everyone should discard the old method, thereby safeguarding the happiness of our homes and the lives of our loved ones.

New Traffic Law Effective Today

The new state traffic law becomes effective September 29 and many important changes have been made in the rules of the road, including the amendment prohibiting right-hand turns on a red signal light.

So that every motorist may have the opportunity to study and familiarize himself with the regulations Harry F. Kelly, Secretary of State, has prepared a booklet entitled "What Every Driver Should Know", and containing a clear summary of the various sections of the law.

This booklet will be sent free of cost to every person writing to Mr. Kelly, in care of the Secretary of State's office, Lansing, Mich.

The booklet contains many illustrations showing the proper way to make turns, etc., and covers in concise form the important regulations relative to speed limits, stop and go signs, lanes and pavement markings, parking, bicycles and motorcycles, overtaking and passing other vehicles, through highways, and much other information of value to both drivers and pedestrians.

DAIRYMEN WAKING UP IN THE COUNTY

Seeking to Learn How Best to Improve Herd

Dairymen in Oakland county are among those aiding in proof that it doesn't pay to keep "star boarders" in the dairy herd.

Throughout Michigan the work of 84 dairy herd improvement associations is hammering on two means of watching costs and trying to earn possible profits. One is from culling out unprofitable animals, the other is by feeding efficiently and economically the 28,000 cows on test in these associations.

By feeding more roughage in the form of legume silage and legume hay, dairymen are getting around the problem of extra purchases of grain. Suitable fall pastures also are more popular and evident than four or five years ago.

In reports of testing work compiled by E. C. Scheidenhelm, extension dairyman at Michigan State College, the 84 associations showed an average milk flow and fat yield in August that was surprising. Only a drop of one pound of milk a day was the average under July. Water supplies and additional quantities of dry feed helped avert the usual midsummer drop in the milk flow.

Proof of the unpopularity of inefficient producing animals, says Scheidenhelm, is the number of inquiries from dairymen who want to know how they can obtain membership in an improvement association.

1940 Cars Employ New Lighting System

The new 1940 automobiles have been provided with a complete new unit of lighting.

The new equipment is known as "The Sealed Beam Headlight System." No dirt, dust or moisture can penetrate the sealed unit to corrode the reflecting surface and lens. More light, properly distributed is thrown on the road surfaces.

The new lamps throw two light beams. The lower beam is for city driving and the top beam for country driving.

These lights will provide more protection and greater safety after dark on the nation's streets and highways.

TRAFFIC LAWS TO CHANGE SEPT. 29

The legal speed limit under Michigan's new traffic law which becomes effective Sept. 29 is 25 miles per hour in both business and the residential districts.

Local authorities may establish higher speed limits in either business or residential districts. In no case may such limits be less than 25 miles per hour.

All highways on which the limit is set in excess of 25 miles an hour must be designated as through highways and adequate signs posted informing the motorist of the permissible speed. Entrances to such highways, the Michigan State Police point out, must be posted with stop signs.

Within cities and villages the state highway commissioner may increase speed limits on state highways outside of business districts. Adequate signs will inform motorists of such limits in excess of 25 miles per hour.

Signs are not necessary in business or residential districts except where the limit is in excess of 25 miles per hour. Motorists driving on unmarked streets in either business or residential districts are subject to the 25 mile per hour limitations.

On the open road outside the limits of cities and villages, a safe and prudent speed is lawful. The new law, however, in the case of vehicles towing other vehicles or trailers, sets a definite speed limit of 50 miles per hour. This applies especially to house trailers.

Speed regulations of this act are based on recommendations of the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety, and put Michigan in step with other states in a uniform traffic code.

Traffic Control Signals

The state's new traffic law prohibits right-hand turns on a red light. Red means stop for all traffic—including the driver who heretofore has been swinging to the right around an intersection into the flow of traffic moving on the green. This driver, hereafter, stops on the red, and makes his turn only when he has the green signal.

Flashing red means stop. It is to be interpreted the same as a stop sign.

Flashing yellow or amber means caution.

Green means vehicles may go straight ahead, right or left unless a sign prohibits such turns. Traffic proceeding on the green must, however, yield the right-of-way to other vehicles and pedestrians lawfully within the intersection.

Yellow or amber when shown with green requires that vehicles be brought to a stop before entering the intersection if such stop can be made in safety.

If a green arrow is shown with the red light, vehicles may cautiously enter the intersection to make the movement indicated by the arrow, but must yield the right-of-way to other traffic.

Legal placing of lights in traffic signals, the Michigan State Police point out, calls for red at the top, yellow or amber in the middle and green at the bottom.

Pedestrians

Michigan's new traffic regulations impose a definite responsibility on the pedestrian in its traffic safety provisions. The law governs his movement the same as it governs movement of vehicular traffic.

Pedestrians may cross a street or highway on the green light. If the yellow or amber light is showing they should not attempt to cross because there is insufficient time. They should not enter the intersection on the red light. However, if they do, they must not interfere with traffic.

If "walk" signals are in use, pedestrians should cross intersections on the "walk" signals. If a "wait" signal is in place, no pedestrian shall start across the street while such signal is showing.

It is especially important, the Michigan State Police point out, that pedestrians observe traffic signals so as not to interfere with vehicular traffic and to thus better insure their own safety.

Lane Usage

In the past, driving rules have been designed for the conventional two-lane highway. It was not until the Michigan Traffic Control Zones proved successful that regulations were set up for driving on the wider highways. The state's new traffic law lists these regulations in detail. They are summarized in the brief but valuable rule: If there is room to the right, drive to right.

Vehicles on highways of three or more lanes shall drive entirely within the extreme right-hand lane except when overtaking and passing. It is unlawful to straddle lane lines.

The middle lane on three-lane highways and the second lane on four-lane highways shall be used for overtaking and passing only.

It is unlawful to drive into the far left lane of a three-lane highway or cross the center line on four-lane highways.

If these rules are observed, head-on crashes will be eliminated and side-swipes will be reduced.

Rules similar to these have been in force on US-10 south of Saginaw, US-33 between Saginaw and Bay City, US-24 in Monroe county and on US-12 in Berrien county. Michigan State Police records show that they have saved countless lives.

Simply stated, the rule provides that traffic keep well over to the right—and DON'T CROSS THE YELLOW LINE.

Overtaking and Passing

An important section of Michigan's new traffic law from the standpoint of accident prevention regulates the conduct of the motorist overtaking and passing other vehicles.

No vehicle shall be driven to the left side of highway on the approach to the crest of a hill or upon a curve where the driver's view is obstructed to such an extent as to make it unsafe to pass.

Outside of cities and villages the horn must be sounded before passing another vehicle.

As soon as a driver is safely clear of an overtaken vehicle he should return to a normal position as far to the right as possible. Usually only about 12 seconds are required to pass another car.

If the driver ahead has signalled his intention to turn left he must not be passed on the left.

No motor vehicle shall be driven to the left side of highway when approaching within 100 feet of an intersection or railroad crossing. Michigan State Police point out many lives would be saved annually if this rule was never violated.

TRAFFIC LAWS TO CHANGE SEPT. 29

Turning
The vehicle moving straight ahead at a prudent speed is rarely the car involved in an accident. But the new Michigan traffic law takes recognition of the fact that when that vehicle is turned from its straight course, the accident risk increases.

The act provides that the right turn be made as in the past. Keep as close as practicable to the right curb or edge of the highway.

The left turn is to be made by entering the intersection in the lane to the right of and nearest the center line and by leaving the intersection in the line to the right of and nearest the center line. In other words, Michigan now has the “inside turn”.

At traffic signal locations, vehicles intending to turn left shall permit vehicles bound in the opposite direction to pass through the intersection before turning left. This same rule applies at non-signalized intersections.

Before turning, one must signal his intention by extending the hand and arm straight out from and beyond the left side of the vehicle. The next step, the Michigan State Police point out, is to move into the proper lane. If proper signals are indicated by a driver about to change his course, other drivers can handle their cars in accordance with such signals and avoid the accidents so common when confusion and misunderstanding attend a change in course or speed.

Safetygrams

The number of pedestrians killed by automobiles makes the problem one that each community should carefully consider. When we realize that over 40 per cent of the people killed by automobiles are pedestrians we should readily appreciate that it is a real problem.

The first thing the pedestrian should do is abandon the old idea that as a pedestrian he can use the streets in any way he pleases. This he can not do.

Traffic lights were made to control traffic, including pedestrian traffic, and the pedestrian should obey traffic signals.
