The Social Security Board has issued a pamphlet, "Monthly Benefits Begin in 1940," explaining payments to be made to wage earners reaching the age of 65 and to certain surviving members of families of workers who die after December 31, 1939.

Richard H. Hendrick, manager of the Social Security Board's field office at Pontiac, announces that copies of the new pamphlet may be obtained free at his office.

It is explained in the pamphlet that workers attaining the age of 65 can now file claims for monthly benefits. Benefits are payable from the beginning of 1940 to qualified wage earners who have retired from regular employment. The applicant must show that he (1) has been employed in jobs covered by the Social Security Act in at least 6 calendar quarters since January 1, 1937 and (2) has earned at least $50 of wages in each of these 6 quarters.

In addition to the retired worker's own benefit, supplementary payments are provided for his wife at age 65 or for his unmarried minor children under 18. Payments will also be made to the surviving widows and unmarried minor children of workers who die after December 31, 1939, if each worker had at least 6 calendar quarters of employment under the act and wages of at least $50 in each quarter.

Michigan housewives need not even be accurate budgeteers to applaud news that many of the important food commodities are in such ample supply that there's good eating in sight without too great a strain on the pocketbook.

Although members of the home economics extension staff at Michigan State College recommend a cook make at least an occasional food budget plan, news nationally is that most foods are plentiful enough.

Estimates of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics include the prophecy that egg supplies ought to be ample and that quantities of dairy products are expected to be adequate. Fresh winter vegetables in generous quantities are backed up by a good supply of canned vegetables in storage.

Dried and canned fruit in considerable volume augment plentiful fresh fruit supplies especially of oranges and grapefruit.

Cooks worrying about meat for the frying pan or the roaster can aid the farmers and packers and those pocketbooks again, if they remember that the pork supply is so great it has raised the total meat supply higher than it has been for several years.

Besides all these, there is that great abundance of American wheat, plentiful for both domestic and export needs. So budget or no budget, the books apparently have little to worry them.

Rep. George A. Dondero announces that he has available for distribution a limited number of copies of the latest Agricultural Yearbook, a cloth bound illustrated book of 1165 pages, entitled "Food and Life."

This year's edition consists of two parts bound in one volume. The first deals with human nutrition and covers such subjects as food functions and the relation of food to health; food habits; food fads, facts, and fancies; human food requirements; protein requirements of man; mineral needs of man; vitamin needs of man; food composition; vitamin content of foods; diets; planning for good nutrition; food preservation; supervision and inspection of milk; meat inspection; food grades and the consumer; and better nutrition as a national goal.

The second part deals with animal nutrition and includes chapters on many subjects: sources and cycles of the nutritive elements; the digestive processes in domestic animals; factors affecting maintenance nutrition, feed utilization, and health of farm animals, etc.

Better Light boosted STOPPING POWER of this window 46%!

A millinery shop made a test on the effectiveness of improved show window lighting. By using colored lighting for general illumination and white spotlights on the merchandise, the attracting power of the window was increased 46%. A similar test in a shoe store produced even more startling results. By doubling the general illumination and using a spotlight in the center of the window, the attracting power was increased 81% and the featured shoes were quickly sold out. * * * Perhaps better lighting can increase the effectiveness of YOUR windows. ing in morning, noon, and eighth period for one month. If that proves successful we are going to have it go through all periods of the day. The students seem to be obeying the monitors very well.

ASSEMBLY NEWS

Usually every Friday afternoon when there is a home Basketball Game, a last period assembly takes place. At the assemblies we have new cheers introduced by our "Cheer Leaders" or we sing, or have student speakers; sometimes the Band plays. Last Friday we had a demonstration on fouls in basketball. Due to a lot of booing when the other team takes a foul shot, we were doubtful whether half the audience knew what one was. So Mr. Thayer had some of the first team members demonstrate.

CLASSROOM NEWS

Mr. Willoughby's News: Operetta books have been ordered for the third annual Operetta to be given March 8 by the High School Chorus. Please watch for further announcements regarding "In Grand Old Switzerland."

The band is going to appear over WCAR sometime in the near future.

Mrs. Walter:

In English Literature we have been studying a group of prose writers including Dryden, Defoe, Addison, Steele and Swift. The classes have enjoyed the chatty, informal essays from Addison and Steele's "Spectator." Our interest in Swift's "Gulliver's Travels" has been increased by the publicity the recent movie version has received.

The eighth grade history class learned the other day that even authorities on history when they found that all the maps depicting the Louisiana Purchase do not give the same boundary lines. The class spent an interesting period comparing the maps found in different books.

Mrs. Strait:

7th Hygiene.—We have been working on the bones and muscles of the body.

7th Home Ec.—We are learning different methods of preparing eggs for breakfast.

8th Home Ec.—We have been collecting and making menu books suitable for luncheon.

Home Ec. I.—We are constructing dining rooms to learn the effect of colors and suitable arrangement of furniture.

Home Ec. II.—We are making samples of many different stitches and seams, hems, collars, plackets, and slash openings which may be used in constructing garments.

NOON GAMES

At Clarkston High School we are having games during the noon hour to try and keep the halls respectfully clear. Later there will be ping-pong and shuffle board. Now there are volleyball games in the gym between the grades such as 7 girls vs 8 girls, and likewise with the boys of these grades.

GRADE NEWS

Miss Marttinen's News: Mrs. Winn's room came in and had a toy parade in our room. We liked the toy monkey best. We are studying about animals now and enjoy it very much.

FEATURES!!

a) Addison and Steele, famed English authors of the 17th century created characters for their stories, one of them was Sir Roger de Coverly, a very likeable chap, who wore the same style of clothing for so many years that it came back in style twelve times. Perhaps if our basketball team waits long enough their style of playing will also come back.

b) We do not need a Sherlock Holmes at Clarkston High to discover that it's leap year, for the evidence is just floating around in the air.

c) Perhaps it's just an error on my part but I was just wondering perhaps sleeping sickness has crept into our school—or maybe it's just the fact that old man winter is here.

d) Perhaps there is no way to solve the problem of uncombed hair but maybe if the boys of today would follow the example of men of old and wear wigs they wouldn't have to comb them.

While skating over at Orion last Saturday afternoon who should I see but Miss Cohen. In a personal interview she said, quote, "I can skate beautifully if I could only get started and on getting started, if I could only stop."

Speaking of roller skating, I saw Susy Miller with George L. Evey Davies with Frank R., and Julia Edgar with Ralph Ware at the roller skating party Thurs. nite, incidentally the dates were topsy turvy, 'tis leap year, you know.

Confidentially, there are only two fem' parts in the operetta and will there be competition. May the best gal win!!

What's this we hear about Jeanette V. having a "one and only". We hear he lives in Flushing, aren't the Clarkston boys good enough, Jeanette?????

HOLLY THEATRE

Story value and acting performances are counted on in "Everything Happens at Night" more than in any of Sonja Henie's previous five productions. A completely different type of story for the famous skating star and queen of the ice, the screen play by Art Arthur and Robert Harari is filled with love and laughter, and mysterious danger, too. It's a timely tale of modern intrigue, with the added attraction of Sonja's matchless artistry on silver blades and slippery skis.

Ray Milland and Robert Cummings are featured as Sonja's leading men in the attraction which opens Tuesday at the Holly Theatre.

Signed by 20th Century-Fox originally just for her skating genius, the studio asked no real acting talent from Sonja Henie in her first few pictures where they were content just to have her perform on the ice. But it was soon apparent that a real dramatic talent was possessed by the ice champion. Never, however, has Sonja had a part as demanding upon her new-found ability as in "Everything Happens at Night."

As the daughter of a famous European statesman hiding in Switzerland from his enemies intent on extinguishing the light of freedom in Europe, she aids her father in revealing to the world the sensational inside story of the new international intrigue.

These stories, because of their style and content, lead news editors to believe they can be the work only of Dr. Hugo Norden, world-famous peace leader supposedly assassinated a year before in Warsaw. To Switzerland, then, come two young reporters—Ray Milland from London and Robert Cummings from the Paris office of a New York paper—to seek out the author of the world-rousing revelations.

They find romance with Sonja, perilous adventure and a hilarious good time in this exceptionally entertaining production.

Safetygrams

Many interesting editorials have been printed on safe driving. I enjoy immensely the fine instructive comments so many editors make on the necessity of safe driving, and I appreciate their contribution to the cause of safety.

Recently, the editor of the Isanti News, Isanti, Minnesota, wrote the following:

"Upon returning from an automobile trip the other evening, we sat down at the typewriter in a state of veritable frenzy. Foam dripping out of the corners of our mouth, we pounded out the following lines of despair with clenched fists:

'Oh, that some wise jury Would see fit to indict Every nocturnal driver Who won't dim his lights!'

Very appropriate; very timely. Let us set the example by dimming our lights—eventually some of these "dumb clucks" will realize that that is the courteous thing to do.

Tunnels make up 54 per cent of the Swiss railway mileage, 52 of the 677 tunnels being over half a mile long.

CONSUMERS POWER

1939's Queerest Accidents. A farmer was electrocuted by a bucket of water, a boy was shot by a falling pear, a bicyclist looped-the-loop to the top of an automobile—and other freakish mishaps, all of which are described in words and pictures in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald-American.

The New Metropolitan Magazine—Now in All Editions of the Detroit Sunday Times
 Now every week—in ALL editions of The Detroit Sunday Times, starting with the January 14 issue—you'll find the great, bright, illustrated Metropolitan Magazine, presenting such features as autographed pictures of movie stars; fashions; pictures and news of Hollywood; cooking counsel and other attractions. Something different! Something of interest to all. Be sure to get The Detroit Sunday Times every week.
